FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 26.

I. LOUIS H. BOUDREAU.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death, on April 27, 1936, of Hoseman Louis H. Boudreau of Engine Company 33. Hoseman Boudreau was appointed to the department on December 31, 1897.

The funeral was held from the Waterman Funeral Parlor, 495 Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay, at 8 a. m., April 30, 1936, followed by services at Notre Dames des Victoires Church, Isabella street, South End, at 9 a. m.

The Acting Chief of Department made the customary detail to act as a funeral escort and the members of Engine Company 33 were excused from duty in order to attend the funeral services.

II. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement is hereby announced to take effect at 8 a. m., Friday, May 1, 1936:

Hoseman Robert E. Kelly, Engine Company 37.

Hoseman Kelly was appointed to the Boston Fire Department on July 19, 1918. He leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

III. NEW ASSIGNMENT CARD.

As announced in General Orders No. 23, c. s., a new assignment card for Box 3448, Wrentham street, opposite No. 36, is being issued to the department today. This card is dated April 30, 1936.

IV. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENT.

The following signal numbers are to be added to the assignment cards of the A. D. T. Company in this department:

Signal 511, Sandoz Chemical Works, Incorporated, 59-63 Oliver street. Apparatus to respond, Engine 25, Ladder 8, District 3. Nearest box is No. 1291.

V. BOSTON AUTOMATIC ASSIGNMENT.

The following signal number is to be added to the assignment cards of the Boston Automatic Fire Alarm Company in this department:

VI. CLEANING OF MOTOR APPARATUS.

Attention of company commanders is called to the necessity of giving the proper care to apparatus of this department. They will see that apparatus operators and chauffeurs keep the apparatus in a clean condition, particularly with regard to motors under the hood, the pumps and running gear. District chiefs will inspect the apparatus in their respective districts weekly to see that it is kept in proper condition.

VII. COMMENDATIONS.

At 4.08 p. m., April 12, 1936, the department responded to an alarm from Box 2775 for a fire in the dwelling house at 623 La Grange street, West Roxbury.

On arrival of the apparatus it was learned that there was a man trapped in the house. Hoseman Joseph P. O'Connell of Engine Company 53 entered the house through a rear door and worked his way on hands and knees to the living room at the front of the house, where he found the unconscious occupant on the floor. He dragged the man to the rear, where he was assisted by Lieut. Daniel A. White of Engine 53 in taking him from the house. The building had not been ventilated at the time and these two men assumed a severe risk in entering.

Because of the great hazard to which the foregoing men exposed themselves in the performance of their duty, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend them highly and refer this rescue to the Board of Merit for consideration.

Ladderman Patrick J. McCarthy of Ladder Company 21 is hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to a patient at the Boston City Hospital on April 25, 1936.

Hoseman David E. Coyle of Rescue Company 1 is hereby commended for volunteering and donating blood in transfusion to a patient at the Massachusetts General Hospital on April 25, 1936.

IV. COMMENDATION.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following letter which he is pleased to publish for the information of the department:

April 29, 1936.

HON. EDWARD McLAUGHLIN, Boston Fire Department, 60 Bristol Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR COMMISSIONER,—Unfortunately we had to call upon your department last night at 8.30, due to the fact that a fire broke out in my home. The fire was caused by the short-circuiting of our oil burner.

Until your men arrived, confusion and panic reigned in the household; but your men quickly restored order.

I want to extend my thanks, through you, to Acting Chief, Captain Merrill, and his men who did a first-class job. I also appreciate the courtesy shown me and my family; it is great to know that you have such men working with you.

Yours truly,

NEIL SHERIDAN.

39 Carruth Street,
Dorchester, Mass.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

JAMAICA SPENDS $1,000,000 ANNUALLY ON ROAD CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE.

Jamaica, an English possession, has a highway system which is almost entirely constructed of waterbound macadam, some 70 miles of which has been surface-treated. Many of the roads are under the supervision of the Department of Public Works and various parochial boards. There are about 2,500 miles of bridle and foot paths. The highway system connects all parts of the island in a very satisfactory manner, and the problem is not that of the construction of new roads, but the improvement of old ones, the surfacing and widening of these roads, and protective coatings. The roads are well maintained and, as there are not many heavy trucks, the maintenance is satisfactory. There are approximately 4,000 miles of highways, or 1.11 square miles of area to one mile of highway.

About a million dollars per year is spent on new construction and maintenance, the machinery used being both European and American.

(From a report of the American Road Builders' Association.)

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

FIVE PER CENT OF CITY BUDGET PAID FOR REFUSE DISPOSAL.

Nearly one million dollars, or about 5 per cent of the total cost of the general city government of Los Angeles, Cal., is spent every year for the collection and disposal of refuse, under the direction of the Bureau of Engineering of that city. The Refuse Collection Division operates six days a week, and enough men are provided to compensate for a five-day week for all the personnel employed.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

PUBLIC DEBT, JANUARY 1, 1933.

Gross funded debt, January 1, 1933, $165,758,499.95 (including $119,999.95 issued by State for enlargement of Court House); sinking funds, $35,737,619.21; other redemption means, $3,078,263.28; net debt, $126,942,617.46 or $7,588,429.94 more than on January 1, 1932. Of said debt (net) $79,310,526.63 or 62.48 per cent was City debt; $46,199,623.96 or 36.39 per cent, Rapid Transit debt (representing 4½ per cent investment); $994,466.87 or 0.78 per cent, County debt; $438,000 or 0.35 per cent, Water debt.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

MAYOR MANSFIELD BLASTS REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION AS PARTICULARLY UNRESTRAINED IN VITUPERATION AND ABUSE FAR BEYOND ANY PREVIOUS ONES — CHARGES HEARING WAS PARTISAN AND UNFAIR, WITH BUT ONE SIDE OF CASE PRESENTED, BASED ON HEARSAY AND RUMOR — CALLS FOR TRANSCRIPT OF TESTIMONY AND ARRANGES FOR PUBLIC HEARING, ON MAY 26, WHERE JUSTICE AND FAIR PLAY WILL PREVAIL — PROMISES PUNITIVE ACTION IF AND WHEN EVIDENCE TO BE DEDUCED AT HEARING WARRANTS.

Upon May 12 the following statement was issued by the Mayor:

The latest report of the Finance Commission on the subject of welfare coal is particularly unrestrained in its language, and in vituperation and abuse of the Mayor goes far beyond any of its other reports. The Finance Commission reminds me that I asked the public to defer judgment upon this matter until the testimony was all in and that if the testimony showed that any coal dealer had violated his obligations to the city adequate legal remedies would be sought.

It closes its report with the remark that the sincerity of the Mayor's announcement would be tested by his action upon this opportunity to fulfill his promise and to proceed immediately with criminal and civil prosecution. This is an intimation by the Finance Commission that the testimony is all in and that the case is closed. But that is not the fact. The testimony is not all in and the case is not closed, and I still ask the public to suspend judgment until the case is definitely finished.

The hearing conducted by the Finance Commission was a one-sided partisan hearing in which, I am informed, only witnesses summoned by the Finance Commission itself were allowed to testify. The accused coal contractors were denied the opportunity of cross-examining these witnesses. Furthermore, they were denied the opportunity to present witnesses of their own in order to refute the testimony adduced against them. In addition to that, the rankest kind of hearsay testimony was allowed and evidence received would not have been admitted in any court of law in the world.

These companies contend that if they were given the opportunity to cross-examine witnesses and present witnesses of their own they could show to the public conclusively that the charges against them were unfounded, or, that if there were instances where the coal delivered was not up to specifications, the instances were so few as to be practically negligible. In this connection I beg to remind the public that according to my best information only about 136 complaints were made out of 42,000 deliveries by the Babcock Coal Company consisting of 360,000 bags of one hundred pounds each. In other words, the percentage of complaints to deliveries would be about one third of 1 per cent.

Testimony Not Ready.

The Finance Commission states in its latest report that it will supply me with a copy of the testimony and naturally I expected that the testimony would be ready as I did not think that the Finance Commission would draw up its final report without at least reviewing the testimony upon which it is alleged to be based. But to my great surprise I find that the testimony is not ready and will not be ready for some days, although the Finance Commission has promised to furnish a copy of what has been written out. Upon receipt of this testimony I shall go over it carefully and shall ask the accused contractors to meet the case presented by that testimony.

The Babcock Coal Company through its counsel, Lothrop Withington, has asked me to hold a public hearing in order that it may have the opportunity which was denied it at the Finance Commission's hearing, namely, to present its side of the controversy to the Mayor and the public. I have acceded to this request and shall hold a public hearing, over which I personally will preside. I assume that the copy of the testimony will be furnished within a week and that another week will be sufficient time for the accused coal contractors to prepare their defence. Accordingly, I now fix Tuesday, May 26, as the day for commencing this hearing, which will be held in the Council Chamber at City Hall. Witnesses presented by the accused companies will be subject to cross-examination by the Mayor or by some representative of the Corporation Counsel.

Objection is raised to the appointment as a member of the Board of Overseers of James A. McMurry, who was elected by the Board to be its chairman, and who for many years has been head of the Water Income Division of the city. This is nothing new. When Nathan Heller was a member of the Transit Commission, he acted as chairman of the Board under Mayor Curley.

Silly Suggestion.

It is silly to suggest that the chairmanship of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare ought to be an all-time job for one man. They meet only once a week, on Monday afternoons, for a few hours, and Mr. McMurry is well able to discharge the duties of that position in addition to taking care of the Water Income Division. He has been a faithful servant of the city for many years and is well-qualified to be chairman of the Board because of long experience as a high official of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in the City of Boston.

REPORT OF MISS SUSAN J. GINN, DIRECTOR OF VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE, ON HER ATTENDANCE AT THE MEETING OF THE NATIONAL VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE ASSOCIATION, AT ST. LOUIS, FEBRUARY 19 TO 23, 1936, INCLUSIVE.

The School Committee has approved the following report of Miss Susan J. Ginn on attendance at the Convention of the National Vocational Guidance Association at St. Louis, February 19 to 23, where the subject discussed was "Guidance and Personnel Responsibilities in the Youth Program of 1936."

It was my privilege to attend the twenty-first annual convention of the National Vocational Guidance Association held at St. Louis, Missouri, February 19 to 23, 1936, for which privilege I am deeply indebted to the School Committee of the City of Boston and to Superintendent Campbell. This association, with eleven others, among them the National Association of Deans of Women and the American College Personnel Association, have formed what is known as the American Council of Guidance and Personnel Associations for cooperative effort. They have, as a council, met simultaneously in the same city and built their programs about a common theme.

"Guidance and Personnel Responsibilities in the Youth Program of 1936" was the general theme for this year's convention. These programs have been published jointly, giving a composite picture of the interrelated interests as well as the individual contributions of the several organizations. As a united front they have emphasized their points of agreement as opposed to their points of difference. This report will be confined to the sessions of the Council in which all shared and to the meetings of the National Vocational Guidance Association itself.

At the keynote luncheon on the opening day (which was a joint session), Mr. Richard R. Brown, Assistant Executive Director of the National Youth Administration, Washington, spoke to the topic "The National Youth Administration and the Youth Problem." He begged for cooperation, a more positive attitude and the development of the strong points in the work. He told of the plan for Junior Counselors under the National Youth Administration in state employment offices. He insists that the community must become youth conscious.

WELFARE OF YOUTH OF AMERICA.

At the annual open meeting of the council on the first afternoon, the chairman spoke as follows: "The past year has been marked by a significant and growing concern for the welfare of the youth of America. For the first time in its history the government had made special provision for youth, through the National Youth Administration. There are Civilian Conservation Corps for the unemployed youth. The American Council on Education has appointed a commission 'to undertake an extended inquiry into, and formulate comprehensive plans for the care and education of American youth' at a cost of some $200,000. Foundations are providing sizable sums for the study of adolescents. A group of progressive colleges and secondary schools have entered into an experimental study looking toward a secondary school experience more intelligently adjusted to individual needs. Another attack upon this same problem is the study set-up by the National Organization of Secondary School Principals to re-evaluate the objectives of secondary education. The term, 'individualizing education,' is typical of an emphasis within education which is not confined to personnel associations. Teacher training institutions are feeling the demand for teachers who know the pupil as well as the method and the subject. Juvenile delinquency no longer falls in the category of crime. Popular plays on the New York stage, such as 'Dead End,' 'Winterset,' 'Children's Hour,' 'Ah, Wilderness,' 'Fly Away Home,' and 'Boy Meets Girl,' testify to this general interest in youth. Youth's opinions, youth's dilemma, youth's activities are front-page news. This galaxy of projects, governmental, social, religious, educational and artistic, offer arresting evidence of unprecedented interest in youth. They indict society for its neglect of youth and they point toward a more adequate guidance of youth. The problems which are represented in these various activities are the common concern of such organizations as those which make up this council. They are vocational. They are personal. They are educational.

When I state that there were close to a hundred speakers, not including reports of committees, in the various general and division group meetings, one will understand the fullness of the program. Each day began with breakfast meetings at 7.45 a. m. From then on, until late in the evening, meetings of some sort were in order. Some of us were not privileged to leave the Coronado Hotel, where our headquarters were, except to attend meetings scheduled in other hotels. Each year we hope for a less crowded program, but so much of vital interest begs for expression that every moment seems to be scheduled. At the end of four days one is a bit wearied if not a bit muddled.

I was a member of the committee on the revision of the "Principles and Practices of Vocational Guidance." Although this committee had worked for months through correspondence on the revision, it required several hours between times at the convention to iron out several matters when differences of opinion arose. At best we were only able to offer a progress report.

At the banquet, which is always an important feature of a convention, it fell to my lot to be toastmistress. The topic of the evening was "Vocational Guidance at Home and Abroad." Two members of our association had spent several months in Europe studying guidance aspects. Dr. Franklin Keller, Director of the National Occupational Conference of New York City, told of the work of England, France and Germany; while Dr. Morris Viteles, Associate Professor of Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, limited his address to Russia, where he had spent nine months. Doctor Rosecrance, Associate Professor of Education at Northwestern University, had made a survey of guidance practices in the United States and gave us a brief summary of some of the results of that study. This work is soon to appear in book form, as is also the work of Doctor Keller and Doctor Viteles.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE.

As a member of the Vocational Advisory Committee of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, I was asked to speak at a breakfast meeting (7.45 a. m.) on the subject "Practical Ways in Which a Lay Group May Work."

On Friday afternoon at 1.30 p. m. (2.30 E. S. T.), a vocational guidance program was broadcast from the luncheon room over the nation-wide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting System. I was privileged to share in this program which served as an exemplification of the work of the Committee on Vocational Guidance operating in conjunction with the National Advisory Council on Radio in Education. At the conclusion of the broadcast reports were made describing the uses delegates made of the series of vocational guidance broadcasts sponsored by the American School of the Air (Columbia Broadcasting System). Dr. Harry D. Kitson, Professor of Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, is chairman of the Committee on the Radio in the Service of Vocational Guidance, and arranged the broadcasts.

Mr. Robert I. Rees, Assistant Vice President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, discussed "Today's Challenge to Guidance and Personnel Work." Among other things he said that today guidance and personnel workers were in an isolated position and had no opportunity to express themselves on curricula. He felt there should be a line and staff relationship and that school should now be considered a cooperative task.

A similar thought was brought out another day by a speaker from the West who said that engineering today in the colleges is the training of many years ago. We are training for yesterdays instead of tomorrows. He claims there is a big gap between training and demand. Ninety-two per cent (92%) of a group he studied were not working in the patterns for which they were trained.

Again, a representative of youth itself, Mr. Lang, Research Assistant, C. C. C., United States Office of Education at Washington, stated that a large part of youth problems fall on education and it is falling short because the curriculum is too inelastic. As a cure he offered six suggestions:

1. Wholesale revision of the curricula.
2. Students have opportunities for practical experiences.
3. Integration of school and placement facilities.
4. Promotion of C. C. C. camps.
5. More adequate information on vocational trends.
6. Closer cooperation between private and public agencies looking toward employment.

The numbers of unemployed youth were quoted as approximately:

- 4,500,000 (ages eighteen to twenty-nine).
- 2,500,000 graduates of high school and college were among these.

In discussing the question whether guidance is a good investment, one speaker said it was economy to provide an efficient staff to prevent failures. A guidance system should correct or prevent maladjustments. A program on a long-time basis should be planned. Guidance should not be a "grafting on" but a "growing out."

At the closing joint luncheon, Mr. Homer P. Rainey, President, Bucknell University, and Director, American Youth Commission, addressed himself to the topic "The Youth Project of the American Council on Education." He mentioned objectives in seven major areas as a guiding philosophy in the work of the commission.

1. Area of health—sound mind and healthy body.
2. Opportunity for employment, which should include standards of living.
3. Program of general secondary education, which should consider the needs, limits and abilities of youth to eighteen years of age.
4. Recreation—community life—wholesome environment.
5. Active part in life and work of community—social participation.
6. Delinquent youth entitled to sympathy.
7. World peace—international understanding and cooperation.

He considered the problem of secondary education the most difficult of all the problems. School is condemned for not preparing for citizenship. There seems to be a period of moral stagnation. He asks for concerted effort. Youth itself should share in the solution.

As president of the National Vocational Guidance Association last year, I automatically became a member of the Board of Trustees for this year, and was assigned a place on the Convention Committee. It was the duty of this committee to get the trend of the various addresses and from these formulate recommendations for presentation to the association on the last day of the convention. Some of the problems suggested for the consideration of the National Vocational Guidance Association follow:

I. ORGANIZATION AND POLICY.

Scope of the Association's Interests.

Analysis of the program of this convention makes it clear that vocational guidance is only one of the forms of guidance in which the association is interested. It is undoubtedly true that most members of the association are concerned with guidance in a number of aspects in addition to the vocational. In actual practice, the association collectively and most of its members individually are defining guidance as services which are contributory to the optimum development and social utilization of the individual. They seek, first, to assist boys and girls in planning their vocational futures so as to employ their talents to their own and the social advantage.

In consequence, we apparently are becoming a national association of guidance personnel workers in education, with many divisions of interest, such as occupational research, personnel research, counseling, placement, the training of guidance workers, the development and administration of rural, city and state programs of guidance. There is reason to believe that the time has come for the association to assume more the nature of a professional organization which places emphasis among its activities on the encouragement of professional competence and the development of professional techniques. This is not meant to suggest that we should abandon our missionary zeal, but that in the development of our activities and in the building of our programs we give first attentions to problems of professional concern.

II. PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS.

The members of the association are apparently in a very confused state of mind with regard to professional standards. To define such standards in terms of courses pursued and credits garnered seems to be regarded as superficial and inadequate. The distrust of such a definition is largely to be ascribed to the conviction that the counselor's success is inevitably conditioned by his possession of certain personal traits. University courses may contribute knowledge essential to the counselor, but they do not contribute the desirable traits of personality. Other important factors also figure in this confusion.

It is impossible for the association to continue to dodge this problem or to postpone action on it. A primary reason for the existence of any association of professional workers is the establishment of standards for those who engage in the profession. Consequently, it is suggested that the next year be devoted to unremitting study of standards for guidance workers.

III.

IV. CURRICULUM.

Since curriculum adjustment is often the base for successful vocational adjustment, and life adjustment as well, and since optimum adjustment implies maximum flexibility, the association urges its members to advocate curriculum organization in situations where it is needed. The failure of leaders in education to apply the most elementary principles of advanced practice in curriculum organization has possibly been one of the chief obstacles to the development of efficient counseling programs. The association should urge its members to advocate curriculum reorganization at every educational level where it is needed.

V. OCCUPATIONAL RESEARCH.

Every scientific attempt at occupational research should be encouraged. Recent studies have shown the little value which much of our available occupational information has. Possibly one study we should now attempt is that of determining what information is most useful and significant in the vocational guidance of youth. Attention is called to studies now being made of occupational ability, interest and attitude patterns, and to the regrouping of occupations into "families." It is possible, that, in addition to what we may learn about the nature of the work done and the advantages and disadvantages of the occupation, we need to know more about the pattern of the worker's life and his problem of occupational adjustment. We need, also, to continue our studies of economic-vocational trends, and to sponsor new studies of the effective factors making for vocational success. Such studies when completed might compel us to revise our philosophy of vocational guidance.

VI. COOPERATION WITH OTHER AGENCIES.

Several sessions of the convention have developed with extraordinary clarity the necessity for the coordinated attack of many agencies on the guidance problems of the individual child. While there should be centralized responsibility for the guidance function, the counselor should be alert to the host of specialized services which may be utilized. It is recommended that the best example of close coordination of agencies be widely publicized in order that they may serve as patterns to provoke the constructive thought of counselors, school administrators, social workers and all others concerned.

VII. COUNSELING.

It must be apparent from the reports presented at this convention that considerable progress has been made in the development of the techniques of counseling. It is probably true that some agreement can be reached as to what constitutes good practice in counseling. The committee suggests that a brief statement of good practice, useful tools, techniques and equipment, prepared and sponsored by the National Association, might have a tremendous value.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN J. GINN, Director,
Department of Vocational Guidance.

STATEMENT BY THE MAYOR.

In criticizing the selection of Mr. Dowling as director, the Finance Commission refers to him, among other things, as a "person" who has been a "Municipal Investigator." By "Municipal Investigator," I suppose is meant that Mr. Dowling was at one time secretary and chairman of the Finance Commission, and the epithet, if it is one, may be applied with equal justice to the chairman of the present Finance Commission. The difference between the two men is that Mr. Dowling was fair when he was chairman of the Finance Commission, whereas the present chairman is most unfair.

In recent reports of the Finance Commission the Mayor was severely criticized for not adhering to the rule of awarding contracts to the lowest bidder. In this latest pronouncement, however, they criticize me for adhering to that rule and they wish me to abandon the practice of advertising for competitive bids and to arrange with two or three coal dealers and give them all the business of the city. Of course it is impossible and impracticable for me to do this, and the mere fact that the Finance Commission, which is supposed to insist upon strict compliance with the law and the intent of the law, can recommend such a thing, is merely indicative of the kind of reports which it files.

INSOLENT INSINUATION.

Another insolent insinuation is that someone, who a witness says he "cannot now identify," but who claimed he came from the Mayor's office, visited the witness and asked to be hired as counsel for the Babcock Coal Company and promised to have the first bids rejected and to be able to obtain the contract for that company. This is the rankest kind of hearsay testimony and of course, if there were one lawyer on the Finance Commission, it would have been understood as such and certainly not repeated in its report. Needless for me to say that there is not the slightest ground for making any such insinuation.

But the public will grow weary of these details. I think it is enough to say that the entire report of the Finance Commission is plainly intended to embarrass me. That was the purpose in starting the investigation. That was the obvious intent throughout the entire hearing and that is what the Finance Commission has finally brought forth—a savage and vicious attack upon the Mayor, all of which, as the people well know, is merely intended to force me to withdraw the Dolan case from the courts. As I have repeatedly said, the Dolan case will go on and every attempt of the Finance Commission to terminate it will be futile.

DOLAN CASE WILL GO ON— FINANCE COMMISSION RE- JOINDER FLIPPANT IS MAYOR MANSFIELD'S REPLY TO THE SECOND STATEMENT.

The rejoinder of the Finance Commission to my statement in reference to its report upon the welfare coal cases is so flippant and petty that under ordinary circumstances I would not reply to it at all. But there are a few points in it which seem to call for comment. The first is that the hearing which I propose to give to the accused coal contractors is futile because I have already determined the matter in advance and that I have accepted the view of the coal company. This is obviously untrue. I am giving this hearing in order that I may hear the coal company's side of the case which has never yet been presented to the public because of the arbitrary conduct of the Finance Commission in excluding all testimony except that which tended to bolster up its own case. The hearing will be impartially and judiciously conducted, the public will be allowed to be present and the Press will have every opportunity of publishing the proceedings daily. It will be for the public to judge whether the Mayor has prejudged the case or not.

The other point to which I wish to call attention is the allegation of the Finance Commission that "the coal companies have sent representatives to the members of the Finance Commission and to the Governor to have this investigation quashed." Frankly I find this statement wholly incredible. I demand to know the names of the companies and the names of the representatives who called upon the Governor or the Finance Commission for this purpose. The public is entitled to know who these men are and what companies were represented by them. But I wish the public to know that even if representatives have called upon the Governor and the Finance Commission to get them to call the investigation off and if they had called it off that I would not call it off. I am determined to get at the truth of this matter and I am convinced that the Finance Commission has not endeavored to achieve that result. All it wants to do, as I have said before, is to discredit me and drive me away from the Dolan case. But the Dolan case will still go on.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 186.

Martin H. King, Superintendent of Police, having arrived at the age of sixty and six-twelfths years, having performed faithful service in the Police Department for thirty-four and nine-twelfths years and having requested to be retired from active service, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor, having approved the same, that the said Superintendent Martin H. King be retired from active service, and that his name be placed upon the department pension roll, with pay at the rate of thirty-five hundred dollars per annum (payable monthly), said sum being one half the amount of compensation received by him in the office from which he is retired; to take effect, Friday, May 8, 1936, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

Superintendent King was appointed a reserveman in this department August 7, 1901, and advanced to the grade of patrolman, April 15, 1902. His subsequent promotions were as follows:

Sergeant, November 24, 1909; lieutenant, August 7, 1917; captain, July 6, 1928; deputy superintendent (designated as Inspector of Divisions), January 30, 1933; superintendent, August 28, 1933.

Since discontinuance of the title of Chief of Police, through reorganization in this department in 1878, Superintendent King is the sixth police officer of this department who, at the end of his official career, had advanced to the highest office of rank.

His advance as a superior officer in this department proved him to be possessed of qualities which favorably impressed those in authority, as well as the general public. A man of unquestioned honor and integrity, he was known to all of us as a modest, earnest and hard-working official. His sympathy for brother officers in times unfavorable, and his sense of fairness in dealing with all, both police personnel and the public, were outstanding qualities. Pleasant in manner and patient in listening, notwithstanding his burdensome responsibilities and duties, the superintendent was blessed with the gift of putting at ease the public who approached him daily on problems without number.

In his retirement, Superintendent King leaves many warm friends among his associates, who were in a position to know him.

As Police Commissioner, and in behalf of the Acting Superintendent, as well as the department's personnel, every good thought and friendly wish is tendered to him in his retirement. It is our earnest hope that he may enjoy to the fullest degree the pension and rest from official cares to which his long and faithful service entitles him.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 187.

On Saturday night, April 25, 1936, on Division 10, an elderly married woman, while walking in Ruggles street, carrying a handbag containing $16, was brutally beaten and thrown against a stone step, robbed of the bag and its contents and, in addition, suffered a fractured left hip and numerous other injuries, as a result of which she may be rendered a cripple for the remainder of her life.

Special Officers Joseph F. Dever, Francis C. Coleman and Patrolman John J. O'Connell, all attached to Division 10, were assigned to work on the case and were not only successful in apprehending the young man who committed the assault and robbery, but, in addition, effected the arrests of seven other young men who were guilty of numerous handbag snatchings, breaking and entering and various other crimes committed in the Roxbury district. By these arrests sixty-seven handbag jobs, twelve breaking and entering cases, four drunk rollings and assaults and a number of larcenies from automobiles were cleaned up.

The commissioner cannot commend too highly this outstanding police work. It reflects credit upon the entire Police Department. Recognizing the untiring efforts and devotion to duty of Special Officers Joseph F. Dever, Francis C. Coleman and Patrolman John J. O'Connell, the commissioner is pleased to commend these officers and hereby orders that each one of these three officers be granted three extra days' vacation.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 188.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Campbell, McGrath and Killen, having heard by reference a complaint made by Thomas F. Gleavy, captain, Division 17, against James P. Welch, patrolman, Division 17, for alleged violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge 1: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the twenty-eight day of April, 1936, the said Patrolman James P. Welch, while in uniform and on duty in a public place, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he was unable to properly perform police duty, tending to bring into disrepute and criticism himself and his associates in the Police Department.

Charge 2: Neglect of duty.

Specification: In that on the twenty-eight day of April, 1936, the said Patrolman James P. Welch, being detailed to the voting poll, Precinct 13, Ward 20, the Robert Gould Shaw School, Mt. Vernon street, near Centre street, West Roxbury, did, without permission from the officer in charge of the station, leave his post of duty at 2.45 p. m. and did not return thereto until 3.45 p. m.,— has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board, having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented, accepts the plea of guilty. The Board has considered the seriousness of this offense, having been committed on Primary Day at a time when Patrolman Welch was assigned to duty at a voting poll, and felt inclined to recommend severe punishment in this case. However, the Board has also considered the fact that this man has been a member of the department for fifteen years and that this is the first time he has been before a trial board for a violation of the rules; and the testimony of his commanding officer that he (Welch) can refrain from the use of liquor and prove to be a useful member of the department. Therefore, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman James P. Welch be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective as of April 29, 1936, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman James P. Welch be ordered to perform 210 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman James P. Welch be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective as of April 29, 1936, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said Patrolman James P. Welch perform 210 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

"Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner, upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

DAMAGES ASSESSED.

The Mayor has approved the following vote of the Board of Street Commissioners:

Voted, That in the matter of James S. Dowling, petitioner for damages occasioned his estate 68 Sawyer street by the relocation and construction of Public Alley No. 808, after consultation with the Law Department, and on its advice, the Board assesses the petitioner's damages in the sum of one hundred (100) dollars, and consents that the Corporation Counsel agree to judgment in said case on the terms herein stated.

Therefore I respectfully request permission to award this contract as recommended, as no advantage would be gained by advertising.

Yours respectfully,

WILLIAM B. KEELER, M. D.,
Health Commissioner.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 7, 1936.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of April 24, 1936, you approved awards on drugs to be delivered to the various city departments, as required, during 1936. The bids on these drugs were advertised and publicly opened and read on February 24, 1936.

On Item No. 152, 150 barrels flaxseed meal, the following bids were received: Howe & French, Incorporated, 5½ cents a pound; Gilman Brothers, Incorporated, 6 cents a pound; E. F. Mahady Company, 6½ cents a pound.

The bid of Gilman Brothers, Incorporated, was eliminated for the reason stated in the original permission to award, namely, that their bid contained a provision that prices were subject to change, and were therefore not guaranteed for the full term.

Through a misunderstanding, I recommended the award of the item for flaxseed meal to the E. F. Mahady Company at a price 6½ cents a pound, instead of to Howe & French, Incorporated, the lowest bidder, at a price of 5½ cents a pound.

Therefore I now respectfully request permission to award this item for 150 barrels flaxseed meal to Howe & French, Incorporated, the lowest bidder, at a price of 5½ cents a pound. The approximate amount of the item is $1,983.

The approximate totals of awards to these two concerns will now be: Howe & French, Incorporated, $3,699.79; E. F. Mahady Company, $1,329.58; instead of the following amounts as approved in the original permission to award: Howe & French, Incorporated, $1,716.79; E. F. Mahady Company, $3,524.08.

Respectfully yours,

D. FRANK DOHERTY,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, May 11, 1936.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of April 2, 1936, this department opened bids on three thousand gallons white traffic paint and two hundred gallons red traffic paint, and contract for supplying these two items was awarded to the Sherwin-Williams Company, under your approval dated April 18, 1936. Subsequent to the opening of these bids, the Boston Traffic Commission, which had requisitioned these items, reduced the amounts to twenty-five hundred gallons white traffic paint and one hundred fifty gallons red traffic paint, which were the amounts that this department secured your approval for.

The Law Department has notified this department that a contract for the original amounts specified and advertised should be executed, although the Supply Department has the right to secure delivery on the lesser amount if the Traffic Commission requires only the lesser amount.

In view of this explanation, I would request your permission to restore the original estimate asked, namely, three thousand gallons white traffic paint and two hundred gallons red traffic paint.

Respectfully yours,

D. FRANK DOHERTY,
Superintendent of Supplies.

W. P. A. SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 1, 1936.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Under date of March 24, 1936, your Honor approved a contract for supplying one Pneumatic Message System-Constant-Running Type, for the sum of $1,892 to the Lamson Company, Incorporated, of 213 Congress street, Boston, Mass.

In further explanation of this purchase, I wish to say that at the Public Welfare Department they have now in use a Pneumatic Message System-Constant-Running Type; manufactured by the Lamson Company and installed by this company, which they wish to extend owing to the increased activities of the Public Welfare Department, and in order to avoid any difficulties which might arise from introducing an extension of this Pneumatic Message System of another manufacturer, I have requested permission to award this contract to the Lamson Company, Incorporated, at the price stated above, which you approved under date of March 24, 1936.

As the Lamson Company is the manufacturer, no advantage would accrue from publicly advertising for same.

Respectfully yours,

D. FRANK DOHERTY,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR MANSFIELD OPPOSES PROPOSED INCREASES IN STATE BUDGET AS ADDING TO TAX BURDEN OF CITIZENS OF BOSTON.

Upon May 13 Mayor Mansfield issued the following statement:

Because of the fact that the City of Boston must include in its annual tax levy an amount equivalent to 25 per cent of the total State tax established by the Legislature, the taxpayers and rent payers of the city have a vital stake in the deliberations of the Legislature this week on the State budget. While definite information as to the amount of the 1936 State tax is lacking, final adoption of the budget increases voted last week will inevitably result in a very substantial increase in the State tax over that of last year.

Such an increase would automatically result in an increased tax rate in Boston for 1936. In short, if final action by the Legislature on the budget recommendations of the Governor should result in an increased assessment for State requirements, the heavy tax burden now resting upon the taxpayers of the city will be increased. Should the Legislators adopt the proposed budget increases they must bear the responsibility for the increased tax rates resulting from their action, not only in Boston but in many of the other cities and towns in the Commonwealth.

Every member of the Legislature who has the best interest of Boston at heart, and in the interest of every taxpayer in his district, is earnestly urged to vote against an increased State budget.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, BEACON STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 4, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Last year an appropriation was authorized from the special account, Sales of City Property, to cover the installation of traffic signal lights at four intersections on Beacon street, between Massachusetts avenue and Embankment road. I am advised by the Traffic Commissioner that the estimated cost of installing these signals is $8,430, an amount approximately $2,100 in excess of the unencumbered balance available for this work. In order that the Traffic Commission may proceed forthwith with this improvement I submit herewith an order providing for the appropriation from the same account as last year, namely, Sales of City Property, for the additional amount required, $2,100. I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $2,100 be, and hereby is, appropriated from Sales of City Property to be expended, under the direction of the Traffic Commission, for the following:

Automatic Traffic Control Signals, Back Bay and Brighton Districts. $2,100
Referred to Executive Committee.

EAST BOSTON AIRPORT LEASE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 4, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Corporation Counsel, together with an order relative to the East Boston Airport.

It appears that an order to execute a lease between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the City of Boston for airport purposes, which had been introduced in the City Council by the then Mayor on February 3, 1933, has never been acted upon and, in the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, immediate execution of that lease is desirable.

I respectfully recommend the passage of a new order which is transmitted herewith.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 2, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—Inclosed please find order which the chairman of the Park Department of the City of Boston is anxious to have introduced in the City Council.

By an indenture dated August 10, 1928, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, acting under the authority of chapter 64 of the Resolves of 1923 of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, leased to the City of Boston a large tract of land in East Boston for airport purposes. The land which was thus leased to the city was insufficient for airport purposes.

The Law Department of the City of Boston prepared an order to be introduced in the City Council, authorizing his Honor the Mayor to execute a lease between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the City of Boston of land in East Boston for airport purposes, and sent the said order to the then Mayor of Boston, together with a letter dated February 3, 1933. The said order was introduced in the City Council and, I am informed by the City Clerk, has never been acted upon.

I am informed by the chairman of the Park Department that the said department, with the approval of the State Board of Public Works, has already spent considerable money upon the land which the chairman of the Park Department is desirous of leasing.

Very truly yours,
HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Council.

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Massachusetts, acting by its Department of Public Works, and the City of Boston, under the authority of the provisions of chapter 64 of the Resolves of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the year 1928, entered into an indenture wherein the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts leased to the City of Boston for use as an airport certain parcels of land situate in that part of Boston called East Boston, as is fully set forth in said indenture, which is dated August 10, 1928; and

Whereas, By chapter 53 of the Resolves of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the year 1930 the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts was authorized to lease to the said City of Boston for airport purposes additional parcels of land situate in said East Boston; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the said indenture of lease, dated August 10, 1928, be, and the same is, hereby ratified; and it is hereby further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized, in consideration of the covenants and reservations contained in the lease hereinafter mentioned and in consideration of the payment of one dollar a year for the period of the term of said lease ending on August 9, 1938, and in consideration of the payment of the amount to be agreed upon as set forth in said indenture for the remainder of said term of said lease, is hereby authorized to affix the corporate seal of said City of Boston and to sign in its name and behalf an indenture, satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, wherein the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts leases to the City of Boston for a term ending August 9, 1948, two certain parcels of land situate in said East Boston and marked Parcel No. 1 and Parcel No. 2 and inclosed within red lines, as shown on a plan marked "Airport at East Boston, Additional Land of the Commonwealth to be leased to the City of Boston, authorized by c. 53, Resolves of 1930, Department of Public Works of Massachusetts, Scale 1:5000 July, 1931, John N. Ferguson, District Waterways Engineer," and wherein the said Commonwealth of Massachusetts reserves to itself such use of said parcels of land for military purposes as it may from time to time require, and the right to use suitable portions of the land leased as aforesaid, for the purpose of erecting such hangars and other buildings as it may deem necessary for the purposes of aviation, and wherein the said City of Boston reserves to itself the right to remove any buildings erected by it upon the said leased premises at the termination of the said lease or instead thereof to charge the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for whatever benefit the said Commonwealth may acquire from the use of said buildings if left upon the said premises.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

ANNUAL BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 4, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith in full segregated form my budget recommendations for the year 1936 providing allowances for city, county and revenue departments. These recommendations should be substituted for the lump-sum budget submitted to your Honorable Body on January 27, 1936.

Appropriations recommended for city departments aggregate $38,235,210.34. This total does not include an additional $2,000,000, which may be necessary to provide for the Public Welfare Department. Assuming that this $2,000,000 additional will be needed and appropriated, the 1936 allowances for city departments represent a reduction of $7,119,831.67 from departmental estimates as originally submitted and also represent a reduction of $2,057,432 from appropriations authorized in 1935.

Recommendations for county departments (which are entirely separate from and independent of the city maintenance budget) aggregate $3,594,929.66. This sum represents a reduction of $383,407.30 from estimates originally submitted by county officials and is $17,356.20 less than appropriations authorized in 1935 for county purposes.

The amount recommended for revenue departments, $2,392,706.76, will be met from the income of these departments, and while necessary to be included in the budget recommendations will not be included in the tax levy since this amount will be offset by the receipts of these departments.

Appropriations recommended for maintenance requirements of city and county departments which must be included in the 1936 tax levy are approximately $2,075,000 less than similar appropriations in 1935.

In preparing the budget program submitted herewith an intensive effort has been made to reduce rigorously departmental budget allowances for the current year, as the foregoing figures indicate. This has been accomplished without curtailing essential services to the public or affecting salary reductions or discharges of permanent employees.

It is impossible at the present time to announce definitely the tax rate for 1936. The School Committee has not adopted its 1936 budget. In addition to this, the lack of information as to the amount of state tax to be assessed upon Boston, and the amount of state revenues to which Boston may be entitled upon distribution to municipalities, make it impossible to forecast with accuracy the tax rate for the current year.

In view of the continuing heavy demands for public welfare which the Federal Work Relief program has reduced only to a limited degree, it is improbable that a reduction in last year's tax rate can be accomplished unless the Commonwealth should enact legislation prior to the declaration of the rate giving substantial relief to the municipalities of the Commonwealth.

In view of the enactment of recent legislation abolishing the tax limit and amending, among other things, section 16 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, it is no longer necessary to appropriate for Debt Requirements. Provisions, therefore, for these requirements are not included in the budget transmitted herewith, since under the new law these amounts which include interest, serial payments and sinking fund requirements, will be certified directly by the City Auditor to the Board of Assessors, instead of being submitted to the City Council for appropriation.

As the tax rate must be declared on or about June 1, I recommend prompt consideration and adoption of the accompanying orders.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated April 6, 1936, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consider the advisability of including in the budget an amount sufficient for the installation of traffic signal lights at the corner of Harvard and Morton streets, Dorchester, Ward 14."

All traffic signals which have been installed in the city have been paid for out of special appropriations from loan orders or special funds diverted from other sources. There is no provision in the Traffic Commission departmental budget for the erection of new signals.

The intersection of Harvard street and Morton street is on a list of locations where this commission has previously recommended to your Honor that traffic signals be installed if money is made available.

There are no funds available at present for this installation. The estimated cost of a traffic signal at this location is $2,800.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

CHARLESTOWN MUNICIPAL BUILDING BOILER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 1, 1936.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Superintendent of Public Buildings relative to your order of April 27, concerning the condition of the boiler at the Charlestown Municipal Building.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department,
May 1, 1936.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—In reference to Council order dated April 24, 1936, in regard to condition of the boiler at the Charlestown Municipal Building, I wish to state that up to the present time there has been only one boiler in said building. This boiler is in an unsafe condition and is, at the present time, being replaced by two boilers which have been purchased from Federal Funds and the work to install these boilers is being paid out of W. P. A. allotments.

It will be necessary, in order to put the new boilers in operation, to close down the present boiler for a very short period.

I assure you that this building will be in full operation, with the exception of said short period, for the entire summer season.

Very truly yours,
ROSWELL G. HALL,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

REORGANIZATION OF CERTAIN CITY DEPARTMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, April 27, 1936.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Gentlemen,—On December 16, 1935, I submitted to your Honorable Body a form of ordinance reorganizing the Department of Public Works and certain other departments, set forth on pages 4 to 18, inclusive, of City Document 91 of 1935, transmitted herewith. My message transmitting said ordinance is set forth on pages 1 to 3, inclusive, of said City Document and the report of the committee appointed by President Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, headed by Col. Robert C. Eddy, recommending the form of reorganization, is set forth on pages 19 to 45, inclusive, of said City Document. With said message and form of ordinance were also submitted to your Honorable Body copies of letters from the Corporation Counsel to Colonel Eddy and from Colonel Eddy to the Corporation Counsel, copies of which are also transmitted herewith.

On December 30, 1935, your Honorable Body rejected said ordinance without prejudice.

As a result of my petition to the Legislature, chapter 152 of the Acts of 1936 was enacted and approved on March 23, 1936. The Law Department has prepared an additional section to said form of ordinance, as authorized by said chapter 152, providing as follows:

"Section 27. All of the employees of any department or division thereof hereby abolished who are subject to civil service shall be reappointed to similar positions with similar status in the department of public works or any division thereof hereby established or in any other department of the city or division thereof, without civil service examination or registration, and such employees shall, upon reappointment, retain all rights to retirement with pension that shall have accrued or would thereafter accrue to them, and their services shall be deemed to have been continuous, to the same extent as if such abolishment had not taken place."

I am submitting to your Honorable Body a form of ordinance reorganizing the Department of Public Works and certain other departments, which is in the same form as the form of ordinance submitted last year, excepting for the addition of the new section hereinbefore quoted and the renumbering of the sections beginning with section 27.

For the reasons set forth in my message to your Honorable Body dated December 16, 1935, and for the additional reason that the new section gives additional protection to civil service employees of the departments and divisions to be abolished by said ordinance, I strongly recommend and urge upon you the passage of an ordinance in the form submitted.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology,
Cambridge,
Massachusetts.

October 22, 1935.

Henry E. Foley, Esq.,
Corporation Counsel.

Dear Mr. Foley,—We have examined the proposed ordinance for the reorganization of the Department of Public Works and certain other departments which you submitted to us.

The committee notes that you have omitted the Boston Traffic Commission because of the statutory provisions contained in the act establishing the commission.

With this omission in mind the committee is of the opinion that the ordinance as drawn provides substantially the organization recommended by this committee.

The committee believes that the reorganization, in accordance with the ordinance, will provide a sound organization from an engineering standpoint and will promote efficiency in the transaction of the business of the city. The committee, therefore, recommends the adoption of the ordinance.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT C. EDDY, Chairman.

City of Boston,
Law Department, August 19, 1935.
Col. Robert C. Eddy, Chairman Committee to Study Engineering Departments of the City of Boston, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Colonel Eddy,—I am transmitting herewith a copy of proposed ordinance for the reorganization of the Department of Public Works and certain other departments. This proposed ordinance is based upon the report of your committee entitled "Organization of a New Public Works Department Embracing All Engineering Functions for the City of Boston," recently submitted by your committee to me.

In view of the provisions contained in chapter 263 of the Acts of 1929, establishing the Boston Traffic Commission, that the provisions of section 5 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909 shall not apply to said commission, I have not included said commission within the form of reorganization set forth in said proposed ordinance.

Very truly yours,
HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. AGNEW called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor April 13, 1936, of John Skelly, to be a constable connected with an official position and to serve without bonds.

The question came on confirmation. Committee Coun. George A. Murray and Selvella.

Coun. MCGRATH—Mr. President, I objected to this last week, but I would now like to withdraw my objection.

The appointment was confirmed, yeas 17, nays 1.

Coun. AGNEW also called up, under No. 2 on the calendar, unfinished business, from the list of appointments submitted by the Mayor on April 13 of constables authorized to serve civil process upon filing bond, the names of Charles A. Bancroft and John A. Wragg. The question came on confirmation of the two names. Committee, Coun. Mellen and Finley. Whole number of ballots 18, yeas 18, and the appointments were confirmed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

Coun. DOWD, for the Committee on Finance, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred from Executive Committee, March 23) for loan of $375,000 for reconstruction of streets—that same ought not to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the rejection of the order.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, while it is the opinion of most of the members of the Council that we should have this money and possibly more for the reconstruction and care of streets, unfortunately, because of an act passed by the Legislature this year, it would be necessary for the Mayor to send to the City Council a tax appropriation of ten cents for each thousand dollars of the average valuation for these last three years, which would be $167,000. Until such time as the Mayor sends into the City Council, therefore, an appropriation of $167,000, it will be impossible for the Council to act upon this order.

Report accepted; order rejected.

2. Report on order (referred February 10) for loan of $50,000 for traffic signals, Dorchester—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this is an order for departmental equipment, and it is my impression that the same law referred before would apply to this, namely, that 10 per cent of the amount must be first appropriated out of the tax levy before a borrowing can be made. If that is so, there is no more jurisdiction here for this order than there was for the other one we have just killed. I suggest that the matter be looked into before we proceed further.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. Chairman, I would like to hear from the chairman of the committee.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, it is my contention and understanding that only certain articles are provided for in the chapter passed by the Legislature, and that that chapter does not prohibit the city from borrowing for traffic lights. I may be wrong, but that is my interpretation of the language of the statute. I don't know whether I am right or not, and I suppose we might get some legal interpretation of the language of the statute.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I am opposed to this order for several other reasons. In the first place, I believe loan orders should originate with the Mayor and not with the Council. I think if we get in the habit of putting in loan orders every time we think something should be done, we will be cluttered up with a lot of loan orders, many of which have been very little considered. One member puts in an order because he wants something, and another member puts in an order because he wants something, and then the next time when something comes up which really warrants borrowing it will be turned down because of the lack of borrowing capacity. So I think we will get along much better if we have loan orders of this kind originate with the Mayor, instead of passing here every Monday afternoon under suspension of the rule orders with no knowledge on the part of most of the members of the Council as to what they are all about until the thing is all over. I certainly don't think we should borrow money under any such system. I am opposed to it. I am also opposed to borrowing money, anyway, for small items of this kind. I believe if they cannot be provided for within the tax levy, we ought not to pass them at all. The usual principle for borrowing is to deal with large expenditures. This is a small matter, and the city can either take care of it out of the tax levy or not at all. I shall vote against the order, and I would move in the meantime, in order that the legal question may be looked into, that the matter be postponed until after our recess.

The motion to postpone action until after the recess was lost.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I would like to know from the chairman of the committee whether that appropriation simply involves the Dorchester district, or whether it covers the suburban districts of Boston?

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I understand that the order as introduced into the Council by one of our members reads, "for the Dorchester district." In any event, the language of the order is very plain, and I would suggest that the clerk read it.

(The clerk read the order.)

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, it seems hardly fair that this expenditure of money should be confined to any one district of Boston. The district I represent has a great many intersections where traffic lights should be installed. That has been generally recognized. The accident rate in East Boston is as large as in any other section of the city, and if this order is simply confined to Dorchester I am inclined to vote against the appropriation as being a very unfair appropriation, providing for the needs of one district of the city as against others.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—Mr. President, if this order simply provides for Dorchester I shall vote against it, because in Roslindale we need traffic lights. If the order is to provide lights at the worst places in the city, I would gladly vote for it; otherwise, I cannot do so.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, I would say for the information of the Council that one of the most dangerous intersections in the city is in my district. I have been trying for two years to get traffic lights there, where they should have been a long time ago, in which case a number of fatalities would have been prevented. I don't think the order is broad enough. For that reason I shall vote against it.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I introduced this order for traffic lights in Dorchester. In my particular ward we have one traffic light. I have, since the good people of Dorchester elected me a member of this body, asked his Honor the Mayor to kindly see to it that lights were put at St. Ann's Church, St. Mark's Church, and at some of the playgrounds. I think the population of Dorchester is about 300,000, representing a large part of the population of this city. I don't know what the ratio of traffic lights is, but I think it is fair to say that it is lower in our section than in any other part of Boston. There is just one traffic light in Ward 16. That is the reason why I introduced the order, and I may say that my order was introduced prior to the order providing $3,000 for traffic or signal lights at the corner of Charles and Allen streets, that is in Boston, and I introduced this order in order to protect Dorchester. I think the rest of the city fares pretty well. Dorchester needs this protection, and I certainly trust that the order will be passed at this time.

Coun. GEORGE A. MURRAY—Mr. President, in so far as the Dorchester section is concerned, I feel that they probably need more traffic lights. But it is also true that over in South Boston there is plenty of room for additional traffic lights. I would, therefore, like to amend the order of the council from Dorchester, increasing the amount of money from $50,000 to a sufficient sum so that each councilor might have an opportunity to have needed traffic lights in his section.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I move that the order be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on message of Mayor and ordinance (referred March 30) amending ordinance re hawkers and pedlers of fruit, vegetables, etc., that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said ordinance passed.

BUS LINE TO CITY HOSPITAL.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to establish a bus line from South Boston to the Boston City Hospital and return, with a five-cent fare in each direction.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OPENING OF ROGER WOLCOTT SCHOOL.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the School Board to consider the advisability of opening the Roger Wolcott School, located at Norfolk and Morton streets, Dorchester, as a School Center.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, out in Dorchester for a great number of years, especially in my district, we have been waiting and hoping that a municipal building would eventually be built. It is still in the offing, and we are waiting. The Sarah Greenwood School, located at the corner of Harvard and Glenway streets, has been used as a school center, open evenings, to bring in the children of the district and also some of the parents. The place is so overcrowded, however, that large numbers of youngsters are unable to get into the building for the purpose of receiving necessary education and guidance. At the present time there is available the Roger Wolcott School, at the corner of Norfolk and Morton streets, which has a large auditorium and school rooms that can be easily devoted to instruction and recreation, dealing with children and adults, and with vocational work. It is available evenings, and I believe if the school could be opened up it would be to the great advantage of the people of Dorchester, in Wards 13, 17, and other parts of the district. It also has convenient street car and bus service, and the opening of the school and its use in this way as a school center would be of great benefit to the people of Dorchester.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NEW LOCKER BUILDING, FRANKLIN FIELD.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of replacing the present locker building at Franklin Field with a recreation center building.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DRINKING FOUNTAIN, FRANKLIN FIELD.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a drinking fountain on the Baseball Grounds at Franklin Field.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SERVICE TO FRANKLIN PARK STATION.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to extend the present Dudley street-Blue Hill avenue-Grove Hall service to Franklin Park station, in order that persons using car service from Franklin Park may be able to travel along the lower section of Blue Hill avenue, with a five-cent local fare being made available for those using this line.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, it seems that in most of the suburban sections of Boston the people are able to travel within the local limits for a five-cent fare. The present Dudley street-Blue Hill avenue-Grove Hall line takes passengers up to Grove Hall. To reach the Franklin Park station they then have to make a transfer and, although the distance is only a few blocks, have to pay an extra five-cent fare. The extension of that service to Franklin Park will help the residents of the district and also help business at the lower end of the section. I believe it will mean no additional expense to the Elevated Trustees to extend the line and that it will give to our people the five-cent local fare service that is given generally in the different suburban districts of Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING FACILITIES, WARD 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide better lighting facilities at Blue Hill avenue and Hazleton street, Ward 14.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STEPS TO MAKE WATER DEPARTMENT SELF-SUPPORTING.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council as to what steps are being taken to make the Water Department self-supporting.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I notice in the report of the Boston Real Estate Exchange that, for the first time since the depression, at least, the Water Service has not been self-supporting, or has shown a deficit against which there was no prior surplus which could be applied. There has been in effect a deficit for about four years, but up to date they have been able to use the accumulated surplus income of prior years. That has now been exhausted, so that for 1935 there was a deficit of about $104,000. I assume that this year, unless something is done about it, there will be at least as great a deficit, and that it will probably be larger. My purpose in offering this order is to find out what the Mayor intends to do about it. I understand that the Water Department is supposed to be a self-supporting department, with sufficient revenue to meet its needs.

Coun. DOWD—Mr. President, I am going to vote against the order for this reason. For the last three or four years thousands have been unable to pay their water tax. Therefore, the reason for the deficiency in the funds of the department is very plain. It is because the people of Boston owning property, one and two family houses, have been unable to pay their water bills. We members of the Council have had that called to our attention from time to time by our constituents, and we have asked different Mayors to see to it that water was not shut off because of nonpayment of bills. There is, therefore, only one reason why this deficiency is in existence at the present time, and that is because, by reason of the present situation, people have been unable to pay their water rates. For that reason, I am going to vote against the order.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I think the deficit has probably arisen from various causes. One is because of the debt of the Metropolitan Water District, which because of the building of the new reservoir, has been increasing, and consequently the debt chargeable on the cities and towns using the water has increased. That is one reason, and probably another is because there has been less water used for industrial purposes. Besides the water used in the homes, at least half of the water used is ordinarily used for industrial and other purposes, and there has been less demand along those lines. My order is not asking the Mayor to do anything at the present time except to give us information as to what, if anything, is being done to adjust water expenses to water revenue. I certainly think we are entitled to that information.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—Mr. President, this looks to me like an entering wedge to the shutting off of water. It looks very innocent at the moment, but it looks to me as if the next step would be a general shutting off of water where people are unable to pay their water bills.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think it would be well to send this order to the Executive Committee and have Mr. McMurphy come down and express his views.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

TRAFFIC FROM EMBANKMENT ROAD TO BEACON STREET.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of rounding off the westerly corner of Embankment road and Beacon street so as to permit a freer movement of traffic from Embankment road into Beacon street, and, if deemed advisable, to report what steps the Traffic Commission recommends for accomplishing this purpose.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, this location is the narrow bottleneck out of which all the traffic from the North Station and West End comes into Beacon street from Embankment road. I am told that the block between Arlington and Berkeley streets, on Beacon street, has the heaviest traffic load of any street or section of street in the City of Boston, and a large part of that load comes through the very narrow passage from Embankment road. It seems that it might be possible without large expense to cut off a portion of the sidewalk at the westerly corner of Embankment road and Beacon street, and a little of the setback, not taking any structure but merely the sidewalk, rounding off the westerly corner so that traffic would move more quickly between Embankment road and Beacon street. There would not then be those long lines of automobiles stretching back to Cambridge street at times, waiting to get through that narrow opening. This order asks for consideration by the Traffic Commission, through the Mayor, of the advisability of doing something of the kind.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LAND, STERLING STREET.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

March 30, 1936.

Whereas, By a tax deed dated October 7, 1918, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds in Book 4109, page 386, and by another tax deed dated October 7, 1918, and recorded with said Deeds in Book 4109, page 389, the Collector of Taxes for the City of Boston conveyed to Leverett A. Haskell the property therein substantially described as "1,190 square feet of land and the buildings numbered 1078-1078½ Tremont street, corner of No. 162-164 Sterling street"; and

Whereas, By order of the Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston for the purpose of widening said Sterling street said city took all of the land hereinbefore described excepting a strip one foot wide adjoining the easterly line of the lot and buildings numbered 1080 Tremont street, said strip containing 56 square feet; and

Whereas, In pursuance of said order said city took from said Haskell an assignment of each of said Tax Deeds, respectively dated April 30, 1924, and April 30, 1924, and recorded with said Deeds in Book 4572, pages 624 and 625, thereby acquiring all of said Haskell's interest in said lot containing 1,190 square feet; and

Whereas, The title to said property 1080 Tremont street and to said one foot strip containing 56 square feet has come to be in one Mary Green, wife of William M. Green, and is clouded by the outstanding interest of said city under said assignments in said one foot strip containing 56 square feet; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be, and he hereby is, authorized to sign, seal with the Corporate Seal, acknowledge, and deliver on behalf of said city to said Mary Green, wife of William M. Green, a written instrument satisfactory in form to the Law Department of the City of Boston, conveying all the right, title and interest which said city acquired by said assignments in and to said one foot strip, bounded and described as follows:

Northwesterly by Tremont street one foot, northeasterly by Sterling street 56 feet, southeasterly by lot 5 as shown on a plan by H. H. Moses dated June 22, 1870, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds in Book 1035, page 314, one foot, and southwesterly by lot 2 as shown on said plan 56 feet; containing 56 square feet, upon payment to the said City of Boston of $_____ dollars.

Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

PAINTING OF SIGNS.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to have the signs at squares dedicated to veterans painted and otherwise put in first-class condition before Memorial Day.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIMITATION OF PUPILS IN CLASSES.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the School Committee be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to limit classes in all primary and elementary schools to twenty-five pupils.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF STARR LANE.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, Starr lane, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

REPAVING OF SOUTH HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY and DOHERTY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving South Huntington avenue, Wards 10 and 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

DISCONTINUANCE OF U-DRIVIT TRUCKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner, through his Honor the Mayor, be respectfully requested to promptly advise the City Council as to the date when the use of six U-Drivit trucks was discontinued in Brighton following the purchase of new trucks for the City of Boston and also the date on which some fifteen horses in the Dorchester district were disposed of following such purchase.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, very briefly, this is just a matter of inquiry, remembering that a part of the sales talk for the purchase of the snow-removal equipment was that it would do away with the necessity for ten or fifteen U-Drivit trucks and a number of horses in the Dorchester district. I have received advice to the effect that that part of the sales talk has not been consummated.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

BUSES ALONG WALK HILL STREET.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, through his Honor the Mayor, be respectfully requested to consider the filing of application for a permit to run buses along Walk Hill street, from Blue Hill avenue, adjacent to the various cemeteries, especially during the final weeks of May.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, that has reference most particularly to the fact that thousands of people, as we know, visit these three cemeteries—Old Calvary, New Calvary and Mount Hope—adjacent to the Walk Hill section, particularly during the latter part of May, and the excellent suggestion has been made to me by people who visit those cemeteries that such bus service should be provided by the Elevated during the latter weeks of May, not only from the public point of view but from the point of view of the Elevated itself, that, for the convenience of the many people who would be accommodated, it might not be a bad idea.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT ON TELEPHONE PROPERTY IN BOSTON STREETS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to file a report with the City Council as to how many manholes, terminals, conduits and other appurtenances in use by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company underground are now located in or under Boston streets and the location, with the surface area, of each, so far as same may be known to the Public Works Department.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, I don't want to seem unduly technical, but we have the advice that came to the City Council under date of April 27, in response to our order addressed to the Board of Street Commissioners—and I have no doubt of the correctness of the advice that came through—to the effect that the Assessing Department of the City of Boston rely for their valuation of these underground properties of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company upon the figures of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation, as provided by section 39 of chapter 59 of the General Laws, and that these properties were thus valued and certified by the Commissioner for the year 1936 at $13,645,450. I am still strongly of the opinion, however, that the properties referred to, so far as the City of Boston is concerned, are at the present time grossly under-assessed. The advice from the Street Commissioners, through the Mayor's office, under date of April 27, says that information in regard to these manholes, terminals, conduits, and so forth, may be secured from the Permit Office of the Public Works Department, and I was a little surprised to read the communication from that department to this effect:

"While it is a fact that permits are issued by the Public Works Department to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for construction work, old records going back forty years, to 1896, at which date the underground construction was started by the Telephone Company, are not now available. The procedure to obtain this information will be to have a survey made of every manhole location in Boston and to obtain from the Telephone Company the size of conduits on which manholes are built. It would take at least six months to obtain the correct data and information desired."

I repeat that I don't want to be unduly technical, but I really, in all frankness, believe that there should be available in the Public Works Department a complete list of all the manholes, conduits, and so forth, in the City of Boston, for various purposes I might mention, but more directly at the present time a complete list, so far as the location of New England Telephone and Telegraph's properties are concerned. If we haven't any available records, it is about time that we got some together. The amount certified by the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation for the year 1936 is $13,645,450, and, therefore, I am in this order asking the Commissioner of Public Works to give to the Council the detailed information as to these manholes, terminals, conduits and other appurtenances in use by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company underground. I really believe, while I have no quarrel with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, that there should be available to us this information, as a basis of taxable valuation on the property of this particular corporation, with its vast holdings not only of real estate, but its underground privileges under practically all the public streets of the City of Boston. I am informed, and I believe correctly, that this property is at the present time grossly under-assessed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAYMENT TO MOTHER OF DAVID McDONALD.

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby favors the enactment of legislation authorizing said city to pay a sum of money to the mother of David McDonald, who was killed by a police officer of said city, provided that such legislation includes a referendum to the Mayor and City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF TAYLOR TERRACE.

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, Taylor terrace, Ward 15.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.20 p. m., on motion of Coun. MELLEEN, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by Chairman GALLAGHER at 4.08 p. m.

3. Report on message of Mayor and loan order for $50,000 for traffic signals (referred today)—recommending passage of order in following new draft, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of $50,000 be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Boston Traffic Commission, for automatic traffic signals at various intersections and points in Boston, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 16, nays—Coun. Roberts, Shattuck—2.

4. Report on order (referred today) as to what steps could be taken to make Water Department self-supporting—recommending that same should not pass.

Report accepted; said order rejected.

CONSTABLES CONFIRMED.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, the Committee on Constables calls up, from No. 2 on the calendar, the names of William A. Amsie and Alfred N. Sarno, and recommends their confirmation.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Mellen and Selvitella. Whole number of ballots 16; yeas 16, and the appointments were confirmed.

SOUNDING OF AUTOMOBILE HORNS.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Police Commissioner to enforce the ordinance relative to the sounding of automobile horns between the hours of eleven p. m. and seven a. m. against buses, transportation companies, etc.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I have heard numerous complaints lately because of the fact that transportation company buses, equipped to make a loud sound, between the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m., when entering the City of Boston, sound their horns to such an extent as to interfere with people who are sleeping. I understand that the Police Department are giving only a warning at the present time, that private automobiles are living up to the requirements of the ordinance, but that it is important—and that is the object of this order—that the Mayor inform the Police Commissioner that the drivers of these large buses should be instructed to observe the ordinance, or they will be brought into court.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ASSIGNMENT OF CONSTABLES TO DEPARTMENTS.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor is hereby requested to specify the departments to which the constables already appointed have been assigned, and the duties which each will perform and the department to which the additional constables recommended will be assigned and the duties which each will perform, and is requested to state whether some of the departments in which constables are to serve are not now overmanned, and whether there are not now persons on the regular pay roll in the several departments affected who are qualified to perform the duties of these constables, and if appointed, could perform the duties without adding to the huge operating deficit from which the city is suffering.

Referred to Executive Committee.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS FOR UTILITY EMPLOYEES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the officials of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and also the officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and also officials of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, be respectfully requested to provide for the including of a small photograph on the identification cards of such of their employees as are sent out to visit private premises, and also that water meter readers from the Water Division of the Public Works Department be provided with such proper identification.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I think this is a request that, upon being made by the Chief Executive of the City of Boston to the officials of these public service corporations, and also to the head of the Public Works Department, will no doubt receive a proper response. I have in mind the fact that we have repeated instances, especially in the residential sections of the city, where sneak thieves, or other small operators, will flash a handful of papers, claiming to represent the Gas Company, the Edison Company, the Telephone Company or to be water-meter readers, passing themselves off for meter readers or something of the sort and, having obtained access to the premises, steal property that they may see lying around. It seems to me this is a reasonable precaution for the Telephone Company, the Consolidated Gas Company and the Edison Company, as well as for the Water Division of the Public Works Department, with its meter readers. I feel that there will be no reasonable objection anywhere to this request for proper identification.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. ROSENBERG, at 4.18 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 11, 1936, at 2 p. m.

MAYOR MANSFIELD GIVES INDORSEMENT TO BOSTON'S FOREIGN TRADE WEEK PROGRAM.

A more general appreciation of what foreign trade means to every man, woman and child in the community, which the Boston Chamber of Commerce seeks to stimulate during National Foreign Trade Week, May 17-23, receives the hearty indorsement of Mayor Mansfield.

"It is very gratifying to know," the Mayor said, "that the improvement in American foreign trade during 1935 was reflected in a substantial increase in both exports and imports of merchandise in Boston and throughout New England. The Port of Boston was one of the chief beneficiaries of the upward trend in the commerce of the United States with other nations. In fact, of all ports of the country Boston showed the largest percentage gain in the export of merchandise. In dollar volume these shipments increased from $15,671,000 in 1934 to $24,575,000 in 1935, a gain of 56.8 per cent as compared with the general gain for exports of all the United States of 7 per cent. Imports through the Port of Boston increased from $97,615,000 in 1934 to $110,558,000, an advance of 13.3 per cent.

"But the Port of Boston is still forging ahead. Thus far in 1936 there has been a gain in business over 1935. In the first quarter of this year 574 vessels entered the port from foreign countries, a gain of 131 over the similar period of 1935. For the full year of 1935 a total of 1,672 vessels came here from overseas, a gain of 169 vessels over the full year of 1934. Similarly, in passenger traffic an important gain has been registered thus far in 1936.

"These facts are interesting to every person, not only to the 7,500 persons and their families which depend upon the work directly associated with the port but to those employed in the hundreds of manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments, import agencies and services connected with trade and shipping."

MAYOR DENIES THE CHARGE OF FINANCE COMMISSION AND AWAITS ALL FACTS BEFORE ACTING.

The charge made by the Finance Commission that the Mayor "has offered stubborn resistance to friendly suggestions that could easily have prevented suffering and privations of the poor" is absolutely without foundation. It is true that the Mayor urged the public "to await the submission of all the facts." The Mayor reiterates his statement that he is anxious for all the facts. To that end he has asked the Finance Commission to submit to him the complete stenographic report of the inquiry for transmission to Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley, in order that the city may proceed in the way that the Law Department deems fitting.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch pipe, W. P. A. Project 65-14-4953, Work Project 5982, in Ashland avenue, between Johnson street and Cass street, in the West Roxbury district, at an estimated cost of $16,000.

REVISION OF ASSESSMENTS.

The Mayor has approved the following votes of the Board of Street Commissioners:

In the matter of the application for revision of assessment levied on account of the construction of sewerage works, the Board of Street Commissioners, acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that such action should be taken on said applications,

Ordered, That the amount hereinafter specified, being the annual apportionment of said assessment for the year specified below, be, and the same is hereby, abated.

John E. and Ellen O'Toole, 1934 apportionment, plan 1930-25, part 2, lot 49, Belnel road, assessed March 16, 1931, $14.20.

In the matter of the application for revision of assessment levied on account of the construction of sewerage works, the Board of Street Commissioners, acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that such action should be taken on said application,

Ordered, That the amount hereinafter specified, being the annual apportionment of said assessment for the year specified below, be, and the same is hereby, abated.

Annie L. and Mary B. Howard, 1934 apportionment, plan 1931-68, lot 3A, Ashmont street, assessed July 13, 1933, $12.60.

MAYOR MANSFIELD BUYS DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE CONVENTION BOOK.

Mayor Mansfield joins with other Democratic mayors and the governors of states in contributing to the finances of the Democratic National Committee through the purchase of the Democratic Convention Book of 1936 at $2.50 a copy. The national committee is already taking orders and the Mayor has written Chairman James A. Farley that he would be pleased to subscribe.

"We are counting a great deal on the proceeds from this volume to improve the finances of the Democratic National Committee for the forthcoming campaign," Chairman Farley wrote, "and I am therefore asking if you will cooperate in this movement by agreeing to purchase one copy at the price of $2.50, from some good Democrat whom we will appoint for that purpose."

Chairman Farley announced that the committee is setting aside May 20 as a special day to call attention to "this unusual volume." On that day at noon ceremonies will be staged in the offices of the mayors and governors.

MAYOR MANSFIELD INDORSES SWIMMING CAMPAIGN BY Y. M. C. A.

Mayor Mansfield, on May 11, gave official indorsement to the campaign being conducted by the Boston Young Men's Christian Association as in former years, to teach men eighteen years of age and older how to swim, in order to lessen the number of fatalities from drowning and to permit a larger number of persons to enjoy the sport.

The Mayor, in a letter to C. H. Johnson, public relations secretary of the association, referred to the campaign as "the most effective method of reducing deaths due to drowning" and added that "by your gratuitous instruction you attack this terrible danger at its source." "Moreover, the association's work in teaching men to swim," the Mayor said, "makes possible for many an exceptionally healthful exercise with little investment."

MAYOR OF HONOLULU INVITED TO BOSTON.

Mayor Mansfield has invited Mayor Fred George Wright of the city of Honolulu to visit Boston with other representatives of the city upon the occasion of the National Public Parks Tennis Tournament, which will be held in Boston in August.

MAYOR MANSFIELD DEPLORES RAPID GROWTH OF PATERNALISM IN SCHOOL SYSTEM — DELIVERS ADDRESS AT LAYING OF CORNER STONE OF SCHOOL BUILDING IN FITCHBURG ON MAY 18 — POINTS TO INTRODUCTION OF FADS, ETC., WHICH MIGHT WELL BE DISCARDED FOR THOSE SOUNDER FEATURES WHICH MAKE FOR BROADER CULTURE, BETTER MANHOOD AND WOMANHOOD AND FINER CITIZENSHIP.

The following is the address of Mayor Mansfield at the laying of the corner stone of school at Fitchburg, Mass.:

It is provided in the General Laws of Massachusetts, in a statute whose origin is found in the old Colonial Laws before our country became an independent nation, that certain schools should be maintained by every town which should "be taught by teachers of competent ability and good morals, and shall give instruction and training in orthography, reading, writing, the English language and grammar, geography, arithmetic, drawing, the history and constitution of the United States, the duties of citizenship, physiology and hygiene, good behavior, indoor and outdoor games and athletic exercise."

And in the same statute another section provides that all instructors in colleges, academies and all other teachers of youth "shall exert their best endeavors to impress on the minds of children and youth committed to their care and instruction the principles of piety and justice and a sacred regard for truth, love of their country, humanity and universal benevolence, sobriety, industry and frugality, chastity, moderation and temperance, and those other virtues which are the ornament of human society and the basis upon which a republican constitution is founded; and they shall endeavor to lead their pupils, as their ages and capacities will admit, into a clear understanding of the tendency of the above-mentioned virtues to preserve and perfect a republican constitution and secure the blessings of liberty as well as to promote their future happiness, and also to point out to them the evil tendency of the opposite vices."

Thus it will be seen that the subjects enumerated in the statute first quoted were deemed by the founders of our school system to be fundamental and of the very first importance, and that the principles enumerated in the second section were classed among "virtues which are the ornament of human society" and yet were also termed "the basis upon which a republican constitution is founded."

Solid Education.

Surely no man can quarrel with this philosophy. The teaching by instructors of competent ability and good morals, of spelling, reading, writing, geography, arithmetic, history, knowledge of the English language, the duties of citizenship, good behavior, to which was added instruction in piety and justice and a sacred regard for truth, love of country, humanity and universal benevolence, sobriety, industry and frugality and all those other virtues just enumerated, could not but result in a well-grounded and thoroughly rounded solid education.

But those fundamental principles were enunciated either before our nation was born or when it was very young and there has been an alarming and rapidly spreading tendency to depart from those tried and true principles of sound education and to experiment with many new ideas, the soundness of which in many cases has yet to be proved. On these simple, yet ample, foundations in later years a tremendous structure has been erected which has grown constantly higher and spread wider until many thinking persons have come to the conclusion that the structure is altogether too top-heavy — top-heavy with fads and fancies which might well be discarded, and which if not discarded may bring the entire structure to the ground.

I do not pretend to be an expert in the business of education and while I think it might be an easy task to enumerate several subjects that might be dropped from the curricula without great loss, and indeed with a positive gain, yet I do not intend to enter into that controversial field.

One of the growing tendencies of the times which I think ought to be checked I may venture to comment upon, and that is the rapid growth of paternalism in our school system. The parents, seemingly, are just as ready to fight for their rights touching their own children as they ever were but they do not seem to be so eager to assume and discharge parental responsibilities and duties. And thus the community is gradually being forced to assume duties and responsibilities that originally belonged to the parents. Thus lunches are provided, medical and dental care and the burdens formerly resting heavily upon the shoulders of the parent are gradually being shifted to the community at large and the taxpayers are forced to pay the expense of what used to be considered a private obligation of the family.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

CENSUS BUREAU'S REFERENCE TO PER CAPITA COSTS OF GOVERNMENT FOR BOSTON BASED ON INACCURATE INFERENCES WRONGLY DEDUCED—CORRECT AS AN ARITHMETICAL PROCESS OF REASONING, BUT WRONG IN COMPARATIVE PREMISES—MAYOR MANSFIELD POINTS TO INEQUALITIES WHICH LEAD TO UNFAIR CONCLUSIONS, IN STATEMENT CITING ERRORS—EACH CITY HAS ITS OWN AND DIFFERENT FUNCTIONS THAT GO TO MAKE UP ITS GOVERNMENT AND NO TWO ARE EXACTLY SIMILAR.

Upon May 15 the following statement was issued by the Mayor:

The position of Boston with reference to per capita costs of government as shown in a table just issued by the Census Bureau for the year 1934 is not a new development. A survey of per capita cost tables compiled during the past thirty years shows that with only one or two exceptions Boston has always been credited or charged with the highest per capita cost among the larger cities of the country. In other words, the condition disclosed by the latest Census Bureau table has existed for at least three decades and must necessarily continue as long as per capita costs are computed on the present basis.

Per capita costs for cities are obtained by dividing the total of expenditures (excluding public service enterprises) for any year by the figure corresponding to the population as shown by the latest United States census. The quotient is assumed to be the per capita cost of municipal government in each of the cities to which the process is applied.

The arithmetic is probably correct but the results are of little, if any, practical value. The table is nothing more than it purports to be, the result of a mathematical process, but like a great many other statistical tables, it is open to various interpretations, depending on the particular line of argument advanced by the person using it.

FAIR COMPARISON.

To make a fair comparison of the cost of municipal government among several cities it is necessary to take into account, first, how many, and what quality of services are furnished in each city at the public expense and what items of expense not strictly municipal are included in the costs of one city and not in another, and, second, the character and extent of the population served.

So far as Boston is concerned these two factors are not comparable with any of the other large cities. Municipal expenditures in this city cover expenditures for county government, state and metropolitan expenses and other items which in other cities are not included in the city expense. In addition, the city is obliged to incur expenses not for a resident population of 781,188, which is the figure used in the table, but for a daytime population of at least 500,000 more who live in the suburbs but come to business in Boston each day. Using this daytime population will materially reduce Boston's per capita cost and omitting from the total expense several items peculiar to Boston will further reduce this figure.

Of course this process and conclusion is more or less ridiculous but it is advanced for the purpose of showing the lack of importance or value of statistics of this kind.

A table recently compiled by Dun & Bradstreet gives the net debt of Boston's per capita as $108, which is $36 less than the average for the thirteen cities having more than 500,000 population. This kind of table is equally valueless and for the same reason, that is, that the bases and factors involved are not comparable.

Several sets of tables can be prepared based on authentic figures, some of which tables show on their face that the cost of municipal government in Boston is less than the cost in most of the other large cities and others show just the opposite. Such tables are worthless because they are founded on bases which are not fairly comparable. In one city ashes and garbage may be collected as a municipal function while in another it is a private expense. One city may have to expend millions for snow removal while another has practically no snow expense. Streets and sewers may be constructed at the public expense in one city while in another the abutters have to pay the cost. The taxpayers in one city may have furnished to them as a matter of course public baths and gymnasia which are absent in another city. While presumably all large cities have a traffic problem to some extent, the difficulties may be so increased in one city by narrow and illogically laid out streets that a police officer is required at almost every intersection in the business district while in another with wide avenues and rectangular blocks traffic officers are hardly necessary.

In one city the public welfare expenses are assumed by the county and do not appear as a municipal expense. In others the greater portion of the public welfare costs have been paid during the depression by the State or the Federal Government but in Boston nearly all the expense of public welfare has been the burden of the municipality. Every other large city has missing from its municipal expense account one or more of the elements which are included in the cost of municipal government in this city.

Taking these matters into consideration I think it is evident that a table of per capita costs is of no value either for comparative purposes or as an argument for reduction of expenditures.

ADDRESS BY THE MAYOR.

STATE FOR PARENT OPPOSED.

I have no objection to this in cases where the parents are unable properly to care for their children, but to adopt it as a general principle regardless of the necessities of the case, seems to me to be substituting the state for the parent and to be the opening wedge for an overwidening socialistic tendency.

Nor do I object to expanding beyond the limits indicated by our forefathers in the statute which I have just quoted. For example, nothing is said about the classics, but I am firmly of the opinion that a sound knowledge of Greek and Latin is of the greatest possible value in rounding out a cultural education.

Our country grew so fast and our cities became so rapidly and thickly settled that it was thought necessary to equip our children with a commercial education sufficient to enable them to earn at least a fair living upon their graduation from our public schools and so, in order to meet this situation training in various trades was introduced into the schools. And now we have secretarial schools, stenographic schools, schools for manual training in all of the mechanical arts, schools for machinists, carpenters, printers and so on indefinitely. Undoubtedly this has prepared our children for earning a livelihood, but in order to educate for a commercial or trade career it has been necessary to abandon any thought of thorough education in the classics.

It has often been remarked by keen observers that our country has not produced—or at least for some generations—a literary genius or outstanding man of letters. May not the reason for this be that in our pursuit of the practical and the commercial the minds of our people have been directed away from the noble and the beautiful, and may it not be a fact that while we have turned out thousands of mediocre stenographers, typists, mechanics and artisans, we have neglected the humanities and that the finer things of life have been disregarded and ignored.

Recently I read a letter in the New York Sunday Times in which the writer said that out of 250,000 high school pupils in New York City only 100 were taking Greek and that those taking Latin were falling off at an alarming rate.

Greek may be taught in some of our public schools, but if so in very few of them. It is taught, of course, in private schools, and in colleges, although the tendency is to abandon it as no longer necessary. I agree that it is no longer necessary if by that term is meant proper equipment to turn a lathe, or drive a nail, or to write shorthand or manipulate a typewriter. But if by that word is meant the requirements for a well-rounded, cultural education and the refinements of life and civilization then I say that those classical studies are necessary.

By assisting today in the laying of the corner stone of this beautiful edifice I hope that I have taken a small part in laying the corner stones of the foundations of a sound education of all of those young people in Fitchburg who may attend this school. May I venture to hope that the education which they will receive here will be sound in theory and in practice, will inculcate those principles enumerated in the General Laws of our Commonwealth to which I have referred, and while retaining enough of the practical and commercial to enable the pupils to earn a living, may also retain enough of the classical and the beautiful to inspire in them a love for the sublime which will be a priceless treasure to them when they go forth to complete their education in the struggle with the world.

MAYOR MANSFIELD PROMISES FAIR HEARING ON COAL SITUATION ON MAY 26.

BOSTON, May 15, 1936.

ROBERT GARDINER WILSON, JR., ESQ., Boston City Council.

MY DEAR COUNCILOR WILSON,—I have your letter in which you request permission to represent welfare recipients at the hearing which I am to start on May 26, relative to the quality and deliveries of coal. This will be wholly unnecessary. The hearing which I shall conduct will be impartial and will be directed solely to get at the truth of this matter.

The poor people of Boston who are welfare recipients and who claim to have been supplied with an inferior grade of coal or that deliveries were not promptly made, will be amply and thoroughly protected in that hearing, as I have just as keen a desire to protect them as you have. Their interests will not suffer and you may rest assured that all of the truth will be brought out at that hearing in so far as it is humanly possible to do so.

It will not be a one-sided hearing. If it seems desirable, complainants who have already testified at the hearing conducted by the Finance Commission may be recalled and given a further opportunity to testify. There will be no whitewashing, no attempt to protect any contractor, but there will be every effort made to bring out all the facts.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

MAYOR MANSFIELD REFUSES TO APPROVE SALARY FOR WOMAN PROBATION OFFICER FOR EAST BOSTON COURT, AS VOTED BY CITY COUNCIL.

Following is a copy of a letter from the Mayor to the City Council:

BOSTON, May 12, 1936.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,—I return herewith disapproved and without my signature an order adopted by your Honorable Body April 27, 1936, in which the salary of a female probation officer of the East Boston District Court at the rate of eighteen hundred dollars per year, as fixed by the Justice of said Court, is approved.

If a good case could be made out for the appointment of a female probation officer in the East Boston District Court I would not veto this order. But such a case cannot be made out. The East Boston Court was originally established in 1874 and has functioned efficiently from that time until the present day without the aid of a female probation officer. The business of the court has increased as the population increased but the criminal cases passing through this court in the last few years have diminished greatly. This shrinkage in criminal business in the last five years is shown in the following table:

1930.....	7,285 cases.
1931.....	6,849 cases.
1932.....	6,503 cases.
1933.....	4,991 cases.
1934.....	4,391 cases.
1935.....	4,110 cases.

This falling off from 1930 to 1935 is about 44 per cent and while it is not conclusive proof that there is no necessity for a female probation officer yet it shows plainly enough that if the court could get along without such an officer in 1930 with over 7,000 cases it can surely get along now when the 1935 record was only a little over 4,000 cases.

Much more significant, however, is the data on probation cases in the East Boston Court. Since 1926 the figures are as follows:

YEAR.	Female Probation Cases.	Female Juvenile Probation Cases.
1926.....	55	4
1927.....	73	—
1928.....	55	3
1929.....	161	7
1930.....	94	8
1931.....	24	7
1932.....	21	4
1933.....	11	6
1935.....	24	10

Thus it will be seen that the peak year was 1929 when there were 161 female probation cases and 7 female juvenile probation cases. But the female probation business has diminished with fluctuating figures so that in 1935 the total was 24 female probation cases and 10 female juvenile probation cases. This is less than one female adult probation case every two weeks and only one juvenile female probation case in every five weeks.

A probation officer has only two duties to perform: Investigation of cases that are to be disposed of by the Court so that the judge may know all about the defendant, and the surrounding circumstances, and the supervision of the cases that are placed on probation by the Court. It is perfectly obvious that these two duties may be discharged by the present probation officer and that there is no particular reason for the appointment of a female probation officer. If there were a very large number of women or juvenile females the appointment of such an officer might be justified but under conditions as they exist in this particular court I am not satisfied that one is needed at the present time. Because of the necessity to practise economy in the various city departments I feel that this matter should be deferred until the business of the court shows that such an officer is necessary and until a more propitious time. In addition to this, I beg to state that no provision has been made in the budget for this particular position.

At the present time the probation work in the East Boston Court is being efficiently performed by a regular probation officer for adults and a special probation officer for all juvenile cases and for all minors excepting neglected children.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

THE MUNICIPAL WATER-WORKS TREND.

In 1800 there was but one municipally-owned water-works plant in the United States. Now there are 7,853 municipally-owned installations, or 72.8 per cent of the entire number. In the United States there are ninety-four cities of over 100,000 population. All but eleven of these own their water works. Municipal plants serve 96.1 per cent of the population of the ninety-four cities, while private plants serve only 3.9 per cent.

MAYOR MANSFIELD NAMES GROUP OF PROMINENT CITIZENS TO FORM MILK FUND COMMITTEE IN ORDER THAT PROVISION MAY BE MADE FOR UNDERNOURISHED CHILDREN IN TIMES OF DISASTER, TO PREVENT SUFFERING FROM SHORTAGE OF SUPPLY.

Upon May 15 the following announcement was made by the Mayor:

Some months ago I announced that in order to forestall any possibility of a shortage of the supply of milk to be used in City of Boston institutions and for undernourished children I would appoint a Milk Fund Committee whose duties would be to raise money in appropriate ways for a milk fund similar to the standing committee for similar functions in New York City.

We do not want a repetition of conditions as they appeared during the recent flood period, when the milk supply was threatened and it was alleged that milk was manufactured artificially out of inferior Dutch milk powder and rancid Argentine butter and sold to the flood sufferers.

The thought of a Milk Fund Committee originated with Councilor James E. Agnew and he introduced an order in the Council to that effect, which was unanimously adopted. Accordingly, in naming the committee, I am making Councilor Agnew chairman and asking the committee to meet in the Council Chamber on Tuesday, May 19, at 10.30 a. m., when the committee can organize and confer about the best means of conducting its affairs. REPORT OF DR. FREDERICK J. GILLIS, ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, ON THE ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION AT ST. LOUIS, FEBRUARY 22 TO 27.

The following report of the National Education Association, Department of Superintendence, Convention, in St. Louis, February 22-27, by Dr. Frederick J. Gillis, Assistant Superintendent, has been accepted and approved by the School Committee:

Dr. Frederick J. Gillis, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, officially represented the City of Boston.

The theme of the convention was "The Function of the Schools in the Democracy." The leading address at this First General Session, delivered by Glenn Frank, President of the University of Wisconsin, on "Foundations of National Being," outlined the attack from both the right and the left which demands that the schools be made agencies of propaganda. Said he:

"The schools will cease to be educational institutions if either gains control. We are still a democracy, even if at times we may be forgiven the suspicion that we may be clinging to the shadow of a fast-vanishing substance. Our schools should and must be made to reflect the democratic philosophy to which we stubbornly cling in the midst of appeals of Fascism and Communism with their delusive promises of a short cut to social health.

"Unless the schools can stock this nation thickly with minds that are at once free and disciplined, American democracy may well go the way that self-governments have gone in other nations where education has not been the popular passion that it has been with us."

The Second General Session, held Sunday evening, featured a combined chorus of six hundred negro voices and a program staged by the National Broadcasting Company. The singing of the negro chorus was one of the outstanding features of the convention. Rivaling this demonstration in interest was the symposium on Current National Issues Tuesday evening, February 25, with the following speakers:

Representing the Socialist Party, Hon. Norman Thomas, New York, N. Y.

Representing the Republican Party, Hon. Henry J. Allen, former Governor of Kansas.

Representing the Democratic Party, Hon. Alben W. Barkley, United States Senator from Kentucky.

Mr. Thomas was brilliant and witty.

Ex-Governor Allen spoke of his trip to England during the régime of Ramsay MacDonald.

Senator Barkley declared the present administration had saved the country from the impending national catastrophe which it had inherited.

At the Third General Session, Monday, February 24, was sounded the keynote of the convention—Federal Dole for the Schools to the amount immediately of $300,000,000 per year. The bill which the National Education Association and its Department of Superintendence backs provides for the giving by the Federal Government to the states and territories of an outright per capita of $5 for every census person between the ages of five and twenty, together with an equalization amount to be determined by the state to pay, this ability being reckoned according to population, distribution of population between city and county, income, postal receipts, trade, manufacture and the number of motor vehicles.

The preliminary $300,000,000 was only a portion of the amount which the educators hope to get. The final program which they have in mind will amount to $1,400,000,000.

Commissioner of Education Studebaker stated his need for $16,000,000 for his forums during the next fiscal year, and the delegates, particularly from the South and the West, favored Federal money for local school projects.

Federal dole, forums and adult education were the outstanding interests. Oaths of loyalty to the United States, by teachers, were roundly condemned while the group petitioned the United States Treasury for millions to spend.

The National Youth Administration was criticized, not for what it had accomplished, but because of its administration. The Department of Superintendence held that it was being administered in a very questionable manner since it was divorced from the existing educational agencies. The educators held that since they did not have complete control over the National Youth Administration funds, the funds might be wrongly administered. And, while holding their hands out for a billion or more Federal grant for education, the superintendents decry any attempt on the part of Congress to set a policy for the expenditure of the funds.

Tenure laws were criticized on the ground that they guaranteed "tenure, not competency." Yet tenure was approved for the first time by the department.

Junior colleges were held to have failed in their functions because they have not made sufficient provision for the needs of youth who are not going on to the universities.

Dr. Charles A. Beard formally presented the 1936 Yearbook of the department which calls for a revision of the social studies curriculum. His program was in the form of a demand upon organized education as follows:

1. To draft a national code of good practice for the teaching of subjects which in their nature involve or touch upon controversial questions, a code incorporating the fundamental liberties of press, speech and religious worship guaranteed by our constitution.
2. To define the rights and duties of teachers and pupils in conducting classroom exercises.
3. To secure the cooperation of parents and school boards.
4. To provide rules of procedure for the examination and adjudication of specific cases of controversy.
5. To publish a constitution for the teaching profession, setting forth the principles, rules and procedure of good practice.
6. To educate teachers and the public in the liberties, responsibilities and duties of inquiry, research and scholarship in American society.

7. To establish a national body, perhaps connected with the National Education Association, provided with funds and competent legal talent, and charged with the duty of promoting and defending the rights of free scientific inquiry before the public in general and in particular communities beset by witchburners and fanatics.

Monday afternoon, February 24, and Wednesday afternoon, February 26, were held small group meetings to discuss in directed group debates practically all subjects and problems from pre-nursery education to graduate university study.

An incident worthy of note occurred at the business meeting Tuesday, February 25. After the Resolutions Committee had refused to sanction a resolution concerning the appointment of a new Commissioner of Education for the State of Massachusetts December 18, 1935, and after the President of the Department of Superintendence had been requested repeatedly by the representative from Boston not to let any resolution dealing unfairly with Massachusetts be introduced, there was introduced ex abrupto a resolution bearing the signatures of members of the Executive Committee of the department. Accompanying the resolution was a statement. Copies of the statement and resolution were not available. Printed copies of the resolutions submitted by the Resolutions Committee were available. The statement as read seemed to imply that an act contrary to the Constitution of the State of Massachusetts and justice had been effected. Immediately the representative of Boston moved that the resolution be tabled, declaring that the official publication of the National Education Association had conveyed an erroneous impression of what had happened and had quoted only from certain newspapers openly hostile to the Governor of Massachusetts.

At first the convention listened in silence. Then came an outburst from the members, and two votes were taken before the representative of Boston was given permission to take the platform. Catcalls, hoots and ominous mutterings arose, and President A. J. Stoddard had to pound for order and remind the superintendents of their dignity. The motion to table the resolution was defeated.

The representative of Boston spoke Wednesday afternoon, February 26, in the group meeting which discussed the question, "Articulating the School with Employment." The particular phase he treated was "The Counselor in the Senior High School."

Wednesday was Missouri Day—the schools of Missouri closed. "The Teaching of Controversial Subjects" featured the Eighth General Session. Briefly summed up it would be "Find, Filter, Face, Follow the Facts." Election of officers was held the same day. "The Arts in Education" were considered in the evening.

Thursday, February 27, was considered "The Next Steps in Educational Progress." Besides Federal grants of more than a billion to be spent by states, counties and cities unwilling to tax themselves heavily for the support of public education the next steps seem to be enrichment of rural education, extension of adult educational opportunities, and establishments of forums—all to be directed by persons who are approved by the Department of Superintendence. With the programs of allied departments and organizations probably more than six hundred speakers aired their views. In addition, there were the usual dinners and breakfasts with speeches, special meetings of committees and other groups, each interested in advancing some particular cause for which the public treasury should pay.

In so far as limited time would permit, the representative of Boston inspected the Harris Teachers' College, Roosevelt High School, St. Louis University, Washington University, Forest Park, with its Lindbergh Exhibit and marvellous open-air opera facilities.

Upon invitation, the representative of Boston spoke to the students of Webster College and again to the faculty of the same institution.

Thursday, February 27, the convention being over, the Boston delegate left St. Louis and returned to Boston Saturday, February 29, 1936.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK J. GILLIS,
Assistant Superintendent.

MAYOR MANSFIELD NOT TO BANDY WORDS ENDLESSLY WITH FINANCE COMMISSION, HE PROMISES CITIZENS.

The people of Boston, after they read the various pronouncements of the Finance Commission, must be getting very much disgusted with the interminable sniping of the commission and the apparently endless bickering and unrestrained epithets which it constantly indulges in in referring to me. I do not propose to continue this unseemly wrangle unless additional statements of the Finance Commission make it necessary.

I think it is necessary in the interest of truth to say that the Finance Commission is wholly mistaken in its conclusion that I withheld the city budget purposely in order to rush it through on the plea that shortness of time demanded it. The explanation which I have already given about this is true regardless of the opinion which the Finance Commission may have about it.

But the members of the Finance Commission are not seeking the truth. They are working for a reward. The chairman, of course, gets a salary of $5,000 per year, which the people of Boston have to pay. The other members get no salary but they are all expectant appointees to the bench. If public opinion had not forced Governor Curley to abandon his plan to raid the judiciary probably every one of them would have been appointed to the bench, or if not to the bench to some lucrative state job. That is why they obey their master's voice.

LAND-TAKING IN BRIGHTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for a public improvement, consisting of the widening and construction of Beacon street, Brighton district, as a highway, on the northerly side, from boundary line between Boston and Newton easterly, bounded and described as follows:

The highway named Beacon street is hereby widened on the northerly side, from boundary line between Boston and Newton easterly for a distance of approximately six hundred and forty-five feet, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is hereby taken in the following described land, exclusive of trees or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to the City of Boston, bounded westerly by boundary line between the City of Boston and the city of Newton, twenty and 34-100 feet; northerly by the northerly line of Beacon street as widened under this order, five hundred fifty-eight and 6-100 feet; again westerly by the westerly line of said street as widened under this order, thirty-nine and 33-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius; northeasterly by land of the City of Boston, ninety-six and 77-100 feet; and southerly by the northerly line of said street as it existed previously to this widening, six hundred forty-five and 80-100 feet, containing thirteen thousand one hundred and fifty-five square feet, more or less.

Trees or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforescribed land shall be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said land for the purpose of constructing said improvement.

Said Beacon street as hereby widened is bounded westerly by boundary line between the City of Boston and the city of Newton, twenty and 34-100 feet; northerly by the northerly line of said Beacon street as hereby widened, five hundred fifty-eight and 6-100 feet; again westerly by the westerly line of said Beacon street as hereby widened, thirty-nine and 33-100 feet on a curve of fifteen feet radius; northeasterly by land of the City of Boston, ninety-six and 77-100 feet; and southerly by the northerly line of said Beacon street as it existed previously to this widening, six hundred forty-five and 80-100 feet, containing thirteen thousand one hundred and fifty-five square feet, more or less.

Voted, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the making of the public improvement, consisting of the widening and construction of Beacon street, Brighton district, as a highway, from boundary line between Boston and Newton easterly for a distance of approximately six hundred and forty-five feet, under the order of the Board of May 11, 1936, and awards no damages therefor.

City of Boston, Park Department, 13,155 square feet, nothing.

TESTIMONY ON COAL INVESTIGATION NOT SURRENDERED TO MAYOR.

Upon May 15 the Mayor issued the following statement:

Yesterday my secretary was informed by the secretary of the Finance Commission that all of the testimony in the coal investigation would be ready by the end of this week or early next week, but that I might have all that was completed, if the chairman approved.

Today the Finance Commission refuses to turn over to me the testimony that is now ready. When the secretary was asked for the reason for this refusal he declined to give one and referred me to the chairman of the Finance Commission. Needless to say I did not attempt to get the reason from that official.

I can conceive of no good reason whatsoever why, if I am to receive the testimony when it is ready, I may not receive now what is completed. But the reason is obvious enough; it is simply another obstacle intended to embarrass me in my attempt to bring out all the facts in connection with this coal case.

MAYOR BATTLES FOR MORE W. P. A. WORK IN BOSTON.

Corporation Counsel Henry E. Foley returned from Washington on May 12 and reported that he had gone as far as he could with the data available in Washington on W. P. A. work in Boston and it was necessary to adjourn the hearing to Boston in order to be in closer touch with local information. He is to carry on the conference with W. P. A. Director Edwards and Regional Director Bannion. It is expected this conference will begin tomorrow, Wednesday, and it ought to be over in a very few days.

MAYOR MANSFIELD ACCEPTS WITH REGRET RESIGNATION OF CARDINAL O'CONNELL AS LIBRARY TRUSTEE AND NAMES SUCCESSOR.

The following is a copy of a letter received by the Mayor from his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell:

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

YOUR HONOR,—With very great regret I offer my resignation as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Public Library, in which position I have served since 1932.

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to serve on this Board and I have been glad to give my services in this capacity of public servant.

I desire that my resignation be accepted upon presentation to your Honor.

Very sincerely yours,

WILLIAM CARDINAL O'CONNELL.

The letter from Mayor Mansfield to his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell reads as follows:

BOSTON, May 15, 1936.

YOUR EMINENCE,—It is with great reluctance that I accept your resignation from the Board of Trustees of the Boston Public Library. Of course we would all much prefer to have you continue on that Board, but knowing the very heavy burdens of your regular duties and the necessity that you be relieved from any service which adds to them, I do not feel that I would be justified in urging you to reconsider your decision and to withdraw your resignation.

In accepting it, however, I am glad to have the opportunity of thanking you in the name of the citizens of Boston for the very important and faithful services which you have rendered to the city as a member of the Board of Library Trustees. This work, so thoroughly and quietly done, is appreciated and its value recognized by every Boston resident. It is a pleasure for me, as the Chief Executive of the city, to give you these assurances of the deep sense of gratitude for your labors, which is shared by all of us.

Yours very sincerely,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

NEW LIBRARY TRUSTEE.

The Mayor, on May 15, appointed Rev. Robert H. Lord, Ph.D., Vice Rector of St. John's Seminary, Brighton, to be a member of the Board of Trustees of the Boston Public Library, in place of his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, resigned.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 20 the Mayor approved permission to award a contract to the John McCourt Company for repairing bituminous pavement on any roadway in the Boston Park System upon which the maintenance guaranty has expired. Bids, opened Thursday, May 14, were as follows:

John McCourt Company, $18,116.50; Warren Brothers Roads Company, $18,970.50; Samuel J. Tomasello Corporation, $21,220; Central Construction Company, $29,840.

The department has available for this work the sum of $17,343.30, the balance now remaining in the special appropriation, Reconstructing and Repairing Parkways and Roadways by Contract. It was voted to award a contract for this work, in the approximate sum of $17,343.30, to the lowest bidder, the John McCourt Company. This reduction is proper, since, in the contract, the estimates of quantities to be bid on were considered merely as a basis for a comparison of bids, and the department reserved the right to increase, or diminish, the quantity of work to be done.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon May 19 the Mayor approved permission to award a contract to M. DeSisto Company for sewerage works in Estes place, city proper. The following bids were received May 11:

M. DeSisto Company, $2,508.50; R. Zoppo, $2,857.90; N. Cibotti & Co., $2,885; Keystone Engineering and Contracting Company, $3,199.88; The Prompt Contractors, Incorporated, $3,403.50; W. F. Condon & Sons Company, $4,177.95.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 13 the Mayor approved permission to award contracts to bidders as indicated for furnishing groceries and canned goods to the various city departments until September 30. Samples were requested from the bidders on the various items, and these samples were submitted to the United States Department of Agriculture for test. The samples submitted by the lowest bidders were inspected, and if specifications were met the awards were recommended to them. In the event that the lowest bidders' samples were not satisfactory, samples from the next lowest bidders were examined; and this method was pursued until satisfactory samples had been secured. On some of the items, where samples were not required, awards were made to the lowest bidders. The approximate total of awards follows:

H. A. Johnson Company, $19,324.17; George D. Emerson Company, $7,117.30; Libby, McNeill & Libby, $6,222.95; Reid Murdoch & Co., $3,313.56; Webster-Thomas Company, $3,273.41; G. * Contract awarded.

Upon May 20 the Mayor approved permission to award to bidders as indicated for surgical dressing supplies, such as gauze, adhesive plaster, absorbent cotton, etc., for deliveries to the various city departments. This department asked for prices which would be operative for one year, but when bids were received prices from all the leading and reliable bidders were guaranteed for but six months. In view of the foregoing and because readvertising would not yield more favorable prices to the city, and the Hospital Department needs immediate delivery of the above supplies, the term of contract on these supplies were reduced from twelve months to six months, and awards made without readvertising for such supplies for said term, to the following companies, the lowest bidders:

Lewis Manufacturing Company, Division of the Kendall Company, $16,297.56; E. F. Mahady Company, $3,281.87; Surgeons & Physicians' Supply Company, $2,972.50; Thomas W. Reed Company, $1,634.22; McKesson & Robbins, Incorporated, $13.63. Total, $24,199.78.

Inasmuch as the steamer is now in drydock and the work is of an emergency nature, I respectfully request your permission to enter into an amendment to the above contract, without publicly advertising therefor, in the following manner, by striking out the following items of said contract:

TO MAKE PROPERTY SAFE.

The Mayor has approved the following requests of the Building Commissioner:

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 8, 1936.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Relative to my request for your authority to order the building at 53 and 55 Albany street and the vacant lot at 57 and 59 Albany street, Ward 3, vacated, I submit the following:

The building formerly located at 57 and 59 Albany street, and owned by one John A. Sullivan of 64 Harvard street, Boston, has been demolished, and the lot filled in for use as a parking space. The demolition of this building exposed the party wall that formerly separated this building and the building at 53 and 55 Albany street, owned by George M. Hodge of 56 Hudson street. Both owners of the party wall were notified of the unsafe condition, and nothing being done this matter was referred to the Law Department for prosecution in January.

On February 4, 1936, an application for complaint against defendant Hodge was denied after hearing before Judge Carr without prejudice, and during the same month the case was heard against the defendant Sullivan who was fined $25 and appealed.

At a hearing in the District Attorney's office the inspector from this department was informed that it would be necessary for this department to show responsibility of the defendant Sullivan. An attempt by this department to show Sullivan's responsibility was denied by the District Attorney's office.

The wall is so dangerous that I have requested the Law Department to bring a Bill in Equity, which has been done, and the Assistant Corporation Counsel was informed that the District Attorney's office would not proceed further on the appeal of Sullivan until such time as the Equity Court had decided responsibility.

The district inspector now reports that the dangerous condition of this party wall has increased to such an extent that there is eminent danger of collapse.

Therefore I am writing for your approval to order the building and the lot adjoining used for parking to be vacated forthwith.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD W. ROEMER,
Building Commissioner.

BOSTON, May 8, 1936.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Last fall the inspector reported that the party wall between the properties at 53 and 55 Albany street and 57 and 59 Albany street, Ward 3, was in an unsafe condition.

Up to date the owner of the property at 57 and 59 Albany street, John A. Sullivan of 64 Harvard street, Boston, has failed to remove the unsafe condition.

Therefore I am requesting your permission to order that the vacant lot at 57 and 59 Albany street, used for parking, be vacated forthwith as provided in section 4, chapter 550, Acts of 1907, as amended.

Respectfully yours,

EDWARD W. ROEMER,
Building Commissioner.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 189.

On April 19, 1936, at about 1.40 a. m., Patrolman Edward J. McGee of the Special Service Squad, after completing his tour of duty and while on his way home, observed a disturbance in a restaurant at 226 Huntington avenue, Boston.

Patrolman McGee rushed into the premises after having heard a restaurant employee shout, "Police! Holdup!" The officer, by his coolness and courageous action, disarmed the criminal, subdued him and recovered the money which had been taken from the cash register. Investigation revealed that the prisoner demanded money from the cashier and then fired a shot at the cashier from a 38 caliber revolver, which shot struck the cash register and ricocheted into the wall. The timely intervention of the officer undoubtedly prevented serious injury to patrons and employees of the restaurant who had become terrified by the gunfire and were scrambling for places of safety.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend Patrolman McGee for the excellent manner in which he effected this important arrest without loss of life or serious injury to the victims of this dangerous character.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 190.

On January 23, 1936, a daring armed holdup was committed at the United Drug, Incorporated, in Roxbury. The paymaster and his assistant were bound and gagged and the pay roll, amounting to over $18,000, was stolen.

Sergt. Leonard T. Banks and Patrolman William A. Philbrick, both attached to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, worked unceasingly on this case, putting in many extra hours, and through their zeal, perseverance and intelligent efforts they finally succeeded in apprehending the ringleader of the trio that committed this bold crime.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and commend the excellent police duty performed by these officers in accomplishing the arrest and conviction of this dangerous felon.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

A sanitary sewer of 10-inch pipe in Oak street, between 130 feet east of Hyde Park avenue and 100 feet easterly, in the Hyde Park district, at an estimated cost of $980.

A sanitary sewer of 18-inch by 24-inch concrete in Estes place, between Congress street and Aldine street, in the city proper district, at an estimated cost of $3,260.

WADING POOL, FRANKLIN FIELD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 11, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the chairman of the Park Department relative to your order of April twenty-seventh, 1936, concerning the erection of a wading pool in Franklin Field for the convenience and comfort of the children of that district.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 2, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of April 30, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to consider the advisability of the erection of a wading pool in Franklin Field.

I regret exceedingly to inform you it would be very inadvisable to attempt to establish a wading pool in this vicinity or in any part of Franklin Park, as wading pools at their best are unsanitary. Also, on account of economic conditions, the cost of same would be prohibitive.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

BUSES ON WALK HILL STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 11, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of May fourth, 1936, concerning the filing of application for a permit to run buses along Walk Hill street, from Blue Hill avenue, adjacent to the various cemeteries, especially during the final weeks of May.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston, May 8, 1936.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of May 1st, the trustees have considered a number of requests for operation of motor coach service through Walk Hill street but have felt obliged to deny them because the section between Blue Hill avenue and Forest Hills is very thinly populated and consists mostly of cemeteries. The small section at the Blue Hill avenue end is of course now served by the Blue Hill avenue cars and the section on the Hyde Park avenue end, sometimes called "White City," is close to the Hyde Park avenue service.

A few years ago we experimented with the operation of motor coach service through Walk Hill street on Memorial Day for the accommodation of persons visiting the cemeteries, but experienced so much difficulty with the operation, due to congestion of vehicles in Walk Hill street, that the operation was not successful. People found it to be quicker and more convenient to reach the cemeteries by walking from our car lines than by use of the special motor coach service provided.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA.

Executive Vice President and General Manager.

DRINKING FOUNTAIN, FRANKLIN FIELD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 11, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the chairman of the Park Department relative to your order of May fourth, 1936, concerning the installation of a drinking fountain on the baseball grounds at Franklin Field.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 9, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of May 7, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Department be requested to install a drinking fountain on the baseball grounds at Franklin Field.

Drinking fountains are in place on the edges of the field, but should not be placed in the field itself for two reasons. One reason is that the entire area is used for skating purposes during the winter months, and the other is that the under-surface of this area consists of bog land and is underdrained in all directions.

I will, however, have the matter gone over very thoroughly and if it is possible to comply with your request, it will be done.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

TRAFFIC SIGNAL LIGHTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 11, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith three letters from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your orders of April twenty-seventh, 1936, concerning the installation of traffic signal lights at the following locations:

1. Knowlton and Telegraph streets, Ward 7.
2. Gates and Telegraph streets, Ward 7.
3. Beacon and Mountfort streets, Ward 21.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 6, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated April 27, 1936, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic signal lights at Knowlton and Telegraph streets, Ward 7."

It is the opinion of the engineers of this commission that conditions at this intersection do not warrant the installation of an automatic traffic signal.

Records in this office show that one motor vehicle accident involving personal injury has occurred at this intersection from January 1, 1931, to date.

There are no funds available for the installation of an automatic traffic signal.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

It is the opinion of the engineers of this commission that conditions at this intersection do not warrant the installation of an automatic traffic signal.

The records in this office show that there have been no motor vehicle accidents involving personal injury at this intersection from January 1, 1931, to date.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 6, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated April 27, 1936, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install traffic signal lights at Beacon and Mountfort streets, Ward 21."

This intersection is centrally located in one of the most dangerous areas in the city. In the portion of Beacon street from the Boston & Albany Railroad Bridge to the entrance of Audubon Circle, the records in this office show that fourteen (14) motor vehicle accidents involving personal injury have occurred from January 1, 1932, to date. Six (6) of these accidents resulted in fatalities.

It is the opinion of our engineers that a traffic signal at this location, coordinating with the existing signal at Audubon Circle, would effectually lessen high speeds at which vehicles are driven through this area at present, and would afford pedestrians an opportunity to cross the wide roadway of Beacon street in safety.

The estimated cost of installing a signal at this location is $3,500.

There are no funds available for the installation of an automatic traffic signal at this intersection.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

OPENING HOURS OF AQUARIUM.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 11, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the chairman of the Park Department relative to your order of April twenty-seventh, 1936, concerning keeping the South Boston Aquarium open to the public each day for a longer period.

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, May 5, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of April 30, with inclosure, order from the City Council that the Park Commission be requested to make arrangements for keeping the South Boston Aquarium open for a longer period daily.

Since the opening of the Aquarium, the hours have been from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and I cannot see any necessity for these hours being extended. The hours 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. call for seven days a week, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays included.

It would cost at least $6,200 per year additional to keep the Aquarium open two hours longer per day, and I regret to inform you that the finances of the department will not permit of this additional expenditure.

Very respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

and to state that the use of the U-Drivit trucks was discontinued in Brighton on October 29, 1935. On January 1, 1936, there were fifteen horses in the Dorchester district, divided as follows: nine in Sanitary; five in Paving and one in Water Division. During the week of March 12 the five horses in the Paving Division were transferred to the Sanitary Division, South End Yard. One horse in the Sanitary Division died April 26, leaving, to date, nine horses in the Dorchester district, eight horses in Sanitary and one in Water Service.

REAL ESTATE TAKEN FOR TAXES.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 4, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Superintendent of Public Buildings relative to your order of April twenty-seventh, 1936, concerning real estate sold to or taken by the city for nonpayment of taxes, the right to redeem which has been foreclosed.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department, May 1, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—Referring to the attached order of the City Council requesting at once the detailed information requested in the City Council order of November 12, 1935, relating to certain real estate sold to or taken by the city for nonpayment of taxes, I have to report as follows:

On March 23, 1936, I forwarded to your Honor a report covering all improved property on which the Law Department have been able to furnish me the detailed information. This was given the City Council and subsequently appeared in the council minutes of the City Record. It was at that time and still is impossible to give details on all the unimproved property, that is vacant lots of land, numbering over six hundred lots.

However, the Federal authorities have just approved a Real Estate Survey Project for this department and this project will commence operating on Monday, May 4, 1936.

I regret very much not having been able, with my very limited organization, to have supplied all the information requested, but confidently expect to be able to do so in the near future, after this W. P. A. project is operating in full swing.

Respectfully yours,
ROSSELL G. HALL,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

REPORT ON COAL SUPPLIES, PUBLIC WELFARE DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, May 11, 1936.
To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council.

Gentlemen,—The Finance Commission has completed its investigation of charges of many descriptions relating to the coal supplied by the Department of Public Welfare during this last winter to the recipients of public aid in the City of Boston. First by private inquiry and later by testimony taken under oath at public hearings, the commission has uncovered facts already given wide publicity which substantiate charges of neglect by welfare officials made in the City Council and elsewhere during the past several months.

These charges were that the unfortunate poor who have been forced by circumstances to obtain their sustenance from the city—the blind, the lame, and the halt, the aged and infirm, as well as many mothers with small children—have suffered privation because frequently during the severity of the winter months they were without fuel at all, or when supplied were given a grade of coal that failed lamentably to provide sufficient heat.

The disclosures of this investigation constitute the blackest chapter in the history of the Welfare Department. The proud boast of the past few years that Boston took good care of the unfortunate victims of the depression without outside assistance brought praise to Boston people from all over the country. It has been supplanted by a feeling of shame that the poor of this rich city have been allowed to suffer because of the failure of a few highly placed officials to measure up to the requirements of their positions.

The Present Organization of the Welfare Department.

An old, experienced management of the Welfare Department which was notable for its spirit of generosity was ejected by Mayor Mansfield in 1934 when he transferred the executive who had been in charge for many years to another department. He then replaced the majority of the members of the Board of Overseers with a new group.

For the chairmanship of the new Board, Mayor Mansfield selected one who already held a city position, the engineer at the head of one of the most important divisions of the Public Works Department, the Water Income Division, which handles the voluminous detail of recording the use of water and the billing for it in the City of Boston. This official was already administering the affairs of an activity that produces over $5,000,000 annual revenue to the city. Mayor Mansfield gave him the additional task of supervising the workings of the Welfare Department, a department which distributes approximately $12,000,000 per year among the poor. The work of this Welfare Department has become the greatest problem in municipal administration today. It calls for a quality of leadership that transcends the requirements of almost any other municipal position.

It was the Mayor's choice also to install as the detail director of the Welfare Department a person who had been a municipal investigator, a real estate operator, a lawyer and a treasurer of a co-operative bank. This new director had had at no time among his varied activities the opportunity to obtain actual experience publicly or privately in the practical administration of the distribution of aid for the poor and needy.

The chairman of the welfare board, therefore, is attempting to supervise two such important departments as the Water and Welfare Departments and the man given authority to direct the detail work of the Welfare Department is without previous practical experience in welfare work. With this kind of leadership it is only what might have been expected that investigation, after two years of trial, would reveal inefficiency and neglect. The unfortunate part of it is that this inefficiency and neglect not only caused the city to pay for something it did not receive, which was bad enough in itself. It also caused thousands of poor and helpless people to suffer from cold when the city was paying for heat for them. It caused many even to sacrifice portions of the meagre allowances given them for other necessities of life when, because they could not obtain heat from the coal the city gave, the severity of the winter made it necessary for them to use money given for food to buy heat-giving coal.

Under this new leadership of questionable capacity, the work and staff of the Welfare Department was supposed to have been completely reorganized. The public was thereafter deluged with statements and speeches from its chief officers glibly claiming advances in efficiency and administration. So-called experts from far off places were hired to advise methods to make doubly certain that none but the needy got the department's aid. An "observer of trends" was paid for turning out what in other lines of activity would be called publicity. Yet one of the most shocking revelations of the Finance Commission's investigation was that none had thought to install a means of guaranteeing that the persons who were to be supplied coal received coal that would provide heat and provide fire for cooking their simple meals.

Elaborate precaution was taken and considerable expense incurred to prevent the poor from obtaining more than a bare subsistence. There was no hesitation at providing supervision to catch employees who might break the no-smoking rule, and to check their comings and goings so that penalty could be exacted from one who was a minute late in arriving at work in the morning or who overstayed his lunch hour. To provide clerical service to follow up complaints from workers in the field that the recipients of aid were for days without fuel and then received so-called "fireproof" coal, the director told the Finance Commission would be an unjustifiable use of the city's money.

In the place, therefore, of an administration which, despite shortcomings that were due principally to the tremendously sudden increase in its work, had nevertheless brought countrywide credit to the City of Boston, eventually arose a management that placed a premium on methods of obtaining strict accountability from the poor and of petty exacting penalties on employees for tardiness. Its principal executives missed entirely the most essential requirements of a welfare department anywhere—a spirit of charity for, and a desire to give service to the unfortunate who came there for aid.

The Charges Made Concerning Coal Furnished.

The charges investigated by the Finance Commission were first given public airing at meetings of the City Council by various city councilors. Because this public airing came first from that quarter the charges were lightly thrust aside by officials with responsibility who only answered—"Politics."

In getting to the bottom of the scandal, however, the Finance Commission has found that the first rumblings of the neglect by the high officials of the Welfare Department came from the subordinate employees of that very department. Welfare workers of both public and private charities who had seen the suffering of welfare recipients because of the quality of coal given them or because of the number of days they had to be without any coal at all, were appalled at the lack of humane impulses in coal dealers and coal drivers who made it possible for poor, sick, helpless people unnecessarily to suffer from cold. They also were appalled at the equal lack of humane impulses in welfare executives who did not appreciate the misery of the situation when it was called to their attention, and therefore did nothing to correct it. To many of the subordinate employees of the Welfare Department, and to many workers for private charities, is due the credit for starting an agitation which it is hoped will end this particular type of inefficiency and neglect.

The Award of the Coal Contract and How It Was Supervised.

Contracts were awarded in August, 1935, which were designed to provide during 1935 and 1936 first quality anthracite coal of chestnut size to welfare recipients, some of whom were to use it in kitchen ranges for both heating and cooking, and others in parlor stoves when that was their only burning apparatus. Fresh-mined chestnut size was specified, because coal of smaller size would be too small for kitchen ranges and would likely pass through the grates. Only fresh-mined, first grade coal could be depended upon to give satisfactory service to many recipients to whom heat was of the greatest importance.

No city official, however, assumed the obligation of making certain that coal of the size and quality contracted for was delivered. Though complaints against the companies which received the contracts were continuous on one ground or another, practically from the day the contracts were let, no city agency undertook to establish the truth or falsity of the complaints until the heating season of 1935-36 was practically over. The Superintendent of Supplies, by whom the contract was awarded, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures, who made the usual tests for weight and assumed for the Welfare Department the task of taking samples and sending them to a chemist for test, rightly expected that the Welfare Department, which issued the orders for coal and contacted recipients, as well as arranged with the chemists for the tests, would keep informed and report violations to them with recommendations for such action as their official position permitted them to take. It appears, however, that the Director of Public Welfare assumed that with the issuance of the orders and the arrangements for tests by a chemist, the Welfare Department had fulfilled its obligations. No chemist's analysis of the coal being delivered contained any reference to a screening test until March, 1936, after thousands of tons had been delivered and used. The chemist's reports uniformly recommended premiums for the coal companies on the strength of a low ash content found.

The Finance Commission found that in the type of coal shipped for delivery to the welfare recipients the ash test was of little value and positively misleading. A screening test of the coal, as the specifications of the contract anticipated, would have caused the bulk of it to be condemned. It appears that the Welfare Department was concerned more with paying premiums for coal thought to be above the standard and exacting penalties for coal found to be below the standard than in giving to the welfare recipients, their "clients," coal that would burn well and heat. This lapse of official appreciation of the primary obligation of the Welfare Department—to take proper care of the poor—cannot be excused in the light of what subsequently happened.

Suffering of Welfare Recipients Due to Official Neglect.

It is unnecessary for the Finance Commission to repeat here the stories of the misery that was caused. It has been extensively reported already in the newspapers; but it should be noted that in addition to the fifty or more welfare recipients who told heart-rending tales at the public hearings of their sufferings from officials' neglect and coal dealers' desire to make illegal profit, there were hundreds of others already interviewed by the Finance Commission investigators who could have testified to similar sufferings. In more than 90 per cent of the homes visited, there was complaint found. Every welfare worker approached had his or her quota of records of distress due to this same cause. The conditions complained of, therefore, existed wherever welfare coal was distributed.

Yet coal furnished to the poor of Boston for which the city paid as though it were the best coal mined was more often dirt and dust in size than the chestnut size contracted for. It was often swollen with ice and snow and when given the shelter of the poor facilities possessed by welfare recipients, it wet and soiled floors and ceilings and walls but gave no heating comfort.

Drivers of coal trucks abused recipients when they could not pay extra for carrying it into their homes, often going away leaving chilled, sick and poor to try to keep warm in cold rooms without heat of any description. Often ill-fed, underclad, physical wrecks were compelled to take out of their scanty allowances for food and medicine enough to bribe a truckman to bring into their houses the coal that the city was paying for in full, delivered wherever the recipient wanted it. Often they had to buy coal at a nearby store to keep a fire the coal the city furnished them. When it would burn, it would give little or no heat and it would often go suddenly out, and the poor people who were trying to keep warm with it had their choice of going to bed or going to a nearby church or home.

Change by Mayor Mansfield in Method of Providing Coal.

The city had a reliable method of providing coal to the poor when the Mansfield administration began in 1934. Since 1931 the coal orders were filled by approved dealers under a system worked out by Mayor Curley after conference with the leading coal dealers of the city. Representatives of the Metropolitan Coal Company, the City Fuel Company, the Massachusetts Wharf Coal Company, and the Burton Furber Coal Company testified to the Finance Commission of the success of the method arranged for by their companies in conference with Mayor Curley and carried out with success until 1934.

They informed the Finance Commission they were unable to understand why Mayor Mansfield abandoned this successful method when he first faced the problem at the beginning of his administration. He ordered advertisement for bids by the Supply Department while the experienced employees of this department were protesting that furnishing coal in quantities of one-quarter and one-half ton at a time to 7,000 to 8,000 families per month was a matter that only the Welfare Department could satisfactorily handle.

The rule of award to the lowest bidder, often disregarded in award of other contracts, was applied rigidly here, where not the lowest price alone was of importance, but the lowest price from dealers who could be expected to live up to the terms of their contract. It is significant that the Supply Department officials in making up the specifications were careful to place all responsibility for supervision of the contract on the Welfare Department. The difficult task of securing satisfactory service by award to any contractor who would bid low enough to get the award was fully appreciated by the Supply Department.

Neglect by Director of Welfare and Chemist.

The difficulties in the new method of providing coal were not, however, appreciated in the Welfare Department. The Finance Commission investigation revealed that after the Director of Public Welfare had taken advantage of his authority by the contract to secure his own choice of chemist to analyze the coal, he contented himself with simply providing a system of issuing orders for coal. The motif was to make certain that only those entitled would receive orders. After that any communication of any nature in regard to coal was by rule to go to a division set up to issue coal orders. Neither the director of the department nor the director of this coal division apparently anticipated any necessity for providing a means to check up on the coal contractors. The director only arranged with the Sealer of Weights and Measures to have his men take samples from time to time and send them to the chemist selected by the Director of the Welfare Department. Action upon the reports by welfare workers of complaints by recipients against the coal service was negligible.

The chemist who analyzed the coal regularly reported only on an ash test. He neglected to make a screening test until specifically instructed to do so. But this was only after more than half the coal called for had been delivered, and after months of suffering by welfare recipients because the coal was of such small size that it passed through their grates.

Though the Welfare Department officials received reports of ash content, it never occurred to them that the contract also required a definite size. Apparently it did not occur to the chemist either that size was of importance though the test prescribed by the contract called for a test of size. The chemist had the contract before him.

If the terms of the contract were understood by both director and chemist, neither gave the attention to them that was plainly their duty. Had either one or both given the same degree of supervision to the coal furnished that the Welfare Department has given to keep allowances within a closely figured budget, much suffering could have been averted.

Orders for coal were given out periodically once a month and practically all at the same time. The result was that some recipients were bound to be required to wait several days before they could possibly receive their fuel. In stormy weather when trucks for delivery were not plentifully available and streets were impassable, it meant that many days were added to the usual delay.

When welfare workers in visiting their cases found recipients' complaints of poor coal, delay, extra charge for delivery, etc., justifiable, they could only send word of the complaint to the central office. Many of them, torn by the sight of the suffering for fuel, violated the "red tape" of their system and tried personally to improve the situation. One supervisor, however, testified to the Finance Commission that these visitors had no right to do more than telephone to the central office. Though this supervisor is in charge of welfare work in one of the most congested sections of the city, the commission was told that the complaints were none of a supervisor's business, and supervisors would not be expected to pay any attention to them.

The company which obtained the contract for delivery to over 90 per cent of the coal recipients of the Welfare Department owned no trucks, but hired various truckmen to deliver for them. The contracting company, therefore, had no control of the men on the trucks. These employees of other companies regularly attempted to force impoverished families to pay them "petty graft" when the coal was in front of their doors, often driving away when the poor people either could not or would not pay this graft. A sixty-nine year old, sick and crippled father of a deceased war veteran testified that he was compelled to go out and pawn his overcoat to obtain the fifty cents demanded by a heartless truck driver before he would deliver the coal. His story that he never afterwards was able to redeem his coat because he could not, on account of his sickness, remember in what pawn shop he had left it and because he could not spare the money, shocked everyone who heard it.

The Babcock Coal Company.

The Babcock Coal Company received the contract for the welfare coal in several districts of the city, from Boston Proper to Hyde Park. The treasurer of the company, Charles H. Cudworth, admitted that the real owner is H. N. Hartwell & Son, Inc., a wealthy wholesale coal corporation.

When, under Mayor Mansfield's order, in 1934 bids were first solicited for the welfare coal contract, this firm did not bid. Later, according to Cudworth, an attorney whom Cudworth says he cannot now identify but who claimed he came from the Mayor's office visited Cudworth and asked to be hired as counsel for the Babcock Coal Company. He promised to have the first bids rejected and to be able then to obtain the contract for the Babcock Coal Company.

Cudworth testified that he refused to be interested in the attorney's promise. About that time, however, the first bids were rejected. At the second opening the Babcock Company was among the unsuccessful bidders.

In the 1935 competition the Babcock Company was the lowest bidder for the whole city, except Charlestown, Jamaica Plain and East Boston. The company's bids ranged by districts from $10.38 to $10.75 per ton delivered in recipients' bins. Under the terms of the contract they were required to screen, weigh, bag and deliver coal in one-quarter and one-half ton lots over a very wide area. Cudworth estimated that this handling charge alone would cost $1.75 per ton. The leading retail coal companies of the city testified that the lowest they could figure for the same cost was $2.75. Assuming the Cudworth figure to be correct, the price to the city was the same as, or as much as, 37 cents per ton less than the price at which Cudworth admitted his company sold the same coal for to other retailers or peddlers. These peddlers were required to drive their own trucks into the Babcock yard and fill them up at their own expense without screening. Cudworth said $10.75 was the regular price to such dealers.

In comparison with the Babcock prices to the city ($10.38 to $10.75), representatives of several leading coal companies testified that their costs for furnishing the grade of coal specified were not less than $13.

Figures of actual cost to the Babcock Company as given by Cudworth were higher than the prices bid to the city. Cudworth testified that the Babcock Company lost money by the contract because it found that it could not obtain and deliver the grade of coal required within the figure bid. He admitted, however, that H. N. Hartwell & Son, Inc., made a profit in selling the coal to the Babcock Company.

Expert Testimony on Babcock Coal.

The Finance Commission brought to the public hearing a coal inspector from the vicinity of the so-called Acker Mine in Centralia, Pennsylvania, from which Cudworth admitted 80 per cent of the coal supplied under the contract came. This coal inspector testified that coal taken to date from the Acker property has been by four different processes:

First, by reclaiming coal from a 700,000-ton colm bank (or refuse pile) that had been accumulating for sixty or seventy years. It consisted of the impurities cast aside in the regular mining, and has been steadily deteriorating for many years. Its quality is considerably below fresh-mined, first grade coal, and its price correspondingly less.

Second, by "cleaning up the mine." He explained this means taking out coal and rock that had fallen and clogged the entrances during the five years the mine was not in operation, and cleaning up the accumulations of the mine workings. This, he said, had to be done before the mine could again be put in operation.

Third, by so-called "stripping." This means using a kind of steam shovel to "bore" down through the surface of the ground and bring out coal from a depth of from 15 to 60 feet which can be easily dislodged from the vein and scooped up.

Fourth, by some fresh mining. This means going down into the mine and striking at and picking off the hard vein. He stated that in order to obtain good grade, fresh-mined coal it is usually necessary to go down 300 feet or below. A steam shovel's limit is 60 or 75 feet.

This inspector testified that fresh-mining has only recently started at this mine. He stated that in his opinion no fresh-mined first grade coal had come from that mine from the time in October, 1935, when work at the Acker Mine began anew until the time of his testimony, late in April.

This inspector described the peculiarities which he had observed in his own experience in trying to burn coal that came from these types of production. His description coincided with the results reported by welfare recipients of their efforts to burn the coal delivered by the Babcock Coal Company; namely, that it would burn if fired sufficiently; would give poor heat; would leave a yellowish ash, and would suddenly go out; and though it was anthracite coal originally it would be of softer texture than anthracite coal freshly-mined from the hard vein.

This coal was naturally handled many times between the time it left the coal breaker at the mine and the time it was put into a kitchen stove in Boston. Because of its softer texture than fresh-mined anthracite it would be expected to break down into smaller and smaller substances by this handling. This explains why many coal recipients found that it had become dirt and dust when it came to them for usage.

It should be noted that in the contract signed by the Babcock Coal Company, the company agreed to deliver coal that came from a particular mine which is commonly accepted in the trade as producing a high grade, fresh-mined anthracite. The treasurer of the Babcock Coal Company, Cudworth, admitted that only a small quantity was actually obtained from this mine. He said that until October 1 the company obtained coal for delivery under the contract from the mine stipulated in the contract and from three other mines before finally the Acker Mine got into production. Thereafter, Cudworth testified, all coal delivered to the welfare recipients came from the coal produced at the Acker Mine.

The coal inspector's testimony was, therefore, very significant. He said that all the coal produced at the Acker Mine—by reclaiming from colm bank, by cleaning up the mine, by stripping, and by the first new fresh-mining, none of which produced first grade coal—came out of the same coal breaker. It meant that these four types of coal were mingled. Therefore, the coal delivered in Boston as the result of this mingling could not have been fresh-mined, first grade coal as the contract called for.

Connecting this expert opinion of the coal inspector, which was based on knowledge of coal and actual observation of the operations at the Acker Mine, with admission of Cudworth that 80 per cent of the coal delivered to the welfare recipients in Boston by the Babcock Coal Company came from the Acker property, it means that the Babcock Coal Company violated the terms of their contract with the City of Boston. This required fresh-mined coal of chestnut size only from a mine which was known in the trade as the source of high grade anthracite.

According to the testimony of Cudworth, the H. N. Hartwell Company invested approximately $100,000 in the Acker Mine on or about (it may have been before) the time the company offered its bid in 1935 for the welfare coal.

Cudworth, treasurer of the H. N. Hartwell Company, testified he has been actively engaged in the coal business for thirty-five years. He claimed and may be presumed to know all about coal, and costs, methods, and problems of handling and delivery. He admitted that he knew the cost at the mine of the coal his contract called for and the probable cost of handling and delivery. He testified he is treasurer of Babcock Coal Company. He also admitted that work in installing a Chance Cone, by which coal is reclaimed from a colm pile at the Acker Mine, and which was financed by the Hartwell Company, was rushed, commencing in August, 1935, and continued until it was ready for use in production on October 1. He admitted his company only received a negligible quantity from the mine named in its contract and that he sought and obtained coal from other mines between August and October. When the Acker Mine was again in operation, he said all welfare coal came from there.

The conclusion is, therefore, irresistible that the owners of the Babcock Coal Company, when they made the contract with the city, deliberately planned to substitute a grade of coal that was inferior to the grade specified. The prospect of success in this contemplated substitution was the real basis of their offer of a price that was more than $1.50 per ton less than comparable large operators said under oath was the lowest figure at which they could deliver the coal specified and get back their cost prices.

The Adams Coal Company.

This company had the contract to deliver coal to welfare recipients in Charlestown. Its principal place of business is in Somerville and it was from the Somerville yard that the coal for the city came. The company maintains only a small office on Massachusetts avenue in Boston. City contract awards have been refused by Mayor Mansfield on numerous occasions on the pretence that the low bidder appeared to be not a Boston firm.

The complaint against the quality of the coal furnished by the Adams Coal Company was very similar to the complaint made against the Babcock Coal Company coal. Proportionally it was just as frequent. Briefly, it was that the Adams coal was soft, a large percentage of dust and dirt size with consequent loss through grates and consequent difficulty in obtaining heat from it in kitchen stoves; delivery was slow; the drivers of the trucks compelled recipients to pay petty graft to have it brought into their homes; and there was complaint that drivers did not deliver the quantity in some cases that the orders called for. Suffering by welfare recipients was, therefore, in proportion to the size of their contract, no less under the Adams contract than under the Babcock Company contract.

The Finance Commission representatives interviewed the agent of a large coal wholesaler who sold coal to the Adams Company. Originally, in private examination, he stated that the coal he sold to Adams was principally storage coal. He added that during the life of the Adams contract with the city he sold 2,000 tons approximately of washery coal. Later at public hearings under oath he repeated this testimony.

Some time after this evidence had been printed in the newspapers, the agent came to the Finance Commission and stated that he had made a mistake in stating that he had sold washery coal. He was asked to make affidavit to this effect, having already stated the opposite under oath, but to date has not given the affidavit. The evidence uncovered by the Finance Commission was that the characteristics of the coal delivered by the Adams Company are consistent with the characteristics of washery coal.

Assuming that it was storage coal—not washery coal—that Adams Company supplied the city, experts informed the Finance Commission that while there is no great difference between the burning quality of storage coal and fresh-mined anthracite, there is a measurable difference in cost. Storage coal costs less. Fresh-mined was what the city contract required.

There is also much less cost to washery coal, as well as much less heat value. There is great loss in use of it in kitchen stoves when not carefully screened.

The public record of prosecutions against the Adams Company was available to the Welfare Department. This record consisted of more than thirty convictions of charges that the proprietor of the Adams Company was guilty of defrauding customers. On this record he should not have been awarded any contract. The Welfare Department regularly makes a practice of obtaining records of prosecutions against welfare recipients. In view of the record of the Adams Company it was incumbent upon the Welfare Department, after having allowed the contract to be given to the Adams Company without protest, to have taken precautions, even beyond the requirements of the contract, to make certain that the contract was lived up to. Had the Welfare Department done so, suffering by welfare recipients who received Adams coal such as described might have been averted.

The Western Coal and Ice Company.

This company had the contract to deliver coal in the Jamaica Plain district. There was complaint against the coal delivered by this firm that it was small, often dirt and dust size. There was complaint that it was so pregnated with gas that it was dangerous to use in kitchen stoves. There were many complaints that the drivers compelled the payment of petty graft for deliveries.

An analysis by the chemist of the Welfare Department reported on one sample that it was semibituminous. The owner of the company protested on the witness stand under oath that he had none but American anthracite coal in his yard at any time. He claimed that he delivered only fresh-mined American anthracite to welfare recipients. To the Supply Department later, when consideration was being given to his bid for the new contract, he offered the explanation that the coal taken from his truck while it was on the way to make welfare deliveries was in fact Welsh coal. The chemist reported that it was semi-bituminous. This in itself constituted admission that he had violated his contract which called for fresh-mined American anthracite.

This incident serves to illustrate that the coal contractors appeared to believe, because they knew no one had been watching closely the quality and size delivered, that any coal delivered, whether good or bad, would be accepted by the Welfare Department and paid for.

Responsibility in the Welfare Department.

When the Director of the Welfare Department passed over to the chemist the task of analyzing coal samples taken by the Sealer of Weights and Measures, he was not relieved of responsibility if the chemist neglected to report upon all the facts which an intelligent and complete analysis would have produced about this coal. The chemist did not perform the task that he was commissioned to do when he failed to make report of the size of the coal or when he did not make inquiry of the source of it. He was therefore, guilty of a serious breach of his obligations to the Welfare Department. The contract specifically stated that the test should be in accordance with the regular methods of testing as adopted by the American Chemical Society. It also stressed, by naming the size of the coal and fixing a penalty for violation, that size was of the essence of the contract.

Because, however, the chemist made his reports to the director the responsibility is also the director's if he failed to give intelligent attention to them, and to act upon deficiencies shown by them. He was required to seek all the information from the chemist that was necessary for him to have if he were to check the performance of the contractor in a business-like way. It appears that he did so fail.

Responsibility for permitting this fraud, therefore, belongs primarily to the Director of the Welfare Department, his business manager, and his chemist, any one of whom might have stopped it. The whole Board of Overseers, and particularly the chairman of that Board, share in the responsibility.

At the public hearing held by the Finance Commission, the Superintendent of Supplies produced a letter written to him by the director of the Welfare Department under date of December 13, which was within a month of the start of deliveries of coal by the Babcock Company. In that letter it was stated that at a meeting held on December 9, 1935, the Board asked the director to make investigation and report upon the complaints of slow delivery by the coal contractors.

It appears that the director made no such report and that the Board made no later inquiry. Yet prompt delivery of coal was important to welfare recipients. They were depending upon it to keep them from freezing.

Almost immediately thereafter complaints of many abuses began to pour into official agencies. At every City Council meeting there was demand for action of one kind or another. It was claimed that welfare recipients were having difficulty in obtaining coal, or in burning it when they got it. There was ample reason, therefore, for action by the chairman of the Welfare Board, or by the Board itself. Yet none was taken.

There was testimony at the Finance Commission hearings held in the week of April 20 to 25 that poor coal was still being delivered. There was no evidence that up to that time any official of the Welfare Department had questioned the coal company between November and May in regard to the merit of the complaints.

It was stated to the Finance Commission by the chairman of the Board of Welfare Overseers that it was the duty of the director to take whatever action was necessary in regard to the complaints. The chairman was content to let the blame fall on the director. He or the Board made no move to correct conditions which they knew existed. That failure merits official condemnation.

Nor is there any evidence that Mayor Mansfield fulfilled his obligations in this regard. He was informed by the many orders and requests that came to him officially from the City Councilors that there was trouble in the supply of coal to the poor. One City Councilor sent to him a box of coal taken as a sample from a welfare recipient's home. It was mostly dirt and dust. The sample remained unacted upon in the Mayor's office for many weeks.

It should not be forgotten that Mayor Mansfield appointed the new Board of Welfare Overseers and in doing so removed from office many who had had wide experience in handling the multitudinous problems that the depression gave rise to. He had ordered the executive director of the department transferred, after thirty years' experience in its work. He dictated the appointment of the new director. The Mayor, as has appeared in the daily papers, has often ordered and dictated policies and practices in the department. A striking illustration is only of recent origin. He notified the employees of the department, who, with the support of the director, opposed an order of the chairman of the Board to transfer them all to new assignments, that dire consequences would follow if they persisted in their opposition. The decision by the Mayor to support the chairman's desire to shift the welfare workers over the protest, publicly and privately, of the director discredited the director in the department.

For the failure of the officials of his choice to measure up to the requirements of their positions the Mayor must assume responsibility. His share is increased by his failure to act when the City Councilors called the necessity for action to his attention.

The System Offered by the Anthracite Institute.

The neglect of the Director of Public Welfare was not alone of his failure to perform the service required of him by the method of providing coal which he chose to adopt. He was given an opportunity to install a method that has been proven satisfactory in twelve eastern states and a large number of municipalities right here in Massachusetts. He could not find time to listen to a representative of the Anthracite Institute of America, the representative organization of all the leading coal producers and retailers, who was sent here by his sponsors specifically to offer expert advice. This advice was based on three years of actual experience in distribution of coal to welfare recipients.

The system offered was originally worked out under the auspices of the Federal Government. In a long use it proved so efficacious in providing a good grade of coal to welfare recipients at a minimum of cost that the big coal operators have adopted it as a means of obviating justifiable criticism of the product in which they have invested millions of dollars. It is also offered by them as their contribution to the burden the nation, through its public agencies, bears in caring for the victims of the depression.

The adoption of the plan of the Institute, the cost of administering which is borne by the Institute wholly, would give to Boston welfare recipients coal of guaranteed high grade at a price approximately $1.10 less than the regular retail price in Boston.

The representative of Anthracite Institute came to Boston at his own expense and spent two days trying to obtain an opportunity to explain the advantages of this system to the Director of the Welfare Department. He was eventually given ten minutes by the director, and later was informed by a subordinate of the director that the Welfare Department was not interested in the plan.

Conclusions.

The Finance Commission viewed with disgust the efforts of many high officials of the city in trying to dodge the responsibility for this scandalous treatment of the poor. One, the chairman of the welfare trustees, named the director as the guilty party.

The director, in turn, when helpless in defence of himself before the commission, alternately placed the blame on his own subordinates or on the officials of other departments. In his frantic effort to escape himself, he did not hesitate to include among those subordinates he said were responsible—his chief assistant, the business manager. Yet the business manager had previously prepared in his own testimony for the alibi which the director subsequently set up. It was apparent to the commission in the recital of the evidence that the coincident efforts of the leading administrators of the Welfare Department was not to deny the chief facts developed by the inquiry. It was rather to escape, each for himself, all blame by naming another. This removed all doubt that there was cause for drastic action. Not one of them disputed the charge that there had been wilful and serious neglect or that the poor suffered as a result. Therefore, it was merely necessary to determine, so far as the employees of that department are concerned, to what extent each had been untruthful.

The Finance Commission is unanimously of the opinion that every member of the Board of Overseers of Public Welfare on December 9, 1935, shared in the negligence. The commission is convinced that the Director of Public Welfare and the business manager were guilty of gross neglect of the essential requirements of their positions—to see that the money generous taxpayers provided to alleviate the sufferings of the poor was spent for the very definite purpose for which it was given.

Mayor Mansfield has offered stubborn resistance to friendly suggestions that could easily have prevented suffering and privations of the poor. He recently urged the public to await the submission of all the facts. He further stated that in the eventuality that sufficient evidence was offered, the subject matter of these complaints would be submitted to the proper authorities.

The evidence heard by the Finance Commission emphatically disclosed a shocking neglect on the part of city officials. It also disclosed corruption on the part of coal dealers and drivers.

The sincerity of the Mayor's announcement to the public will be tested by his action upon this opportunity to fulfill his promise and to proceed immediately with criminal and civil prosecution.

In view of the Mayor's contemplated action, the commission will send a copy of the sworn testimony to him. The commission will also send a copy to the District Attorney. It is expected that the Mayor will give the case now before him the proffered cooperation to the end that justice be done.

APPROPRIATION FOR BUDGET DEPARTMENT.

Coun. AGNEW, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted a report recommending the passage of the following:

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1936, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year on the City of Boston or County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables hereinafter set forth be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the department and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriations hereinafter specified be met by taxes to the amount of $11,845.00, said amount to be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston, and that all orders hereafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for.

BUDGET DEPARTMENT.

A—Personal Service as per
Schedule A.....	$11,500.00
B—Contractual Services.....	45.00
D—Supplies.....	150.00
H—Relief Projects.....	150.00

Schedule A.

Commissioner, 1 at $6,500 per year,	$6,500.00
Executive clerk, 1 at $3,000 per year,	3,000.00
Stenographer, 1 at $2,000 per year,	2,000.00

$11,500.00

The question came on accepting the report of the committee.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. Chairman, I wonder if the chairman of the committee would state the purpose of this report at the present time, appropriating $11,000?

Coun. AGNEW—Well, it has been explained by the Budget Commissioner that they are without funds to function, and it is necessary if their department is to function that this be passed as soon as possible.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will state that unless we pass this order today they are without funds, and will not be able to meet their pay roll this coming week.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I desire to ask another question. My impression is that each department has the power to spend one half of the appropriation of the preceding year, and if that is so, I wondered how it happened that this particular department has got into such a hole four months after the year has begun?

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. Chairman, I will answer that by saying that the commissioner himself can answer if we wish to send for him.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will explain that the City Auditor acted as Budget Commissioner last year without salary, and the appointment of a Budget Commissioner this year has used up that appropriation.

The order was passed, yeas 19, nays 0.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. AGNEW, for the Committee on Constables, reported recommending approval of the following names of constables, appearing in No. 3 on the calendar, under unfinished business (being constables whose names were submitted by the Mayor on April 13, who will be authorized to serve civil process upon filing bonds), viz:

Walter F. Delaney, John H. Howard, Frank J. Staula, Clarence L. Baker, David B. Kaplan, Abraham I. Weiss, Salvatore Maffei, John B. Blotto and Joseph Herman.

The question came on confirmation of the constables named. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Selvitella. Whole number of ballots 17; yes 17, and the appointments named were confirmed.

President FITZGERALD also called up under unfinished business No. 1 on the calendar, viz:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 4, 1936, of constables connected with official positions without authority to serve civil process, viz: John A. O'Brien, Morton S. Garson, John J. Linehan, Lewis J. Polak and Peter E. Resnick.

The question came on confirmation, and President FITZGERALD appointed as the committee Coun. Gallagher and Selvitella.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, at the last meeting of the Council I offered an order, which was referred to the Executive Committee, to ask the Mayor why so many city constables were needed, where they were working, what their duties were, and whether those duties might not be performed by some person already on the city pay roll. That order is resting in the Executive Committee, and I believe, sir, we ought to have this information before we act on these additional appointments. He has already appointed, I think, more such constables than any other Mayor. At a time when we are not able to meet our budget and have to borrow for current expenses, it does not seem an appropriate time to add unnecessarily to the pay roll and I believe, sir, we should have that information before we act on this matter. Therefore, I move that it be postponed or placed at the end of the calendar today.

Coun. McGRATH—I would like to have it laid over for a week.

President FITZGERALD—The question is on the motion of Coun. Shattuck to have the matter placed at the end of the calendar.

The matter was placed at the end of the calendar.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS ON CHARLES STREET.

President FITZGERALD called up, under unfinished business, No. 4 on the calendar, viz.:

Ordered, That the sum of $3,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Traffic Commission, for traffic signal lights on Charles street, at Allen street, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue and sell bonds of the city to said amount for said purpose.

On April 13, 1936, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 18, nays 1.

Coun. WILSON—I do not want to seem to be thinking too much, especially at a City Council meeting, but didn't we have a long discussion last week about an amendment or a new order, which would ask for $50,000 for street lights?

President FITZGERALD—I was not here.

Coun. WILSON—Then I ask that this matter lie over until after executive, so that we can catch up with ourselves. I am in favor of this one, which is in your ward, but I also have in mind that a very detailed report was filed with the Council listing the most dangerous intersections in the city, in the order of their danger, and with the cost of each. We had a long discussion last week, during your absence, and it was urged that at least $50,000 be made available if we are to spend some money for these signal lights.

President FITZGERALD withdrew his call for the order, and it remained on the calendar under unfinished business.

GRAVES OF VETERANS.

President FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Committee on Soldiers' Relief be requested to make an inquiry into the matter of the appointment, under section 22 of chapter 115 of the General Laws, of a suitable person to perform the duties therein set forth relative to the care and registration of the graves of veterans, and to ascertain, if such a person has been appointed, whether or not the required duties have been performed, and the reason, if any, for nonperformance.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

By direction of the President, the Council at 2.28 p. m. took a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by Coun. GALLAGHER at 3.39 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz.: Petitions for children under fifteen years of age (referred today) to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Lulu Philbrook, Jordan Hall, June 3.
Katharine G. O'Gorman, Shubert Theatre, May 21.

Gertrude Goodman, Repertory Theatre, May 19.

Jeanette Sternberg, Repertory Theatre, June 2.

Rose Sidman, Repertory Theatre, June 16,—recommending that leave be granted, under usual conditions.

Report accepted; leave granted, under usual conditions.

2. Report on petition (referred April 6) of Catherine E. Roche to be paid annuity on account of death of her husband, James B. Roche, late member of the Police Department, recommending the passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 340 of the Acts of 1933, an annuity of eighteen hundred dollars be allowed and paid to Catherine E. Roche, widow of James B. Roche, a member of the Police Department, who died on March 21, 1936, as a result of injuries received in the performance of his duty; said annuity being made up of allowances as follows:

For the widow, Catherine E. Roche, so long as she remains unmarried, $1,000 per annum.

For each of the following named children, during such time as he or she is under the age of eighteen or over said age and physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, $200 per annum.

James B. Roche, born August 3, 1921; Francis J. Roche, born February 20, 1927; Robert R. Roche, born November 30, 1933; Claudette Roche, born November 20, 1934, the payments to date from March 23, 1936, and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities.

Report accepted, order passed.

3. Report on order (referred May 4) that Mayor specify departments to which the constables already appointed have been assigned and duties which each will perform, and departments to which additional constables recommended will be assigned and their duties, and whether some of departments are not now overmanned, persons on regular pay roll being qualified to perform duties of the constables—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted and the order was passed.

Coun. BRACKMAN—We have had a similar order in here before. I think it is quite obvious to almost everyone here what these men have been assigned to do. There has been a request sent to the Finance Commission for information along the same line, and I request that this matter be placed on the table.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I think we have had no information on this subject for at least a year. We have had no information on the present list or present assignments, and we have pending the suggestion that further appointments be made. Before we consider those further appointments, I believe we should have this information.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, what order is under discussion?

President FITZGERALD—Information regarding constables—Coun. Shattuck's order.

Coun. NORTON—I am in agreement, and I think this order on constables—

President FITZGERALD—The Chair would state that the order has been passed.

Coun. WILSON—I realize perhaps the majority of the Council would like to have this passed, but I still would ask leave to say something on the question.

President FITZGERALD—No objection.

Coun. WILSON—I just came in and perhaps was a little late and did not hear the opening argument, but if I understand correctly, the request by Coun. Shattuck is merely a businesslike request that we have a right to ask of any department where seventy-nine or eighty-four political appointments are made, where the men are being placed, and what kind of work they are going to do. It is certainly amazing to me to think that a majority of the Council are willing to be placed on record as refusing to even ask the Mayor where these eighty-four men are going to be placed and what duties they are going to perform.

Coun. McGRATH—I would like the personal privilege of saying something.

President FITZGERALD—The Councilor asks unanimous consent. Any objection? The Chair hears none.

Coun. McGRATH—I would like to have the Mayor come up here and tell us, if it is in order, what the constables are doing. I would further like to say that he didn't make any appointments for me from Ward 16.

Coun. NORTON—Did I understand that the order of the Councilor from Ward 5 was passed?

President FITZGERALD—The order has been passed.

Coun. NORTON—That is, his order?

President FITZGERALD—His order was passed a minute ago.

CHELSEA STREET, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. MELLER offered the following: Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of making Chelsea street, Charlestown, a one-way street from City square to the junction of Adams street and Chelsea street, with traffic moving from City square and routing the traffic coming towards City square along Adams street to Park street and into City square, and establishing a left turn from Chelsea street into Joiner street for traffic heading through Charlestown with stop lights at the junction of Park and Joiner streets.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF CHARLES DANIELS SCHOOL.

Coun. MELLER offered the following: Ordered, That the Superintendent of the Public Buildings be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to notify the School Committee officially of his willingness to receive from it the Charles Daniels School on Mead street, Charlestown, for the purpose of having a building for the Charlestown Joint Planning Board sponsoring W. P. A. activities.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLERICAL ASSISTANTS, CHARLESTOWN DISTRICT COURT.

Coun. MELLER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to obtain advices from the Judge of the Charlestown District Court with reference to definite information concerning the filling of the supposed existing vacancy of assistant clerk in the Charlestown Court, and whether provision for such position is to be properly included in this year's budget.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPROVAL OF APPOINTMENT OF JAMES A. BUCKLEY.

Coun. MELLER offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor, the Budget Commissioner and the Law Department be requested to approve James A. Buckley as clerical assistant of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District, as of November 16, 1935, at a salary of $1,700 per annum, and said salary to be increased at the rate of $100 per annum until the amount of $2,200 be reached; said James A. Buckley having been legally appointed to the said position of clerical assistant on the said sixteenth day of November, by the Clerk of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District according to General Laws, chapter 213, section 69.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will have to rule the order out of order because we have no power to order the Mayor to do this. We have the right to suggest, and I would suggest—

Coun. MELLER—I move that the order be amended to read "suggest."

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will make the change.

Coun. MELLER—Speaking on the order—in Charlestown a very unique situation exists. The presiding judge over there, Charles S. Sullivan, says because he has not received the appointment in correct form of James A. Buckley as clerical assistant he is not the clerical assistant. Judge Sullivan says the appointment should be in writing, but he has no precedent for written appointments even for the appointments within his jurisdiction. I will give the statutory history. In the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, enacted December 22, 1920, to take effect January 1, 1921, chapter 213, section 70, reads:

"Clerks of the following district courts shall severally be allowed annually for extra clerical assistance not more than the following amounts, payable monthly to the persons who are employed to render it, on the certificate of the justice that such assistance was rendered and was necessary."

This was amended by section 1 of chapter 399 of the Acts of 1922, and became chapter 213, section 69, of the General Laws:

"The clerk of each district court shall be allowed annually for extra clerical assistance such amount as the mayor of the city of Boston, if the district court is in Suffolk county, may approve, upon the certificate of the justice and clerk that extra clerical assistance was actually performed and necessary, stating the names of the persons by whom it was performed and the time occupied."

This was further amended by section 33 of chapter 301 of the Acts of 1931 to read:

"The clerk of each district court shall be allowed annually for clerical assistance such amount as the mayor of the city of Boston, if the district court is in Suffolk county, may approve."

There is no mention in this last amendment of the statute of any power of the judges in appointing any clerical assistants designated by the clerks of the courts. Nowhere in the history of the statute has any appointing power or even the right to approve been given to the justice of the District Court. His only duty was to certify that the work had been done, and by the Statute of 1933 he had not even the right to do that. At no point had he any right to appoint. Sullivan also claims jurisdiction. The general law doesn't give him jurisdiction. Sullivan admits, has admitted to two applicants, that he has no jurisdiction. He told them he had nothing to do with it and that it was entirely up to the Clerk of the Court. Mr. Mullen. He not only told those applicants, but he wrote them he had no right, and that if he thought he had the right he would have appointed some one himself. The situation is purely political. James A. Buckley who was appointed by Mullen to the position of clerical assistant comes from an old Charlestown family. He is a practicing attorney. On the basis of merit alone Sullivan should accede to this appointment. In 1914 when Judge Bragg resigned as Justice of the Charlestown Court, Sullivan was then a special justice. The late Timothy J. Buckley, the uncle of James J. Buckley, was at that time a member of the Governor's Council. He led the fight to make Sullivan presiding justice in spite of very bitter and determined opposition not only on the part of the people in Charlestown, but outside. Further, in 1927, when Fuller was Governor,

John P. Buckley, a brother, at that time a Representative in the General Court, led the fight to increase Sullivan's salary, introducing a bill into the Massachusetts General Court increasing the salary from $4,000 to $5,000. At that time Governor Fuller compromised with John P. Buckley by allowing $500 increase, thereby increasing the salary from $4,000 to $4,500. Just consider that James A. Buckley's brother wanted a $1,000 raise for Sullivan, and that Sullivan has refused to give to James a salary of $1,700,—17-10ths of the raise that John Buckley tried to get for him, and that the salary he holds up on James A. Buckley is not much more than one third of the salary he received through the efforts of Timothy J. and the raise instigated by Buckley's brother John. In spite of all this Sullivan won't give him the raise. He claims that he has jurisdiction, but by the statute he has none. That covers the whole story. As for political bias, this is not a political fight. It is purely personal. Buckley in my campaign was neutral. In the last delegate election James A. Buckley was on the opposition slate, so there is no political attack in it at all. It is purely friendship. For the purpose of the record I want to say that I intend to follow this through. If action does not come from the office of the Mayor, the matter will come before the General Court at the next regular session.

Coun. BRACKMAN—I think it is not very much of my business what happens in the Charlestown Court except from the standpoint of justice, and I think that acts of this kind speak louder than anything else for the election of judges. Here is a situation where the assistant clerk of courts passes away and a vacancy occurs, and for six months the vacancy has not been filled because to confirm the appointment of the present acting assistant clerk would mean that the clerk will be able to assert his power to appoint a clerical assistant under the statute. Here is a judge of one of our district courts who is playing politics to the extent that he not only will not confirm the appointment of the present acting assistant clerk in that capacity, but refuses the salary as clerical assistant of another man working as clerical assistant without pay since last November.

Coun. NORTON—I know nothing about the situation, but I am anxious to find out from somebody why it is this judge of this court for six months has allowed this man to work in that court and at the same time keep him off the pay roll for six months, in a district where unemployment is rampant as well as in other districts in Boston. The sooner the day comes when we have a statutory amendment here on this matter of the election of judges similar to most of the states, and the sooner some of these so-called members of the judiciary have to render an accounting to some one, the better. I would like to know why it is that for six months the judge has seen this man working about the courthouse and has refused him one dollar of pay.

Coun. MELLEN—That suggests to me that there is only one of two positions that can be taken by Judge Sullivan over there. Either John Flaherty is or is not assistant clerk. If he is assistant clerk, then there is a vacancy and Mullen has a right to fill that. If he is not assistant clerk, then he is clerical assistant, and as clerical assistant he comes under the powers of the Clerk of Court. The Clerk of Court is his employer and the right lies within the clerk to fire him. This is squarely in the lap of Sullivan. He has to either fish or cut bait; either has to take Flaherty and appoint him as assistant clerk of the court and allow Buckley to step in there, or take in an outsider, which he does not dare to do.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION RE SURETY BONDS.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Clerk and City Auditor, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to submit to the City Council a list with reference to all surety bonds filed so far during the year 1936, giving in each instance the type of bond, the amount of the bond, and the name of the company which is surety and the name of the agent and broker.

Coun. McGRATH—The purpose of introducing this order is to show that last year $290,012,137.24 was received from policy holders of the United States by foreign-owned or foreign-controlled insurance companies,—and this pamphlet goes on to say that in America we should eliminate foreign insurance companies and keep their hundreds of millions of dollars in American insurance companies. America's dead beat ledger shows the startling sum of $13,438,703,671 due her and in default by foreign nations. Finland alone, of all our foreign debtors, has kept faith. I won't go on to read the entire pamphlet I have here, but there are a few excerpts that I would like to read. It says:

"As a holder of a foreign insurance policy what do you assume would happen in the event of a disaster comparable to that of San Francisco fire in 1906 should occur?"

And it goes on to say, about 50 per cent of the companies when it came time to pay off the loss refused to pay more than fifty cents on the dollar. I ask the passage of this order. And I would like to have this in the record: When the heads of the departments have come before the budget committee—and I happen to be a member of the Council although not a member of the budget committee,—I have asked them what companies the insurance and the bonds have been placed in, and not one of the heads or the representatives of these departments knew. Therefore, I ask the Mayor to send a list of the bonding companies and the brokers.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

DEATH OF MRS. SARAH E. FORD.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor direct the Superintendent of the Boston City Hospital to investigate the circumstances surrounding the autopsy performed on Mrs. Sarah E. Ford, late of Boston, who died at the institution on April 23, 1936.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONDITIONING OF COLUMBUS PARK.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to take immediate steps to place the Columbus Park in proper condition for the baseball season, to open the locker building, and to see that hot water is available for the shower baths when the building is in use.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 14 STREETS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving Jacob street, Ward 14.

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept, lay out and construct that section of Brunswick street, Ward 14, from number 198 to Columbia road, as a public highway.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNALS, ROXBURY.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Traffic Commissioner to install traffic signals at the junction of Seaver, Harold and Hutchings streets, and also install traffic signals at the junction of Cliff, St. James and Warren streets.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONSTRUCTION OF GRANOLITHIC SIDEWALKS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the sum of fifty thousand dollars, be, and the same hereby is, appropriated, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, for the construction of granolithic sidewalks, and that to meet said expenditure the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, with reference to the order, I realize perhaps it might not meet with the full approval of the councilor from Ward 5 (Coun. Shattuck), who I believe feels that perhaps street repairs and sidewalk construction can more properly come under appropriations. I am advised, however, that in the current budget there is not the appropriation of a single penny for the construction of a single artificial granolithic sidewalk anywhere in Boston during the coming year, and no appropriation whatever for edgestones, which in my opinion are not merely a question of convenience, but of ordinary safety in the residential sections of the city. I personally favor, especially since there is no appropriation, the passage of a loan order which will insure the construction of some artificial sidewalks throughout the City of Boston this year. I bear in mind, as we all know, that one half the expense of sidewalks from time immemorial has been charged against the adjacent owner who is allowed to pay for it 10 per cent a year over a period of ten years, and with that expedient, a loan order of $50,000 would assure the construction of $100,000 worth of artificial sidewalks. I do not want to be finicky on the question, but I see miles of artificial sidewalks between here and Worcester on state highways and mile after mile of granolithic sidewalks, some of them 6 feet wide in sections like the Lynn marsh where nobody will walk on them for years to come, and yet I see sections in my own ward where houses that have stood over fifty to seventy-five years without having received that ordinary convenience of living in any great city, edgestones and sidewalks. I believe it is an item which might well meet with the favor of the Council, and I would appreciate its having a reading, if possible, today. I might state, not to antagonize those who favor constables, that when we consider eighty-four constables at $1,600 each, which means something like $135,000, it would almost appear as though we could assure to the citizens of Boston some appropriation or some loan order for sidewalks and such conveniences in the year 1936.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will refer the order to the Committee on Finance, unless the councilor wishes to ask a suspension of the rules.

The order was referred to the Committee on Finance.

EXTENSION ON TAX TITLE SALES.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Collector be respectfully requested, through his Honor the Mayor to permit reasonable extension beyond May 26 and 27 for the proposed tax title sale of Boston property on which 1934 taxes remain unpaid.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, I realize of course, the great financial stress under which Boston is laboring at the present time. We really must be laboring under great stress when for the fifth consecutive year we are borrowing millions of dollars not only for permanent improvements which will last through the future but for current expenses of the year. I realize of course, that our chief medium of paying our city bills is the money that we collect from taxes. On the other hand, we have seen hundreds, if not thousands of properties sold since 1934 for nonpayment of taxes. Frankly, the average property owner has seen taxes increase until it has reached such a saturation point he can no longer stand the gaff, if I may use that expression, and the little home finally goes under the hammer. If I read the papers correctly, I understand this year we are going to put up for sale something like 9,000 parcels some three months earlier than we did last year. I say again I realize the difficulty that the City Collector no doubt is having in getting in his tax money, but in these hard times and with taxes where the city administrators have put them, with times being as they are and hoping perhaps towards the end of this year conditions will improve, I personally thought, although he may differ with me and apparently does,—I personally have felt that this is a most inopportune year to advance the usual tax sale, even though we must hold it under the law, ninety days earlier this year. I urge, if it is possible under the law, to extend this tax sale even though perhaps it is being used primarily as a threat, that we extend the time to some later date than the twenty-sixth of May. I have one other item in mind on this question, and that is what becomes of these tax title properties after we buy them in? I might urge the adoption of an order like this with some hesitancy if the city had set up some arrangement under that ordinance we passed last October whereby after the properties had been sold for 1934 taxes they were placed in the hands of the Public Buildings Commissioner, with some definite check up there and some system whereby the properties are re-sold or leased or cashed in in some way, but the last I knew we had somewhere between 600 and 800 properties that had been sold for 1934 taxes, and last year put through the Land Court, and are now in the lap of Major Hall. And there are still others, and so far as I know not one has been sold, not one leased, and all we have got is a lot of responsibility and trouble now that we have them. So I say I urge against the sale of 9,000 more parcels which eventually, if they are not redeemed, will also have to go through this Land Court procedure. I urge a delay until such time as we shall really be making some progress with the 1931 tax parcels which we have already got.

Coun. McGRATH—I think this is a very good order which my colleague from Ward 17 introduced. The City Ordinance, I believe, reads that they must be sold every year. I don't know the specified date but I think if what he says is so, they are being sold ninety days earlier this year than they were last year, I would like to have that order amended to delay it until six months from now.

Chairman GALLAGHER—In the order it asks for a reasonable extension, Coun. McGrath,—is that broad enough?

Coun. McGRATH—Six months.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF WATER BY CONTRACTORS.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the chief engineer of the Water Division of the Public Works Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council with reference to arrangements, if any, now in force permitting the use of city water from hydrants by contractors using rubbish dumps, and further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of directing the Water Division of the Public Works Department, and also the Fire Department, to arrange for providing meters to measure water used incident to dumps operated by rubbish disposal contractors.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. Chairman, I was interested naturally in Councilor Shattuck's order of May 4 requesting his Honor the Mayor to inform the councilors as to what steps are being taken to make the Water Department self-supporting, because I was more or less surprised, as I assume he was, to learn there was such a substantial deficit for the first time in the history of the city last year. Because of the increased bonds in the Metropolitan Water Works the deficit may run into substantially more money this year, and so, although I have not verified these figures—I usually do verify figures before I even repeat them—I think that the suggestion I am going to make is of sufficient importance to send it along today, perhaps without verification of the figures. I understand that, of course, the average rubbish concern disposing of rubbish in the various dumps that are agreed to by the city gets permission to use water from the hydrants nearest the dumps to keep the danger of fire down, and that where fire does break out in the dumps from one of those underground fires, the expense is also added of calling out the Fire Department. Now, if I understand it, these dumps which these men are permitted to use are, of course, used as a matter of private profit, and if any fires are started there it is because the papers and other usually inflammable material is not burned as promptly as it ought to be, because there is not proper supervision there. However, whatever the reason, I assume under the contract it is up to the man who dumps to make his own plans for using city water. Now, these figures are the ones I refer to, and they can be verified. They may not be scrupulously accurate, but I think there is a good deal to them. At the Mary Doyle dump on the Old Colony Parkway there is a 2½-inch pipe connected with a hydrant at 151 Mt. Vernon street, and the disposal company there has that hydrant connected with a hose. The water is run for the most part some twenty-four hours a day, discharging some 1,290 gallons a minute, or about 77,000 gallons an hour, or about 1,857,600 gallons every day of the year. I understand at the McCabe dump on Dillingham street there is also a 2½-inch hose connected to a hydrant on Dillingham street which operates some ten hours each day, discharging about 300 gallons per minute or 18,000 gallons an hour. So much for the daily use of water. I do not understand there is any meter on these hydrants with reference to this unusual use of the water of the City of Boston. Now, in addition to this almost daily use there is the additional hazard of calling out the Fire Department, when fire conditions get away from the man who is using the dump. I understand on the sixth of May the fire apparatus of Boston extinguished a fire at the McCabe dump after two hours of pumping by a 750-gallon pump which used some 90,000 gallons. I believe I am correctly informed when I repeat the information that has been furnished me to the effect that on April 28 at another rather serious fire at the same location the pump pumped out something like 2,000,000 gallons of water in that single day. The purpose of this order is this, Mr. President, I feel so far as the use of city water from the city hydrants by these dumping concerns is concerned, day after day, some arrangement should be made to meter the hydrants and let them pay for the water that they are using. I believe in the second place, if they cannot keep these dumps in the Savin Hill section and other sections under control, but require the use of the Fire Department to do their work for them, bringing out the fire apparatus and using millions of gallons of water a month to put out those dump fires, there should be meters or something carried in the chief's wagon or other apparatus, to meter that water, because after all is said and done, these dump contracts are supposed to be a source of profit. I firmly believe when the situation has arisen where we are actually anticipating a possible raising of the minimum water rates from $10 to $12, perhaps that item whereby the city water deficit can be kept down, as requested by Councilor Shattuck, can be met right here in the suggestion made.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SHIP TERMINAL, OLD HARBOR POINT.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to advise the City Council, with reference to the progress made in the matter of application of the American International Terminal Corporation, for a loan of sixteen million dollars from the Government for the construction of a dock and the creation of a ship terminal at Old Harbor Point in Dorchester, and further Ordered, That the City Council, supplementing its action on June 4, 1934, respectfully urges prompt approval of the pending application for this great public improvement.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, just to refresh the memory and recollection of the Council, I would point out that as long ago as June 4, 1934, they were kind enough to pass unanimously an order requesting the Mayor to consider prompt approval of this application of the American International Terminal Corporation for this loan from the Federal Administration of Public Works for the construction of the dock and the creation of a ship terminal at the Old Harbor Point section of Dorchester Bay, referred to in today's order. Not wishing to repeat too much I would remind the Council and the Mayor that this particular project which has put Boston on the map and which should certainly be of outstanding assistance to the whole South Boston and Savin Hill section, has had the endorsement and approval of the Governor of Massachusetts, the Boston Port Authority, engineers of the War Department, the Dorchester Board of Trade, and countless other organizations interested in this public improvement. I am informed that the completion of the project will mean the reclaiming of over 264 acres of land and the dredging of a 40-foot ship channel, not to mention two years of continuous work for some 4,500 men. So I urge that while the Federal Government in Washington apparently is in the mood, and since this should be a self-supporting proposition and since the money is not being asked as a gift, but as a loan, bearing in mind the power of the Mayor's influence at Washington and his frequent trips and those of the Corporation Counsel there on P. W. A. matters, this is of sufficient importance to really receive his active, affirmative and helpful assistance at the present time.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

CERTIFICATES AS TO QUALITY OF COAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Auditor be respectfully requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council whether all invoices for delivery of coal and oil to welfare recipients during the past winter season have been accompanied by certificates as to quality, and whether such invoices have therefore been paid in accordance with contract specifications.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUDGET HEARINGS.

Chairman GALLAGHER announced that the Appropriations Committee will resume its hearings on the budget Tuesday, May 12, at 2 p. m.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. AGNEW, chairman of the Committee on Constables, called up under unfinished business No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 4, 1936, of constables connected with official positions without authority to serve civil process, viz.: John A. O'Brien, Morton S. Garson, John J. Linehan, Lewis J. Polak, Peter E. Resnick.

The question came on confirmation, and Chairman Gallagher appointed as a committee to receive, sort and count ballots Coun. Finley and Selvitella.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I move postponement of this matter for two weeks, in order that we may have an opportunity to receive the Mayor's reply to the order concerning the activities of the constables already appointed, and also to learn and consider what he has to say on the subject. I move, therefore, that this matter be postponed for two weeks.

Coun. Shattuck's motion was declared lost. Councilor NORTON doubted the vote.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I think Councilor Shattuck is right in asking that this be laid on the table.

Chairman GALLAGHER—All in favor of Councilor Shattuck's motion to postpone for two weeks will rise.

Coun. Shattuck's motion was defeated on a rising vote, 4 to 11.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I further doubt the vote, and ask for the yeas and nays.

The clerk called the roll, and Councilor Shattuck's motion to postpone for two weeks was lost, yeas 5, nays 12.

Yeas—Coun. McGrath, Norton, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Wilson—5.

Nays—Coun. Agnew, Brackman, Doherty, Finley, Gallagher, Gleason, Kerrigan, Kilroy, Mellen, George A. Murray, Peter A. Murray, Selvitella—12.

The question came on confirmation of the appointments in No. 1 on the calendar. Committee, Coun. Finley and Selvitella. Whole number of ballots 18; yeas 11, no 7, and the appointments were confirmed.

CONFIRMATION OF EXECUTIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Chairman GALLAGHER called up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, viz.:

2. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 4, 1936, of Roscoe D. Waterhouse to be a Measurer of Leather; Fred J. Graham, James Laughlin, Walter W. Willis, Joseph R. Wilkinson, H. Marsden Harding, Arthur Bursay, John Drohan, to be Weighers of Goods; Charles Rabinovitz, I. S. Borenstein, to be Weighers of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Finley and Selvitella.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, may I ask if all these men are residents of Boston?

Chairman GALLAGHER—The Chair is not prepared to state. However, they are not required to be residents of Boston.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I would like to have action on this postponed for a week.

Chairman GALLAGHER—You are too late. The ballot is pending.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I would like to go on record as stating that one of them is not a resident of Boston. That is why I am interested.

Seventeen ballots were cast; yeas 14, nays 3, and the appointments were confirmed.

RELIEF OF REAL ESTATE.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the advisability of considering ways and means of relieving the real estate of Boston from increased taxation.

Coun. NORTON—I would like to include the following compilation concerning taxes in the various large cities of America.

Chairman GALLAGHER—If there is no objection, the statement will be included in the record.

Coun. NORTON—A building here in Boston is paying about double what it is in any other large American city, and here is the record. We are taking out of our real estate in Boston over $56,000,000; Detroit with almost double the population, is taking out $54,000,000. In cities in Boston's category, such as Cleveland, St. Louis and Baltimore, none on the average take out $26,000,000 or $27,000,000. Mr. President, these figures here are, to say the least, astounding, and I am asking that they be placed in the City Record.

These figures are for the last fiscal year for which figures are obtainable.

	Population.	Total Amount All Realty Assessed At.	Total Amount of Money Taken Out of Realty for All Purposes.
Chicago.....	3,376,438	$1,500,771,873	$95,973,005 66
Philadelphia.....	1,950,961	2,746,300,900	71,035,246 33
Detroit.....	1,568,662	1,781,915,475	54,339,880 24
Los Angeles.....	1,238,048	1,123,449,000	45,924,160 00
Cleveland.....	900,420	901,028,431	26,940,750 00
St. Louis.....	821,960	912,781,540	29,081,280 36
Baltimore.....	804,874	1,109,448,188	27,322,664 82
Boston.....	781,188	1,517,386,700	56,143,307 90

On the matter of assessments, Boston appears to run about $500,000,000 higher than other cities of her size such as Cleveland and St. Louis. Chicago assesses on only 87 per cent of the real value of realty while Boston takes the 100 per cent figure, but the fact remains that Chicago, with over four times the population of Boston actually assesses its real estate at a lower figure than Boston.

From the standpoint of actual money taken out of realty, Boston takes out more money than Detroit, that is almost twice the size of Boston, than Los Angeles, with 400,000 odd people more than Boston. Cities in Boston's category such as Cleveland, St. Louis and Baltimore seem to take just one half as much money out of their real estate as Boston does.

Figures are often unfair, but these figures tend to show that Boston's real estate taxation is far and away above that of any other city of comparable size in America.

Boston depends upon industry and commerce, competing in many instances against these other cities. How can it be done under these conditions?

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

NEED FOR CONSTABLES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Boston Finance Commission be requested to make a study of the need for the present list of constables on the city pay roll.

Coun. NORTON—I do not believe the Mayor of Boston will even attempt to justify the highest number of constables this city has ever known. Therefore, I am asking the commission across the street to tell us what they know about it.

Coun. BRACKMAN—We have already passed one order which calls on the Mayor to furnish this information. I understand in the City of Boston today we have 1,500 less city employees than we had in 1934. I am not in favor of any other investigation, and I hope this order is defeated.

The question came on the suspension of the rule, and the motion was lost; yeas 5, nays 10. Referred to the Committee on Constables.

POSTPONEMENT OF TAX SALES.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor consider the matter of postponing the sale of any home to be sold for unpaid taxes where the family lives in the house.

Coun. NORTON—I understand that the matter of homes being sold for unpaid taxes is a very minor part of this entire business of the sale of property for unpaid taxes. In other large cities, notably Jersey City, under Mayor Frank Hague, where the family lives in the home, mostly with the approval of the Assessing Department, it is the practice not to sell the home. They have taken into account what happened to this home in good times when the folks were working. It seems possible under the circumstances that the Mayor may work out some scheme in Boston where the selling of homes can be postponed for some little time. I represent a home-owning ward, Mr. President, and a section where they have been blighted by tax sales. The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF FOWLE STREET.

Coun. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out as a public highway, Fowle street, Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WEST ROXBURY IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place suitable warning signs at both sides of the approach to the Spring Street Railroad Bridge, West Roxbury.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a fence in the space between the abutments of the Spring Street Railroad Bridge as a means of preventing further accidents at this particular location.

Ordered, That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to relocate the outbound car stop on Spring street, opposite Alaric street, West Roxbury, and place same two elevated poles south of the present location, which would bring it to the further side of the Spring Street Bridge.

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, in introducing these three orders, I am doing so at the suggestion of the members of the Spring Street Improvement Association, a civic body which lives in the vicinity of the Spring Street Bridge. It is a death trap there. In the last years there have been three fatal accidents, and I am calling attention of the proper authorities to the matter to see if they cannot take proper means to alleviate the situation.

REVENUE BOND ACTS.

The 1936 issue of the "Municipal Index" contains a detailed study of the revenue bond acts in the thirty-three states which have enabling acts, and reports of all forty-eight states, showing what advantage has been taken of these acts by cities to finance the construction, operation and maintenance of sewerage systems and sewage treatment plants by service charges.

The table shows the status of revenue bond acts and other enabling acts in the different states, the dates when the acts became effective, and whether or not cities have taken advantage of the opportunity offered for financing bonds by service charges. In the case of states with no enabling acts, the table shows whether cities are charging sewer rentals under some other authority.

ESTABLISHMENT OF SAFETY PROJECT UNDER N. Y. A.

Chairman: At our last meeting I proposed that we request the National Youth Administration to accept as a project the opening of school yards for play purposes. I have now received the following communication from Mr. Casey, Director of the Massachusetts Youth Administration:

NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION FOR MASSACHUSETTS

April 28, 1936

Mr. Frederick Sullivan, Chairman
Boston School Committee,
15 Beacon Street,
Boston, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Sullivan:

In reply to the Boston School Committee's request of the National Youth Administration that we provide for the City of Boston a project calling for the supervision within school yards for safe play areas for children of school age, may I say that this project meets with our approval and we will initiate it at our earliest opportunity, in all probability, however, not before May 15, 1936. As you, perhaps, are not aware, our personnel is limited to a certain number for the state, and that we cannot begin new projects except upon the expiration of another and the resulting release of workers from that other. Under such conditions, it will be impossible for us to do anything before the date I have set.

We will continue to discuss the details of the project with you, and will accept you, as the Chairman of the Boston School Committee, as sponsor of our project when it is formally drawn up.

Sincerely yours,

Director, Massachusetts Youth Administration.

Chairman (continuing): I hope to see that project underway immediately after May 15. We expect to have about one hundred employees from the National Youth Administration.

Mr. Tobin: Does that mean we will have one hundred school yards throughout the city open for children after May 15?

Chairman: No, because under the National Youth Administration workers are restricted to forty-four hours work a month and it will mean that they will have to double up on the school jobs.

Mr. Tobin: But it is safe to assume that the congested areas of the city will be taken care of and that children in these sections will have play space away from dangers of the street?

Chairman: That is the plan.

Mr. Smith: This will not interfere with the work of our employees?

Chairman: I intend this to supplement and not to cut into any of our playground activities.

Mr. Tobin: In other words, every section that had a school playground in a school yard will have it, and over and above that, other school yards will be opened for play under the direction of the N. Y. A.

Superintendent: In order to make that perfectly clear: I'd like to warn the Committee and Mr. Tobin that whether districts that had playgrounds last year shall have them again this year, depends entirely on the date when this Committee asks that playgrounds be opened and the number opened. You have enough money in the budget to open all for the summer, or part for the summer and part for the spring and fall.

The Committee adjourned.

SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT CONSTRUCTION ON THE INCREASE.

Owing to the economic conditions prevailing during the past year, there was but a relatively small volume of sewage treatment plant construction. Within recent months, however, there has been a decided impetus to new construction of this type growing out of the Public Works Administration allotments. Nearly 700 cities have received allotments of funds from the P. W. A. for sewerage or sewage treatment, involving an aggregate expenditure of well over $200,000,000.

THE NOISE NUISANCE.

That city officials are serious about eliminating noise is noted from studies of new anti-noise ordinances enacted by a growing number of municipalities listed in the "United States Municipal News," bulletin of the American Municipal Association and the United States Conference of Mayors. Among the more important of these cities are Philadelphia, Gary, Ind., Louisville, New York and Boston.

PROFITABLE MUNICIPAL MARKETS.

Municipal markets, "white elephants" in many cities, can be made self-supporting and even profitable, according to recent reports on two of them. The Department of Public Markets of New York City reports that within the administration of its present Mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, the city's markets have changed from inefficient and expensive undertakings into profitable investments. The Benton Harbor, Mich., municipal fruit and vegetable market is described as doing a three-million-dollar annual business by its City Manager in the February issue of "Public Management."

Fifteen graduate fellowships, each with a stipend of $1,200-plus up to $200 for travel and field investigation have been announced by the Bureau for Street Traffic Research of Harvard University. The officers of instruction are Miller McClintock, Director of the Bureau, and Maxwell Halsey, Assistant Director. Each of two full courses in street and highway traffic control consists of three one-hour periods a week, and additional problems, assignments and field work.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 5.

CITY OF BOSTON,
MAYOR'S OFFICE, May 15, 1936.

To the Heads of City and County Departments.

GENTLEMEN,—Section 27 of chapter 486 of the Acts of Massachusetts Legislature of 1909, as amended, provides that every officer and board in charge of a department of the city or county shall, on or before the sixth day of June in each year, prepare and furnish to the City Auditor a list of the officials and employees under said officer or board and paid by the city or county on the first day of June preceding, giving the name, residence by street and ward, designation, compensation and date of election or appointment of each of said officials and employees and the date when each first entered the employ of the city or county.

In order to facilitate compliance with the provisions of this law the City Auditor has prepared uniform blanks to be used by every department making the return required.

The preparation of these lists is a matter of considerable importance and should command your personal attention.

Very truly yours,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

HOME SHOW WEEK DESIGNATED.

A PROCLAMATION

BY THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

I, Frederick W. Mansfield, Mayor of the City of Boston, hereby designate the week beginning the fourteenth of June, 1936, as National Home Show Week in the City of Boston.

Whereas, The need for better housing in the City of Boston has been apparent for a considerable period; and

Whereas, Tremendous strides have been made during the last few years in the development of materials for satisfactory construction of homes and for greater home comforts; and

Whereas, The construction of these homes and home modernization is a direct step toward increased private employment through stimulation of the durable goods industry; and

Whereas, The Federal Government has taken cognizance of the condition in Boston and elsewhere through the country and by the National Housing Act has provided a method where home construction and modernization is available to home owners and renters on highly convenient terms; and

Whereas, The Federal Housing Administration and the Better Housing Committee of Boston, wishing to bring to the attention of the people of Boston all these forces making for better housing, have decided to hold a National Home Show at Mechanics Building for eight days beginning June thirteenth, I conceive it to be my duty to call these matters to the attention of our citizens, to the end that Boston may be made the most beautiful city in the entire country in which to live. The full cooperation of all its citizens is essential to this great movement. I urge the distributors of building materials and equipment to display their products at the show and I urge the people, as a whole, to attend, for the public good.

In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and seal.

Done in the City of Boston this fifteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

MAYOR MANSFIELD TURNS DOWN COUNCIL PROPOSAL FOR PURCHASE OF YOUNG'S HOTEL PROPERTY AS ADDITION TO CITY HALL UNIT—DOUBTS VALUE OF ADDING GROUP OF OBSOLETE BUILDINGS TO PRESENT CITY HALL, ALSO OLD, CRAMPED AND GLOOMY—ACKNOWLEDGES NEED FOR NEW EDIFICE IN WHICH TO HOUSE MORE CONVENIENTLY AND EFFICIENTLY ALL DEPARTMENTS, BUT PLAN SUGGESTED IS NEITHER FEASIBLE NOR PRACTICAL.

The following is a copy of the letter from the Mayor to the City Council on May 27:

Boston, May 27, 1936.

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN,— I acknowledge receipt of a report of a committee of your Honorable Body, which was accepted on May 25, 1936, in which the committee recites that it "has decided that the Young's Hotel property can be arranged to meet all requirements in a more satisfactory manner than any other submitted, taking into consideration the great convenience of having a building substantially adjoining the present City Hall." The report also states that it is the understanding of the committee that this property could be purchased on a rental basis plan of $36,000 per year for a period of fifteen years, totalling $540,000, plus a low rate of interest, the property to be deeded to the city outright.

The report does not specifically recommend that the Young's Hotel property be purchased, and it is simply referred to the Mayor "for such action as he may deem advisable."

In reference to this matter of obtaining larger quarters and some relief from conditions as they exist, I beg to say that the plan of purchasing Young's Hotel, on the terms suggested by the committee, has been before me for a long period of time. The proposal is not new.

Undoubtedly we do need a new City Hall which would be modern in every respect, affording ample room for all city departments and for reasonable expansion and, in my opinion, preferably erected upon the site of the present building. But the city cannot afford to build a new City Hall at the present time and it was rejected as a Federal project because the Washington authorities thought that it could not be completed within the time allotted by them.

Not Proper Solution.

But I am not at all certain that the next best thing is to purchase the old Young's Hotel property. The present City Hall is cramped, gloomy, antiquated and in a very dangerous condition, a description which would apply equally as well to the Young's Hotel building and I doubt if the proper solution of our problem would be to add another group of obsolete buildings to our present City Hall. But if that were the proper solution I doubt very much if the Young's Hotel property would be a bargain under the financial plan mentioned in your committee's report. That the buildings are close to the present City Hall and Annex is about the only consideration that makes the project at all feasible or attractive and there are many reasons why the project is not feasible at this time. Thus, in order to purchase this property, as suggested by your committee, it would be necessary to raise about $165,000 by taxes because of the law which requires that an amount equivalent to 10 cents on every one thousand dollars of assessed valuation of the city of the previous year be raised by taxation. The balance of $375,000 would have to be borrowed and that would add to the bonded debt of the city. The cost of repairs and alterations, connecting the Annex with the Young's Hotel building by a tunnel and an arch and all of the extras not now foreseen but which seem inevitably to accompany every city contract, would amount to a substantial sum.

In addition to this, the city now has a tax title to the Young's Hotel property dating from August, 1934, which will become absolutely vested in the city in August, 1936. The amount owed to the city for taxes, interest and costs by the owners of this property is now about $105,000, about which nothing is said in the recommendation of your committee. Nor is anything said about current taxes while the fifteen-year period is running.

If the owners were to accept from the city $36,000 per year for rent and pay back to the city each year the current taxes at the present assessed values the difference would be $96,000, which would be the net return to the owners during that period of time; and as pointed out above that would be wiped out entirely if the amount owed now on back taxes were to be deducted from the purchase price. But the owners do not propose to pay the taxes during the fifteen-year term. And it is their plan to have the city assume the taxes during that period. Thus we would be paying $36,000 a year rent plus the loss of $29,600 in taxes each year, or a total of about $65,600 per year, plus bond interest.

And finally, if the property were purchased and all the alterations made, instead of having a City Hall we would have a grotesque crazy-quilt patchwork of a municipal building in which the average Boston citizen would probably find it easy to get lost.

I am aware of the argument about the saving of money now paid for rent, but when the whole situation is analyzed as I have attempted to do above, I think your Honorable Body will agree with me that the purchase of this property under this financial plan at the present time, when we need to practice at least reasonable economy, is not feasible or practicable.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

BOSTON AIRPORT ONE OF BUSIEST OF AMERICAN AIR TERMINALS — FORESIGHT OF MAYOR MANSFIELD IN CLOSING NEGOTIATIONS RECENTLY WITH THE WAR DEPARTMENT FOR FIFTY-YEAR LEASE OF GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, ADDING 72 ACRES TO PRESENT PORT AREA, GIVES BOSTON COMMANDING POSITION AMONG NATION'S AVIATION CENTERS — CITY, WITH NEW ENGLAND AS RADIAL NUCLEUS, IN POSITION TO COMPETE WITH THE LARGEST MUNICIPALITIES, EVEN IN TRANSATLANTIC AIR SERVICE.

Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield's foresight in rapidly closing negotiations recently with the War Department for a fifty-year lease on Governor's Island, adding seventy-two acres to the present Airport facilities, clearly places Boston's air terminus in a commanding position among the nation's leading aviation centers.

Unquestionably the nucleus of New England aviation at the present time, Boston Airport, with the acquisition of Governor's Island, now stands firmly in place to challenge the leading cities of the United States for supremacy as a port-of-entry for all types of airline traffic, including the soon-to-be-inaugurated Transatlantic Air Service.

Some months ago, at the direction of Mayor Mansfield, Commissioner William P. Long, chairman of the Boston Park Department, began the engineering work necessary to petition the Federal Government for funds needed to make Boston the American terminus of an oceanic air service and its airport the finest in the world.

The resulting addition of Governor's Island, culminated by Mayor Mansfield after years of effort by him and his predecessors, and the drawing up of extensive plans by Park Department engineers under supervision of Commissioner Long, now makes a reality out of a dream of national dominance of the nation's air traffic by Boston Airport.

WILL DOUBLE SIZE.

The proposed new airport will be twice the size of the present great area, and about twelve times the size of the little cinder landing field those pioneers laid out on the East Boston mud so many years ago.

It appeared rather fanciful, perhaps, when seven years ago the architect caused to be painted in the main waiting room at Boston Airport a large mural depicting the Boston terminus as the center of aviation in the United States. But recent developments have indicated that this may soon be a prophecy fulfilled.

During the past winter, various airlines, struggling for supremacy in the United States, have announced increased schedules to the Boston Airport and other airlines are now endeavoring to obtain in Washington the necessary Federal permission to make their terminal at Boston instead of New York.

A close study of the situation also indicates the strong possibility of Boston becoming a terminal for the Transatlantic Air Service. It is becoming increasingly evident that the foresight of Mayor Mansfield and the municipality in developing this splendid airport has been, and will be, well justified.

The Boston Airport was one of the first, if not the first, landing areas for airplanes to be called an airport instead of a flying field. While it is not leading with respect to airline traffic as compared to New York, Chicago and Cleveland, it makes up for this in other respects, particularly in having a large amount of miscellaneous traffic.

OPERATING BASE FOR LINES.

It is the operating base for the American Airlines, National Airways, United States Army Air Corps, Massachusetts National Guard and several other commercial companies which engage in aerial taxi work, photographic work, student flying, repair work, sales and service. In addition to these it is used frequently by the United States Navy and Coast Guard.

It is the only airport on the Atlantic Coast where combined land and sea-plane facilities are available in proximity to one another.

It has been no easy task to provide these facilities, and continuous construction work during the past seven years has been required in order to keep abreast of the fast-growing aerial industry.

Millions of cubic yards of material have been dredged from Boston Harbor, and hauled from nearby sites, in order to provide necessary landing areas and anchorages for seaplanes.

The average visitor to Boston Airport sees only the surface of the airport and the airplanes in flight. But, in order to make possible the safe flight of airplanes in all kinds of weather and during the hours of darkness, it has been necessary to install thousands of feet of drainage, many miles of wire and conduit for lighting purposes, teletype machines and telephone lines for communication, and radio beams and aerial beacons for the navigation of aircraft.

USE OF FEDERAL FUNDS.

During the past winter, construction work has been going on under a $500,000 grant from Federal funds, this being of necessity supplemented in part by City of Boston funds. Despite the severe winter, twenty additional acres have been developed and made available for use.

Fifteen hundred feet of drains have been installed and a flood-lighting system, which makes Boston Airport the best lighted air terminus in the world, is now nearing completion.

Floodlights are provided at three different points on the field, lighting the landing area to daylight brilliance and operated so as to prevent glare, one of the most dangerous handicaps to pilots landing with lights. Work under this particular program, it is anticipated, will be concluded within the next four months.

When the plans for the utilization of the Governor's Island addition are executed, the Boston Airport will be the largest and best of its type in the world. Another added feature to the Boston terminus is its easy accessibility to the heart of the City of Boston, through the Sumner Tunnel, making it, in fact, the most readily accessible airport anywhere to be found.

PAST YEAR VERY BUSY ONE.

Present developments indicate that aviation is fast becoming one of the most dependable means of transportation. Aids to navigation, inventions and improvements to aircraft make it certain within the next two years that aircraft will be able to operate on 100 per cent schedule, regardless of fog, the bane of all pilots, and other weather conditions.

In order to make this possible, Park Department engineering plans are now under way for future construction and development of a blind landing runway more than a mile and a half in length and with exceptionally clear approaches, to be used during conditions of low visibility.

This blind runway for landing will be augmented by the latest radio beam and compass devices, together with especially constructed lights permitting airplanes to approach the ground and land when heavy fog envelops the Airport.

The past year has been a very busy one in many respects at Boston Airport. The number of passengers carried per month by transport lines has steadily increased, having more than doubled over the year 1934. Much miscellaneous and emergency use has been made of the Airport.

During the winter, food supplies were flown to the Island of Nantucket, rescues by airplane were effected in many instances, and during the recent flood nearly every airplane in New England was pressed into service at the Airport.

Food, medical supplies, emergency repair parts, clothing and other necessities of life were taken by air to the stricken areas all over New England. In the case of many people marooned in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, the airplane was several weeks the only means of transportation, and Boston Airport their source of supply.

A review of the pages of history clearly shows that out of every depression some new industry or development has led the way. The most astute minds of the nation have expressed the opinion that the aviation industry is destined to be a major factor in recovery from the present depression and that it will take an important place in our national life.

Boston, with its multitudinous port facilities and its splendid and far-reaching airport, is, most certainly, in an enviable position to lead the way.

BOSTON'S DEBT AND SINKING FUNDS REQUIRE $11,310,730 FOR 1936, MAYOR MANSFIELD IS INFORMED BY CITY AUDITOR CHARLES J. FOX—TO BE INCLUDED IN TAX LEVY—COST OF SCHOOL SERVICE ITEMIZED SEPARATELY FOR FIRST TIME IN CITY'S HISTORY TO SHOW ACTUAL DEMANDS OF THAT DEPARTMENT.

On May 26 Mayor Mansfield received the following letter from City Auditor Charles J. Fox:

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Acting under the provisions of section 16, chapter 44, of the General Laws, as recently amended by section 10, chapter 224, of the Acts of 1936, I have notified the Board of Assessors that it will be necessary to meet the debt and sinking fund requirements of the current year to include in the tax levy appropriations totaling $11,310,730.29. The attached summary indicates the manner in which this amount has been determined. You will note from this summary that the amount of debt falling due during 1936, together with sinking fund requirements, totals $13,368,241.97. To meet this total it is estimated the city will have available through betterment collections, revenues of self-supporting departments and other credits the amount of $2,057,511.68. The amount to be raised by taxation represents the difference between these two totals or amounts.

The amount to be included in the tax levy represents a reduction of $99,873.36 from similar appropriations in 1935. This reduction has been secured largely by utilizing for debt redemption purposes unexpended balances of grant payments received from the Federal Government on projects included in the first P. W. A. program of the city. Since these projects are now finished, the unexpended balances remaining may, in accordance with the votes of approval of the Emergency Finance Board, be utilized for the reduction of debt issued by the city to meet its share of project costs.

In past years it has been the custom to include debt requirements for school purposes under the heading of "City Debt Requirements." Feeling that it is desirable that the financial records of the city should clearly indicate the cost of this particular service I have separated, for the first time in the city's financial history, school debt requirements from the amounts required for other city purposes.

Respectfully,

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

MAYOR MANSFIELD SEEKS REDUCTION IN FIRE INSURANCE RATES FOR BOSTON POLICY HOLDERS—BASES EFFORTS ON FACT THAT CITY'S FIRE LOSSES HAVE BEEN STEADILY REDUCED DURING PAST FIVE YEARS, DUE TO EFFICIENT WORK OF FIRE DEPARTMENT, AND FEELS THAT BENEFITS SHOULD RESULT FOR THOSE WHO CARRY THE BURDEN.

Impressed by the substantial reduction of fire losses in Boston over a period of five years, Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield called a conference with the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters for Monday, May 25, at 10.30 a. m., with a view to securing, if possible, a reduction of fire insurance rates.

A report from Fire Commissioner Edward F. McLaughlin, indicating a reduction of fire losses in Boston from $5,151,541 in 1930 to $2,033,107 for 1935, led the Mayor to say that "apparently the insurance companies are not giving the policy holders the benefits which the low fire losses would warrant." Therefore, the Mayor indorses the Fire Commissioner's view that "now is the fitting time to make a study of the fire insurance rates in Boston, to the end that some of the benefits of this tremendous saving in fire costs and losses would revert to the policy holders who pay the premiums upon which the fire insurance companies exist for profit."

The fire losses in Boston covering a period of the last five years, as reported by Fire Commissioner McLaughlin, are as follows:

1930.....	$5,151,541
1931.....	4,113,410
1932.....	4,240,168
1933.....	2,359,806
1934.....	2,332,280
1935.....	2,033,107

"From these figures it would seem," said the Mayor, "that the fire insurance companies could have made some interesting reductions in their rates, for the fire loss of the past three years has been but approximately 40 per cent of the fire loss of 1930. However, I am not prejudging the case until I have the opportunity to confer with the underwriters."

Commenting on the figures, Fire Commissioner McLaughlin said that, to his mind, "the credit for the reduction in fire losses, if credit is due, belongs to the fire-fighting force and the various other divisions within the department, such as the fire prevention and maintenance divisions." In that opinion the Mayor concurs, especially in view of the fact that, due to the extreme need of economy, the Fire Department's personnel is lacking 120 men.

"It has been said that we would get a reduction in rates if and when the Fire Department was completely motorized," Commissioner McLaughlin said. "This complete motorization took place years ago without any resultant effect on the costs of fire insurance. Again, the city authorities were led to believe that upon the establishment and completion of the high pressure system, the benefits of that system would accrue in the reduction of the fire insurance rates.

"Some years ago, namely in 1927 and 1928, it was reported that the insurance organizations stated that if the fire losses of 1927-1928 were maintained for a period of three years, including those years, serious consideration would be given to a reduction in rates. To my knowledge nothing has ever been done toward this reduction, regardless of the foregoing statements.

"It is interesting to note that the lowest cost in fire losses of that period, namely, 1927, is approximately 45 per cent higher than the loss of 1935. However, speaking mainly of the losses of the past five years, from 1930 to 1935, inclusive, and particularly of the maintenance of a very low fire loss in the last three years, it does seem that very serious consideration should be given to the reduction of insurance rates.

"It will be maintained, of course, that overhead charges are such that the companies do not profit sufficiently from the rates they receive in the way of premiums. Surely, if they could operate at the rate prevailing today and make money in 1930 with a five million dollar loss, then today, with a saving of some three million dollars, or 60 per cent, in fire losses, their financial condition must be greatly enhanced. Beyond this, however, is the money they make from investment funds."

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 30.

I. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement is hereby announced to take effect at 8 a. m., Monday, June 1, 1936:

John J. M. Breslin of Engine Company 45.

Hoseman Breslin was appointed to the Fire Department on February 1, 1924. He leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

II. BOARD OF MERIT.

The Board of Merit of the Boston Fire Department, consisting of the Chief of Department and deputy chiefs, has considered all meritorious acts referred to it for the year 1935. After careful consideration and study the Board submitted the following recommendations, which are hereby approved by the Fire Commissioner:

Case of District Chief James F. Sheehan of District 4 et al., at fire, Box 4123, three alarms, 11.37 a. m., September 24, 1935, Building 34, Navy Yard, Charlestown.

During the progress of the fire in the cellar of the building the smoke and heat became so intense that the members of Rescue Company 3, who were operating a water line, were forced to retreat. Although the members were equipped with gas masks, conditions became so severe that they were unbearable. It was soon discovered that two members of this company, namely, Hoseman Hugh W. Lynch and Hoseman Robert E. Keane (detailed to Rescue 3 from Engine 31), were missing.

The following-named members, District Chief Michael J. Aylward, District 2; Aide to Deputy Chief Daniel J. Denehy, Ladder 8; Laddermen John J. Brown, William F. Linehan, John C. Murphy, William A. Moore and Mark A. Skiffington, of Ladder Company 24, entered section of cellar and located Hoseman Hugh W. Lynch of Rescue Company 3, who had been overcome and partly stunned by the hot air explosion that occurred. The search for and removal of Hoseman Lynch was accomplished under severe smoke and heat conditions.

After Hoseman Lynch had been removed to street, District Chief James F. Sheehan of District 4, equipped with a gas mask, entered fire section and followed along line of hose searching for Hoseman Robert E. Keane, whom he found unconscious on the cellar floor. Crawling on his hands and knees, District Chief Sheehan succeeded in dragging Hoseman Keane some fifteen feet, when he was assisted by District Chief Michael J. Aylward of District 2, Aide to Deputy Chief Daniel J. Denehy of Ladder 8, and Ladderman William F. Linehan of Ladder 24, in removing Hoseman Keane from cellar to the street, these members having again entered the cellar shortly after District Chief Sheehan. All these members were equipped with gas masks, as it was humanly impossible at this time for anyone to exist in this section of cellar unless so equipped. The rescue of Hoseman Keane was performed under extremely hazardous conditions, due to the exceptional heat and smoke, and except for the prompt and efficient action of these men it is doubtful if Hoseman Keane's life could have been saved.

In addition to being overcome, Hosemen Lynch and Keane were severely burned about ears and hands. They received emergency treatment at the Naval Dispensary and were later removed to the hospital.

After a thorough review of the rescue work at this fire, and because of the heroic and valuable services performed by the members of the department hereinbefore mentioned, the Board respectfully submits the following recommendations:

1. That the name of District Chief James F. Sheehan be placed on the Roll of Merit of the department.

2. That the following-named members be awarded a Special Commendation, District Chief Michael J. Aylward, District 2; Aide to Deputy Chief Daniel J. Denehy, Ladder 8, Ladderman William F. Linehan, Ladder 24.

3. That the following-named members be awarded a High Commendation, Laddermen John J. Brown, John C. Murphy, William A. Moore and Mark A. Skiffington of Ladder Company 24.

After carefully reviewing the following case, the Board is of the opinion that the members concerned have already received sufficient recognition for the services performed, and has no further recommendations to make regarding same:

Lieut. George R. Hennessy, Hosemen Thomas A. Kelley, Herbert C. Collins and John A. Powers, all of Engine Company 17, 2.24 a. m., July 9, 1935. See General Orders No. 34, 1935, wherein all were commended highly.

III. CHANGE OF STREET NAMES.

Notice has been received of changes in the names of the following streets:

Grant street, Hyde Park, from Hyde Park avenue to Neponset River Reservation; changed to Grantley street.

Lakeville place, Jamaica Plain, from Centre street to Beaufort road; changed to Lakeville road.

IV. CHANGE OF BOX LOCATION.

Because of change of street name the following change should be made on assignment cards for Box 2433:

Centre street and Lakeville place to Centre street and Lakeville road.

V. CHANGE OF ADDRESS.

The attention of the department is again called to the rule requiring that prompt notice of change of address be forwarded to the Fire Commissioner on Form 5. Each year the Fire Commissioner must report, with other information, the name and address of each employee on the pay roll as of June 1. Any member who has changed his address recently and has not forwarded the information to Headquarters, or who expects to move on or before June 1, 1936, should report the matter immediately on Form 5.

VI. COMMENDATIONS.

At about 10 a. m., May 21, 1936, while operating a department car on Dorchester avenue, in the rear of the South Station, en route to Headquarters, Capt. John J. Crehan, Department Drill Master, noticed a crowd of people looking into Fort Point Channel. Upon inquiring, Captain Crehan was told that a man was drowning in the channel. Without hesitation he removed his hat and coat, slid part way down a rope which was attached to the railing on the sea wall, dove into the water and swam to a point about 30 feet away from the wall where the top of the drowning man's head could be seen just above the water. Captain Crehan secured a hold on the victim, and after some difficulty, caused by the man's struggles, he swam with him to the sea wall. He attempted to secure a hold on the wall, but was unable to do so because of its smoothness. He then grasped the rope which was attached to the railing above and was tying it about the victim, when some over-anxious person on the wall pulled it from his grasp, dropping both of them back into the water. After being in the water for about ten minutes a boat manned by drawtenders from the Summer Street Bridge arrived and Captain Crehan and the rescued man were assisted into the boat by the drawtenders.

Because of the great hazard to which Captain Crehan exposed himself and because of the great credit he reflected upon the department in saving the drowning man the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly and refer this rescue to the Board of Merit for consideration. Captain Crehan is also granted one week additional vacation.

Timothy J. Cadigan, John A. Fraser and Donald A. McGillivray of the Fire Alarm Division are hereby commended for holding a fire in check at 142 Welles avenue, May 22, 1936, until the arrival of the apparatus.

By order of Fire Commissioner EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN.

HENRY A. FOX,
Chief of Department.

MAYOR MANSFIELD SHARES IN MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES
IN EAST BOSTON.

All the veteran organizations in Boston are making extensive plans to commemorate the observance of Memorial Day in a proper manner. As has been the custom for years the City of Boston assists the various veteran units in helping them in part of the expenses of Memorial Day in the decoration of veterans' graves. The total expense to the city will be approximately $6,800. This is the same amount that has been allowed for the past two years.

His Honor the Mayor plans to accompany the Major P. J. Grady Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, when they decorate the graves of the deceased members of the camp. Mayor Mansfield is a member of this camp. The Mayor's schedule also calls for addresses at 11 a. m. on Memorial Day morning at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument on Boston Common and in the afternoon at the quarters of the Major M. J. O'Connor Camp, U. S. W. V., in South Boston. The exercises at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument will be under the auspices of the Kearsarge Association of Naval Veterans, of which Mayor Mansfield is a member.

REPORT ON PROPERTY OF NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 13, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of May 4, 1936, concerning a report as to how many manholes, terminals, conduits and other appurtenances in use by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company underground are now located in or under Boston streets.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 11, 1936.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of May 7, with attached City Council order dated May 4, 1936, and reading as follows: "Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to file a report with the City Council as to how many manholes, terminals, conduits and other appurtenances in use by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company underground are now located in or under Boston streets and the location, with the surface area, of each so far as same may be known to the Public Works Department."

and to state that the Public Works Department has no complete set of records or plans from which the information desired can be obtained. While it is a fact that permits are issued by the Public Works Department to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company for construction work, old records going back forty years, to 1896, at which date the underground construction was started by the Telephone Company, are not now available.

The procedure to obtain this information will be to have a survey made of every manhole location in Boston and to obtain from the Telephone Company the size of conduits on which manholes are built. It would take at least six months to obtain the correct data and information desired.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

OUT-PATIENT AND RELIEF SERVICE AT RIVER STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 16, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the trustees of the Boston City Hospital relative to your order of April 27, 1936, requesting that out-patient and relief station hospital service be provided at the hospital buildings located on River street.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, May 8, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—At a meeting of the Board of Trustees held today, an order of the City Council was presented whereby the trustees are requested to provide for out-patient and relief station hospital service at the hospital buildings located on River street.

The trustees do not believe it advisable to attempt to do this type of work at the Sanatorium Division, inasmuch as that department was established for the treatment of tuberculosis, and, in addition to this objection, they have no money available for any increased activities at Mattapan.

Yours sincerely,
JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President, Board of Trustees.

EXTENSION OF TAX TITLE SALES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 16, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the City Collector relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning the granting of a reasonable extension beyond May 26 and 27 for the proposed tax title sale of Boston property on which 1934 taxes remain unpaid.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Collecting Department, May 15, 1936.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Reference is made to a request by the City Council that the collector be asked to permit a reasonable extension beyond May 26 for the proposed sale of delinquent 1934 taxes.

On account of the statute of limitations, the period during which the city must act in order to obtain a lien will soon expire, and no further extension can be had. Sufficient time must be allowed to hold a second sale should any irregularities occur in the first.

The advertisements appeared in the Boston City Record on May 9, involving an expenditure of approximately $15,000. A postponement of the sale may be made from time to time but not exceeding seven days in all. The only thing I fear might be said about the City of Boston regarding its tax sale is that it is entirely too lenient. Every other city and town in the State of Massachusetts had its tax sale for 1934 some time ago.

A tax sale does not mean additional hardship to the taxpayer, because of the fact that the city requires a 50 per cent deposit at the time of the sale, thereby eliminating the so-called "tax title sharks." As a general rule, the city bids in the properties.

The taxpayer has at least two years from the date of the sale to redeem his property and can do this by making installment payments of 25 per cent of the amount due. Consequently, there is nothing affecting the entire matter that would in any way warrant a postponement of the sale.

Yours very truly,
JOHN F. DOHERTY,
City Collector.

PAVING OF SOUTH HUNTINGTON AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of May 4, 1936, concerning the resurfacing with smooth paving of South Huntington avenue in Wards 10 and 19.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 15, 1936.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,
Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of May 7 with attached order of City Council dated May 4, and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving South Huntington avenue, Wards 10 and 19."

and to state that South Huntington avenue, from Floydell street to Centre street, has a length of 2,800 linear feet, roadway width of 46 feet and a sidewalk width on either side of 12 feet. To construct an asphalt pavement on a concrete base with artificial stone sidewalks will cost $45,000 and at the present time there is no money available for this construction.

Resurfacing of the roadway between the curb and the Elevated Railway tracks has been approved as a W. P. A. project and work will start on this construction in the near future. The setting of an artificial stone sidewalk in place of the present gravel sidewalk cannot be considered until such time as an appropriation for artificial stone sidewalks is approved.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving Jacob street, Ward 14."

and to state that Jacob street, from Jones avenue to Ballou avenue, is a private way and before any work can be done on this private way by the Public Works Department said way must be made a public street by the Board of Street Commissioners and then an order by said Board for construction will be followed.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of April 27, 1936, concerning "what financial adjustments, if any, have been made incident to the ashes and garbage contract in the Dorchester district following failure by the contractor to comply with contract agreements that barrels and receptacles be returned to the easily-accessible location from which they have been removed."

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

and to state that no financial adjustment has been made to date under the Dorchester district contract for the removing and collecting of garbage and refuse relative to the failure of the contractor to return ash barrels. The matter is under consideration to determine the amount to be retained for non-compliance during the first three months of 1936.

OPENING OF ROGER WOLCOTT SCHOOL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 15, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Boston School Committee relative to your order of May 4, 1936, concerning the advisability of opening the Roger Wolcott School, located at Norfolk and Morton streets, Dorchester, as a school center.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
School Committee, May 13, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—The School Committee in conference last evening received the order passed in City Council, May 4, 1936, requesting the School Committee, through your Honor, to consider the advisability of opening the Roger Wolcott School, Norfolk and Morton streets, Dorchester, as a school center.

The School Committee respectfully reports that it is unlikely that it will be possible to open any additional centers this year on account of the financial situation, although there are petitions on file from several sections of the city. The committee has been obliged during the last two or three years to curtail the regular center activities in order to keep within the Department of Extended Use appropriation. Increase in the number of centers is therefore not probable at this time.

Respectfully submitted,
ELLEN M. CRONIN, Secretary.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

and to state that permits are not issued to or any arrangements made with the owners of property used as rubbish dumps for the use of water directly from a public hydrant on a public street. Permits are issued for street construction and said permits are to be shown to police officers on the route or to any Public Works Department official on demand. Violation of section 83, chapter 39, of the Revised Ordinances of 1929, together with the penalty imposed by section 111 of the same chapter, covers the illegal use of hydrants.

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Board of Park Commissioners requesting the transfer of the sum of $85,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund to the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

I submit herewith an appropriation order and respectfully recommend its immediate passage by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, May 11, 1936.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $85,000, which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Park Commissioners as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $85,000

When making up the budget estimates for the year 1936 a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1936, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Park Department.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM F. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $85,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $85,000

VETO OF FEMALE PROBATION OFFICER, EAST BOSTON COURT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 12, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I return herewith disapproved and without my signature an order adopted by your Honorable Body April 27, 1936, in which the salary of a female probation officer of the East Boston District Court, at the rate of eighteen hundred dollars per year, as fixed by the Justice of said Court, is approved.

If a good case could be made out for the appointment of a female probation officer in the East Boston District Court I would not veto this order. But such a case cannot be made out. The East Boston Court was originally established in 1874 and has functioned efficiently from that time until the present day without the aid of a female probation officer. The business of the court has increased as the population increased but the criminal cases passing through this court in the last few years have diminished greatly. This shrinkage in criminal business in the last five years is shown in the following table:

1930.....	7,285 cases.
1931.....	6,849 cases.
1932.....	6,503 cases.
1933.....	4,991 cases.
1934.....	4,391 cases.
1935.....	4,110 cases.

This falling off from 1930 to 1935 is about 44 per cent and while it is not conclusive proof that there is no necessity for a female probation officer yet it shows plainly enough that if the court could get along without such an officer in 1930 with over 7,000 cases it can surely get along now when the 1935 record was only a little over 4,000 cases.

Much more significant, however, is the data on probation cases in the East Boston Court. Since 1926 the figures are as follows:

	Female Probation Cases.	Female Juvenile Probation Cases.
1926.....	55	4
1927.....	73	—
1928.....	55	3
1929.....	161	7

Thus it will be seen that the peak year was 1929 when there were 161 female probation cases and 7 female juvenile probation cases. But the female probation business has diminished with fluctuating figures so that in 1935 the total was 24 female probation cases and 10 female juvenile probation cases. This is less than one female adult probation case every two weeks and only one juvenile female probation case in every five weeks.

A probation officer has only two duties to perform: Investigation of cases that are to be disposed of by the court so that the judge may know all about the defendant, and the surrounding circumstances, and the supervision of the cases that are placed on probation by the court. It is perfectly obvious that these two duties may be discharged by the present probation officer and that there is no particular reason for the appointment of a female probation officer. If there were a very large number of women or juvenile females the appointment of such an officer might be justified but under conditions as they exist in this particular court I am not satisfied that one is needed at the present time. Because of the necessity to practise economy in the various city departments I feel that this matter should be deferred until the business of the court shows that such an officer is necessary and until a more propitious time. In addition to this, I beg to state that no provision has been made in the budget for this particular position.

At the present time the probation work in the East Boston Court is being efficiently performed by a regular probation officer for adults and a special probation officer for all juvenile cases and for all minors excepting neglected children.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORTS.

The following were received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, May 14, 1936.
To the Honorable the City Council.

Sirs,—The Finance Commission is gradually learning, through disclosures by the daily newspapers, of some of the details of the budget which Mayor Mansfield has submitted to the City Council. The Budget Commissioner, presumably with the Mayor's approval, refused to give a copy of the budget to the Finance Commission on the pretext that it was not ready. Later he rushed it before the City Council when there was not more than ten days within which it could be scrutinized. The commission has learned that other civic agencies which desired to examine the detail were likewise denied access to it. This has never happened in any previous administration since the segregated budget was adopted in 1916.

The reasons for this secret handling of this important executive document are becoming apparent by the daily newspaper disclosures. Last week the chairman of the Park Board made public protest against a new use by the Budget Commissioner of the income of the Cemetery Funds. This week the Bureau of Municipal Research revealed in a statement to the newspapers that the major portion of the claimed reduction in the budget is not in fact a reduction at all. It is merely a postponement of providing adequate funds for the Welfare Department until after the tax rate is declared. Then it will be necessary to borrow the amount of the false reduction.

Now the newspapers reveal that the Mayor has made provision for ten more city constables. Last year he added twenty-nine to an already overloaded list of fifty.

The facts in these matters are as follows:

1. The Cemetery Fund.

In 1913 it was decided to allow the annual receipts of the Cemetery Department from the sale of graves and for the perpetual care of graves to accumulate until the income from the fund would be sufficient to pay the annual expenses of the department. When this time would come the taxpayers would be relieved of the necessity of paying taxes for cemetery upkeep. The department would be on a paying basis.

Mayor Curley, during his three administrations, respected this purpose. Mayor Peters respected it during his term of office, and Mayor Nichols did likewise during his term of office.

Now the Budget Commissioner has planned to replace a $40,000 cut in the tax budget of the Cemetery Division with $40,000 taken from the income of the department's trust fund. This not only violates the principle on which three previous mayors have allowed the fund to accumulate, but it misleads the taxpayers into the false belief that the budget has been cut this $40,000.

2. The Reduction of the Allowance for the Welfare Department.

Last year the Welfare Department spent $11,961,000. The amount the Mayor has allotted or the department in the budget this year is $10,203,000, of which $2,000,000 is to be borrowed, according to information disclosed by the Bureau of Municipal Research. The allowance for this year is therefore $1,758,000 less than was spent last year. The decrease in the whole city budget this year, as claimed in a public statement by the Mayor, is $1,786,075. The decrease in the Welfare Department allowance alone is 98.3 per cent of the total decrease in the entire budget the Mayor claimed.

The Bureau of Municipal Research has pointed out that the Mayor's reduction of the Welfare Department's allowance is 14.7 per cent and that reduction of this size is not justified by any present indication of decline in number of cases or costs. There has been no denial of this from either the Welfare Department or the Mayor's office. The Mayor only stated that the Bureau was hurting the city's credit.

When the tax money for welfare purposes is exhausted the city will borrow money to make up the deficit. The city borrowed at the end of last year for such a purpose. Adequate funds for the Welfare Department must be provided. Public policy demands it.

It is apparent now that this large decrease in the budget of the Welfare Department is a false decrease. The taxpayers have been misled by it into the belief that a reduction was made, when, in fact, the reduction is only a temporary device to foot the public.

3. Another Addition to the List of City Constables.

Last year the Mayor added twenty-eight constables to the number of fifty employed in the year before. Department heads examined by the Finance Commission admitted that not more than a half dozen of the original fifty were necessary.

To the 1934 spending rate of approximately $80,000 per year for constables, the Mayor added approximately $45,000 in 1935, over the continued protest of the Finance Commission and of certain members of the City Council. Now the Mayor, in adding ten more constables, increases the amount of the expenditure $15,000 more. The total for constables which was approximately $80,000 in 1934 is now become approximately $140,000.

The commission asked the Mayor last year to explain why it was necessary to add the twenty-eight in 1935. No reply was ever received. The commission now wants to know why the Mayor is adding ten more, as well as what he proposes to do in 1936 with the twenty-nine added in 1935. If a satisfactory answer is not forthcoming the Finance Commission hopes that a ten-taxpayers' petition will be brought to prevent improper expenditure on constables.

Conclusions.

It seems plain to the commission that though many believe that the Mayor has reduced the budget, as a matter of fact an apparent decrease was only accomplished "by juggling the figures." The budget is actually larger in 1936 than in 1935. This will be shown when the amount the city will be compelled to raise for welfare purposes later is added to the amount allotted at present. The violation of the long-standing policy with respect to Cemetery Funds is an added increase. The extra amount for constables is another added increase.

The Municipal Research Bureau points out that the net result for departments outside the Welfare Department is a budget increase of approximately $100,000.

If the Mayor was compelled to include in the tax budget all the money he knows must be appropriated for the Welfare Department, there would be no apparent decrease to offset this $110,000 increase.

The Finance Commission agrees with the Bureau of Municipal Research that the city is likely to have a tax rate of $42 in 1936. The only thing that will prevent it is the continued "juggling of the figures" by the Mayor and the Budget Commissioner. That only means postponing the day when the city cannot finance a budget. The commission does not believe that employees should go without pay when it is due. Competent experts, however, should be given more time than ten days to study the figures. There may be more violations of hitherto "sacred" policies. There may be more hiding of new positions. There may be more reservations to borrow to make expenditures meet expected authorized appropriations.

A lot has been heard of the evils of the School Committee's expenditures. Not enough has been heard of the Mayor's budget and how he proposes to finance it. The Mayor has thought to shut off one possibility of criticism by keeping his figures secret. He has courted favorable opinion by false claims of economy. He cannot escape criticism for his refusal to allow any of the agencies that usually study and report upon the budget to see the figures in it.

He has stated the Finance Commission is unfair because it does the work required of it by the statutes. He has stated that the Bureau of Municipal Research is unfair because the Bureau points out some discrepancies in his claims. There are still a few other agencies that annually examine the budget, like the local improvement associations, the Chamber of Commerce, the Boston Real Estate Exchange, the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange and the various taxpayer associations. It is proper and timely to ask if the Mayor considers all these agencies unfair. They have all been denied facts they are entitled to know.

The Finance Commission, therefore, recommends to you that you decline to adopt any but partial appropriations at the present time. The commission has no objection to giving enough money to departments already operating beyond the legal right to carry their activities along temporarily; but final passage of a complete budget should await public approval of it.

A budget which requires an expenditure of approximately $45,000,000 of taxpayers' funds should not be rushed through the City Council in ten days without public opportunity to examine the figures. The hearings by the City Council Committee on Appropriations are merely perfunctory and cannot be expected to bring out all that should be known about an appropriation of such magnitude.

Respectfully submitted,

E. MARK SULLIVAN, Chairman,
PHILIP A. CHAPMAN,
ROBERT ROBINSON,

City of Boston,

Finance Commission, May 15, 1936.

To the Honorable the City Council.

Sirs,—The malicious untruthfulness of Mayor Mansfield's defense of his budget and of his characterizations of the activities of the Finance Commission has only served as a spur to the commission's determination to direct public attention to the false claims of economy of Mayor Mansfield before the City Council has finished with his budget. It is deplorable that any one gives comfort to the Mayor when he attributes the reports of the Finance Commission on a $45,000,000 use of the taxpayers' money to a desire by the Finance Commission to stop the so-called Dolan case. That charge by the Mayor is a deliberate falsehood, and the Mayor insults the intelligence of the people when he makes it. By actual count, the Mayor has used the same reply thirteen times in the past year when the Finance Commission has revealed instances of maladministration by him and his subordinates in office.

The perfidy of such a charge is illustrated by the news dispatches of the past few days. The date of trial of the Dolan case has been fixed by the court. Previously Dolan had said that the Mayor could not stop trial if he would. The trial is before a single justice, an honorable member of the Superior Court. Does the Mayor want the public to believe that Judge Walsh or Judge Gray can be influenced in deciding the merits of the Dolan case by a report the Finance Commission makes on the $45,000,000 budget of the City of Boston?

The Bureau of Municipal Research consists principally of A. Lawrence Lowell, president emeritus of Harvard, Bentley Warren, partner of Alexander Whiteside, Henry Shattuck, City Councilor and treasurer of Harvard, Charles M. Storey and Alexander Wheeler, former members of the Finance Commission, Judge Michael H. Sullivan and other well-known public men. The supporters of the Bureau are for the most part the same people who supported the now defunct Good Government Association, which originally sponsored Mansfield's candidacy for Mayor. Are all these people trying to stop the Dolan case? They have raised the same objections as has the Finance Commission to the budget rushed into the City Council at the eleventh hour by Mayor Mansfield.

Mayor Mansfield in his inaugural advocated early adoption of a budget. When chided in other years of his administration with his failure to live up to his preaching he hid behind the excuse that the Legislature delayed in giving him a limit. This year the limit was removed. The act was signed on April 18, but it was commonly accepted for weeks previously that the limit would be removed. There is no excuse for the Mayor's failure to have his budget ready for the City Council the moment the act was officially signed. Yet it was not until May 4 that he gave a summary of it to the public and the City Council. On May 4 the city departments were well into five months' financial obligations. It was only yesterday, May 14, that complete detailed copies of the budget were available to any but himself and the Budget Commissioner.

The Finance Commission charges that Mayor Mansfield deliberately withheld the budget until such time as he could use the threat on the City Council that "You must pass this budget immediately or I will have to shut down the city departments."

Mayor Mansfield deliberately intended to create a false impression when he quoted the Budget Commissioner to the effect that the Finance Commission never asked for "the final figures." A Finance Commission investigator called on Budget Commissioner Murray for them on March 3. Murray again denied them, but promised to give them as soon as they were "ready." The Budget Commissioner has not given them to the Finance Commission yet.

On May 8, after the hearings on the budget had started in the City Council, the secretary of the Finance Commission again asked for a complete budget in detail. He was again told it was not ready for distribution. The budget in complete form was placed before the City Councilors only yesterday, May 14. There are no figures officially before them of last year's appropriations or last year's expenditures. This important information has been stricken from the form habitually used to show the City Council how the current request for appropriations compared with past expenditures.

Mayor Mansfield's statement that the Finance Commission showed no interest in the 1935 budget is untrue. The Finance Commission asked the Legislative Committee on Municipal Finance in a report dated April 6, 1935, signed by E. Mark Sullivan, Alexander Wheeler, Jacob J. Kaplan, William Arthur Reilly and Philip A. Chapman, to delay action upon the Mayor's request at that time for an exaggerated tax limit because he did not have his budget ready. Had the legislative committee known at that time that the Mayor was adding twenty-nine constables to the pay roll solely for the purpose of paying political debts it is doubtful if he would have been given the generous rate of expenditures he was allowed in 1935. If the present Legislature, which is very much budget-minded, knew that the Mayor was going to provide more jobs this year to pay more political debts, it is doubtful if he would have obtained abolition of the tax limit so readily.

In 1935 Mayor Mansfield sent to the City Council on May 13 a budget of approximately $57,000,000, covering all city purposes. It was then only in summarized form. No intelligent study can be made of a summary of a budget. There were at that time also several departments which were in immediate need of funds. The Legislature adopted the authorizing legislation May 24. This whole budget was adopted by the City Council on June 3, or within ten days of the date on which the legislative authorization for the budget was signed.

No one, Finance Commission or anybody else, could make intelligent study of it in that length of time. If the Mayor was sincerely desirous of intelligent examination of the budget by the Council and others, he could have done on January 13, or February 13, or March 13, or April 13, or at any time within these dates what he delayed until May 13, 1935, to do. It is likewise true that if Mayor Mansfield was sincere in his desire to have early action upon the budget this year, he might have submitted the estimates of the department heads and tentative allowances earlier than May 4.

The faults the Finance Commission finds in the Mayor's procedure this year are these:

He withheld even the estimates of the department heads from recognized agencies. The City Council was entitled to know what the department heads believed are the requirements of 1936 before May 4 or 14. It was only yesterday that some of these figures were shown to the Committee on Appropriations.

He withheld these figures purposely from the Finance Commission and like recognized research agencies.

He also withheld information of his own decision on these estimates from the Finance Commission and from the recognized research agencies.

This denial was done purposely, while he was making false claims of economy.

The Finance Commission repeats its charge that Mayor Mansfield has "juggled the budget figures" and has thereby misled many people. It is only by this "juggling" of the figures that the tax rate can be kept below the estimate of the Bureau of Municipal Research $42 per $1,000 of valuation.

The Finance Commission repeats that Mayor Mansfield has violated the "sacred principle" involved in the use of the Cemetery Fund that his three predecessors respected. Each of the preceding mayors could have done what he has done yet none of them did it. Mayor Mansfield is deliberately trying to deceive when he compares what Mayor Curley asked the Legislature to do with what Mayor Curley has now done.

The Finance Commission repeats also that Mayor Mansfield's prattling about his own economy is not justified. He has reduced substantially and unwarrantably the appropriation for the Welfare Department. The poor of the city have been his victims before. He is willing to take it out on them again. His reduction of $315,000 for snow removal can be wiped out by a single snowstorm in December at the rate at which his administration pays for snow removal. He has paid for snow removed "at a faster rate than light travels" the Finance Commission has shown. He is now attempting to obtain more money to pay more political debts.

The Finance Commission recommends to you that you decline to be rushed by the Mayor's threats. The most important function intended for your body when the charter amendments were framed was to give you authority to pass upon the budget. The Mayor is trying to usurp your authority when he threatens you with stories of the inability to pay unless you rush his budget without careful analysis of it.

CONSTABLES' BONDS.

The bonds of the following-named constables, having been duly approved by the City Treasurer, were received and approved, viz.:

William A. Amise, Richard Hegarty, Joseph Herman, Michael W. Ober, Frank J. Staula, Francis J. Tobin, Joseph Todisco, Aber Uckerman, Abraham I. Weiss.

SOLDIERS' RELIEF.

Coun. KERRIGAN, for the Committee on Soldiers' Relief, submitted a report recommending passage of order for payment of aid to soldiers and sailors and their families in the City of Boston for the month of May, 1935.

Report accepted; said order passed under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON UNCLAIMED BAGGAGE.

Coun. AGNEW, for the Committee on Unclaimed Baggage, submitted the following:

Report on petition (referred April 27) of the Boston & Maine Railroad to sell unclaimed baggage, recommending passage of accompanying order, viz.:

Ordered, That the Boston & Maine Railroad be authorized to sell at public auction, on or before July 1, 1936, the articles remaining unclaimed in the possession of said railroad in the City of Boston.

Report accepted; order passed under suspension of the rule.

APPEARANCES AT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING.

Coun. MELLEEN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Budget Commissioner, the Auditor and the Corporation Counsel be requested to appear at the executive meeting of the City Council tomorrow relative to the budget.

Coun. MELLEEN—Mr. President, I would like to have the City Messenger instructed to send for these gentlemen.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

LEASE OF EASTERN AVENUE WHARF.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Corporation Counsel to investigate the terms of the lease between the City of Boston and the owners of Eastern Avenue Wharf, with a view to canceling at least that portion of the lease which binds the city to pay rent for said wharf for 999 years.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, while I am not a member of the Appropriations Committee, I am very much interested in the work of the committee, so much so that I have attended every meeting. In the course of the hearings before the committee on the budget I have asked some questions, and this happens to deal with one of them. The head of the Institutions Department told the committee what he paid for rent of this wharf, under the 999-year lease which now exists between the owners and the city. As a matter of fact, if the city were not tied up under this lease it has available other wharf property which it could use. I think a 999-year lease is against public policy, and that it can be broken. I think there is no doubt of that.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON K STREET.

Coun. GEORGE A. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along K street, between Broadway and Third street, Ward 6, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

LIFEGUARDS AT SOUTH BOSTON BEACHES.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange for the appointment of a sufficient number of lifeguards for the adequate protection of bathers using the South Boston beaches during the coming season in an effort to equal last year's record when not a single life was lost by drowning.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EMPLOYMENT OF ALIENS IN W. P. A.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the State W. P. A. Administrator to furnish to the City Council the following information:

1. How many aliens are employed or have been employed on music and drama projects?

2. How many directors, supervisors or persons in authority on such projects are aliens?

3. The total amount of money which has been paid by the W. P. A. to all aliens employed on the music or drama projects.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I have no intention of criticizing the good features of the music and drama projects, but recently I have seen a good deal in the press notifying people of certain performances to be given by the various music and drama project units of the W. P. A., and one of the claims is that one of the alien leaders, for example, has had long experience as a conductor in the Breslau State Opera, Germany, and that therefore the concert promised to be interesting. It may be that, in order to properly conduct these projects, it is necessary to employ a number of aliens, but I think the people of the Commonwealth are entitled to know what the percentage of aliens is, how many employed and how many are employed as directors and supervisors, together with the total amount we have paid since the creation of the W. P. A. project to aliens. We have heard various things about these undertakings, but such information as I have requested in this order has not been furnished. I doubt very much if we will get the information now, but at least we can request it at this time.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, while on this subject I might remark that I was told the other day that, as a result of many of these musical entertainments financed by the Government, a good many persons who have been accustomed to make their living by giving evening entertainments at clubs and other organizations have been put out of business by this competition of W. P. A. projects. Persons financed by the Government, in other words, are directly in competition with persons who have been accustomed to make a living in this way and who now cannot make a living under present conditions.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RELOCATION OF AUTOMATIC TRAFFIC SIGNALS.

Coun. PETER J. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of removing automatic traffic signals from locations in the city proper which are also covered by traffic officers and relocating same at dangerous intersections in the outlying sections of the city where they are most needed.

Coun. PETER J. FITZGERALD—Mr. President, my offering of this order is the result of observations during the past few weeks, for instance, at Summer and Hawley streets and other traffic light spots in the city, where, in the case of perhaps 600 yards, there will be three sets of lights in the place I speak of. For example, there is one at Kingston street, one at Hawley street and one at Summer street. If the traffic lights do not synchronize, traffic coming from Washington street will frequently be delayed considerably and unnecessarily before it reaches the Hawley street green.

The result is a continuous tie-up of traffic along Summer and Washington streets and at the new underpass which results in traffic conditions in certain parts of Boston being in a very hazardous condition. It seems silly to have some of these lights and to have traffic officers at the same points. It is my contention that traffic officers are far superior to lights in the city proper. We all know how the lights work at some of these points and how you frequently get hung up unnecessarily for perhaps a minute and a half because of the lights, and the backing up of traffic brought about in this way leads to great traffic congestion. The result is a vehicular tie-up, with automobiles blowing their horns, and I think you will find that business men along the line are very much against the present situation. In the suburbs, on the contrary, there are many places where people are in constant danger of being run down by automobiles. For example, there is that very bad intersection at the corner of Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue, one of the most dangerous in the whole city, and yet we are unable to get lights there. Downtown, along Commonwealth avenue, you have lights all along, where the only intersections you have are on the right-hand side and most of them public alleys. Along such streets as Washington and Boylston, of course, with continual traffic, the lights are all right, but there are many places in downtown Boston where there are policemen, where the lights may well be removed and placed out in some of our suburban sections, at crossings where there is a menace at the present time to children and older people going over the streets. I feel, therefore, that a number of these lights in certain places downtown might well be removed and placed in the suburbs where they are most needed.

Coun. ROSENBERG—While the subject of traffic lights is before us, I might say that I have an order here that I will soon introduce, asking for traffic lights at the intersection of Talbot avenue, Blue Hill avenue and Harvard street. That is one of the most dangerous intersections anywhere in Boston. It is in the immediate vicinity of the Robert Treat Paine School, where children are continually coming and going, as well as being near Franklin Field. There is at the present time a constant threat to children and their parents, and others. I believe, as Councilor Fitzgerald has said, that it is more important to have traffic lights in some of these suburban sections for the protection of youngsters and the people generally than it is to have them in some parts of the city proper.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INDORSEMENT OF UNITED STATES HOUSING ACT.

Coun. JOHN I. FITZGERALD offered the following:

Resolved, An emergency resolution memorializing the Congress of the United States to enact the United States Housing Act, being S. 4424 by Wagner and H. R. 12164 by Ellenbogen.

Whereas, The availability of decent sanitary and safe housing for all of the people is now recognized as a proper concern of government; and

Whereas, Persons of low income can be housed adequately only by a degree of government aid; and

Whereas, The low income group is of necessity occupying cast-off housing in what are known as our slum and blighted areas; and

Whereas, The continued maintenance of our slums is socially undesirable and an economic waste; and

Whereas, No funds are available to carry on this work without additional appropriations; and

Whereas, It is desirable to preserve the benefits of the emergency housing experiences by providing for a permanent housing agency in the Federal Government; and

Whereas, The building trades are still in need of stimulation in order to bring back a greater degree of employment; and

Whereas, This resolution constitutes an emergency in that the same provides for the immediate preservation of the public property and the usual daily operation of a municipal department; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Council of the City of Boston:

Section 1. That the United States Senate be, and it is hereby, requested to enact at the earliest date possible, "The United States Housing Act of 1936," being Senate Bill No. 4424, introduced by Senator Robert F. Wagner, and that the House of Representatives enact the identical measure introduced in said House by Congressman Henry Ellenbogen of Pennsylvania, and being H. R. 12164.

Section 2. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President and to the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to Senators David I. Walsh and Marcus L. Coolidge and the following representatives:

Allen T. Treadway, William J. Granfield, Joseph E. Casey, Pehr G. Holmes, Edith Nourse Rogers, A. Platt Andrew, William P. Connery, Jr., Arthur D. Healey, Richard M. Russell, George Holden Tinkham, John P. Higgins, John W. McCormack, Richard B. Wigglesworth, Joseph William Martin, Jr., and Charles L. Gifford, of Massachusetts.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS, ROXBURY.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to install traffic signals at intersection of Warren and Waumbek streets and Elm Hill avenue.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 14 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of the Public Works Department, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to install a "White Way" lighting system on Blue Hill avenue, from Stratton street to Morton street, Ward 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, there are many sections of Boston, including the Massachusetts avenue district, Codman square, Uphams Corner and Mattapan square, where they now have the "White Way" lighting system, which helps not only to brighten up section where the lights are, but helps to improve the business section. Therefore, I have introduced this order, asking that a "White Way" lighting system be installed on Blue Hill avenue from Stratton street to Morton street, Ward 14, in order that that section, one of the busiest thoroughfares and one of the finest business sections of any district of Boston, may benefit, and that consideration may be given to business people there.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install automatic traffic signal lights at the intersection of Talbot avenue, Harvard street and Blue Hill avenue, Ward 14.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface with smooth paving Johnston road, Ward 14.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

W. P. A. CONCERTS, FRANKLIN PARK.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of making arrangements for W. P. A. band concerts at Franklin Park at least three afternoons a week during the summer months.
Passed under suspension of the rule.

REVOCATION OF JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. ROBERTS offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel furnish the City Council with an opinion as regards to the following matters, to wit:

1. Has the City Council any authority to revoke a jitney license granted to a transportation company where it appears that said company has consistently violated and is continuing to violate rules and regulations properly adopted by the Boston Traffic Commission and also several sections of chapter 90 of the General Laws and Ordinances of the City of Boston?

2. Assuming that said transportation company, having been granted a jitney license by the City Council, are violating provisions of the General Laws and Ordinances adopted by the City Council and rules properly adopted and promulgated by the Boston Traffic Commission, has the City Council any authority to pass an ordinance providing for the revocation of such license upon proof that said company is, in fact, violating the law?

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, in the Park square section of Boston there are numerous terminals of bus companies. The result is that buses park, double-park and even treble-park there at times, and there is no opportunity for pedestrians or others to get by. In other cities the bus companies are obliged to use an inside terminal, so that they will not use the highways, which our Supreme Court has said are primarily to be used for the ordinary travel and traffic of our citizens. But at Park square there is no inside terminus and the buses all load and discharge on the street. There is no question but what they are violating the rules of the Traffic Commission in so doing and also violating chapter 90 of the General Laws. Whether we have authority over them I don't know. This order calls for an opinion of the Corporation Counsel, to see whether or not we have the right to revoke, under the transportation laws, licenses of companies that are proved to be violating the law.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council, by direction of President FITZGERALD, took a recess, subject to the call of the Chair, at 2.30 p. m. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by Chairman GALLAGHER at 2.58 p. m.

LETTER FROM SENATOR WALSH.

Coun. McGRATH asked unanimous consent to have the following incorporated in the record, in connection with an order recently introduced, and consent was granted:

United States Senate,

April 24, 1936.

John J. McGrath, Councilor, Council Chamber, City Hall, Boston, Mass.

My dear Councilor McGrath,—Thank you for your letter of April 22, letting me have your remarks at a recent meeting of the Boston City Council.

I think you have rendered a public service in calling attention to this matter, and I am asking for a report. Unless some satisfactory explanation can be made there is an appearance of some kind of negligence.

I appreciate your calling my attention to this and hope I can be of assistance.

Sincerely yours,

DAVID I. WALSH.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENTS.

Coun. AGNEW called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointments submitted by the Mayor May 11, 1936, of constables connected with official positions without authority to serve civil process, viz.: Morris Titlebaum, Edward L. Harris, John DeRossa.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I would move that the name of Morris Titlebaum be held over. Here is somebody from my ward, and I think I ought to have something to say about it as a matter of courtesy.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I rise for information, having arrived a little late, but have we received a communication in response to the order offered by Councilor Shattuck with regard to constables?

Chairman GALLAGHER—No, sir.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I move that the name of Morris Titlebaum be laid on the table.

Coun. McGRATH—And I would like to amend that motion, Mr. President, that No. 1 be laid on the table until the receipt of an answer to Councilor Shattuck's order.

Coun. McGRATH's motion was declared lost. Coun. McGRATH doubted the vote and asked for the yeas and nays.

The motion to lay on the table was lost, yeas 5, nays 15.

Yeas—Coun. McGrath, Norton, Roberts, Shattuck, Wilson—5.

Nays—Coun. Agnew, Brackman, Doherty, Finley, Peter J. Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Kerrigan, Kilroy, Mellen, George A. Murray, Peter A. Murray, Rosenberg, Selvittella, Tobin—15.

Coun. ROSENBERG—I now renew my motion, Mr. President, to lay on the table the name of Morris Titlebaum.

Coun. Rosenberg's motion was declared lost.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I ask for a roll call. I think as a matter of courtesy my request should be allowed, but if the members don't feel like doing it, I suppose they will not allow it.

Coun. Rosenberg's motion to lay the name of Morris Titlebaum on the table was lost upon roll call, yeas 7, nays 12.

Yeas—Coun. McGrath, George A. Murray, Norton, Roberts, Rosenberg, Shattuck, Wilson—7.
Nays—Coun. Brackman, Doherty, Finley, Peter J. Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Kerrigan, Kilroy, Mellen, Peter A. Murray, Selvittella, Tobin—12.

The question came on the confirmation of the names in No. 1 on the calendar. Committee, Coun. Finley and Mellen. Whole number of ballots 18, yeas 12, no 6, and the appointments were confirmed.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, I would call up the name of Patrick H. Murphy, under No. 2 on the calendar, and ask that he be confirmed.

The name of Patrick H. Murphy was taken up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, Mr. Murphy being one of the constables authorized to serve civil process upon filing bond, his name being submitted April 13, 1936.

The question came on confirmation of the appointment of Patrick H. Murphy as constable. Committee, Coun. McGrath and Kerrigan. Whole number of ballots 17, yeas 15, no 2, and the appointment was confirmed.

BRIDGE AND FERRY DIVISION EMPLOYEES.

Coun. GEORGE A. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to consider the advisability of restoring to those employees of the Bridge and Ferry Division the time which was taken away from them under the provisions of the new budget, namely, seven days additional vacation.

Coun. GEORGE A. MURRAY—Mr. President, some of the men employed in the Bridge and Ferry Service visited my office the other evening and informed me of this condition, and I thought it advisable at this time to bring the matter in here. This is the situation. Some twenty years ago the head of the Bridge and Ferry Service submitted to the various employees of the city a comprehensive proposition whereby they would work five and one half days a week. At that time they refused to accept it, and they have been working a seven-day week. That proposition has not been resubmitted to them in the past ten or twelve years. In the budget this year they have had taken away from them the seven-day extra vacation period that they otherwise enjoyed. It also involves the fact that temporary employees who had an opportunity to work in the Bridge and Ferry Service during the summer months in the vacation period are to be denied that opportunity. These men work seven days a week at the present time while all other city employees have a five and one half day week. I think, therefore, it is only fair that they should be given an additional week's vacation. This order calls upon Mr. Carven, the Commissioner of Public Works, to insert in his budget a provision that will remedy this condition.

Coun. SELVITELLA—Mr. President, I was going to file a similar order. I wish to subscribe to everything that the previous speaker has said. I think an injustice has been done to these employees. I believe most of the members of the Council have already been approached by the employees of this department in regard to the matter. I think this is a good order and that it should pass.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, the secretary-treasurer of the union appeared before the Committee on Appropriations in regard to this very thing the other day. At the present time there is a committee of four members of the Committee on Appropriations appointed, who will wait upon his Honor the Mayor some time during the early part of this week and bring this matter to his attention. The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF CRESCENT STREET.

Coun. MELLEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to accept and lay out Crescent street, Charlestown, as a public highway.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

BUDGET FOR CHARLESTOWN MUNICIPAL COURT.

Coun. MELLEN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Appropriations Committee be requested not to approve the budget for the Charlestown Municipal Court until the question as to who is assistant clerk of court and who is clerical assistant is decided.

Coun. MELLEN—Mr. President, in the Charlestown Municipal Court a question has arisen with regard to the assistant clerk and the clerical assistant of the court, depending entirely on the jurisdiction of the Clerk of the Court. Last December 16 a clerical assistant was appointed by the clerk, under the statute. The position of clerical assistant was apparently properly filled, and at the same time that the assistant was appointed the clerk submitted the name of Peter J. Flaherty as assistant clerk of the court, to fill a vacancy. The judge of the court, Charles S. Sullivan, refused to confirm the appointment of Mr. Flaherty as assistant clerk. The contention on one side is that there is no vacancy of clerical assistant, which I think is erroneous, as I hope to show at the next meeting of the Committee on Appropriations. But I do want to say for purposes of the record that the judge of the Court has conducted himself in such a manner that he should not be allowed to function in a Suffolk County court, and I believe that Judge Charles S. Sullivan should be called upon to either recede from his position or to resign from the bench.

The order was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

LIFE GUARDS, CASTLE ISLAND BEACH.

Coun. GEORGE A. MURRAY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make arrangements for additional life guards to cover Castle Island Beach, Ward 6.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 15 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. TOBIN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor request the Traffic Commissioner to install traffic lights at the intersection of Columbia road and Quincy street, Dorchester.

Ordered, That the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to pave with smooth pavement Rill street, Dorchester.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

MILK FOR NEEDY.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:
Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of eight-cent milk for the needy of Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I understand that a meeting is to be held here tomorrow on the so-called milk fund. It seems to me that here is an opportunity that might readily prove 100 times as valuable as the milk fund, not only benefiting those on welfare but also the poor people of Boston who are buying milk, the most valuable necessity of life, giving them an opportunity to obtain it for eight cents in their homes. A Federal commission is studying the matter, and I am informed that it can be readily worked out, because there is a surplus of milk shipped back to be fed to pigs, but it is at present tightly locked up in the prevailing regulations for milk control. The city of New York has been taking action upon this matter and thousands of families, not on welfare, have thereby been enabled to obtain this extremely valuable article of food at a fair price. If they can do it there, why can we not do it here, obtaining such a distribution of the most important element of food on the market?

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPERTY OF THE NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Wire Division of the Fire Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to at once file a report with the City Council as to how many manholes, terminals, conduits and other appurtenances in use by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company underground are now located in or under Boston streets, with the location and surface area of each.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, while I may seem rather persistent in this matter, I wish the Council to understand that this is not a repetition of an earlier order, the earlier order having directed inquiries to the Board of Street Commissioners and the Public Works Department. I am still of the opinion that there is no question but what this property is grossly under-assessed. The communication received from the Board of Assessors was to the effect that "the assessors have no right to tax any property other than the real estate, excepting upon the certification of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation," a situation with which, of course, we are all familiar. The communication from the Board of Assessors, however, failed to point out to the Council that, of course, the assessors have a right of appeal to the Board of Tax Appeals if the amount of the valuation is considered improper. The letter from Commissioner Long to me, written in his usual able and courteous manner, points out that "the Commissioner of Taxation and Corporations makes no attempt, nor has he any facilities for actually valuing these properties," and that the value "is in large part made up from the books of the telephone company."

With all due respect to the Street Commissioners and also to the Public Works Commissioners, I understand that there is now a department that will not need to spend much time to furnish the information desired, and that is the Wire Division of the Fire Department. I assure the Acting President and the members of the Council that these inquiries are only initial steps in an effort to obtain this information, which eventually I shall obtain, and then I shall submit to the Council some orders that will perhaps be more directly in point.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. NORTON, at 3.37 p. m., to meet on Monday, May 25, 1936, at 2 p. m.

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town polity, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT WARDS.

The term "ward" first appears in a fire-protection order, approved by the Town on August 29, 1679, dividing the Town into 4 quarters with 2 wards each. The 8 wards had previously been military districts.

On August 11, 1713, the Selectmen "agreed upon a distribution of the Town into distinct Wards or Precincts."

On February 1, 1715, it was "voted to make a new division of the Town into eight distinct Wards."

On March 9, 1735, it was voted to divide the Town into 12 wards to facilitate the work of the Overseers of the Poor.

On March 13, 1822, the Selectmen divided the Town into 12 wards on the basis of the U. S. Census of 1820.

By an ordinance which took effect on the second Monday of December, 1838, there was a revision of the wards.

On April 29, 1850, the City Council accepted Chap. 167 of the Acts of 1850, which altered the wards on the basis of legal voters rather than on the number of inhabitants.

By ordinance taking effect on November 15, 1865 new ward lines were established.

In the annexation period, 1865-1875, the number of wards was increased from twelve to twenty-one.

By Chap. 243, Acts 1875, the City Council was ordered to cause a new division of the City into twenty-four wards in the year 1875 in such manner as to include an equal number of voters in each ward. This division was made, taking effect on December 13, 1875. On May 27, 1876, the City Council, in accordance with Chap. 242, Acts of 1876, divided one of the wards in two, making a total of 25 wards for the City.

By ordinance passed April 20, 1895, under authority of Chap. 437, Acts of 1888, and Section 96 of Chap. 417, Acts of 1893, ward lines were established on the basis of the number of voters registered at the City election of 1894, there still being 25 wards.

The annexation of Hyde Park, effective January 1, 1912, made an additional ward.

By enactment of December 28, 1914, under authority of Chap. 630, Acts of 1914, the City Council redivided the City into 26 wards.

The latest redivision, established December 30, 1924, under authority of Chap. 410, Acts of 1924, consists of 22 wards.

MODERN EDUCATION — A LEANING TOWER — MAYOR MANSFIELD DELIVERS COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS AT EMMANUEL COLLEGE AND CALLS ATTENTION TO PRESENT-DAY TREND IN EDUCATIONAL PROCESS AWAY FROM RELIGION AS A DANGEROUS TENDENCY THAT MAY ALREADY HAVE WROUGHT PERMANENT DAMAGE WHICH DEMANDS IMMEDIATE CHECK AND REPAIR TO DAMAGE ALREADY DONE — CALLS FOR RETURN TO WELL-CHARTED SEAS AND SOUND MOORINGS — HOME AND PARENTAL DUTY BEING SUPPLANTED BY PATERNALISM, HE WARNS.

In delivering the Commencement Day Address at Emmanuel College on June 4, Mayor Mansfield spoke as follows on the subject "Modern Education — A Leaning Tower."

Right Reverend Vicar-General, Reverend Fathers, Devoted Sisters, Graduates of Emmanuel College of the Class of 1936, Parents and Friends of Our Graduates.

In rising to address you on this happy occasion it is not only natural, but inevitable, that the mind should turn to the whole subject of education and particularly to a consideration of the part that religion should occupy in the educational process.

The present day trend is, of course, obvious. It is away from religion and to one who observes even with only a casual eye this trend is very alarming. And we cannot reassure ourselves by the reflection that although this may be a dangerous tendency, it is as yet, only a danger and that no real havoc has or will come of it.

As a matter of fact the germinating period in this dangerous tendency has, I think, already passed; the harm has been to a great degree already accomplished and much permanent damage has been done. If we agree on this point then it should be easy for us to agree upon the course that we ought to pursue, namely, to attempt to undo the harm, to repair the damage, and if possible, to check the insidious trend.

When our forefathers braved the unknown and crossed turbulent and strange seas to found this nation, we know that their chief purpose was to secure for themselves and their successors, religious and civic freedom; and we know that they had a wholesome respect for moral and religious principles which they considered essential for good government and necessary to a sound education.

In order to perpetuate these principles they embedded them in the body of laws adopted for the government of the new colony. Thus the proper observance of the Lord's Day, public support of religion and divine worship were decreed in our old Colonial Laws as early as 1653.

In 1647, the General Court of the Massachusetts Bay Colony made the establishment of schools compulsory when it decreed that there should be a teacher in every town of fifty householders and a grammar school in every town of one hundred householders. This has been called the fundamental school law of Massachusetts. The preamble to this law states that its primary purpose was to teach children to read and write in order that they might be able to acquire a knowledge of the Scriptures. Further evidence that the support of religion was the chief reason for the establishment of schools in the Massachusetts Bay Colony appears in the legislation of May 3, 1654:

*"For as much as it greatly concerns the welfare of this country that the youth thereof be educated, not only in good literature, but sound doctrine this court doth therefore commend it to the serious consideration and special care of the overseers of the college, and the selectmen of the several towns, not to admit or suffer any such to be continued in this office or place of teaching — that have manifested themselves unsound in the faith, or scandalous in their lives, or not giving due satisfaction according to the rules of Christ."

Basic Law.

This provision of our colonial forefathers became the basis of the so-called moral education law of 1789, which has remained unchanged to this day in the Constitution of Massachusetts and which declares that the primary purpose of education is to promote the Christian religion. This law is found in Part 2, Chapter V, Article I, of our State Constitution and reads as follows:

"Whereas our wise and pious ancestors, so early as the year one thousand six hundred and thirty-six, laid the foundation of Harvard College, in which university many persons of great eminence have, by the blessing of God, been initiated in those arts and sciences which qualify them for public employments, both in church and state; and, whereas, the encouragement of arts and sciences, and all good literature, tends to the honor of God, the advantage of the Christian religion, and the great benefit of this and the other United States of America"

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

DEPOSITION IN POSSESSION OF MAYOR MANSFIELD IN AFFIDAVIT FORM, SWORN TO BY CORNELIUS V. CALLAHAN, EXPOSES METHODS OF FINANCE COMMISSION IN EFFORT TO BOLSTER CLAIMS MADE AT RECENT COAL HEARING — MAN FROM PENNSYLVANIA COAL DISTRICT REPUDIATES AND DENIES ASSERTIONS OF COMMISSION AND TESTIMONY ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN GIVEN WHEN CALLED FROM HIS HOME TO BOSTON TO TESTIFY — SAYS COAL SHIPPED FROM CENTRALIA MINES EQUAL OF ANY SHIPPED FROM ANTHRACITE REGION.

The following is a copy of the Finance affidavit of Cornelius V. Callahan denying and repudiating assertions of the Finance Commission relative to the coal investigation conducted by that body:

STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, COUNTY OF COLUMBIA, SS.

Before me, a Notary Public, in and for said State and County, personally appeared Cornelius V. Callahan, who, being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says, that on April 21, 1936, I received a telegram from the Western Union Telegraph Office at Mount Carmel, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, which was sent to me by the Boston Finance Commission of Boston, Massachusetts, in which telegram they asked me to call up LaFayette 611J, that being the office of the Boston Finance Commission; I called the above number and talked to Mr. Cunniff, secretary of the Boston Finance Commission, and Mr. Cunniff told me that he wanted me in Boston the following night, and that I should leave on the morning train; he told me to go to the Parker House at Boston, and that reservations would be made there for me; I left on the Williamsporter at 12.50 a. m. and arrived in Boston at about 2.15 p. m. the following day; I went to the Parker House, and on account of getting there a little before the stated time, I called up the above number, 611J, and was informed that some one would meet me at the Parker House in a short time; Mr. Cunniff, the secretary, called at the Parker House and took me to the clerk and said "Give this man a room and a good one." He said, "We'll sit around a few minutes I want you to meet some one else"; I met a Mr. Robinson, chairman of the Boston Finance Commission, and we sat there in the hotel for a while, and up until that time I didn't know for what reason they sent for me; Mr. Robinson said "We'll go and have supper," we came back after supper and I went to my room with Mr. Robinson and Mr. Cunniff, and Mr. Cunniff said "You stay in the hotel tomorrow, we are going to call you about ten o'clock"; they didn't call me at ten, but a Mr. Campbell came over to the hotel and we had dinner at the hotel together; we stayed at the hotel until two o'clock p. m., and we then went to the courthouse at Boston where there was a public hearing before the Finance Commission on certain kinds of coal, at this hearing I was asked to inspect samples of certain coal, which coal I did inspect and testified that it was of an inferior quality, and when I was asked if it came from the Centralia mine, I answered that I could not tell and that no other inspector could tell; it was stated that I gave certain testimony at this hearing, which testimony I deny having made, and which is as follows:

"first, by reclaiming coal from a 700,000 ton culm bank (or refuse pile), that had been accumulating for 60 or 70 years. It consisted of the impurities cast aside in the regular mining, and has been steadily deteriorating for many years. Its quality is considerably below fresh mined first grade coal, and its price correspondingly less;

"second, by 'cleaning up the mine'. He explained this means taking out coal and rock that had fallen and clogged the entrances during the five years the mine was not in operation and cleaning up the accumulations of the mine workings. This, he said, had to be done before the mine could again be put in operation;

"third, by so-called 'stripping'. This means using a kind of steam shovel to 'bore' down through the surface of the ground and bring out coal from a depth of from 15 to 60 feet which can be easily dislodged from the vein; and

"fourth, by some fresh mining. This means going down into the mine and striking at and picking off the hard vein. He stated that in order to obtain good grade, fresh mined coal it is usually necessary to go down 300 feet or below. A steam shovel's limit is 60 or 75 feet."

I also deny the following article which was published in the Boston Daily Record under date of April 24, 1936, and which statement was supposed to have been made by me:

"Callahan who said he had worked in the Centralia mines since he was 16, testified they were leased by a company last June and operations started up. According to the witness the operators cleaned up loose coal from the mine and reclaimed coal from a culm bank, a huge pile of refuse at the pit mouth which had accumulated for years.

"There has been no first quality chestnut coal mined or shipped from the Centralia mines this year," he testified."

I also deny the following statement which was published in the Boston Post under date of April 24, 1936, and which statement was supposed to have been made by me.

"He said that the coal being shipped out of Centralia is either coal that has been reclaimed from the 'refuse' banks or fuel that has been strip-mined."

I further aver that in my opinion the coal that is shipped from the Centralia mines is equal, if not better, than any coal being shipped from the Anthracite coal region.

CORNELIUS V. CALLAHAN.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1936.

My commission expires April 9, 1939.

ANNA R. FLYNN, Notary Public.

ADDRESS BY MAYOR.

and then proceeds to confirm in the President and Fellows of Harvard College certain powers, rights and privileges.

In another statute it is provided that the president, professors and tutors of the university at Cambridge and of the several colleges, all preceptors and teachers of academics and all other instructors of youth

"shall exert their best endeavors to impress on the minds of children and youth committed to their care and instruction the principles of piety and justice and a sacred regard for truth, love of their country, humanity and universal benevolence, sobriety, industry and frugality, chastity, moderation and temperance, and those other virtues which are the ornament of human society and the basis upon which a republican constitution is founded; and they shall endeavor to lead their pupils, as their ages and capacities will admit, into a clear understanding of the tendency of the above mentioned virtues to preserve and perfect a republican constitution and secure the blessings of liberty as well as to promote their future happiness, and also to point out to them the evil tendency of the opposite vices."*

Another section of this same statute provides that a portion of the Bible shall be read daily in the public schools with certain exemptions for pupils whose parents or guardians have conscientious scruples against it.

Without pausing now to review the many arguments that have been adduced for and against the wisdom of these various regulations, the point is clear that the "wise and pious ancestors" who founded our Commonwealth and who framed our state constitution believed that an education was incomplete that did not inculcate those enumerated virtues which, while they do not constitute a religion in themselves, nevertheless are clearly religious in their origin and thoroughly Christian in their purpose.

All of this took place when our nation was yet young — when we were creeping and learning to walk — when it was felt that we needed a guiding hand at our shoulder. We grew great and strong and vigorous and felt that we no longer needed the guiding and sustaining hand of religion. It has been gradually withdrawn as an educational force in the training of our youth, and alas! while for a time we thought our youth was sturdy enough to walk without its sustaining power we have now come to realize that our young people are not going forward with steady footsteps — they are tottering with scarcely a hand outstretched to sustain them when they are about to fall.

DRIFTED AWAY GRADUALLY.

In our modern educational system we have gradually drifted away from well-charted seas and sound moorings. We have departed from sound educational principles and tried Christian virtues to modern ideas and present day tendencies. The result has been that we have erected on a restricted foundation a structure that has grown constantly higher and wider at an ever growing cost to the community. Sound and tested principles have been declared obsolete while new and costly theories have been seized upon with enthusiasm and pursued with fanatical vigor even before they have had time to harden into well settled and accepted principles, while they were still in that plastic stage which a recent writer has so aptly referred to as "soft deposits of modern thought."

More and more the school (and through the school the State) is taking the place of the parent. Home responsibility and parental duty are being supplanted by paternalism. Whereas only a few short years ago, a parent would have scorned relinquishing any of his duties we find him apparently indifferent to the absorption of his responsibilities by the State. While he still vigorously defends his rights when they touch his children yet he is seemingly unconcerned when he is relieved of parental responsibility by the State. He has forgotten what used to be an accepted principle of life, that parental rights carry with them concomitant duties and responsibilities. And so now the taxpayer is called upon to provide lunches for children. Medical attention and dental care are provided and many similar burdens which formerly rested heavily upon the shoulders of the parent have been shifted to the community at large which now bears the expense of what used to be considered strictly family obligations.

I have no quarrel with this in cases where fathers and mothers due to economic necessity are unable to provide proper care and nourishment for their children. But when these paternalistic practices are generally adopted regardless of the necessities of the case and when the State is more and more taking the place of the parent, it seems to me that we are embarking upon a course that leads inevitably to a dangerous form of state socialism.

I do not object to the expansion of our educational facilities in order that we may keep pace with modern progress. If our children must have practical courses such as stenography, typewriting, domestic science and household arts (high sounding terms which really mean keeping house) carpentry, printing, and mechanical training—in order to secure gainful employment, then I have no objection at least to a preliminary preparation for these pursuits even if in earlier days such courses were not considered an integral part of education. But I do think that in our emphasis upon the practical, the commercial and the material we are losing sight of the cultural values of education which can be acquired only by a knowledge of the liberal arts and especially from the study of classical literature.

It has often been remarked that America has not produced—at least for some generations—a literary genius or an outstanding woman or man of letters. May not the reason be that we have been so much concerned with the commercial and the practical that we have neglected the nobler and better things of life! May it not be due to the fact that while we have trained thousands of children to indifferent proficiency in mechanical trades, we have neglected the humanities and have failed to give them a knowledge and love for the spiritual, the cultural and the beautiful which alone can give satisfaction to the highest aspirations of the human soul! There is considerable food for thought in the assertion of a recent writer that "the typical graduate of the American school is neither a student, a book lover nor a searcher after knowledge but one who is satisfied with a most superficial acquaintance with things and who can arrive at a conclusion from the most meager premises."

RELIGIOUS PROPS NEEDED.

It is the tendency as well as the condition itself that seems to me to call for comment. For if we continue to pile upon our original foundation every new fad that may be fancied by modern educational theorists, the load will be so heavy that the structure must collapse. And with the gradual removal of the religious props from its foundation, the entire structure is leaning and everyone except those who are busily engaged in adding to its burden, can see that it is leaning and that it will fall unless the props are restored. And for the benefit of those who may be disposed to resent the comment of one who is not professedly an educator and to show that he may be capable of sensing that something is wrong when the experts themselves are blissfully ignorant of the fact, I venture to present a translation of a short Italian story:

"Once upon a time there lived in Pisa an elderly gentleman whose windows looked on the famous tower. Through long gazing on this striking object during a tedious convalescence, he conceived the idea (which deepened into a delusion) that the tower was perpendicular and all other buildings were leaning. To the amusement of his friends he had the floors of his rooms relaid so that the furniture was tilted into lines parallel with those of the tower. He was dilating on his fixed idea one afternoon when he had visitors. One of the party, a kindly old priest, seeing a grandchild of the invalid playing along the corridor, called out to him:

'Beppino! Come to me!'

The boy was a special favourite of the old man. Placing the boy on the table with his face to the tower, the priest said:

'Carissimo Signor Conte! Are you content to let Beppino decide?'

'Dear little man,' said the grandfather, kissing the brown locks. 'You shall settle it. Look!'

'Look, Beppincino, at the tower!' said the priest, laying his hands lightly on the child's shoulders; 'is it straight?'

'E certo che s'inchina.' 'Of course, it leans,' said the child without the slightest hesitation."

If our modern educational structure is leaning and is threatened with destruction, what is the remedy? What shall be done about it? The answer seems simple enough. Supply the missing props. Lop off the many unnecessary and unessential fads and extensions which have crept into our modern educational system. Return to a safe and sound education in which God is not altogether forgotten and in which the individual is taught his obligations to his Creator and his neighbor.

Thinking people are beginning to be seriously alarmed by the lack of religious training in our system of education when they behold its evident consequences in the growing disrespect for law and order. Statistics show that we ignominiously lead the world in our record of crimes against the person, against property and against the public peace. Divorce has been made easy and is breaking down our family life. Noble and high standards of moral, civic and social conduct are being lowered and people accept today with apparent complacency types of behaviour which never would be tolerated by decent and self-respecting people a generation ago. What is most alarming in this situation is the apparent indifference with which the public conscience accepts as inevitable the gradual lowering of moral standards in our individual, family, social and public life.

* Constitution of Mass. Part II. c. 5, s. 1.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, the distinguished President of Columbia University, in a recent statement goes to the very root of the matter and points out the inevitable consequences of the lack of religious training in the education of our children. In this statement Doctor Butler says:

"The primary and responsible influence in the religious education of children should, of course, be the family and the Church. The family, unhappily, has largely broken down as a shaping and directing educational force and influence, while the Church, as represented by the Protestant Churches at least, despite various statistical statements, is falling farther and farther behind, year by year in the effectiveness of its religious instruction. So far as tax-supported schools are concerned, an odd situation has been permitted to arise. The separation of Church and State is fundamental in our American political order, but so far as religious instruction is concerned, this principle has been so far departed from as to put the whole force and influence of the tax-supported school on the side of one element of the population, namely, that which is pagan and believes in no religion whatsoever."

PLAN PROPOSED.

According to recent press notices, a country-wide movement to provide religious instruction for pupils attending public schools has been inaugurated in Washington by a Committee of Moral and Religious Training, composed of Protestants and Catholics. This committee believes that all pupils in the schools of the nation below college grade should be taught morality and religion as well as the regular school subjects, and they are ready to recommend a plan whereby religious teachers representing the different denominations may visit public schools for the purpose of teaching children at least the fundamentals of religion and morality.

It is not for me to say whether such a movement would be wise and practical. I merely refer to the proposed plan as evidence of the fact that many thinking people are beginning to realize that the teaching of religion is necessary if our nation is to survive.

And it is unthinkable that our nation should not survive. We all agree that it will endure as long as human government shall exist anywhere upon the earth. But there are signs that are disturbing and eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. Evidence is not wanting that a spirit of irreligion exists in many countries and is seemingly spreading throughout the world. It is only necessary to mention France, and the atheistic policies of its leaders of a few short years ago; Russia, not merely antagonistic to all religions, but teaching little children to hate even the name of God; Germany, persecuting the adherents of ancient faiths and endeavoring to substitute a pagan nationalistic religion for all other religions; Spain, where radical and revolutionary organizations are attacking the Church and her institutions; and Mexico, which is practising religious persecution at our very doors. Even in our own beloved United States the communistic orator is abroad in the land proclaiming himself as the enemy of all governments and all religions, and advocating their destruction.

No one can view with complacency the dangers which face us at the present time. In this hour of crisis we have a right to look to our educational institutions for direction and leadership. The separation of religion from education in our tax-supported schools makes it impossible to secure very much assistance from them. In the field of private schools and colleges, we face a very strange situation. The great majority of them were established as religious institutions for the purpose of teaching the dogmatic and moral beliefs of some particular religious denomination. But today because of varying conditions and circumstances, religion is rarely mentioned and much less taught in these institutions. What is sadder still some of them have so departed from the spirit of their founders that professors sometimes are allowed to deviate from the path of instruction in their particular courses and to make observations which spread among their students a spirit of religious indifference, scepticism and disbelief.

With student bodies made up of young women and men of different religious persuasions and some with no religion at all, positive definite religious truths and principles can have little place in our modern secular school and college. The result is that our young people leave the portals of these institutions lacking religious conviction and without the saving knowledge of religion to direct their lives.

COLLEGE TO GUIDE.

In the crisis that confronts us today, we must look to such higher institutions as Emmanuel College to guide and direct us. Here religion predominates as it does in all other Catholic institutions of learning. It is not a thing apart. It regulates the entire organization of the school, its teachers, its syllabus and its textbooks. It is the very soul of the school and is in very truth the foundation and crown of the training given in this college and in all other Catholic schools.

The graduates of Emmanuel College are indeed fortunate. Here under the guidance of our beloved spiritual leader, His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, they have received a religious education which is in keeping with our best American traditions and which has given them positive religious convictions and definite unchanging principles of conduct. Religion as taught here is not merely a meaningless generalization on morals and right living. It is a definite way of life—based upon the principles taught and lived by Our Divine Saviour, the perfect Teacher and the founder of our Christian civilization.

It is very obvious that no education is complete without religion. If this is true, it is also true that there can be no true culture without religion. True culture radiates from the soul of the individual and the life of the soul cannot be confined to things earthly and mundane. The human soul seeks completeness of life in the unseen and eternal realities of the spiritual world. "Man's soul does not live by bread alone but by every word that proceeds from the mouth of God."

The graduates of this college have not only received a thorough religious training which is essential for the possession of true culture but they have also received a type of instruction that conforms to what has always been the truest and best kind of education. They have secured a well-rounded education. The fine arts have not been neglected and in after life they will be grateful to Emmanuel College for instilling in their hearts a love for good literature, and for all that is pure and noble in music and art. The sciences and the languages have had their places in their collegiate training. And what is most important they have become imbued with the knowledge and wisdom of the ages contained in the Christian philosophy which they have studied and seen exemplified within the walls of this beautiful building.

It is an educational axiom that we learn more by example than by any other way. How true this is of Emmanuel College! Here our graduates have enjoyed the great privilege of being educated by devoted religious teachers—the good Sisters of Notre Dame of Namur. I know that the memory of these cultured women—their self-sacrifice and consecration to duty—will ever remain with our graduates and will always be for them an inspiration to lead lives of true Christian virtue and perfection.

I cannot let this memorable occasion pass without saying a word of congratulation to the fathers and mothers of our graduates. I know that many of you have made great sacrifices in order that this day might become a reality. You have been faithful to the highest responsibilities of Christian parenthood. Without thought of self, you have made it possible for your daughters to receive the finest kind of a Christian education. You could give them no greater gift. In return for your many hidden sacrifices, it is my earnest wish that your fondest hopes on this happy occasion may find complete fulfillment in the after lives of your daughters.

My dear graduates—I know that you are grateful for what your Alma Mater has done for you—you are grateful to your parents and to the learned women and men who have taught you during your four years at Emmanuel College. You are grateful because you have received a true education which I can in no better way describe than by quoting the words of His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell from an address entitled "True Education" which he delivered to the students of the University of Tokio, Japan, more than thirty years ago. On this occasion His Eminence said:

"It is evident that the training only of the mind does not of itself tend toward such moulding of a human being as the permanence of the nation demands. The soul of man, that is, the will and intellect, taken together, ought to be educated, in order that the whole man may be able to attain the end toward which he is striving, because life is not merely a study of truth, but much more, the action following truth; life is not only speculation, but action. Assuredly work, according to the philosopher, accompanies knowledge. And in order that action may be good and worthy, the principles which dictate the actions ought to be sincere and upright. Those who recognize the truth and follow goodness are the ones who establish the strength and stability of the nation." *

MAYOR MANSFIELD SIGNS SCHOOL COMMITTEE BUD- GET WITHOUT APPROVAL OF CERTAIN ITEMS.

The following statement was made public by the Mayor's office on May 29:

I have signed the School Committee budget although there are some items in it which might well be open to question. The original budget estimates of the School Committee as submitted to the Legislative Committee on Municipal Finance in February totaled approximately $18,200,000. In the conferences held at the Mayor's office with the school Committee it was practically agreed that a budget total of $17,200,000 would be acceptable.

The budget which has been submitted and which I have today approved is within $40,000 of this suggested figure, and because of the availability of unexpended balances from 1935, amounting to about $10,000, is really only $30,000 in excess of the $17,200,000 tentatively agreed upon.

Some items, such as filling of vacancies by permanent appointments, and salaries of watchmen, which I consider to be wholly unnecessary, and a continuation of the Department of Vocational Guidance, which I think might well be abandoned at the present time, and additional compensation for custodians for extra sweepings in school buildings (a matter which is now before the Corporation Counsel for opinion) might well be the subject of a veto, but in the view of the fact that it is necessary to declare the tax rate at the earliest possible moment and that a veto interposed now would merely mean a further delay, thus preventing tax bills from being sent out before June fifteenth, which is the limit fixed by the law, and also in view of the further obvious fact that any veto of mine would be futile as it probably would be overruled by the committee and because of the foregoing observations I have deemed it advisable to sign the budget rather than to veto it.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 199.

Acting under the provisions of chapter 521, Acts of 1922, creating the Contributory Retirement System, the Boston Retirement Board has notified this department that it has approved for retirement, on account of accidental disability, Patrolman Robert P. O'Hara of Division 6, who is a member of said Contributory Retirement System; such retirement to take effect at midnight, Sunday, May 31, 1936.

Wherefore, In view of this operation of law, the Police Commissioner states that on and after May 31, 1936, at the hour stated, the said Patrolman Robert P. O'Hara shall no longer be an active member of this department, and it is hereby ordered that its records be so amended.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. McSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 200.

In the early morning of Monday, May 25, 1936, Patrolman George Brambilla and James J. Mahoney, both of Division 15, while cruising in the vicinity of Warren Avenue Bridge, observed a woman run across the street, mount the railing and jump into the water.

Patrolman Brambilla, without regard for his own safety, immediately removed his uniform coat and hat and jumped into the water and rescued her and was later assisted by Patrolman Mahoney and two sailors in removing her from the water. She was removed to the hospital where she was found to be suffering from immersion and alcoholism and held for treatment.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize and highly commend the prompt and courageous action shown by Patrolman Brambilla in jumping into the water and rescuing this unfortunate young woman from possible death by drowning. His conduct on this occasion reflects credit on the department as a whole.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. McSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 201.

A trial board, consisting of Captains Campbell, McGrath and Killen, having heard by reference a complaint made by Francis M. Tiernan, captain, Division 16, against Walter L. Canney, patrolman, Division 16, for alleged violation of Rule 41 of the Rules and Regulations of the Police Department, to wit:

Charge: Conduct unbecoming an officer.

Specification: In that on the nineteenth day of May, 1936, Patrolman Walter L. Canney, while not in uniform or on duty, was under the influence of intoxicating liquor to such an extent that he would be unable to properly perform police duty if called upon so to do,—

has submitted the following finding and recommendation:

"The Board having heard and carefully considered all the evidence as presented, finds the said Patrolman Walter L. Canney guilty as charged. The Board has taken into consideration the circumstances that Patrolman Canney was in his own home and not in a public place at the time the offense was committed; that he has never previously been before a trial board charged with a violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Department; and that he has twice been commended in General Orders. Patrolman Canney promised the Board to refrain from the use of intoxicating liquor in the future, whether on or off duty. Therefore, the Board respectfully recommends that the said Patrolman Walter L. Canney be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective as of May 19, 1936, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said patrolman Walter L. Canney be ordered to perform 105 hours of punishment duty."

The commissioner accepts the finding and the recommendation of the Trial Board and hereby orders that the said Patrolman Walter L. Canney be suspended from duty for a period of fifteen days, effective as of May 19, 1936, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., and that at the expiration of the said period of suspension the said patrolman Walter L. Canney be ordered to perform 105 hours of punishment duty.

Civil Service Rule 23, Section 3, requires approval of the Civil Service Commission before reinstatement.

Rule 23.

"Section 3. With the consent of the Commissioner upon good cause shown, an appointing officer may reinstate in the same position or in a position in the same class and grade any person who has been separated from the service; provided, however, that the Commissioner shall not allow reinstatement of a person discharged for cause."

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

To the City Council.

Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of communication of May 14, 1936, from Secretary John F. Gilmore, Jr., ordering consideration and report on City Council order of May 11, 1936, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Traffic Commissioner to install traffic signals at the junction of Seaver, Harold and Hutchings streets and also at the junction of Cliff, St. James and Warren streets."

I regret to state that there are no funds available for the installation of traffic signals at the above intersections.

LIST OF SURETY BONDS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the City Clerk and a letter from the City Auditor relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning a list with reference to all surety bonds filed so far during the year 1936.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the City Clerk, May 13, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In answer to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning surety bonds filed in this office I respectfully report that the only bonds filed in this office are constables' bonds and blasting bonds. The constables' bonds are in the penal sum of $3,000 and the blasting bonds range from $1,000 to $10,000. The surety required on each type of bond is an incorporated surety company and so far as I have been able to ascertain the sureties on the bonds filed have been domestic companies. The only duty of this office in relation to these bonds is to receive and file them, and I have no knowledge as to whether or not there is any agent or broker involved other than the general agencies of the several companies.

Respectfully,
W. J. DOYLE, City Clerk.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, May 18, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I submit a list with reference to all surety bonds filed in this office so far during the year 1936, as requested in the accompanying City Council order. In cases where the bond premium has been billed directly to the city by the surety company writing the bond, it has been impossible to list the name of the agent or broker, since this item of information does not appear on the records of this office.

Respectfully,
CHARLES J. FOX, City Auditor.
(Appended was the list referred to.)
Placed on file.

ASSISTANT CLERK, CHARLESTOWN COURT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Budget Commissioner relative to your order of May 11, 1936, "concerning the filling of the supposed existing vacancy of assistant clerk in the Charlestown Court, and whether provision for such position is to be properly included in this year's budget."

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Budget Department, May 18, 1936
To: Honorable Frederick W. Mansfield, Mayor.
Subject: Attached City Council order, dated May 11, 1936:

"To obtain advice from the Judge of the Charlestown District Court with reference to definite information concerning the filling of the supposed existing vacancy of assistant clerk in the Charlestown Court, and whether provision for such position is to be properly included in this year's budget."

Memorandum.

The death on April 13, 1935, of Maurice M. Hurley, second assistant clerk in the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District, at an annual salary of $2,250, created a vacancy in the said office of second assistant clerk.

On November 16, 1935, the Budget Commissioner received a letter from James J. Mullen, Esquire, Clerk of said Court, purporting to give notice of the promotional appointment of Mr. Peter J. Flaherty from the office of senior clerk at $1,900 per annum to fill said vacancy. Said proposed promotional appointment has failed to this date to receive the approval of the Justice of said Court in accordance with the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws, chapter 218, section 10, a copy of which is attached hereto.

The current budget of said court provides ample funds for the position of second assistant clerk and will be available immediately upon the filling of said vacancy.

Respectfully,
FRANCIS J. MURRAY,
Budget Commissioner.

Chapter 218, Section 10.

"The clerk of a district court may, subject to the approval of the justice, appoint one or more assistant clerks, who shall be removable at his pleasure or at the pleasure of the court, for whose official acts the clerk shall be responsible, who shall be paid by him unless salaries payable by the county are authorized in this section or in section fifty-three. Any such assistant clerk may be a woman. Assistant clerks with salaries payable by the county may be appointed in each of the following courts, namely, the central district court of northern Essex, the municipal court of the Charlestown district, the district court of western Hampden, and courts the judicial districts of which have, according to the national or state census last preceding, a population of sixty thousand or more. Second assistant clerks with salaries payable by the county may be appointed in each of the following courts, namely, the municipal court of the Roxbury district, the East Boston district court and the municipal court of the Charlestown district."

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Budget Commissioner relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning a request to approve James A. Buckley as clerical assistant of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District, as of November 16, 1935, at a salary of $1,700 per annum.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Budget Department, May 18, 1936.
To: Honorable Frederick W. Mansfield, Mayor.
Subject: Attached City Council order, dated May 11, 1936:

"To approve James A. Buckley as clerical assistant of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District, as of November 16, 1935, at a salary of $1,700 per annum . . ."

Memorandum.

On November 16, 1935, the Budget Commissioner received a letter from James J. Mullen, Esquire, Clerk of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District, purporting to give notice of the appointment of Mr. James A. Buckley as senior clerk at a salary of $1,700 per annum "to fill vacancy caused by the promotion of Peter J. Flaherty." The proposed promotional appointment of said Peter J. Flaherty from the office of senior clerk to the office of assistant clerk failed to receive the approval of the Justice of said Court in accordance with the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws, chapter 218, section 10. Therefore, there was no vacancy, nor is there now a vacancy, in the office of senior clerk held by Mr. Flaherty.

Respectfully,
FRANCIS J. MURRAY,
Budget Commissioner.
Severally placed on file.

ACCEPTANCE OF CHARLES DANIELS SCHOOL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Superintendent of Public Buildings relative to your order of May 11, 1936, requesting that the School Committee be notified by the Superintendent of Public Buildings officially of his willingness to receive from it the Charles Daniels School on Mead street, Charlestown, for the purpose of having a building for the Charlestown Joint Planning Board sponsoring W. P. A. activities.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Buildings Department, May 16, 1936.
John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary to the Mayor.
Dear Sir,—Referring to the attached order of the City Council regarding the Charles Daniels School, Mead street, Charlestown, I stand ready and willing to receive said building from the School Committee for the purpose of having a building for the Charlestown Joint Planning Board sponsoring W. P. A. activities.

However, it is only with the positive assurance of this organization that it will assume all maintenance costs in connection with its occupancy of the premises that I am willing to accept same. Furthermore, I must be satisfied that a W. P. A. project has been approved for the reconconditioning of the building. In other words the City of Boston is not prepared to make any expenditures either for remodeling the building or for maintaining it in the future.

Respectfully yours,
ROSSELL G. HALL,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

FENCE, SPRING STREET BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 18, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning the erection of a fence in the space between the abutments of the Spring street railroad bridge as a means of preventing further accidents at this particular location.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, May 18, 1936.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your note of May 14 with attached order of City Council dated May 11 and reading as follows:

"Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a fence in the space between the abutments of the Spring street railroad bridge as a means of preventing further accidents at this particular location."

and to state that a wooden barrier was placed between the granite piers of the Spring street railroad bridge May 11, 1936.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.
Placed on file.

RELOCATING OF CAR STOP.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 19, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning the relocating of the outbound car stop on Spring street, opposite Alaric street, West Roxbury.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
May 18, 1936.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of May 14 with order of the City Council requesting that the outbound car stop on Spring street, opposite Alaric street, West Roxbury, be moved two elevated poles south of its present location; the stop where now located serves people living on Powell and Alaric streets, and they are practically the only people who would be accommodated by a stop in the present or in the proposed location. If changed to the location suggested, it would require these people to retrace their steps over 100 feet.

We believe the people who use the stop prefer to have it in its present location, but suggest that consideration be given to improvement of lighting conditions at that place.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President and General Manager.

Placed on file.

WARNING SIGNS, SPRING STREET BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 20, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning the placing of suitable warning signs at both sides of the approach to the Spring street railroad bridge, West Roxbury.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, May 19, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of Council order dated May 11, 1936, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to place suitable warning signs at both sides of the approach to the Spring street railroad bridge, West Roxbury."

Orders have been issued to erect two "Slow" signs in Spring street, West Roxbury. Also to paint the center piers of the railroad bridge with alternate black and white diagonal stripes.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKEY, Commissioner.

BUS LINE TO CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 20, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company relative to your order of May 4, 1936, concerning the establishing of a bus line from South Boston to the Boston City Hospital and return with a five-cent fare in each direction.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
May 19, 1936.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—The trustees have considered the request contained in order of the City Council accompanying your letter of May 7 for establishment of a bus line from South Boston to the Boston City Hospital and return, with a five-cent fare in each direction, but do not feel that they can consistently grant the request.

Such a bus line would parallel existing service and would mean the substitution of a five-cent fare for the present ten-cent fare. The present car line from City Point to Dudley street passes the hospital buildings and by means of transfer at Dorchester and Eighth streets all of South Boston is readily served.

The establishment of special reduced rate service to the City Hospital would mean additional expense with decreased revenue, and for these reasons the trustees do not feel that it can be justified under present conditions.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President
and General Manager.

Placed on file.

SERVICE TO FRANKLIN PARK STATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 19, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to your order of May 4, 1936, concerning the extending of the present Dudley street-Blue Hill avenue-Grove Hall service to Franklin Park station.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
May 18, 1936.

Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—The trustees have considered the request contained in order of the City Council accompanying your letter of May 7 for extension of the Dudley street-Blue Hill avenue-Grove Hall service to Franklin Park with a five-cent fare, but do not feel that they can consistently grant it.

Service is now operated from Dudley street to Franklin Park and to Franklin Field via Warren street, which parallels Blue Hill avenue, and with a short walk makes available the five-cent local fare to Franklin Park and Franklin Field.

To extend the Dudley street-Blue Hill avenue-Grove Hall service to Franklin Park would involve considerable expense and the riding would fluctuate considerably with the weather. This, together with the fact that receipts would be lessened rather than increased, makes it inadvisable to extend the service as requested.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President
and General Manager.

Placed on file.

STAIRWAY, CHARLESTOWN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 20, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to your order of March 16, 1936, concerning the advisability of purchasing the property abutting the stairway, now closed, leading from the High Bridge to Water street, Charlestown, with the object of again making the stairway available for public use.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department, April 13, 1936.
Mr. John F. Gilmore, Jr.,

Assistant Secretary, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—Replying to your request as to the desirability and feasibility of purchasing property on Washington Street North, Charlestown, for the purpose of installing a flight of steps leading from Washington Street North to Water street, I beg leave to state that the former steps were erected and privately owned on the property of Charles M. Morrill. In the course of years the steps rotted to such an extent that they were removed by the owner of the property; the city had absolutely no interest in this flight of steps.

This office can see no occasion calling for the erection of a flight of steps leading from the High Bridge to Water street. At the present time there is a flight of steps on the westerly side of the High Bridge giving access to Water street. Persons using the easterly sidewalk of the High Bridge coming from Boston and not wishing to cross the bridge roadway to use the steps mentioned above have only to walk around the angle corner at the junction of Washington Street North and Chamber street and approach Water street by way of Chamber street. This calls for an additional length of walking of approximately 500 feet in order to reach Water street by way of the short length of Chamber street. To any person arriving at the City square station of the Boston Elevated Railway and desiring to go to Water street, the proposed steps would not be as convenient to reach Water street as the Chamber street approach mentioned above.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. CARVEN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Placed on file.

If and when said order is approved, I will be pleased to communicate with the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Respectfully yours,
ROSSELL G. HALL,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

This piano would be a Grand, Baby Grand or Upright, according to your preference, and we trust the plan will meet with your approval.

On receipt of notification from you, if favorable, arrangements will be started at once with that end in view.

Very truly yours,
LEON H. PALMER,
Department Secretary.

Whereas, The Massachusetts Department, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War has, by letter dated May 5, 1936, addressed to Mr. Roswell G. Hall, Superintendent of Public Buildings of the City of Boston, stated that it would appreciate the opportunity to present a piano to the City of Boston, to be placed and kept in Faneuil Hall in memory of the Grand Army of the Republic; and

THE ANNUAL BUDGET.

Coun. AGNEW, for the Committee on Appropriations, submitted the following:

The Committee on Appropriations, to which was referred the several budget recommendations of the Mayor for the County of Suffolk and the City of Boston, having considered the subject, respectfully recommends that the same ought to pass as herewith submitted.

For the Committee,
JAMES E. AGNEW, Chairman.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, in reporting for the Committee on Appropriations and as chairman of that committee, I wish at this time to thank all the members of that committee who so unselfishly gave of their time in the consideration of this budget. For the cooperation and assistance of the members of the committee I, as chairman, am very grateful. I also wish to acknowledge with personal thanks the interest and assistance of other members of the Council, those who were not members of the committee, but sat with the committee and conscientiously engaged in the various hearings on the budget. The committee as a whole wishes to extend its thanks for the assistance given by the Budget Commissioner, Mr. Murray, and his assistant, Mr. Sullivan. The majority of the committee in executive session and after careful consideration of the budget concluded that Mayor Mansfield has reduced the cost of the government of the City of Boston for the year 1936. This was evidenced to your committee by the reduction in allowances to practically every city and county department. With very few exceptions, allowances have been slashed over those of 1935. To treat them separately would mean going into the matter at great length. The appended documents of 1935 and 1936 speak for themselves and are available as public documents for comparison. Therefore, the Committee on Appropriations by majority vote recommends the passage of the budget as herewith submitted for the year 1936.

APPROPRIATIONS AND TAX ORDERS FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 1936.

Ordered, That to meet the current expenses payable during the financial year beginning with the first day of January, 1936, for performing the duties and exercising the powers devolved by statute or ordinance, or by vote of the City Council during the year, upon the City of Boston or County of Suffolk, or the departments or officers thereof, the respective sums of money specified in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out be, and the same are, hereby appropriated for the several departments and for the objects and purposes hereinafter stated.

Ordered, That the appropriation for Water Service, current expenses, and the payment to the State, under the provisions of chapter 488 of the Acts of 1895 and acts in addition or amendment thereto, and for the interest and debt requirements or for loans issued for water purposes be met by the income of said works and any excess over income from taxes; that the appropriation for Printing Department be met by the department income and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for City Record be met by the income of said publication and any excess over income from taxes; and the appropriation for the Traffic Tunnel be met by the income from tolls and any excess over income from taxes, in accordance with the provisions of section 11, chapter 297 of the Acts of 1929, as amended by chapter 74 of the Acts of 1935; that the other appropriations hereinafter specified be met out of the money remaining in the treasury at the close of business on December 31, 1935, exclusive of the money raised by loan or needed to carry out the requirements of any statute gift, trust or special appropriation, by the income of the financial year beginning January 1, 1936, by loans to the amount of $4,000,000 authorized by chapter 80 of the Acts of 1936, and taxes to the amount of $31,318,295, said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates in the City of Boston.

Ordered, That all sums of money which form no part of the income of the city, but shall be paid for services rendered or work done by any department or division for any other department or division, or for any person or corporation other than the City of Boston be paid into the general treasury, and that all contributions made to any appropriation be expended for the objects and purposes directed by the several contributors thereof.

Ordered, That all taxes raised to meet the appropriations of the city and all taxes assessed for meeting the city's proportion of the state tax for the year 1936, or for any other taxes or assessments payable to the Commonwealth, shall be payable in two equal installments, on July first and on October first of 1936, that interest shall be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid after the second day of November, 1936, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 59, section 57, of the General Laws, as amended by chapter 254, section 42, of the Acts of 1933, until paid, except the taxes assessed upon shares of national banks, which shall bear interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum from the first day of October, 1936, until paid, and that all interest which shall have become due on taxes shall be added to and be part of such taxes.

Ordered, That except as the appropriation for any purpose or item shall be increased by additional appropriations or transfers lawfully made, no money shall be expended by any department for any of the purposes or items designated in the tables and schedules hereinafter set out in excess of the amount set down as appropriated for such specific purpose or item, and except as aforesaid no salaries or wages shall be paid in excess of the rates specified in said tables and schedules.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the orders.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I would move to send the budget back to the Mayor with the request that he cut a million dollars from it.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, again we have been presented with a budget after more than one third of the fiscal year has elapsed, and again we are asked to pass it with little opportunity for critical examination either by ourselves or by the Finance Commission and other public or quasi-public agencies. For the delay, the Legislature is responsible this year for the last time. Hereafter, now that the tax limit has been repealed, the Mayor must take sole responsibility for any delay. There is no reason why the budget for 1937 should not be in the hands of the Council by the first of next January. The Mayor is, however, responsible for the form of the budget. In his inaugural message he promised "better budget contents, control and procedure." Again this year (as I pointed out last year) there are no comparative figures showing expenditures and appropriations in previous years. If such figures had been given, the hollowness of the Mayor's claimed savings would have been demonstrated. It would have appeared that the departments other than Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief are recommended for appropriations of $29,341,132 as compared with expenditures last year of $29,231,244. In other words, far from bringing about any savings, the Mayor would give them about $110,000 more than they spent last year. In the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief departments $10,894,078 is recommended, as compared with expenditures last year of $12,790,041. This looks like a tidy saving of about $1,900,000. But the fact remains that most, if not all, of this alleged saving is likely to prove nonexistent. The expenditures of the Welfare Department to date and the weekly expenditures of the last few weeks indicate only a very small cut in Welfare costs this year as compared with last year. For example, for the week ending May 9 the expenditure of the Welfare Department was $191,004.43 as compared with $195,911.01 last year. All the talk that has been going around to the effect that the budget has been cut to the bone is pure moonshine, it just is not so. The Mayor's announcement of last January that "substantial retrenchments" in city costs would be part of his financial plan has been repudiated. The same old waste and extravagance go on. Again in this year's budget document there are no figures showing revenue collections in previous years, and the budget is so segregated that, with the exception of a few large items, no reductions can be made without going into the administrative question of whether a particular position or a particular small item of expenditure is needed. It ought to be possible to make cuts in department appropriations which leave to the Mayor the problem (which is his under the Charter) of deciding what positions to eliminate and how to reorganize the work of the department so as to live within the appropriation. If the burden of evaluating each position and each activity in all its details is to remain with the Council, it should at least be allowed ample time for study, including a preview of all department estimates and of information furnished in support of the estimates, and should be furnished with a budget officer and assistants to advise it on the many administrative problems involved in making detailed changes in a highly segregated budget. The Massachusetts budget document and the Massachusetts procedure might well be followed by the City of Boston. For certain activities which are allegedly self-supporting, no appropriation is made to cover deficits. Two of these, the Water Department and the Traffic Tunnel, are running large deficits. That of the Water Department in 1935 was $273,000, and that of the Traffic Tunnel was $256,214. Boston's share of the Elevated deficit and the Governor square deficit, which are assessed without appropriation, amounts to $1,590,916.68. These deficits amount to over $1 in the tax rate. The operating deficit of the city is increasing. Last year $19,000,000 of tax notes were carried forward from the previous year, and this year $21,500,000 of tax notes were carried forward. The interest rate on recent borrowings has been rising. The rate on the last issue was 1.20 per cent, which is the highest rate any municipality in Massachusetts has paid this year. This indicates that we are beginning to wear out our welcome with lenders. Already we have authorized a borrowing of $4,000,000 toward welfare expenses. The Mayor virtually admits that at least $2,000,000 more must be borrowed for this purpose. Even if welfare expenses remain within the present budget allowance, it will probably be necessary to borrow at least $8,000,000 in order to keep the tax levy at $37. In order to pay our way without borrowing for operating expenses, a tax rate of about $12 on the thousand would be necessary. This, however, does not tell the whole story. Many properties are assessed at from 50 per cent to 300 per cent above their fair market value, notwithstanding the requirement of law that they be assessed at their fair market value. This is particularly true in the case of business properties in the downtown sections and of properties in the formerly high-value residential districts. There are many properties which are fully rented at going rentals and yet do not produce sufficient income to pay taxes and operating expenses. Others, in which there are vacancies or which are mortgaged, are in still worse plight. This condition cannot last. Over-assessments in open defiance of law, coupled with the high tax rate, are doing immense damage to real estate values in Boston, and this in turn is hurting the credit of the city. Unless these values can be maintained and increased, the city cannot raise the revenue to pay its necessary expenses. Mayor George J. Bates of Salem, who has made an outstanding record of economy and efficiency in the administration of his city, in a recent speech issued a warning which all should heed. He showed that Massachusetts industries in 1920 employed 696,000 people as compared with 424,000 in 1934, and that during this period industrial pay rolls dropped from $892,000,000 to $408,000,000. In 1925 our banks held only $1,662,000 in foreclosed real estate as compared with $200,000,000 on January 1, 1936. As he very truly said, we have met declining wages, declining business, and declining revenues by a policy of extravagant administration. While everything else is down, the cost of government is at or near its peak. So high has the cost of government risen in Massachusetts that it nearly equals the wages paid to those employed in Massachusetts industries. The Boston Post, commenting editorially upon Mayor Bates's speech, says:

"Our people are steadily getting poorer, while spenders run riot. Plainly, we are on the road to bankruptcy."

Let it not be supposed that for all this the present administration is responsible. Far from it. Much of our excessive debt and other burdens were inherited from past administrations. But that is no reason why the present Mayor should not be held to his pledge to eliminate waste and extravagance and to bring about "substantial retrenchments." A bulletin of the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, released May 13, 1936, gives financial statistics of cities in 1934. This bulletin shows that of all cities having populations of 500,000 or over, the per capita costs in Boston are the highest, and that, with the exception of New York and Buffalo, Boston's per capita costs are far beyond those of other comparable cities. Since these figures were published all sorts of alibis have been offered. These might be convincing, were it not for the fact that there are thirteen cities in the list. The comparison is not with a few, but with many. And every one of them shows lower per capita costs, and the average cost of all the thirteen is much lower than in Boston. If our motto is "After us the deluge," we shall go on piling operating deficit on operating deficit, and depressing with excessive taxation and excessive and unlawful assessments the property values on which we must depend for our revenue. For my own part, I am unwilling to take this course. I am unwilling to travel on a road that must inevitably lead to repudiation of our obligations both to our creditors and to our employees. I am interested in tomorrow, and next year, and the years to come, as well as in today. The budget which has been presented to us looks to today only. It fails to face the facts, and to deal effectively with the problem of retrenchment. Instead of helping to lift us out of the mire of debt and operating deficits, it leads us farther in. Tinkering will not do. A complete revision downward is necessary. The Mayor alone has the staff agencies and facilities to accomplish this object. The budget should go back to him for this purpose. With this end in view I shall vote against it.

President FITZGERALD—The question is on Councilor Norton's motion to return the budget to the Mayor with a recommendation that a million dollars be cut from it.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I propose to vote for that motion, because I feel that it is the only way to manifest our idea that some money should be taken from the present budget. I think anyone who has made a study of city finances, who has sat in with the Appropriations Committee, or who is familiar with the City Auditor's and the Budget Commissioner's figures, must come to the conclusion that the matter of taking any money out of the budget is an administrative power and cannot be handled by the Appropriations Committee of the Council or by the Council acting as a whole. I think that many of the things that Councilor Shattuck has said about the current problems of the city are absolutely true. I feel, however, that the Mayor is not to be too sharply criticized for the course he has taken upon the budget which is now before us for consideration, when one realizes the tremendous welfare costs upon the city since 1930 and the fact that for 1936 there seems to be no prospect of a reduction in our expenditure of $1,000,000 a month or $12,000,000 a year for welfare. I feel that the problem of welfare costs is one that affects probably every city and town in the United States. Only a few days ago I saw in the papers that a certain township in New Jersey would be unable to meet its coming welfare expenses and therefore might have to license everybody to beg as a pauper on the streets. We can simply hope that that situation will never prevail in Boston. But we can readily realize that that situation seriously affects the figures that are brought before us in the present budget. If reductions are to be made, there must be retrenchment in personnel, in the schools, in other departments of the city. I would regret to see that, because I have never voted to take anybody off the pay roll. But something must be done if we are going to reduce the tax rate. How much or how soon the borrowings that we have been making are going to affect the future of the city only an expert can tell us. How much money may have to be borrowed now to meet our expenses is speculative at the present time. The City Auditor was here one day and I asked him how much he expected to borrow to take care of the welfare costs. He said that he was unable at the present time to say, but he did state that if the present situation continued we must borrow, and that certainly means a higher tax rate than the tax rate that has been suggested here. As I say, the whole thing is a very difficult problem. It is almost impossible for us to single out a single department and say, "We must curtail expenses here and take so much off of the personnel." That is not a problem of the Council but of the administrative force of the city, who have the facilities at hand. Therefore, I propose to vote for this motion.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, I wish to say at the outset that I was not a member of the Appropriations Committee, but I saw fit to attend every meeting of the committee, in the interest of the people who elected me. I stated in my campaign for the City Council that I would do my utmost to keep the tax rate down, and it is my intention to do so while I am a member of the body. I think the Committee on Appropriations have done a pretty good job on this budget, in view of the fact that more secrecy surrounded the budget this year than in any other year. When Mayor Mansfield sent his budget for the City of Boston to the Council, he told the newspapers that he had cut the estimates of his departments approximately $7,500,000. If the Mayor's allowances in his budget are fair and adequate, and his reductions justified, his department heads must be an extravagant lot. Reduction of department estimates of three or four million dollars have been heard of before, but a reduction of $7,500,000 in the estimates of alleged reformers proves that there must be something wrong. Can it be that the Mansfield department heads do not know how to run their departments economically or were they tipped off to help the Mayor make a showing by boosting their estimates? The Mayor boasted that his budget was $1,786,000 less than last year. Some people believed it and wrote editorial eulogies of the Mayor for his economy. But some doubted it. It was a crushing blow to the Mayor to see who was the first to call his bluff. The Bureau of Municipal Research in the few years of its existence has not built up a reputation for sympathetic understanding of the needs of the rank and file of the people of Boston. But they are the people that the Mayor was playing up to when he said in his campaign that 65 cents out of every dollar as spent by the City of Boston was wasted. They watched the almighty dollar, and they want to make the eagle on the city dollar scream before it leaves the city treasury. Therefore, when the Bureau of Municipal Research answered the eulogies of Mayor Mansfield's economy with a sudden statement that the eulogies were not justified, it was a shock to poor Mansfield. It did not soften the shock when the Bureau used the expression "juggling" when commenting on what he had done. The Bureau said, "While the tax rate may be 'juggled' by borrowing, Boston's tax rate, without loans for current expenses, will be $42. Borrowing the huge sum of $8,100,000 for current costs would hold the rate to last year's figure of $37." Mayor Mansfield announced in January that he positively would not borrow more than $5,000,000 in 1936 to keep the tax rate down. Now the Chamber of Commerce comes into the picture with the statement that the true tax rate for 1936, as the result of the Mayor's budget (and making allowances for estimated state and metropolitan assessments and the school budget) will be $42.25. This was another shock to Mansfield. Eliot Wadsworth, the Mayor's chairman of the Sinking Fund Board, is the president of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber uses some more harsh words, such as that "The reductions were more apparent than real"; "the reduction seems inadequate"; "the nature of the reductions is disappointing and the permanence of some of them is in doubt"; "the lower estimates cannot be said to represent substantial retrenchment taken on the initiative of the Mayor"; "the only conservative conclusion that may be drawn of the tax rate situation as it now exists is that it is unsatisfactory even to the point of becoming alarming"; "a $37 tax rate with borrowing of at least $8,000,000 is a hollow achievement." The Bureau of Municipal Research says in an official statement:

"The decreased allowance for the Public Welfare Department is open to question."

In 1935, welfare expenses were $11,961,000. Mansfield allows only $10,203,000, or $1,758,000 less, despite the fact that the Welfare Department estimated a month ago that welfare payments would not be substantially less in 1936. The Mayor's cut amounted to 14.7 per cent. It was the Bureau of Research that figured that up to May 1 the cases had decreased only 6 per cent, and then the Chamber of Commerce made the point that the Public Welfare estimate of a need of at least $11,000,000 did not include any allowance for increased needs expected on account of probable changes in the status of old age assistance and Federal unemployment relief. The Chamber of Commerce points out that, apart from an unwarranted cut of $1,758,000 in the welfare item, the only other substantial cut was in the item for snow removal. Only the Almighty knows how much snow will fall before January 1. One big storm has cost Mansfield well over $1,000,000. Mansfield has put into his budget for snow an amount approximately equal to what has already been paid out in 1936. If he has one good snowfall before January 1, there is scarcely a penny in the budget to take care of it. Both Research Bureau and Chamber of Commerce point out that he spent last year $317,000 more for snow removal than he has put into this year's budget. They both say this is an item absolutely beyond his control. They say the same of the welfare needs. But both point out that, except for those two arbitrary reductions, Mayor Mansfield increased his budget for 1936 over 1935. Mayor Mansfield claims that he has reduced the budget by $1,786,000. The amount he reduced the Welfare Department takes up $1,758,000 of this, and the amount he reduced the snow removal item takes up $317,000 more. The departments whose appropriations he has cut make an interesting list. For instance, the Health Department is cut $18,637, the Hospital Department is cut $29,330, the Cemetery Department is cut $35,128, the Public Welfare is cut $1,757,422, the Sanitary Service (removal of ashes and garbage) is cut $45,077, the Soldiers' Relief Department is cut $138,541. In other words, the departments known as life and death departments are cut almost $2,000,000. It should be borne in mind that in order to keep a total reduction of $1,786,075 it was necessary to include in his reductions the full amount of the expenditure in 1935 for the Decennial Census. 1935 was the first time in ten years that this census was taken, and it cost the city $54,999. Of course, there will not be another state census until 1945, but the Mayor had to build up his total of reductions, so he put in the amount that the census cost in 1935 as a reduction in 1936. I am not criticizing the budget without offering one or two suggestions as to where the Mayor may save some money, and I will offer them in a few moments. Of course, none of us want to cut the personnel, the salaries and wages of the city employees. But there are places where reductions can properly be made. In my perusal of the budget, it appears to me that all those items that provide work for the favored contractors still remain intact. It was my understanding that the Mayor was going to stop the practice when he took office, of allowing these less than $1,000 contracts to the favored contractors. But according to the Finance Commission there is more of this kind of business going on today than ever before. But there is plenty of money in various departments and divisions for the hire of trucks. While I sat in with the Appropriations Committee I sent for the man who was supposed to have charge of the trucks that are hired by the City of Boston. These trucks are paid for at the rate of $1.50 and $1.55 an hour. There are approximately one hundred of them working today. That is an item that will run into well over $200,000 this year. That is a lot of money to hand out to favored truck owners, when we consider that last year the city spent $675,000 of its own money for trucks and other equipment. But I suppose those trucks will be allowed to accumulate rust and fall into disrepair as long as friends of the administration owning trucks are able to convince the Mayor that he should take care of them. Now, I haven't any trucks. I am not a contractor, and you cannot put a truck on unless you see somebody who is termed "the big shot." Well, I don't see "the big shot." But if the Mayor wants to reduce his budget by $200,000 he can release those trucks. I don't know what work they do for him. But that is one item. Then I have here another item. When the Police Commissioner's secretary was down here I asked how much they spent for stamps in the course of a year to notify automobile owners who were tagged, and he said approximately $12,000. Well, there is another item, Mr. President. It does seem as if some arrangement could be made which would comply with the statutes by which we could print on the back of these tags something to the effect that the owner who was tagged for parking overtime should go to such and such a place in the courthouse within forty-eight hours, and we could probably save $12,000 there. I am not going into the individual items in the budget, although there are quite a few of them that could be picked out if it would not take too much time. But I do think that a few suggestions of this type, along with the suggestions that might be made by other councilors, might indicate possible reductions that would be in line with the suggestion by Councilor Norton that the budget be cut a million dollars. I think that might readily be the result of judicious cuts, which would not interfere at all with personnel. It is a very strange thing to me that money can be found for all these purposes that I have indicated, but that when the Mayor is asked to put up a few traffic lights in front of churches and parochial schools in my district, he can't find any ready cash, and I would like to remind the Mayor that these schools are saving the City of Boston a tremendous amount of money each year in lower school costs, so that the least the Mayor and the administration should do is to provide safety devices so that the children going to and coming from those schools and churches might have a little protection from vehicles. But, while the Mayor has not been fair with me or with the people of my district, yet I feel that to vote against this budget would do more harm to our citizens and our employees than to anyone else. For that reason I am going to be fair and vote for the Mayor's budget. But I want to plainly state that I am extremely disappointed in the Mayor and his financial advisers for the sort of a budget that has been placed before us this year. I have offered some constructive suggestions which I would certainly like to see him adopt and save the City of Boston some money. There are other things that might well be looked into. Every head of a department or every individual representing a department who came before the Appropriations Committee, when you asked him what "office equipment" meant and what "office supplies" meant simply answered "stationery and stamps." I think if that item was scrutinized, we could probably save $100,000 there.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I don't believe I can add anything to what has been said but, as this is the most important matter that comes before us annually, I would like to take just a few minutes to make a statement for the record. The Mayor of Boston in the budget this year calls for an expenditure of $485,000 over what was expended last year. Let us hold that in mind. Furthermore, let us remember that the Mayor of Boston, in his campaign throughout this city, as an important plank in his platform, said, "I will reduce the city expenses. I will reduce the load, the cost on industry, that is destroying our city." I want some of the Mayor's friends here today to answer my statement to the effect that the Mayor has violated his one and most solemn pledge to the citizens of Boston in the last campaign, and that instead of reducing he is adding. We all appreciate the terribleness of this awful depression that we are in and realize the enormous need for welfare expenses. For that we cannot criticize the Mayor. But I am now talking about the expenses of the regular departments of the City of Boston, where he has had a real opportunity to cut expenses. He has not done so, but has increased them. As I say, the budget calls for expenditure of $485,000 over that of 1935. The "saving" of $1,800,000 is no saving at all, but merely a bad guess on what welfare will cost. Boston ended the year with a deficit of over $21,000,000. We now pay more for money than any large city of the state, including Fall River, Lowell, and so on. That is what the bankers think of us. Boston paid expert Carleton F. Sharpe $35 a day for a report on this budget. Where is it? Why is it hidden? The successor of the successor of the successor of the present Mayor will be paying back money the Mayor is now borrowing. The true tax rate should be $42 or more, not $37. The Mayor must stop hiding behind the prejudice against the Governor to cover up these facts brought out by experts of the Municipal Research Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce. Boston's youth must leave their home town. Unemployment will get worse. Industry cannot live in the highest taxed city of America. Boston takes over $56,000,000 out of our real estate. No city of our size takes over half of this amount. The figures for Baltimore are $27,322,000; for St. Louis, something over $29,000,000; for Cleveland, about $27,000,000; for Los Angeles, slightly less than $45,000,000; for Detroit, $54,339,000; for Philadelphia, $71,000,000, and for Chicago, less than $96,000,000. Boston's largest silk mill, employing hundreds, out my way, is just leaving. Over 700 manufacturing establishments have left Boston; over 600 buildings have been torn down to avoid taxes; there are over 200 parking spaces, where there were buildings, north of Massachusetts avenue. The member from Ward 5 has had more experience in these municipal and financial matters than the average man has in a lifetime. He was chairman of the Legislative Committee on Ways and Means and is recognized throughout the Commonwealth for his knowledge of municipal and state finance. In exact line with what he says we have the statement of the Municipal Research Bureau and of the Chamber of Commerce, but the Mayor says, "Believe me." In 1933 he borrowed on five year bonds to meet current expenses $7,600,000; in 1934, $3,800,000 on tax titles; in 1935, $7,000,000 on ten year bonds and $3,000,000 on tax titles. In 1936, to date, there have been arrangements made to borrow $6,000,000, and the chances are that the amount will run up to over $8,000,000. And all of this in face of the fact that at the first of this year he stood up and solemnly stated, "I will not borrow over $5,000,000 this year," or words to that effect. Peter Murray asks if I cannot take a joke. (Laughter.) No, I cannot when it means that hundreds of homes in my ward will be up for tax sales. I cannot take that kind of a joke. Just look around you. You can buy the Padlocks Building, the Old South Building, the Kimball Building, for 25 cents on the dollar, or less. There is no building you may look at, except the public utility buildings, that you cannot buy for much less than they are assessed for. That is the situation here. I have already referred out in our section to what is known as the silk mill, that is about to move away. It has been running out there in Hyde Park over twenty-four hours a day, employing over two hundred people, at the Hyde Park and Boston line. Because of high taxes they are leaving Boston. They are going to a place where they will be taxed free for the next five years, in a situation where they can compete with their competitors in St. Louis, Baltimore, Chicago and other cities. They cannot pay the Boston taxes and compete. Go out and look at that silk mill in Hyde Park. You will see it is working nights. But they are immediately going to move, and then what will become of the more than two hundred people who are employed there, within the next two months. They will be looking for something to do, for something to eat, and will undoubtedly wind up on welfare, at more expense to the city. The power to tax is the power to destroy. We tax the people of Boston more than they are taxed in any other large city in America, and we are going to tax still more, and drive away commerce and industry. You can then go out and walk through my district and see the deserted section, where homes will have to be given up because they cannot pay the rent. This a serious matter that is coming before the Council today. I cannot agree with the councilor from Dorchester that to vote against this budget is to hold up salaries of employees. It is like putting women and children out in front in times of warfare or riot, and saying, "Don't shoot." We who oppose this budget, these proposed expenditures, may well claim to be the best friends of city employees, their real friends. We are protecting them in protecting the finances of this city. We are their real friends, and the next few years will show it. The editor of the Post points to the thousands of families on welfare in Hoboken, New Jersey. Well, that is going to happen here with all these industries leaving us, as you know they must go and will go because of tax burdens that they cannot bear. And in the light of these facts the Mayor says, "I am saving $1,800,000." All he is doing is giving a bad guess, and where do you suppose, of all city departments, he is giving this bad guess? The welfare Department. Is there a fifteen year old boy in Boston who does not know, what we all know, that the Welfare Department this year will probably spend more than ever? Well, my time is up; my song is ended. (Applause from the galleries.)

President FITZGERALD—The galleries will kindly refrain from demonstration.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, assuming that the committee has not got available the figures that I would like to have, inasmuch as there are a few more important figures that I would like to suggest, I would move that the budget be sent to the Executive Committee, and that the Budget Commissioner be sent for.

President, FITZGERALD—The question first comes on Coun. Norton's motion to return the budget to the Mayor with a request that $1,000,000 be taken from it.

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, we have just listened to two of our colleagues who have seen fit to make some rather hectic and violent remarks detrimental to the present Mayor of Boston and the administration he is giving to this city, and they have stressed the point that the budget as submitted by the Appropriations Committee should be further reduced. I would like to give my views, just what I think of the administration conducted by our present Mayor on behalf of the people of Boston, and to take strong issue with the statements made by our colleague from Ward 18 (Coun. Norton) and also our colleague from Ward 13 (Coun. McGrath). I believe they have tried to paint a picture that is exactly opposite to the true one of Mayor Mansfield, the chief executive of this city. I, as a member of this Council, have had occasion to know that what has been going on. I am not a member of the Appropriations Committee, but I also have seen fit to attend various meetings that have been held by that committee, and I would like to challenge any member of this Council to show where one million dollars can be reduced from the budget as submitted without taking it from the personnel, the city employees of our city. I wish to stand here on my feet and say that I am absolutely opposed to any such method, because I do not believe that salary-cutting is a cure for our economic evils. Mayor Mansfield, in a sincere effort to economize and help the people of Boston, inaugurated some reductions in personnel, at the suggestion of the Municipal Bureau and other reform organizations, and I submit to the members of the Council that the amount saved was infinitesimal and absolutely of no help whatsoever. I think it would be better for the learned councilors in this body to use the intellect they have been given to make a real fight to have taxes raised by some means rather than having them placed upon the home owner and the business man of our city, so that we can get some relief in a substantial way. Until that is done, I feel that further reductions will be impossible. We are seeing a picture painted here today that is detrimental to every member of this body. We are giving the general public the idea that the matter of reducing the expenditures of our city lies in our hands. It does not. We have very little to do with it. We are simply a recommending body. The relief of the burden on the home owners of the city lies with the Legislature, and I believe if we as councilors go before them showing the necessity for the relief that the City of Boston is entitled to, a substantial way will be found to reduce our expenses. Many things have been said detrimental to our city, comparing it with Chicago, St. Louis and other cities, but any fair-minded man who knows anything about the real facts knows that Boston has done noble work in caring for the afflicted and the unemployed during this depression, has really done a better job than any other great city in the United States. Have our employees suffered what the employees of the city of Chicago have suffered, or have they suffered from conditions that prevail in Columbus, Ohio, where at the present time ten fire stations out of nineteen are closed and where the police force has been reduced? I hope the members of the Council will give serious consideration to this budget as presented and will appreciate the bureau efforts that the Mayor of Boston has made. Speaking as one who has had occasion to visit his office at times, I know that the greatest concern he has is to bring this city through a trying period. I question whether any other man could have done as well under the difficulties with which he has labored, and I think, in spite of the criticism that we have heard heaped on him by the members of the Council, we should appreciate the position he is in and help him through this trying time.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I am going to agree with what the last speaker has said. One would almost think that the worldwide depression from which we are suffering was the result of the Boston budget. Certainly there is no man here who would favor a wholesale discharge of city employees. I certainly would not want the blood of a thousand families on my hands in these days where men are practically starving to death trying to maintain their families. If there should be a cut of a million dollars in the budget, regardless of where it was to come from, it would simply mean laying off a great many employees, and perhaps reducing the tax rate 50 cents in doing it. I hope the suggestion will be defeated.

Coun. PETER J. FITZGERALD—Mr. Chairman, I do not wish to engage in controversy with any member of the Council, but, as a first-year member, although with a legislative background, I feel that I am compelled as a member of the Committee on Appropriations to say a few words. I sat here for an entire week with the other members of the committee. We went through every department, and all of us asked a number of questions, and came to the conclusion, as has been said by my colleague, that the only way in which you can reduce the budget is by the wholesale cutting of city employees. Now, why should we not, as members of the Council, not only be on the level with ourselves but with the public at large? I had the honor to sit with the gentleman from the Back Bay (Coun. Shattuck) as a member of the Legislature, and, with all due respect for him—and I have the highest respect, knowing that there is nowhere a higher minded or more conscientious representative of the public—he always, as a member of the Legislature, had the cutting complex. I can remember him as a member of the Committee on Mean Ways, as we called it years ago, he certainly did want to cut. No matter what the appropriation was, he did not always recognize the human element, but wanted to cut. As for the gentleman from Hyde Park (Coun. Norton), I have the highest regard for him as a friend and as a colleague, but I would like to have him point out where we can cut without cutting employees. As for the Chamber of Commerce and the Bureau of Municipal Research, what do they care about the human element, when it comes to cutting the amount to be received by a man who may be getting $12, $15 or $20 a week? What do they care whether he is not only maintaining his own family but may have to help others? We know that the majority of the city employees today are holding the bag for many who are depending on their salaries. The Mayor of Boston needs no defence from me, nor do I rise in his defence, but I do say from my brief experience with him—and I have not been so successful downstairs—that I consider the Mayor one of the most capable, conscientious and sincere men we have had for a long time, judged by his service in the past three years. That is more than exemplified when you take the administration of his predecessor. I am not misled by any controversy between the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Mayor. I am not interested. But I am interested in the welfare of the taxpayers and the city employees, and I shall vote against this proposed blanket million dollar cut, when the gentleman from Hyde Park does not state where he wants it to be cut.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman, through you, if he was in the Legislature during the period of the Fuller administration, when I tried to increase a number of items in the budget and was defeated through the almost unanimous opposition of the other party?

Coun. PETER J. FITZGERALD—I was there and if the gentleman will tell me about the particular items I might be able to answer. There were twenty-one departments we voted on.

Coun. SHATTUCK—When the budget came up I felt that the Governor had cut grossly a number of items. I made motions to increase a number of the items in the budget and was opposed by the members of the other party. I had more than a majority in my own party, and if it were not for the votes of his party most of the increases would have gone through.

Coun. PETER J. FITZGERALD—I would like to ask the gentleman from the Back Bay if he is referring to Alonzo Cook's department?

Coun. SHATTUCK—I think none of the proposed increases were in that department. Most of them were in the Department of Mental Diseases.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—I would like to ask the gentleman what party was in power during Fuller's administration, in the House?

President FITZGERALD—The Republican party.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—Then, his own party was not with him.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I will take just thirty seconds. We are asked, where can the Mayor cut? Nobody wants to cut faithful employees, Mr. President. But why do they insist on placing women and children out in front? The ones we are trying to get at are the contractors, the waste and extravagance that is taking place in a number of ways, the $200,000 marble walls of the cellar of Quincy Market, and so on, a million dollars can easily be saved in such ways, not touching the city employees.

Coun. Norton's motion to send the budget back to the Mayor with a request to reduce it by a million dollars was lost.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I again press my motion that the budget be sent to the Executive Committee.

The budget was referred to the Executive Committee.

REINSTATEMENT OF W. P. A. WORKERS.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with State W. P. A. Administrator Paul Edwards in an effort to bring about the reinstatement of W. P. A. workers who were discharged from the Library project on May 18, 1936.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, there has been called to my attention the fact that last Monday, May 18, some 178 persons working on the W. P. A. Library Reclassification Project, Work Number 582, were discharged from employment. That the said project was approved in December, 1935, for work to begin January 1, 1936, and to run up to and including June 30, 1936, when a new agreement would be drawn in accordance with the rules and regulations of the W. P. A. There was allocated for this project the sum of $862,980. The sum spent on the project up to May 10, 1936, $251,290.03. The sum unexpended on project as of May 10, 1936, $611,689.97. There were employed on this project approximately 1,200 persons, most of whom are working at the Earle Building, 285 Columbus avenue, where the second, fourth and fifth floors are used for the project, while some are doing work at the Central Library at Copley square, making certain preparations necessary for the carrying out of the project. There are detailed with the workers experts from the library staff, who act in an advisory capacity in arranging the operations. These workers have been performing a very valuable service according to library statisticians, having already completed the reclassification of the Shelf Work-Book Index. Here a serious problem arises; there is ample funds available to carry on the project with the workers employed, when approximately two hundred are discharged, and about 60 per cent being of Jewish faith. Why were these men and women fired? Was it because the immediate supervisor of the project has racial prejudice? If the Supervisor Boltz was responsible for the discharge of those persons and his action that of racial animosity, he should be fired. There is no room in the operation of our government, be it local or national, for anyone in authority to injure the people of any race or creed. Among those who have been discharged are some who are college graduates holding and possessing degrees of distinction and recognition. The major part of this group had been employed on the project from periods varying from one year to that of two and a half years. They had been working with men and women who had been detailed there from the library staff under expert advice. They were all by this time well trained with the tools of operation of their project and now with all the experience at their command they are fired. What is the reason in back of it all? Among those who were discharged are those persons who have two, three, four and five dependents and from cases of worthy and needy families. This is contrary to the policy of the W. P. A., which, I am informed, would first let the less needy go and keep all the worthy cases that were apt to apply for welfare assistance on the rolls as long as possible. When these persons who were discharged made inquiry as to why they were let go they received the reply of "inefficiency." Inefficient, why? Because they had been working on the project under experts in the work of indexing and reclassification for a period from one year to two and a half years? Inefficient, why? Because some had from two to five dependents? Inefficient, why? Because some had been college graduates holding several degrees? Inefficient, why? Because some belong to a political party other than that of the present administration? Inefficient, why? Because of racial discrimination? Inefficient, why? Because persons on nonrelief are kept on the job and those who will have to apply for welfare are let go? It is a sad commentary when acts of this nature are exercised against poor and needy individuals in the matter of dole being given to the persons working on the W. P. A. In the matter of employment I say it shouldn't make any difference to what race or creed a person belongs to who is seeking work or who is at work under the W. P. A. so long as it is a worthy case. It should also not make any difference as to what political party one is affiliated with; even if the person is an alien he or she should be given the same consideration, and the most worthy and deserving cases should receive preference and not be discharged because of certain racial denomination. I hate to believe that the discharge of the people on this project was aimed at racial discrimination against the persons of Jewish faith. Why were 178 persons discharged from this project with about 60 per cent of one racial group? What is the explanation for it all? Where are these persons who were discharged and their families going to turn to carry on? There is only one place and that is to apply for welfare aid to swell the rolls that are now taxing the city with an enormous burden in its operations. Think it over, gentlemen. Here we will have people applying for aid and there is still $600,000 unexpended on the project that was allocated for the work. I have already sent communications to President Roosevelt, Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, State Administrator Paul Edwards and Col. Thomas F. Sullivan to conduct an immediate investigation into the wholesale discharge of the persons who were let go on May 18 from this library project, and so that we may learn just what is back of it all. I demand the dismissal of Supervisor Boltz who has demonstrated racial prejudice. I further request the immediate reinstatement of those persons discharged in order that justice may be met.

(Applause from the galleries.)

President FITZGERALD—The Chair must remind those in the galleries that demonstrations are not permitted.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I am very glad that my colleague has brought the matter before the Council at this time. I would be the last man in the Council at any time to raise the question of racial prejudice, but it cuts me to the bone to see some of these supervisors who until recently were walking the streets of Boston with nothing to do, who by the grace of God have received positions under the W. P. A., who now exercise the opportunity that is given them to show racial bigotry and prejudice. It is not American. Those are not the kind of people we want handing out charity from our relief rolls today, and I hope those in charge, particularly Mr. Edwards, will investigate those who have been let go, and the reasons for it, so that some action may be taken in the matter.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, during the last week I have been interviewed by a number of employees who were on the library project, and I have formed the opinion that there are reasons for the discharges of people on that project which should be investigated. At the present time I understand that the discharges are under investigation by Colonel Sullivan. I happened to contact various people last week regarding these discharges, and I understand that at the present time the whole thing is up in the air. I am going to ask you to send word to Colonel Sullivan to appear before the Council this afternoon in executive session and inform us what action is being taken on that project.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. ROBERTS the Council voted, at 3.32 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by President FITZGERALD at 4.25 p. m.

ADDITIONAL HOUSING FOR CITY DEPARTMENTS.

President FITZGERALD submitted the following:

May 25, 1936.

To the Honorable City Council,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Gentlemen:

Ordered by the City Council April 27, 1936, that a Special Committee, to consist of five members of the City Council, be appointed to make a study and investigation as to the advisability of the city acquiring additional land or buildings in the vicinity of the present City Hall for the purpose of housing the departments now occupying rented quarters.

Acting upon this authority your committee interviewed departmental heads and otherwise made a thorough survey of the subject involved and begs to submit the following facts:

For several years the City of Boston has had under consideration a new City Hall. Plans were made, and different locations suggested. One plan urged removal to an uptown location, but business interests in the downtown area strongly opposed the idea, and it was abandoned. Unquestionably the present site of city administration buildings is ideal for the reason that they are easily accessible to the real heart of business activity, banks, court house, State House, and travel points.

About a year ago new plans were made for a City Hall on the site of the present structure, substantially covering the entire lot fronting on School street. An appropriation was made and plans prepared. Negotiations were then started with Federal authorities for a grant to aid in the construction. His Honor the Mayor visited Washington and laid the plans before the proper authorities in the Capitol and strongly urged Federal financial support. Federal representatives appeared here in Boston to investigate the whole matter, but the ultimate result was negligible. The grant was refused. Therefore a new City Hall seems out of the question. This statement is supported in testimony before the committee by Major Roswell G. Hall, Building Commissioner, who, in response to the question of Councilor Gallagher, "But a new City Hall is out of the question, in your opinion?" Answer: "We are not going to get it, in my opinion."

The committee further examined into the present condition in so far as space and accommodations are concerned in the different departments in and out of city owned buildings. To summarize its findings briefly, the committee has found this general complaint: "The present facilities are inadequate and over-crowding exists."

Under present existing conditions it was determined that the city is paying for permanent outside space, per year, a substantial rent, estimated by Building Commissioner Hall at $71,220 for 73,000 square feet. This rental payment has been going on for a number of years.

The committee has approached this situation from both an economical and coordinating point of view, and it is of the opinion that it would be desirable for the city to acquire quarters convenient to the present city buildings. With this idea in view, your committee has investigated buildings in the vicinity, the Houghton & Dutton Building at Beacon and Tremont streets, and the Young's Hotel property on Court street and Court square, directly opposite City Hall Annex. After an exhaustive investigation the committee has decided that the Young's Hotel property can be arranged to meet all requirements in a more satisfactory manner than any other submitted, taking into consideration the great convenience of having a building substantially adjoining the present City Hall.

The Young's Hotel property was occupied by the Federal Government during the construction of the new Federal Building, and was arranged to meet its requirements. These specifications are substantially what would meet the requirements of the city at the present time with the exception of a few alterations which can be done at a very moderate expense. The Government paid a rental of $110,000 per year.

We understand the present owners would sell this property to the city on the basis of a rental or payment of $36,000 per year for a period of fifteen years, totalling $540,000, at a low rate of interest. The property would be deeded to the city outright, and merely pay for it on a rental basis plan.

After the property has been made suitable for the city to occupy, it could then alter the old City Hall, which is now in a very dangerous state, according to the report of the Building Commissioner and other department officials.

An additional economy would be that the Young's Hotel property can be heated from the present heating plant of the City Hall Annex.

A physical connection can be made with the Annex either underground, or by an arch, such as now connects City Hall proper and the Annex.

The committee also finds that the executive quarters of the Mayor are miserably cramped, and would suggest in the alterations of the City Hall that the old aldermanic chamber be renovated and made available for mayoral conferences, and whatever other purposes his Honor would require.

It would require too much valuable time of the City Council to read the complete testimony of department heads attached to this report. Therefore, in conclusion the committee is submitting brief abstracts of testimony given by department heads:

E. W. Roemer, Building Commissioner.

"Speaking strictly according to the Building Law, the structure is unsafe today. It should be overhauled and repaired immediately."

Commissioner Keeler, Health Department.

"There is not sufficient room. The quarters are cramped."

J. F. Doherty, City Collector.

"Very much overcrowded, and not only overcrowded now, but on account of the duties we will have to perform with the addition of more tax titles, which requires a multiplicity of work and expense, the department ought to have at least one third more space. I don't know how we are going to be able to function with the limited space there is here. As a matter of fact, I ought to have the entire floor."

Hilda H. Quirk, Registrar of Vital Statistics.

"Well, the space we have does not begin to answer our needs. Our over-crowded situation is a permanent one."

Charles H. Carey, Soldiers' Relief Commissioner.

"Our department is terribly crowded, people being almost on top of each other. People come in and have to tell their stories of their cases and there is no privacy at all."

Walter A. Murray, Acting Chairman of the Board of Statistics.

"We are overcrowded in our present quarters. There are many books, documents and records which are stored in the rooms of our department, placed in locations which are not ordinarily used for storage purposes. Further than that, the location of the Statistics Department has long been such that it is inaccessible to the average person or public employee, or official, and if it were placed in a more accessible location we feel that greater use would be made of its facilities."

Edward F. Kelly, Chairman of Board of Assessors.

"In my opinion it would be advantageous for the city to purchase the Young's Hotel property if it can be bought at the right price. Such a purchase would help to stabilize assessments in that area. This property was assessed in 1928 for $1,500,000., and it is now assessed for $1,013,000."

Roswell G. Hall, Commissioner of Public Buildings.

Question by Chairman Fitzgerald "Major, do you think this Council Committee should recommend that the city take over Young's Hotel? Of course the Houghton & Dutton building would be too much of a proposition, I suppose?"

Answer—"I don't know about it being too much of a proposition. You could use every inch of it, but it is not close enough to the Hall. As far as the two locations are concerned there is no comparison. If the city could get possession of Young's we could use the building to advantage, increasing the plant that runs the elevators and heats the two buildings now. We are badly overloaded in that respect at the present time. Our elevators take a lot of power and we have to hire power for the old building here from the Edison Company, for our plant is not adequate for lighting and heating both buildings and operating the elevators. Now, if Young's Hotel should be taken I would immediately ask that I be allowed to increase the size of the plant so as to operate both Young's Hotel and these two buildings together."

Question by Chairman Fitzgerald—"You will have to do something to your heating system any way?"

Answer—"Yes, sir. We will have to increase the size of the plant, have to spend some money on it. We don't want to but we will have to. But I could make the plant sufficient by a tunnel under Young's Hotel and light it, and operate it, and operate these two buildings with it, which would be a very economical way to handle the matter. Young's Hotel of course, is right here, and we could connect it up with overhead passages right to the Annex."

In conclusion, in answering Chairman Fitzgerald's query "Any other questions of Mr. Hall? Have you anything further to say, Major?"

Answer—"No, except as far as I am concerned, I think it would be a splendid thing to take over Young's. I would like to see it done. I do not know what we would do if we were required to take care of every department here. We would not have space to take care of them all."

Question by Councillor Agnew—"You have been advocating this ever since you came into City Hall?"

Answer—"Not the purchase, but the use of it. Frankly, with every department in the city hollering for space, I don't see what we can do, unless additional accommodations are provided. We can't hire space, can't afford it."

The committee consider it advisable under all the circumstances to take over the Young's Hotel property if advantageous arrangements can be made, and recommend that this report and the testimony obtained be printed as a city document, and referred to his Honor the Mayor for such action as he may deem advisable.

For the Committee,

JOHN I. FITZGERALD, Chairman.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, I would like to say that, as member of the committee, I could not attend any of the meetings of the committee. I have, however, read certain parts of the reported hearings, in which it appeared that, for substantially the same rental now paid by certain departments whose rent we are obliged to pay outside of City Hall, quarters of our own could be obtained which could be used for the same purpose, the rental also to be considered a part of the purchase price. This would seem to be a very advantageous arrangement. But the trouble, as I see it, with the present Young's Hotel, is that it would cost a good deal to put it in shape for the purposes intended. I have not gone into it at all, but I shall be glad to go along with the committee, subject to that reservation.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, hearing that report at the present time, the price at which this property could be purchased has not been made altogether clear to me. If I understand correctly, it would be acquired under annual installments of $36,000 over a period of fifteen or twenty years. Whether that would be the only price, or whether there would be capital stock that also would have to be paid for, was not clear to me.

President FITZGERALD—That was the figure submitted to the committee—that they would lease the property for the sum of $36,000 annually for twenty years, and that the city would then own the property or that the city could make a cash offer for it, which would then be subject to consideration. However, our suggestion is simply that this be published as a document, and it can then be read and considered.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Well, I understand that that is the only proposition up to the present time, that there shall be an annual payment of $36,000 for fifteen years, the title to pass at the end of that time, although I suppose it might be possible to make some other satisfactory agreement.

President FITZGERALD—Yes. The report was accepted, and the report and the hearings ordered printed as a city document.

Coun. NORTON—Now, just where are we at?

President FITZGERALD—This is simply a recommendation, and the Mayor can submit his conclusions to the Council.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—Mr. President, I raise a point of order, that the order has been passed.

Coun. NORTON—I simply wish to rise to a point of information. What opportunity will there be for the Council to have the benefit of the advice, for example, of the Boston Real Estate Exchange on this matter?

President FITZGERALD—Well, the Mayor has to send his conclusions to the Council.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. GALLAGHER, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on petitions (referred today) for children under fifteen years of age to appear at places of public amusement, viz.:

Anna M. Greene, Current Events Hall, May 23, Mary Magee, Highland Hall, June 5, Veronica R. Sheridan, Repertory Theatre, June 17, Mary Campbell, Jordan Hall, June 10, Edna V. Sheehan, Whitton Hall, June 11, Orin F. Gallagher, Mechanics Hall, June 3, Shirley Ruby, Shubert Theatre, June 2, Frances Barber, J. J. Williams Hall, May 28, recommending that leave be granted under usual conditions.

Report accepted, leave granted under usual conditions.

2. Report on message of Mayor and order (referred today) authorizing acceptance of piano for Faneuil Hall from Massachusetts Department Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted, said order passed.

3. Report on annual budget (referred today)—recommending that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the appropriation orders.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, I shall be very brief, because I realize that probably this year, as in many previous years, the proper arrangements have been made and the necessary votes will be available when the roll is called. But, in order that my own position in voting against this budget may be a matter of record, there are one or two items to which I wish to refer. I notice that the chairman of the committee repeated the inference that might be drawn from the Mayor's message as set forth in the City Record of May 9, to the effect that the budget represented a slash in the expense of running the City of Boston. Of course, the figures as I see them justify no such conclusion. The budget, as submitted by the Mayor, appears to me to be largely just a make-shift arrangement. We are permitted to figure the various departments on a hidden ball play. Even the procedure of previous years has not been followed, because in the years during which I have been a member of the Council, and in two of which I have been chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, according to my memory there have always been, besides the detailed figures of the original department estimate in one column and the allowances as submitted by the Mayor in another column, columns showing the figures for the previous three years. This year we do not even have that information, and at least one department head at a meeting at which I was present admitted that the figures submitted for his department were figures as long ago as November, 1935, since which time nothing further was done in regard to them. As the Budget Commissioner informed us in committee meeting, the City of Boston hid its head in the sand so far as any expected tunnel deficit this year is concerned, and, of course, there will be one. We are asked also to forget what the Public Works Commissioner, Mr. Carven, told us would be inevitable—namely, that the Water Division would show a deficit running from $400,000 to $500,000 this year. We are asked further in voting for this budget to accept the prima facie case that there has been a slash chiefly effected by making ourselves believe—the wish being father to the thought—that the Public Welfare expense this year will run to about $8,175,000, and we are asked to believe that despite the Mayor's insistence in the City Record of May 9, in the message in which he considers the budget:

"In view of the continuing heavy demand for public welfare which the Federal Work Relief program has reduced only to a limited degree, it is improbable that a reduction in last year's tax rate can be accomplished unless the Commonwealth should enact legislation prior to the declaration of the rate, giving substantial relief to the municipalities of the Commonwealth."

And yet we have the administration telling us of hopes for a substantial reduction this year in this most important item of the budget in the face of that statement and of an allowance last year of $11,162,000-odd and an actual expenditure of $11,924,000-odd. I suppose, of course, some members of the Council will hide behind the Mayor, who has recently been referred to as a big man in a big place. However that may be, he is not big enough to hide behind so far as the taxpayers of the City of Boston are concerned, and I certainly do not want to be put on record as one of doubtful mentality by endeavoring to cheat the public into thinking that the budget we are voting on today is a slash, or even a fair attempt at producing such a budget as we should have in these hard times. I want to be put on record as saying this year that we have set up here before us a budget, by the administration of the City of Boston, something that simply represents so much window dressing. We have a budget that is not comparable with the budget figures of previous years. It is not a budget on which we even have a report of the Finance Commission, because, for the first time in my memory, it was not even submitted to that commission for a report. We have no figures from other agencies of the City of Boston. We are simply asked to vote on a budget that is guesswork at best, and I cannot help thinking of the words of one of the councilors who, in endeavoring to defend the Mayor, asked the members whether they would wish to live in Chicago or in Columbus, Ohio; to which, of course, the obvious response is that if we continue in the way in which we are going we will soon find ourselves in the unfortunate position of Chicago and of Columbus, Ohio, without even expressing the wish. In regard to the city employees, of course I am aware that the perfect cry against any man voting against the budget is that he is attacking city employees, and that the only way to cut the budget is to reduce salaries and fire employees. But I wish to say there are other items which could be eliminated or reduced without touching city employees. In that connection I might refer to raises in the Mayor's office—and God bless them for getting them! But that is one point that suggests itself, where there has been an increase. Also, what about reducing the number of the 80-odd constables? And let us remember, when we are talking about Chicago, Columbus and other cities, the history of Chicago, where school teachers worked for months without pay, and where in Chicago they had to resort to scrip and other devices with which to pay salaries of the city. Just as sure as there is a God in heaven, if we continue passing the kind of budget we do, borrowing large amounts of money to pay our current yearly expenses, as we have done for the last two or three years, the day will come when some Governor will place two or three men in charge of the affairs of the City of Boston, and the first thing those men will do will be to cut off the heads of 30 or 40 per cent of the city employees and slash the salaries of the 50 or 60 per cent left. So I agree with Councillor Norton of Hyde Park—as I do more often than I disagree with him—that members of the Council who vote with an eye to the economic safety of the City of Boston are the men who are saving the necks of the city employees, although they may not realize it at the time. I am inclined to the belief that more than one employee of the City of Boston knows that if we do go down in the wreckage of the depression, he may be among the first who will suffer; and then perhaps the employees of the city may look back to the day when the minority members of the Council had the courage and foresight to vote against such a fake budget as we have before us today.

Coun. GALLAGHER—Mr. President, for eight years I have sat here and listened annually to such discussions as we have heard today and with considerable respect for what has been said on both sides. But, Mr. President, what is there that we can do to reduce the budget? The budget was sent in to us about three weeks ago involving appropriations for city departments aggregating $48,000,000 and containing something like 3,300 items. We have not had the time to go over the budget in a businesslike way. There is not a man sitting in the body who is not in favor of reducing the budget if it can be consistently done. This body will be held responsible, but that is not fair. We have not had sufficient time. I want to reduce the budget, and I want to praise Councilor Norton for the stand he has taken in the last eight years. I would be glad to see his efforts bear fruit. But what are we going to do with this budget? We are told that unless we pass it on or before June 1st city departments will cease to function. You talk about reducing the budget by $1,000,000. I would be willing to do that if I could give sufficient time to go over the thing and see where, if possible, reductions might be made. But how can we do it in such a short time, dealing with lump-sum figures? Now, gentlemen, let us be fair. This budget was sent in here for us to pass after three weeks' investigation. Have we had the time we should have? If we were business men and a $38,000,000 proposition were put up to us, do we think we would pass on it in three weeks? I am of the opinion that the citizens of Boston, together with the city employees, must get together on this matter. I heard some applause from the gallery this afternoon in response to one of the councilors' thoughts. I venture to say that 99 per cent of those applauding have been anxious to get an increase of pay or to have a job, the result of which would be to increase the budget or help to keep it of its present size. So what are we going to do? I have had the pleasure of sitting here with these men and am of the opinion that they are strictly honest, and I know that their opinions have been helpful. So let some of these men, let the citizens of Boston, get together and help on this matter. It has been suggested that we are paying out more money at the present than we have for some little time. Of course, our city, like every city, is disturbed about its finances. But there is nothing for us to do, as far as I can see, until something is presented in this body, something constructive, that will be of some real help as regards cutting the budget.

Coun. NORTON—Would an amendment be in order to pass the budget for six months, say from January to June?

President FITZGERALD—No, that would be out of order.

Coun. NORTON—We must pass it as it is?

President FITZGERALD—Or reduce it.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, it seems to me the members of the committee have given one of the best arguments this afternoon for sending the budget back to the Mayor. The last speaker says that there are 3,300 items and that there has been no opportunity to study them. He admits that undoubtedly there are many that ought to be reduced. Well, let the Mayor do it. That is his business. He has a staff and a lot of clerks. Let him do it, and take the responsibility. Let him do the work right, and then send the budget back to us.

Coun. GALLAGHER—Mr. President, if my memory serves me rightly I introduced an order several times that the Mayor, in going over the figures for the present year, invite the committee in to discuss them with him. But that was not done, and there is not time to do that now. Most of the departments on June 1st, if the budget is not passed, will be without their money. Now, I would like to see the budget and the tax rate reduced, and the only way to achieve that result is by cutting down our appropriations. I am of the opinion that the time is not far off when it will have to be done. But we have not had time to do it. The time for that is six months before the date of the passage of the budget. That might have been done if the Mayor had invited the committee in with him to go over the figures.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, I would like to ask if the members of the City Council who criticize the budget would be willing to introduce an order asking that the budget pertaining to the salaries of city employees be reduced? Are they willing to stand on that platform? Why don't they come out in the open and say that the only way to reduce the budget is to cut the salaries of all city employees, and let them stand on an order that they will introduce to that effect?

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, in my speech I made a suggestion whereby we could cut $300,000 from the budget, and I am not in favor of cutting any city employee. Stop the practice of allowing these less-than-$1,000 contracts to the favored contractors. I think we could probably save $100,000 there, and $250,000 to $300,000 on trucks that we don't need. Then there is the possible saving of $12,000 on stamps in the Police Department, to which I have referred, and such items as the $5,400 or $5,500, at $200 a week, paid to Farnham for his work on the Finance Commission, when he obtained certain information that he wanted in regard to Dolan. Then there was the matter of taking $12,000 more out of the Reserve Fund, which I think is unconstitutional in view of what I have heard my brother Wilson say to the effect that we would have to have $162,000 provided in the budget before we could make these loans. But the $12,000 went through, making $18,000 right there on the Dolan case. So there are those amounts which could readily be considered, with the $200,000 or $250,000 for trucks, and $12,000 for stamps for the Police Department. There is almost $300,000 there. There is a suggestion. Cut out such items, and do not touch the city employees. But such orders as Councilor Norton introduces here do not tend to reduce our expenditures.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, I wonder if it would be possible to get the report made on this budget by one of the outstanding people in that line, Mr. Carleton F. Sharpe, who made a report on this budget. Where is it? I would like to know if we can get that report.

Coun. MELLEN—Mr. President, I heartily agree with the chairman of the Committee on Appropriations with regard to action upon the budget, but I am going to ask the body to vote separately on the Charlestown Municipal Court budget, for this reason. There are two schools of thought in regard to the court situation over there in my district, one of which is that there has been no position vacated, because the Court's approval was not given to the promotion of the assistant clerk. Saturday afternoon, I understand, the Justice did approve of that promotion, thereby creating, even in his opinion, a vacancy in the position of clerical assistant and that would allow for the payment of salary to the clerical assistant appointed to fill the vacancy, except for the fact that in executive session the other day the representative of the Law Department said he tended toward the position, although he was not sure, that the clerical assistant had to be approved by the presiding judge. If that were so, it would leave Mr. Buckley in the same position that he was in before Mr. Flaherty became assistant clerk. In other words, there may be grounds for not paying Mr. Buckley even though the clerk appointed him clerical assistant, on account of the position of the representative of the Law Department, that he did not know whether the clerk had the right to appoint the clerical assistant without the approval of the judge. In the meantime there will be a pay day by the first of June, but in the meantime we will not know whether the Court will concur with the clerk in Mr. Buckley's appointment. Therefore, I am going to ask that the Charlestown Municipal Court appropriation be voted upon separately, and that it be reduced by 50 per cent.

President FITZGERALD—I would state that it seems to be plain, under the statute, that the clerk does have power to appoint the clerical assistants without the approval of the judge.

The budget, with the exception of the appropriation for the Charlestown Municipal Court, was passed, yeas 17, nays 4:

Yeas—Coun. Agnew, Brackman, Doherty, Finley, John I. Fitzgerald, Peter J. Fitzgerald, Gallagher, Gleason, Kerrigan, Kilroy, McGrath, Mellen, George A. Murray, Peter A. Murray, Rosenberg, Selvittella, Tobin—17.

Nays—Coun. Norton, Roberts, Shattuck, Wilson—4.

The question then came on reducing the budget item for the Charlestown Municipal Court by 50 per cent.

Coun. SHATTUCK—Mr. President, I rise to a point of order. If reduction of the appropriation for the Charlestown Municipal Court by 50 per cent is in order, would not a motion for a reduction of 50 per cent in the entire budget be in order?

Coun. WILSON—We have just voted to pass the rest of the budget.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will rule that the appropriation for the Charlestown Municipal Court may be reduced item by item.

Coun. AGNEW—I don't understand it in that way. I understand that the effect of the motion would be to give the Charlestown Municipal Court an appropriation for six months.

President FITZGERALD—That is out of order. The only thing you can do is reduce, and the Chair will say that if you should reduce that appropriation by 50 per cent there will be no money left for the Charlestown Municipal Court for the rest of the year. They have already used up practically 50 per cent, and will have to work without money until next November or December.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I don't know what the purpose of the councilor is in offering this motion. I just heard the motion to reduce the appropriation for the Charlestown Municipal Court 50 per cent.

Coun. MELLEN—Mr. President, I shall be glad to explain it. Here was the situation that did exist over there. There was a vacancy created of assistant clerk. The procedure in filling was that the clerk appointed an assistant clerk, which appointment, however, we were told should have the approval of the presiding justice. That approval was not given until last Saturday. But now that position has been filled. That meant if there is any ground for the possibility suggested by the Assistant Corporation Counsel, that the judge's approval may be necessary in the appointment of the clerical assistants, that there will be only one clerical assistant in the Charlestown Municipal Court. The judge now having approved, I understand, of the appointment of the assistant clerk, according to the general view, as I understand it, the clerk would have the right to himself appoint the clerical assistant. But if that position cannot be filled without the approval of the justice, also, there would be no vacancy and consequently the clerk could not put in the clerical assistant. As I say, I believe last Saturday morning the judge did approve of the assistant clerk, Mr. Flaherty, thereby creating a vacancy in the position of clerical assistant. Following the ordinary procedure the clerk could then appoint Mr. Buckley as clerical assistant, but there seems to be some doubt about that according to the opinion given by the Assistant Corporation Counsel to the committee, that there was possibly necessity of the justice approving the appointment to the position of clerical assistant. Therefore, there is still a question whether Mr. Buckley can draw pay, the thing still hangs in the air, and I am therefore asking that the Council hold up 50 per cent of the budget of the Charlestown Municipal Court; the reason being this, that between now and the first of June there is a pay day and on that day Mr. Buckley's name would naturally go on the pay roll signed by the clerk. If, however, there is any foundation for the feeling that the Court would have to approve of that appointment, Mr. Buckley might not get his pay. If the justice signed it, I am satisfied that Mr. Buckley will receive his pay; if not, the matter will have to go to Court. Therefore, I would like to have the appropriation for that court cut 50 per cent, until we see what the situation there is going to be.

Chairman FITZGERALD—The Chair would state that, as he understands, Mr. Buckley can be and has been appointed by the clerk, and that the approval of the Court for that appointment is not necessary.

Coun. MELLEN—Well, the representative of the Law Department was under the impression the other day as to whether the appointment by the clerk of the clerical assistant, without the approval of the judge, was sufficient.

President FITZGERALD—Well, the Chair is not in doubt.

Coun. MELLEN—I understood it was a moot question whether the justice had to confirm the appointment of the clerical assistant by a clerk of the court.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I would suggest that the matter lie on the table for a week.

President FITZGERALD—No, we cannot do that. We have to pass it, because the tax rate has to be out the first of June, and I understand that there will not be sufficient money to run the court if this 50 per cent cut in this budget is made.

Coun. ROBERTS—Mr. President, it is a fact that, if we do reduce the budget of the Charlestown Court 50 per cent, the probation officers, judge and other attendants of the court would go without the salaries provided by law?

President FITZGERALD—I will say that that is so. The question comes on Councilor Mellen's motion.

Coun. AGNEW—I would like to have the Chair explain so that the members can understand what predicament the Charlestown Court would be in if we accept Councilor Mellen's motion, just what the situation is. Of course, we understand Councilor Mellen's point, but I don't think we would want to penalize the other employees of the court.

President FITZGERALD—If we should refuse this appropriation by 50 per cent, there would be no money for the employees of the court until November or December.

Coun. MELLEN—Of course, I don't want to inflict any hardship on the employees of the court, but I understand that if before the next pay day the judge does not sign Mr. Buckley's name on the pay roll Mr. Buckley cannot get his money. The others, however, can get theirs by attachment of funds, can they not?

President FITZGERALD—I would say that the clerk of the court has full power to appoint the clerical assistant, Mr. Buckley, and that he has already appointed Mr. Buckley. It seems to me that that settles the matter.

Coun. MELLEN—Well, that is not the point as I see it. The Law Department are not clear as to the absoluteness of the clerk's power in the matter, thinking that it may rest with the presiding justice.

President FITZGERALD—It is not an undecided question. It is a question that has been decided in the past, and the clerk does have the power to appoint the clerical assistant.

Coun. MELLEN—If in your opinion, Mr. President, there is no danger of Mr. Buckley not being paid, I withdraw that motion.

The appropriation for the Charlestown Municipal Court was passed as submitted, yeas 20, nays 0.

4. Report on order (referred today) that Mayor confer with State W. P. A. Administrator to bring about reinstatement of W. P. A. workers discharged from Library project—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted, said order passed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON JITNEY LICENSES.

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY, for the Committee on Jitney Licenses, submitted the following:

Report on order petition (referred April 6) of Boston Elevated Railway to run motor vehicles between Columbia Station and Franklin Park Station—recommending that leave be granted.

Report accepted, leave granted under usual conditions.

CONFIRMATION OF CONSTABLES.

Coun. AGNEW—Mr. President, for the Committee on Constables, I would call up, under unfinished business, No. 2 on the calendar, the name of Thomas Cannizzaro, appointed by the Mayor on April 13, 1936, as a constable authorized to serve civil process upon filing bond.

The question came on confirmation of the appointment of Thomas Cannizzaro. Committee, Coun. Gallagher and Mellen. Whole number of ballots 19, yes 19, and the appointment was confirmed.

ADDITIONAL ALLOWANCE TO WELFARE RECIPIENTS FOR COAL AND OIL.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Overseers of the Public Welfare Department be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to eliminate future contracts for the supply of coal and fuel oil to welfare recipients, and to substitute therefor a sufficient additional allowance in the budget of said recipients to permit of the individual purchase of coal and oil for their needs.

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, I have introduced this order at this time as a means of preventing any further agitation with regard to coal and oil furnished to welfare recipients. I have been informed by men who are more versed in social service work in the city and state for a great many years than I am, that unless our present system is changed, we will always continue to have this same agitation. Anybody who has had experience with the way in which coal and oil have been furnished to the welfare recipients for some time knows something about the short weight and poor quality of coal furnished. At the present time in our city the welfare recipients are paid an allowance for food, light and rent, with the distinct understanding that the money furnished them shall be used for such purposes as in the opinion of well informed men there is no good reason why in cold weather a sufficient allotment cannot be made for these welfare recipients to buy their coal and oil in the same manner. I believe it would be an effective remedy, once and for all preventing further agitation and the smirching of some honorable men which we have recently witnessed in connection with this matter.

The order was referred to the Committee on Public Welfare.

JOYCE KILMER PARK.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to name the Recreational Park on Centre street, West Roxbury, opposite the Veterans of Foreign Wars Highway, the "Joyce Kilmer Park," in honor of America's Soldier Poet of that name.

Coun. FINLEY—Mr. President, the particular park referred to is located on Centre street, directly opposite the Veterans of Foreign Wars Highway, and adjacent to the Arnold Arboretum. It is an ideal spot for a recreational park and will be a fine addition to our playgrounds when it is completed under the supervision of Mr. Long of the Park Department. I think it very appropriate that we should name the park after Joyce Kilmer, the great American soldier and poet, and I am offering the order at the suggestion of the Joyce Kilmer Legion Post.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WEIS-PENTZ SQUARE.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Ordered, That the space at the intersection of Washington and Fairmount streets, Dorchester, be named Weis-Pentz square, in honor of John Frederick Weis and Virgil Carpenter Pentz, two veterans of the World War, who lost their lives in the service of their country.

Coun. WILSON—Mr. President, this order is offered at this time at the request of the Thomas J. Roberts Post of the American Legion. It is their suggestion that this particular square be given this double name in honor of these Dorchester boys both of whom were killed in the World War, and the Park Department can have two gold stars at the single location.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

OLD HARBOR POINT TERMINAL.

Coun. WILSON offered the following:

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston strongly approves the proposed plan for the construction of a dock and the creation of a ship terminal at Old Harbor Point in Dorchester.

President FITZGERALD—The order will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Coun. WILSON—Well, Mr. President, I would ask for a roll call on that.

President FITZGERALD—This is a matter with which the Council has nothing directly to do, and under the rules it must be referred to the Committee on Rules. You are on that committee and can take care of it.

Coun. WILSON—I will take your suggestion, Mr. President. The Council has already voted affirmatively on the same subject. We will try to have it in next Monday, as it is getting late today.

PROHIBITION OF AUTO PARKING, GALLIVAN BOULEVARD.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to prohibit the parking of automobiles on both sides of Gallivan Boulevard, between Adams street and Cushing Hill road, Ward 16.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PERSONS LAID OFF FROM W. P. A.

Coun. BRACKMAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to request the Governor of the Commonwealth to absorb as soon as possible into P. W. A. those persons laid off from W. P. A. in Boston.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, there have been a great number laid off under W. P. A., and I understand from Colonel Sullivan that we have the unfortunate news that on Friday more will be laid off. We have no more W. P. A. projects in Boston, and the only hope for those working on W. P. A. in Boston is to be absorbed in some of the state P. W. A. projects. I am therefore urging the Mayor, as quickly as he can, to take the action suggested, with a view to having the men laid off here under W. P. A. absorbed into the P. W. A.

LIGHTING FACILITIES, WARD 14.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install better lighting facilities at the intersection of Columbia road and Ceylon street, Ward 14, for the protection and safety of the hundreds of children who go to the Ceylon Street Playground for recreation, which is in this immediate vicinity.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

NATIONAL PUBLIC PARKS CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Coun. ROSENBERG offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider their action in canceling the staging of the National Public Parks Championship Tennis Tournament in Boston during this coming August.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I shall be very brief. This order requests the Park Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, to reconsider its action in canceling the staging of the National Public Parks Championship Tennis Tournament in Boston during this coming August. On several occasions I have written and asked the Park Commissioner to stage this tournament on Franklin Field. There has been a lot of bickering back and forth in connection with the Harvard Stadium and otherwise, and after talk with the director—

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—Mr. President, I doubt the presence of a quorum.

President FITZGERALD—The Chair will rule that a quorum is present.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, Boston being the sixth largest city in the country, it seems strange that we cannot stage this tennis tournament of the National Public Parks Association in Boston. I would call attention to the fact that for many years our Park Commissioner and the Mayor have been inviting the tournament to come here, and it seems now that we have to turn it back—

Coun. PETER A. MURRAY—Mr. President, I still doubt the presence of a quorum, and I would ask for a roll call.

(A roll call showed that a quorum was in attendance.)

Coun. ROSENBERG—It seems too bad that now it should be turned back, after all the efforts that have been made. I understand that the President of the National Public Parks Tennis Tournament is the Park Commissioner of the city of Buffalo. It does seem, after going out and inviting this tournament to come to Boston, that something should be done to have it staged on Franklin Field, which is accessible and can be used for that purpose. I therefore ask for reconsideration of the action canceling the staging of the tournament here during this coming August, so that the matter may be referred to the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, and efforts may be made to find ways and means of having that tournament in Boston.

The order was referred to the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. MELLEN, at 5.23 p. m., to meet on Monday, June 1, 1936, at 2 p. m.

(FROM THE ELIGIBLE LIST)

The following appointment was presented by the Superintendent:

(To fill vacancy caused by promotion)

Department of Music—Joseph A. Trongone, assistant director, May 25, 1936.

Question came on the approval of the foregoing appointment.

Dr. Mackey: I wish to go on record as opposing that appointment as I feel that the man is a non-resident.

Chairman: We have had a report—

Dr. Mackey: It is a question of opinion. My understanding is that he is not a resident and therefore I wish to go on record as voting against a non-resident of Boston.

Mr. Smith: I have looked into Mr. Trongone's record of residence for the past four years and I am convinced that Mr. Trongone is a bona fide resident of Boston, and was as of March 27, 1933.

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, in making a report to the School Committee in favor of Mr. Trongone's residence I was guided by the opinion given verbally by the Corporation Counsel and his assistant who went over all the evidence in the case.

Dr. Mackey: These are the facts and this is a matter of record, that there has been question as to where the man actually lives and has lived. In other words, he is living in Medford or Malden or somewhere else?

Superintendent: No. If I knew that to be so, I should have so reported.

Dr. Mackey: It is a matter of record, isn't it, Mr. Campbell, that we don't know where he has been living—there is a question whether he has been living in the Back Bay or elsewhere?

Chairman: I don't think that is a fair statement.

Dr. Mackey: I have a right to my opinion. I say that the man is a non-resident.

Chairman: Then it comes down to a difference of opinion.

Dr. Mackey: Undoubtedly. Therefore I am voting "No."

Mr. Tobin. In view of the fact that Dr. Mackey is so thoroughly convinced that the gentleman is a non-resident, I move that the nomination be withdrawn tonight and that Dr. Mackey be given opportunity to present any evidence he may have as to the non-residence of Mr. Trongone. I have been convinced that he is a resident. In order that Dr. Mackey may be allowed sufficient time to present any evidence to the contrary, I move that the nomination be withdrawn.

Dr. Mackey: I second that motion.

Dr. Lyons: As I am prepared to vote in favor of approval of Mr. Trongone's appointment, I wish to state that I had views similar to Dr. Mackey's at one time. Both numbers one and two on the list were presented to us as questionable whether they were residents or non-residents. I looked carefully into the matter of Mr. Trongone's residence and I reached the conclusion that, so far as I was concerned, he has met the residence requirement.

Dr. Mackey: It is questionable whether or not he is a resident. As a matter of fact he seems to have had three or four residences.

Dr. Lyons: I am ready to vote to approve the appointment and not for any postponement of action.

Chairman: I, too, am ready to vote for approval. The question is on Mr. Tobin's motion that the nomination of Joseph A. Trongone as assistant director of music, as presented this evening, be withdrawn in order to give Dr. Mackey opportunity to present any evidence he may have that Mr. Trongone is a non-resident.

In answer to roll call the members voted as follows:

Dr. Lyons: No.

Dr. Mackey: Yes.

Mr. Smith: I vote "yes" just to give Dr. Mackey an opportunity to present any evidence that he would like to present at this late date on the question, whether or not this man is a resident of Boston.

Dr. Mackey: I feel that in so far as we have established a regulation that only residents of Boston shall be appointed to our service, it is the duty of the Committee to carry out that regulation.

Chairman: I think the Committee is in accord there. We are voting on Mr. Tobin's motion, Doctor.

Mr. Tobin: Yes.

Chairman: No.

Mr. Tobin: In so voting I am convinced that this appointment is within the spirit and letter of the residence regulation, but when a member of the Committee makes a statement such as Dr. Mackey has made, I believe he should be given opportunity to present that evidence.

Superintendent: For some time the Superintendent carried on an investigation to determine Mr. Trongone's residence and his first thought was that the man clearly was a resident; then further investigation brought some doubt upon it. We investigated further and finally the Superintendent brought the whole matter before the School Committee. The Committee concurred in the opinion that Mr. Trongone was and is a resident and therefore the Superintendent has presented his name.

Dr. Mackey: I never agreed with you on the question, Mr. Campbell. I have said always that the man is a non-resident.

The Chairman declared Mr. Tobin's motion for withdrawal of the nomination carried and asked Dr. Mackey to bring in any evidence of non-residence that he may have.

Further discussion was ruled out of order since the nomination of Mr. Trongone was not then before the Committee.

BUDGET AND ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ORDER FOR MAINTENANCE EXCLUSIVE OF "ALTERATIONS, REPAIRS, FURNITURE AND FIXTURES"

The Business Manager submitted, in compliance with the rules, the budget and annual appropriation order.

To the School Committee of the City of Boston:

In compliance with the Rules of the School Committee, I submit herewith budget and annual appropriation order for the fiscal year 1936 to provide for the maintenance of the Boston Public Schools covering the cost of administration, instruction, supervision of instruction, promotion of health, custodians' services, fuel and light, supplies, equipment and incidentals; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses, exclusive of "Alterations, repairs, furniture and fixtures."

Chapter 206 of the Special Acts of 1919 as amended allowed the School Committee a tax limit appropriating power, based on the average valuation for three years less abatements, controlling nine specific items. Chapter 206 also gave the Committee power to appropriate unexpended balances and estimated income (refer to budget for the year 1935 and budgets for years prior thereto).

Chapter 284 of the Acts of 1935 eliminated tax limit appropriations for the year 1935 only and allowed the School Committee to appropriate for that year $10.07 on each one thousand dollars of the Assessors' valuation of taxable property for the year 1935, and in addition thereto, the unexpended balances and the estimated income.

Chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 eliminated tax limit appropriating power based on average valuation for three years for all items except the following:

(1) For the construction and furnishing of new school buildings, both temporary and permanent, including the taking of land therefor, and for schoolyards and the preparing of schoolyards for use, and for rent of hired school accommodations (50 cents per $1000 on average valuation for three years less abatements.)

(2) For the alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection for existing buildings, and for improving existing schoolyards (85 cents per $1,000 on average valuation for three years less abatements).

For all other school purposes, except as indicated above, chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 provides for the following appropriating power:

(1) The sum of $15,160,000.
(2) The unexpended appropriation balances at the end of 1935.
(3) Estimated income for the year 1936 plus the excess of income for the previous year, if any.

The 1936 appropriating power is covered in sections, 1, 2 and 3 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 set forth below. The final paragraph in section 2 of said chapter 224 reads as follows: "Nothing in this section shall prevent the mayor, on request of the School Committee, from recommending and the city council from passing additional appropriations for school purposes." Under the provisions of prior legislation going back over a long period of years, the School Committee was empowered to appeal directly to the Legislature for increased appropriating power.

CHAPTER 224 OF THE ACTS OF 1936
An Act relative to appropriations for school purposes in the city of Boston and to certain statutory tax and school appropriation limits for said city, and making applicable to said city the general provisions of law relative to municipal indebtedness.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Section 1. Section fifty-three of Part 1 of chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, as amended, and as affected by section two of chapter two hundred and sixty-seven of the Special Acts of nineteen hundred and sixteen, and all other acts and parts of acts imposing any tax limit in said city, and also so much of chapter two hundred and six of the Special Acts of nineteen hundred and nineteen, as amended, and so much of any other act or acts as imposes any limitation upon the amount of appropriations that may be made by the school committee of said city, are hereby repealed.

Section 2. The school committee of the city of Boston may annually, beginning with the financial year nineteen hundred and thirty-six, by vote of four fifths of all its members, taken by yeas and nays, make appropriations to be raised by taxation as follows: a. For the construction and furnishing of new school buildings, both temporary and permanent, including the taking of land therefor, and for school yards and the preparing of school yards for use, and for rent of hired school accommodations, a sum which shall not exceed fifty cents on each one thousand dollars of the average of the assessors' valuations for the three preceding years, such valuations being reduced by abatements granted up to December thirty-first of the preceding year. b. For the alteration and repair of school buildings and for furniture, fixtures, and means of escape in case of fire, and for fire protection of existing buildings, and for improving existing school yards, a sum which shall not exceed eighty-five cents on each one thousand dollars of the average of the assessors' valuations for the three preceding years, such valuations being reduced by abatements granted up to December thirty-first of the preceding year. c. For all other school purposes, the sum of fifteen million one hundred and sixty thousand dollars. Unexpended appropriation balances may be re-appropriated for their respective purposes; and, in addition to the said sum of fifteen million one hundred and sixty thousand dollars, an amount equal to the money that may be given, and the income collected, for school purposes, as estimated by said committee, may be appropriated for the purposes of paragraph c. Nothing in this section shall prevent the mayor, on request of the school committee, from recommending and the city council from passing additional appropriations for school purposes.

Section 3. The votes of the school committee of said city making appropriations as aforesaid shall have the same force and effect as orders or votes of the city council thereof appropriating money, and shall be subject to the same provisions of law in respect to approval by the mayor, except that a vote of four fifths of all the members of the school committee, taken by yeas and nays, shall be necessary to pass such appropriations over the veto of the mayor. All appropriations to be raised by taxation made by the school committee of said city shall be certified by said committee to the board of assessors thereof not later than May first in each year and the assessors shall include the same in the levy of that year.

The above three sections of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 quoted in full refer to school appropriation limits.

Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, affect the city of Boston in respect to municipal indebtedness and cover objects for which debt may be issued, the term for which each particular debt may be issued and requirements that a certain fraction of each proposed loan shall be included in the tax levy. Section 12, the last section in said chapter 224, provides that the act shall take effect upon its passage.

It is not deemed advisable to quote these sections from 4 to 12, inclusive, in full. Details may be obtained by reference to the act itself.

ESTIMATED TOTAL MONEY AVAILABLE FOR MAINTENANCE (EXCLUSIVE OF ALTERATIONS, REPAIRS, ETC.) 1936

The sums made available under the provisions of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936 for the fiscal year 1936 to provide for the estimated cost of the school system exclusive of "Alterations, Repairs, etc.," are as follows:

Sum allowed exclusive of unexpended balances and estimated income	$15,160,000.00
Unexpended balance, general appropriation, 1935	350,443.11
Unexpended balance, vocational guidance, 1935	2,613.70
Unexpended balance, promoting Americanization, 1935	6,264.23

DETAILED ESTIMATES

The detailed estimates show the ranks and salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel, separated for each school, department and activity. The vacancies reported by the Superintendent of Schools as at December 1, 1935, are shown separately as are the expansion items recommended by the Board of Apportionment and approved by the School Committee. The allowance for supplies for each school, department or activity is recorded. The detailed estimates contain approximately three thousand items and afford the opportunity of studying school costs in great detail as there is presented a collection of facts properly organized and classified for inspection and discussion. Classification by ranks and by salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel enables the School Committee and its officers to give information on salaries of teachers and others which is being sought constantly by boards of education, educational associations and other agencies.

The foregoing table shows that the total amount appropriated last year for maintenance and for new school buildings was $17,423,100, and that the appropriations for 1936 for the same purposes amount to $17,239,838.59—a decrease in appropriations of $183,261.41.

INCREASES IN ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES FOR THE YEAR 1936 OVER THE YEAR 1935.

The cost of annual increments for the year 1936 for teachers and other employees on sliding scales, exclusive of clerks and stenographers, will approximate $218,000. Using an average yearly increment of $108 this cost is computed on the following basis:

(a) All teachers reaching the maximum during the period Feb. 1 through Dec. 1 of the fiscal year immediately preceding create an additional cost in the current fiscal year. For example: A teacher reaching the maximum Feb. 1 of the fiscal year immediately preceding would cost $9 in the current fiscal year (1/12 of $108). A teacher reaching the maximum March 1 of the fiscal year immediately preceding would cost $18 in the current fiscal year (2/12 of $108), and so on.

(b) Teachers who did not reach the maximum during the fiscal year immediately preceding and whether or not they reach such maximum during the current fiscal year, would cost $108 each.

(c) Teachers newly appointed during the fiscal year immediately preceding would cost, during the current year $108 or fraction thereof each, dependent on the dates on which they were appointed.

The sum of $8731 is provided in this budget for annual increments to clerks, stenographers, storekeepers and certain other employees. The total cost of annual increments for the year for all employees is, therefore $226,731 ($218,000 plus $8731).

APPROPRIATION ORDER

I recommend the passage of the accompanying order appropriating the sum of $16,082,388.59 for the fiscal year 1936 to provide for the maintenance of the Boston Public Schools covering the cost of administration, instruction, supervision of instruction, promotion of health, custodians' services, fuel and light, supplies, equipment and incidentals; and the cost of sundry other services and expenses, exclusive of "Alterations, repairs, furniture and fixtures" for which a separate budget is made. This sum, viz., $16,082,388.59 is $133,610.45 less than the total amount of money available for appropriation for the year 1936.

made until the first of October or later. The deduction of $150,000 for "slack" takes into consideration the various factors that bring about savings on salaries during the year.

RATIO (SALARIES, PENSIONS, FUEL AND LIGHT AND SUPPLIES)

Of the total amount appropriated in this budget, viz., $16,082,388.59, the division between salaries, pensions, fuel and light, supplies and incidentals is as follows:

(a.) Salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel	$14,754,411.09
(b.) Pensions—tax levy only (paid under the provisions of non-contributory pension law in operation prior to the establishment of the contributory Boston Retirement System)	37,323.00
(c.) Fuel and light, including electric current for power (including extended use of schools)	474,368.00
(d.) Supplies, equipment and incidentals for all purposes	816,286.50

Total, exclusive of "Alterations, Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures"; and "Lands, Plans and Construction of School Buildings" for which separate budgets are made for all items of repairs, construction, etc., including personnel employed by the Department of School Buildings ... $16,082,388.59

The above figures show that 91.8 per cent of this budget is for salaries of all permanent and temporary personnel; 0.2 per cent for pensions; 2.9 per cent for fuel and light, including electric current for power; and 5.1 per cent for supplies, equipment and incidental expenses.

Respectively submitted,
Alexander M. Sullivan,
Business Manager.

SCHOOL LUNCHEON SERVICE

Dr. Mackey offered the following:

That starting in September next the school luncheon service which has been provided by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union be discontinued.

Dr. Mackey, continuing: The food furnished is not up to standard and it is known that recently one milk concern furnished milk that was not of satisfactory grade

The motion was not seconded.

Mr. Tobin: I think that such a serious step as Dr. Mackey has suggested requires study and attention on the part of the Committee before we arbitrarily sever connections with that organization. At the present time the Union is furnishing luncheons in about thirty of our schools. Of necessity a great deal of preparation would be required in the event that the School Committee were to take over the entire luncheon service. For that reason I could not second the motion.

Dr. Mackey: We have been considering whether or not we are going to spend four or five thousand dollars of the taxpayers' money to help out the Union in the furnishing of the school luncheons. Why should we contribute to the maintenance of this organization, an organization which has already received some $33,000 from the Community Drive, have they not?

Chairman: I think the tax-payers are not paying.

The Chairman then stated that since Dr. Mackey's motion was not seconded, there was no motion before the Committee.

Dr. Mackey: I am saying now that the Community Emergency Relief turned money over to the Union. It is a matter of record, is not that right, Mr. Superintendent?

Superintendent: I think not, Dr. Mackey. I think that the money you speak of goes to the Women's Educational and Industrial Union, which is far different from the particular part of that body that serves our luncheons.

Dr. Mackey: Nevertheless they collected the money.

Superintendent: The Luncheon Department has not collected any money.

Dr. Mackey: It went into their organization. The State doesn't collect any taxes. That is right, isn't it?

Mr. Tobin suggested that discussion of the whole matter is out of order until Dr. Mackey's motion is seconded, unless he shall request the floor as a matter of personal privilege.

Dr. Mackey again asserted that the Union received money from the Emergency and Community Drives two years ago, last year, and again this year.

Dr. Lyons: May I ask one question of the Superintendent? If it happened that the organization which is providing luncheons for our children now should withdraw tomorrow, would we be able to carry on?

Superintendent: No.

Dr. Lyons: Is there enough money?

Superintendent: No.

Dr. Lyons: Anywhere near enough?

Superintendent: No. It would take $150,000 to equip the high schools alone.

Dr. Lyons: That is purely equipment, so that would be only the start. I say, Mr. Chairman, as Mr. Tobin has suggested, this is such a very serious question, considering all things and particularly our financial condition which we are trying to keep on an even keel, that we could do nothing now even if we did so desire.

Dr. Mackey: I don't think we have any right, regardless of expense, to neglect the children—I say it is up to our Committee to take care of these children.

Dr. Lyons: Mr. Superintendent, have we had any report, at any time, that the children were neglected as far as the school luncheons are concerned—improper food or insufficient food?

Superintendent: No.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

ELLEN M. CRONIN,
Secretary.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 28.

SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1936.

No. 24

BOSTON'S TAX RATE FOR 1936 FIXED AT $38 — ANNOUNCEMENT MADE BY MAYOR MANSFIELD UPON ADVICE OF BOARD OF ASSESSORS — INCREASE IS BUT DOLLAR MORE THAN IN 1935, DESPITE A REDUCTION IN ASSESSED VALUATION OF MORE THAN $29,000,000 AND THE HUGE OPERATING DEFICIT SHOWN BY THE SUMNER TRAFFIC TUNNEL — REQUIREMENTS FOR MAINTENANCE CUT $1,800,000 FROM 1935.

Mayor Mansfield announced on June 9 that he had been advised by the Board of Assessors that the tax rate for 1936 had been fixed at $38 per $1,000 of valuation. This compares with a rate of $37 in 1935.

In releasing the figures entering into the determination of this year's rate the Mayor pointed out that the principal factor responsible for the increase in rate was the fact that in planning the maintenance program for the current year a 40 per cent reduction had been made in the amount of borrowings for maintenance purposes. In 1935 $10,000,000 was borrowed and applied for maintenance expenses, whereas the maintenance program for 1936 contemplates the issuance of $6,000,000 in loans. If the same amount had been borrowed this year as last a rate of $35.50 could have been announced.

The total requirements for all purposes in 1936 is $79,907,625.40, or a reduction of approximately $1,800,000 from the total requirements of last year. A reduction of over $2,000,000 in city maintenance requirements was offset by increased assessments to cover the Elevated and Governor square deficits. In addition, the Sumner Traffic Tunnel shows a higher operating deficit in 1936 than in 1935. In this latter year these three deficits were computed on a nine months' basis, whereas this year the deficits have been computed on a full calendar year basis.

Pension Requirements.

Requirements of the Boston Pension System also show a substantial increase over last year. The state tax has been estimated at the direction of the Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation at the same figure as last year. If a higher state tax is declared than the rate authorized by the Tax Commissioner for the purpose of determining the 1936 tax rate for Boston, namely, $38, then the difference will undoubtedly be made up by additional revenue provided by the Tax Commissioner, as this rate of $38 cannot be changed.

Total income and credits available in the computation of the 1936 rate are $19,494,403.34, a reduction of approximately $2,600,000 from 1935. As has previously been explained, the principal factor in this respect is the reduction in borrowings for maintenance purposes. The $4,000,000 reduction in loans have been offset in part by an increase in the estimated income of city departments of, roughly, $1,000,000.

The total assessed valuation of the city as determined by the assessors for 1936 is $1,620,265,000, or a reduction of $29,735,000 from the 1935 valuation. This loss has been divided as follows: $26,043,100 on real estate and $1,691,900 on personal property.

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

BOSTON'S LEADING CITIZENS PAY HOMAGE TO JOSEPH P. MANNING, CHAIRMAN OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF CITY HOSPITAL — MORE THAN SEVEN HUNDRED RESPONDED TO MAYOR MANSFIELD'S INVITATION TO ASSEMBLE AT HOTEL STATLER, WHERE ENCOMIUMS WERE HEAPED UPON THE MAN DUE TO WHOSE EFFORTS AND INTEREST THE HOSPITAL HAS GROWN TO BE RANKED AMONG GREATEST IN COUNTRY IN POINT OF FACILITIES AND SERVICE — EVENT PROVES INSPIRING TO THOSE SHARING IN IT.

More than seven hundred persons, distinguished citizens, in the service of the city and state, associates, neighbors and friends, responded to Mayor Mansfield's invitation to gather on Wednesday evening at the Hotel Statler to pay honor to Joseph P. Manning, for eighteen years chairman of the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital and for twenty-five years a member of the Board. The dinner was arranged by the Mayor as a fitting tribute to the untiring services rendered by Mr. Manning in the interest of his fellow citizens generally and especially those who have had need of such aid as the hospital was built to serve.

Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, by whom Mr. Manning was first appointed a trustee, was the toastmaster. Many speakers during the evening paid glowing tribute to the trustee for the unselfish devotion he has given in the past twenty-five years to those coming to the hospital. When Mayor Mansfield addressed the gathering he presented the guest of the evening a silver loving cup, suitably inscribed, and also a substantial check, which was immediately turned over by the recipient to the hospital to be applied to aid and relief of victims of illness. Mrs. Manning was presented a bouquet of roses.

While figures cannot convey an adequate idea of the work accomplished at the Boston City Hospital during the last quarter century while Mr. Manning has been a trustee it is impressive to consider the fact that during this time 648,926 ward patients were treated and 2,527,201 out-patients, making a total of 3,176,127 patients who have received the benefits of treatment. The progress of the hospital during this time is evidenced by the numbers of its patients, the increase in building and equipment and by the improvement in the methods of treatment. Comparing the year 1911 with the present time shows that 28,310 more ward patients were treated in 1935 than were treated in the year 1911; and that 35,649 more out-patients were treated in 1935 than in 1911.

HOSPITAL GROWTH.

With the vast increase in number of patients there has been necessarily an increase in the number of the staff. The visiting medical and surgical staff during the past quarter century has increased from 97 in 1911 to 238 in 1936; the hospital officers, executives, administrative assistants and residents have increased from 30 in 1911 to 85 in 1936 and the house officers have increased from 68 to 95. The members of the School of Nursing have increased from 170 in 1911 to 636 in 1936.

The annual budget for maintenance also has grown, increasing during that time by the amount of $3,327,170.39. Beside the increase in the annual maintenance fund much money has been spent in replacing old outdated buildings with new ones, equipped with the most improved facilities for treating all kinds of accident and disease.

Since 1924 a ten-year building program has been in progress. City appropriations for this new construction have been granted to the extent of $7,860,661 for the Main Hospital and $1,853,079.74 for the Sanatorium Division, making a total of $9,713,740.74 granted for this purpose, so that now the trustees feel that with its eighty well-equipped buildings the hospital is prepared to meet successfully the needs of this community.

Some of the improvements are as follows: In 1915 the City Parental School in West Roxbury became a department of the hospital. These buildings have been extensively improved and have been used by the United States Government. In 1927 the Boston Sanatorium came under the jurisdiction of the Hospital Trustees as the Sanatorium Division. To make the Sanatorium an attractive and modern hospital for tuberculosis new buildings were erected and the grounds beautified. The following buildings were erected: A Nurses' Home, Admission Building, Power Plant and Laundry, Kitchen and Dining Room Building, Recreation Building, Garage and Physicians' Residence.

AT MAIN HOSPITAL.

At the Main Hospital changes also have been wrought during the last quarter century, with buildings erected as follows: The Lucy Drown House for Nurses in 1915, house for superintendent in 1917, Thorndike Memorial Laboratory (first research department built in connection with a municipal hospital) in 1923, Out-Patient Department Building in 1924, Maternity Building in 1927, new wing to the Nurses' Home in 1927, house officers' residence in 1929, Medical Pavilion in 1930, Administration Building in 1931, Pathological Building, including Mortuary and Ambulance Station, in 1933, Laundry Building in 1933, Kitchen and Dining Room Building in 1935, Surgical Operating and Ward Building in 1936. Beside the construction of these new buildings extensive improvements have been made in the South Department buildings during the years 1914-18, also again during the year 1931. Great improvements have also been made in the heating and lighting facilities of the hospital, at an expense of approximately $700,000.

In this period, also, advancement in the methods of treating patients is evidenced by the establishment of the following departments and clinics: Department of Social Work in 1914, Dental Department in 1917, Hospital School for Children in 1919, Cardiac Clinic in 1920, Pediatric Service in 1922, the development of the Neurological Unit in 1925, the establishment of a Neurosurgical Service in 1928, Orthopedic Service in 1928, establishment of a Urological Department in 1936 and many other clinics. Improvements in methods used in already established clinics also have been adopted.

The pride of the hospital today is not only in its fine group of well-equipped buildings, but also in its well-organized medical and surgical staff, including many professors of Harvard, Tufts and Boston University Medical Schools, many of whose names are notable in the field of medicine; also in its staff of executives whose objective is the welfare of all patients.

Seated at the head table were Rev. William J. Casey, pastor of the Church of St. Thomas Aquinas, Jamaica Plain, who gave the invocation; Ex-Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols, Ex-Mayor Andrew J. Peters, Maj. Joseph Timilty, representing Governor Curley; P. A. O'Connell, president of E. T. Slattery Company; Hon. Joseph A. Conry, James L. Richards, Carl Dreyfus, Thomas W. Murray, Thomas H. Carens, Thomas J. Dowd of Estabrook & Eaton; Dr. Martin J. English, Capt. George A. Parker, Dr. George G. Sears, City Treasurer John H. Dorsey, Maj. William J. Casey, Superintendent of the City Printing Plant; John I. Fitzgerald, President of the City Council; and Dr. and Mrs. James W. Manary, director of the hospital. Among the cheer leaders was Thomas O'Connell of William Demuth Company; the entertainers included Josephine Elberry, Marie Murray, Ralph Nyland, Joseph Ecker, Marie Houghton Spencer and Theodore Marier.

MAYOR MANSFIELD RECEIVES GREETINGS OF BOSTON, ENGLAND,
OFFICIALS AND INVITATION TO VISIT,
BROUGHT TO HIM ON MAIDEN VOYAGE OF "QUEEN MARY."

On its maiden voyage across the Atlantic Ocean to New York City, the R.M.S. "Queen Mary" bore a message of greeting and good will to the Mayor and residents of Boston from the Lord Mayor and people of the city in Great Britain for which this municipality was named. This message, which speaks volumes for the sentiment and friendly relations between the two places, and between the two nations, was formally presented by Messenger Powers of the Western Union Telegraph Company, on June 4, to Mayor Mansfield.

Charles C. Dasey, Passenger Manager for the Cunard White Star Line at this point, and John H. Groves, Superintendent of the Western Union, took part in the ceremony. The presentation at this point had its counterpart in a number of other places named for English towns and cities who took advantage of this occasion to express their regards to their namesake towns.

The message received here was as follows:

MAYOR'S PARLOUR,
BOSTON, 22nd April, 1936.

To THE HONOURABLE FREDERICK MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston, Mass., U. S. A.

DEAR SIR,—I would like to take the opportunity presented to me on the occasion of the maiden voyage of R.M.S. "Queen Mary" from this country to the United States of America of sending the cordial greetings of the people of this town to the people of your illustrious city.

I recall the pleasure, which was shared by me with fellow-members of my Council, of meeting in this town on the 19th November last, at the invitation of the Vicar, Canon Cook, and hearing by means of gramophone records your speech which was broadcast on Boston Common on the 17th September last.

I hope that at no far distant date you may find it possible to pay a visit to this town, to which I extend to you a hearty welcome.

I am, dear sir,

Yours faithfully,

STEPHEN WAIN, Mayor.

Mayor Mansfield sent the following message in reply:

CITY OF BOSTON,
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CITY HALL, June 4, 1936.

To HIS HONOR, MAYOR STEPHEN WAIN,
Mayor's Parlour, Boston, England.

DEAR MAYOR WAIN,—I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of the 22nd April, 1936, containing the cordial greetings of old Boston in England to our City of Boston in the New World. Your very welcome message borne by the R.M.S. "Queen Mary" upon her maiden voyage from England to United States reached me in due course through the courtesy of the Boston office of the Western Union Telegraph Company and was delivered to me in person by one of the messengers of that company.

Immediately upon receipt of your message I dictated this reply in order that it may return to you by way of the "Queen Mary" on its first return visit from the United States to England.

As representative of the people of the City of Boston I thank you heartily for your greetings and for the invitation for me to visit your town in the near future.

This is a proposal which appeals to me very much and I would like to find the time to be with you upon the occasion of your annual meeting in commemoration of the building and restoration of your famous cathedral.

If the pressure of public business is not too great I may be enabled to accept your kind invitation, in which event I will be pleased to write to you again.

With the official greetings of the City of Boston to you and your people, and with the highest personal regards.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

CIRCULAR LETTER No. 7.

The following is a copy of a circular letter from the Mayor to all heads of departments:

BOSTON, June 9, 1936.

To All Heads of Departments.

Notwithstanding the fact that the budget has been accepted by the City Council and approved by the Mayor, all heads of departments are earnestly urged to exercise all reasonable economy and to conduct the affairs of their departments so that there will be a surplus or unexpended balance at the end of the year. The larger this surplus is the more gratifying it will be. If money can be saved, that should be done. It should not be expended merely because there happens to be an allowance for such expenditure in the budget.

The most valuable aid department heads can render to the taxpayers and to this administration is to conduct the affairs of their departments so efficiently and economically that the unused balances will be very substantial.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

MAYOR MANSFIELD EXPRESSES PLEASURE AT NOMINATION OF CHARLES F. HURLEY FOR GOVERNOR.

Asked for any comment which he might care to make upon the nominations so far made by the Democratic Convention in Springfield, the Mayor said that the nomination of Charles F. Hurley as a representative Democrat was very pleasing to him and that the State Treasurer was the strongest candidate and the best vote getter of the three gentlemen who were candidates for the nomination for Governor.

Asked again if he had anything to say about the nomination for United States Senator, the Mayor replied that as to his own personal intentions he had nothing to add to the statement he gave out yesterday in reply to Mr. Dixon's letter, which was, in effect, that he was not at present a candidate for anything but that circumstances might change so that he might become a candidate.

The Mayor added that it was a foregone conclusion from the very start that Governor Curley would dominate the convention so far as his own nomination by the delegates was concerned, but that did not mean that Senator Coolidge necessarily was out of the picture. The speech of Mayor Greenwood of Fitchburg seemed to indicate that Senator Coolidge was still a very active and lively candidate although he did not choose to have his name go before the convention.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Public Works Department for the following construction work:

MAYOR MANSFIELD NOT A CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE.

The following is a copy of letter from the Mayor to Henry J. Dixon, President of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Club of Massachusetts:

BOSTON, June 5, 1936.

HENRY J. DIXON, President, Franklin D. Roosevelt Club of Massachusetts, 45 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR MR. DIXON,—I acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 3 in which, speaking for the Franklin D. Roosevelt Club of Massachusetts, you suggest that I announce my candidacy for the United States Senate.

This is a matter that has been presented to me on many different occasions recently and I have given it some thought. At the moment I am not a candidate for any office and my only concern is to do my full duty in the very honorable position which I hold now of Mayor of Boston.

To this end I do not wish to allow myself to be distracted from the city's problems by political ambitions. But, as I have repeatedly said, conditions may arise which would make such a candidacy very attractive. In any event there is no occasion for haste in coming to a decision and I will be glad to talk with you about the matter at greater length at your leisure.

Yours truly,

FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

PROFITABLE MUNICIPAL MARKETS.

Municipal markets, "white" elephants" in many cities, can be made self-supporting and even profitable, according to recent reports on two of them.
The Department of Public Markets of New York City reports that within the administration of its present Mayor, Fiorello LaGuardia, the city's markets have changed from inefficient and expensive undertakings into profitable investments. The Benton Harbor, Mich.,
municipal fruit and vegetable market is described as doing a three-million-dollar annual business by its City Manager in the February issue of "Public Management."

ADDITIONAL BUILDING, CITY HALL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 27, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I acknowledge receipt of a report of a committee of your Honorable Body, which was accepted on May 25, 1936, in which the committee recites that it "has decided that the Young's Hotel property can be arranged to meet all requirements in a more satisfactory manner than any other submitted, taking into consideration the great convenience of having a building substantially adjoining the present City Hall." The report also states that it is the understanding of the committee that this property could be purchased on a rental basis plan of $36,000 per year for a period of fifteen years, totaling $540,000, plus a low rate of interest, the property to be deeded to the city outright.

The report does not specifically recommend that the Young's Hotel property be purchased, and it is simply referred to the Mayor "for such action as he may deem advisable."

In reference to this matter of obtaining larger quarters and some relief from conditions as they exist, I beg to say that the plan of purchasing Young's Hotel, on the terms suggested by the committee, has been before me for a long period of time. The proposal is not new.

Undoubtedly we do need a new City Hall which would be modern in every respect, affording ample room for all city departments and for reasonable expansion and, in my opinion; preferably erected upon the site of the present building. But the city cannot afford to build a new City Hall at the present time and it was rejected as a Federal project because the Washington authorities thought that it could not be completed within the time allotted by them.

But I am not at all certain that the next best thing is to purchase the old Young's Hotel property. The present City Hall is cramped, gloomy, antiquated and in a very dangerous condition, a description which would apply equally as well to the Young's Hotel building and I doubt if the proper solution of our problem would be to add another group of obsolete buildings to our present City Hall. But if that were the proper solution I doubt very much if the Young's Hotel property would be a bargain under the financial plan mentioned in your committee's report. That the buildings are close to the present City Hall and Annex is about the only consideration that makes the project at all feasible or attractive and there are many reasons why the project is not feasible at this time. Thus, in order to purchase this property, as suggested by your committee, it would be necessary to raise about $165,000 by taxes because of the law which requires that an amount equivalent to 10 cents on every one thousand dollars of the assessed valuation of the city of the previous year be raised by taxation. The balance of $375,000 would have to be borrowed and that would add to the bonded debt of the city. The cost of repairs and alterations, connecting the Annex with the Young's Hotel building by a tunnel and an arch and all the extras not now foreseen but which seem inevitably to accompany every city contract, would amount to a substantial sum.

In addition to this, the city now has a tax title to the Young's Hotel property dating from August, 1934, which will become absolutely vested in the city in August, 1936. The amount owed to the city for taxes, interest and costs by the owners of this property is now about $105,000, about which nothing is said in the recommendation of your committee. Nor is anything said about current taxes while the fifteen-year period is running. If the owners were to accept from the city $36,000 per year for rent and pay back to the city each year the current taxes at the present assessed values the difference would be $66,000 which would be the next return to the owners during that period of time; and as pointed out above that would be wiped out entirely if the amount owed now on back taxes were to be deducted from the purchase price. But the owners do not propose to pay the taxes during the fifteen-year term. And it is their plan to have the city assume the taxes during that period. Thus we would be paying $36,000 a year rent plus the loss of $29,600 in taxes each year or a total of about $65,600 per year, plus bond interest.

And finally, if the property were purchased and all the alterations made, instead of having a City Hall we would have a grotesque crazy-quilt patchwork of a municipal building in which the average Boston citizen would probably find it easy to get lost.

I am aware of the argument about the saving of money now paid for rent but when the whole situation is analyzed, as I have attempted to do above, I think your Honorable Body will agree with me that the purchase of this property under this financial plan at the present time, when we need to practice at least reasonable economy, is not feasible or practical.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

AUTOPSY ON MRS. SARAH E. FORD.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 29, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter and reports from the Superintendent of the Hospital Department relative to your order of May 11, 1936, concerning the investigation of the circumstances surrounding the autopsy performed on Mrs. Sarah E. Ford, late of Boston, who died at the institution on April 23, 1936.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Hospital Department, May 20, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have received a notice from the City Council relative to investigating the circumstances surrounding the autopsy performed on Mrs. Sarah E. Ford, late of Boston, who died at the hospital on April 23, 1936.

I am inclosing herewith reports from Dr. F. Parker, Jr., pathologist, Dr. W. E. Patton, house officer on the III Medical Service, and Miss Ruth Church, record librarian. I believe that these reports explain the entire matter.

Yours sincerely,
JAMES W. MANARY, M. D.,
Superintendent.

The Boston City Hospital,
Boston, May 18, 1936.

Doctor Manary,
Supt. Boston City Hospital.

Dear Doctor,—Since difficulties have arisen concerning the permission for autopsy on the body of Elizabeth Holt, I am writing you to explain the actions taken by me in obtaining said permission.

Elizabeth Holt, a fifty-year old colored female, was admitted to the service April 15, 1936, in an irrational condition. Admission diagnosis was TBC pneumonia and questionable TBC meningitis. Patient stayed on Med. 4 for nine days, during which time her course was steadily downward. She expired on April 23, 1936. Because of X-ray findings, discharge diagnosis was lobar pneumonia, right upper lobe.

On the morning after the patient's death I obtained the address of her nearest relative from the admission slip, which was given as Leon Holt, husband, of 45 Irving street, Boston. The same address was listed for the patient.

I visited Mr. Holt, whom I found with a man who stated that he was a brother of the patient. Mr. Holt expressed his willingness that an autopsy should be performed. When the patient's brother was asked for his opinion on the matter he declined to make a statement. The permission for autopsy was signed in the presence of the brother by Mr. Holt and witnessed by me.

During the following afternoon I received a call from the man whom I recognized as the one who had represented himself as the patient's brother on the preceding morning. He stated that Leon Holt was no relation of Elizabeth Holt, and that he, the brother, was the nearest living relative. He stated that he did not wish the autopsy to be performed. The pathologists were notified and the autopsy was interrupted.

I shall be willing to discuss the matter with you at any time you wish.

Yours sincerely,
W. E. PATTON, M. D.,
Senior, 3 Medical Service.

Mallory Institute of Pathology,
Boston City Hospital,
Boston, Mass., May 18, 1936.

Dr. C. H. Pelton,
Boston City Hospital, Boston.

Dear Dr. Pelton,—In regard to the question of an autopsy on the patient Sarah E. Ford, who was admitted under the name of Elizabeth Holt, the following are the facts as far as our department is concerned:

Permission for an autopsy was signed by a man posing as her husband, but her brother objected to this permission. In the meantime, the body had been put on the table and the usual skin incision made. However, nothing further was done since we were notified of her brother's objection to the autopsy. Mr. Preston, manager of W. H. Graham, Inc., the undertakers, examined the body and observed that merely a skin incision had been made and no autopsy performed. A doctor called in by the brother made this same observation.

If there is any further information I can give you, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,
F. PARKER, JR., M. D.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS OF UTILITY EMPLOYEES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 29, 1936.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith a letter from the Corporation Counsel relative to your order of May 4, 1936, concerning the inclusion of a small photograph on the identification cards of employees of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, who are sent out to visit private premises, and also that water-meter readers from the Water Division of the Public Works Department be provided with such proper identification.

Respectfully,
FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, May 19, 1936.
Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—I have received a memorandum from your office dated May 7, 1936, with which was submitted the following order passed by the City Council on May 4, 1936,—

"Ordered, That the officials of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and also the officials of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and also officials of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, through his Honor the Mayor, be respectfully requested to provide for the including of a small photograph on the identification cards of such of their employees as are sent out to visit private premises, and also that water-meter readers from the Water Division of the Public Works Department be provided with such proper identification."

This order was introduced by Councilor Wilson, who made the following statement in introducing it:

"Mr. President, I think this is a request that, upon being made by the Chief Executive of the City of Boston to the officials of these public service corporations, and also to the head of the Public Works Department, will no doubt receive a proper response. I have in mind the fact that we have repeated instances, especially in the residential sections of the city, where sneak thieves, or other small operators, will flash a handful of papers, claiming to represent the Gas Company, the Edison Company, the Telephone Company or to be water-meter readers, passing themselves off for meter readers or something of the sort and, having obtained access to the premises, steal property that they may see lying around. It seems to me this is a reasonable precaution for the Telephone Company, the Consolidated Gas Company and the Edison Company, as well as for the Water Division of the Public Works Department, with its meter readers. I feel that there will be no reasonable objection anywhere to this request for proper identification."

While the latter part of the order with reference to the identification of water-meter readers is somewhat ambiguous in language, and might be interpreted to be intended as an ordinance, it is clear from the order as a whole and from the statements of the councilor introducing the order that, properly construed, the provisions of the order, with regard to the identification of water-meter readers, were not so intended and that, therefore, you are not obligated to act with reference to said order to prevent its becoming effective, even if you disapprove it.

Mr. McMurtry, Division Engineer, in charge of the Water Income Division of the Public Works Department, has advised this office that all meter readers employed by that division wear badges bearing the seal of the city, each of which badges bears an individual number, and that both he and Commissioner

Carven are of the opinion that these badges are sufficient for identification purposes and that complaints are negligible. He also has expressly stated that, both in his opinion and in that of Mr. Carven, identification cards with photographs attached are unnecessary.

Conferences with representatives of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, the three utility corporations referred to in the above quoted order, indicate that the following precautions are now taken by those companies for purposes of identification:

All meter readers of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company wear complete distinctive uniforms, with the insignia of the company on the coat and a badge of the company on the hat; collectors carry badges of the company and until a year or so ago, varried identification cards with photographs, but the experience with photographs was so unsatisfactory that the practice was discontinued; service men wear caps with badges on the caps; street foremen wear badges on their coats and salesmen and house servicing female employees have identification cards and in some cases badges. The badges of the company are of a rather elaborate nature, distinctively enameled and numbered and it is said that they "cannot be duplicated."

All persons employed by the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company who are sent out by the company to visit private premises wear a numbered badge of the company with a blue bell enameled upon it.

All meter readers of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company wear uniforms with badges of the company, and all employees, whether employed inside or outside, have identification cards to which are attached photographs of the persons to whom the cards are assigned with the seal of the company impressed on the corner of the photograph, the card containing the signature of the employee.

In view of the technique for identification employed by the Water Income Division, and the advice of Messrs. McMurtry and Carven it would seem doubtful that identification cards with photographs for meter readers of the Water Income Division are necessary.

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company already employs the identification card with photograph technique, and a conference with the Edison Company officials on this matter is, therefore, clearly unnecessary.

Inasmuch as the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company have a system of identification at the present time, and as they must have given considerable thought to the value of identification cards (in fact, we know that the Gas Company has), I see no advantage to be gained in conferring with them further for the purpose of recommending the use of such cards.

Very truly yours,
HENRY E. FOLEY,
Corporation Counsel.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

INVESTIGATION OF FIRE RATES.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following: Ordered, That the President of the City Council appoint a special committee of three members to investigate and study fire insurance rates in Boston and to confer with the Board of Fire Underwriters.

Coun. McGRATH—Mr. President, in my experience in writing insurance in the Dorchester district for the past twelve years my loss ratio has been but $256, and in that period I have probably turned in to the insurance companies about $75,000. There was a lobby of the insurance companies last year in the matter of the workmen's compensation and liability insurance, which the state was thinking of handling under a separate department. Five different insurance men visited my office and asked me to do what I could to influence the Representatives and Senators from that district to vote against it. I asked the representatives of the companies what the reason was for the different insurance rates on streets adjacent to each other, and the only answer was, "Congestion." I think, with the ratio of loss I have stated, and with the amount of money I have turned into the insurance companies, there should certainly be a dropping or a readjustment of the rates. For example, they have increased the liability rate on a three family house from $25 to $42, with no explanation. That is the reason for the introduction by me of this order, and I would like to have the President appoint such a committee as is provided for in the order.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I am interested in this order also, because, as a representative of the Dorchester district, I find that, for some reason or other, from an insurance point of view, the Dorchester district seems to be a blacklisted section. In other words, it seems to be set aside as a dangerous district in the matter of insurance rates. I don't believe the losses in the Dorchester district are as great as they are in other sections of the city, and I don't see why people living in that residential section of my district should be barred or discriminated against, why they should have to pay an exorbitant rate of insurance. I think, if you will look up the insurance rates, you will find that the people of Dorchester are paying two or three times as much as people in other sections of the city. I believe that an investigation of the rates in different sections will prove beneficial to Dorchester and will bring about a reduction in the insurance rates not only in Dorchester but probably in greater Boston.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

WARD 7 IMPROVEMENTS.

Coun. KERRIGAN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Anabel street, Ward 7.

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his honor the Mayor, to repave with smooth pavement Eastman street, Ward 7.

Severally passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON BOGANDALE ROAD.

Coun. FINLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Bogandale road, both sides, entire length, Ward 20, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of artificial stone, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

SIDEWALK ON ASSABET STREET.

Coun. McGRATH offered the following:
Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works make a sidewalk along Assabet street, both sides, Ward 16, in front of the estates bordering thereon; said sidewalk to be from 3 to 10 inches above the gutter adjoining, to be from 5 to 12 feet in width, and to be built of granolithic, with granite edgestones, under the provisions of chapter 196 of the Special Acts of 1917.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted, on motion of Coun. PETER A. MURRAY, at 2.47 p. m., to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber and were called to order by Coun. GALLAGHER at 4 p. m.

CONFIDENCE IN COLONEL SULLIVAN.

Coun. SHATTUCK offered the following:
Resolved, That the Council has confidence in Col. Thomas F. Sullivan, the Administrator of W. P. A. Projects in Boston, and in Henry C. Boltz, the head of the Library Project, and believes that they acted in good faith and with fairness in connection with the reduction of the number of persons employed on the Library Project.

Coun. BRACKMAN—Mr. President, I believe, in view of what Colonel Sullivan said in the Executive Committee room, charges of racial prejudice or unfairness on the part of Colonel Sullivan and Mr. Boltz should be withdrawn. I desire to say, however, that I did vote for the order that was introduced at our last meeting for an investigation of this matter. I believe when charges of this sort are made, it is nothing but right that there should be an investigation, and I felt, therefore, that the order was a very fair one. I do feel now, however, that the charge of racial prejudice has not been sustained, and I am in entire accord with the resolution, in so far as the question of racial prejudice is concerned. I think on that charge that these men should be exonerated.

Coun. ROSENBERG—Mr. President, I think in acting upon this order at this time the Council may probably be acting a little prematurely. We have heard one side of the story, without giving to the workers who have objected to certain things an opportunity to come in and be heard. I understand also that 178 of the workers who were discharged have been reinstated, receiving two weeks of their salary that they were deprived of and that the matter is still under investigation by State Administrator Edwards. I certainly believe the order should be laid on the table until the workers have been given a chance to be heard.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOW COST MILK.

Coun. NORTON offered the following:

Ordered, That the Mayor of Boston be requested to consider the matter of low cost milk for welfare recipients and others in Boston.

Coun. NORTON—Mr. President, State Administrator Joseph C. Cort of the Massachusetts Milk Control Board has written me to the effect that other cities are furnishing milk in this way at 8 cents, 8½ cents and 8¾ cents a quart, and that he personally will be glad to contact Boston milk dealers relative to supplying needy Boston families with milk at or around 8 cents a quart. I understand that Fall River supplies milk at 8½ cents a quart, 100,000 men, women and children today in Boston are living on less than one quart of milk a week. Three quarts is necessary for minimum health, and 19 per cent of the students in the Hyde Park Junior High School suffer from malnutrition. At the Henry Grew School five children were shown to me who had been getting milk through the Teachers' Fund, and have lost weight since that has been cut off. Milk is the most important item in the budget of the poor. If New York City can furnish milk at 8 cents a quart, Baltimore at 7½ cents, and Fall River, Mass., at 8½ cents, why cannot Boston do the same? The milk is supplied to those with cards between the hours of 7 a. m. and 10 a. m. at city buildings throughout the city.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. AGNEW, at 4.06 p. m., to meet on Monday, June 8, 1936, at 2 p. m.

RELIEF-ROLL EMPLOYEES FOR SNOW REMOVAL.

It was good news to cities throughout the country when the Federal Emergency Relief Administration notified State Emergency Relief Administrations that men on relief rolls might be used for snow-removal projects in all communities where there was need for such labor. This action gave work to thousands of men who were in urgent need of help, and at the same time it aided materially in keeping streets and sidewalks open for traffic in many communities where street cleaning departments were financially unable to cope with the storm.

THE MUNICIPAL WATER-WORKS TREND.

In 1800 there was but one municipally-owned water-works plant in the United States. Now there are 7,853 municipally-owned installations, or 72.8 per cent of the entire number. In the United States there are ninety-four cities of over 100,000 population. All but eleven of these own their water works. Municipal plants serve 96.1 per cent of the population of the ninety-four cities, while private plants serve only 3.9 per cent.

36,400 MOTOR DEATHS IN 1935.

According to the findings of the National Safety Council motor traffic deaths in 1935 totaled 36,400, compared with 1934's record of 36,000.

The only decrease was among school children up to fifteen years of age. Motor vehicle accidents to children have increased much less than those of adults since 1922, when safety education began on a national scale. October, November and December were the reddest months. Two-thirds of the accidents were in places under 10,000 population; more than 40 per cent of the victims pedestrians.

Thirteen states decreased traffic deaths 7 per cent or more: Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming and Washington.

SAND, CINDERS AND SALT IN DULUTH.

About 385 miles of sidewalk are sanded every year and about 250 miles of streets are snow-plowed and sanded. Ordinarily, flat grades are not sanded, this work being confined to steep grades where dangerous ice conditions exist. During the past season the maintenance department used about 500 cubic yards of cinders, 500 cubic yards of sand, and 5 tons of calcium chloride on the streets.

The use of salt, or sodium chloride, has been discontinued entirely, because of its injurious effect on concrete walks and pavements. The action of salt is not clearly understood, but it is much more active during cold weather than in summer, and is apparently due to the formation of crystals after penetrating the surface, the force of which disintegrates the concrete. Calcium chloride does not seem to be entirely free from this difficulty, but is much less active than sodium chloride.

A SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

HISTORICAL DATA ABOUT WARDS.

The term "ward" first appears in a fire-protection order, approved by the Town on August 29, 1679, dividing the Town into 4 quarters with 2 wards each. The 8 wards had previously been military districts.

On August 11, 1713, the Selectmen "agreed upon a distribution of the Town into distinct Wards or Precincts."

On February 1, 1715, it was "voted to make a new division of the Town into eight distinct Wards."

On March 9, 1735, it was voted to divide the Town into 12 wards to facilitate the work of the Overseers of the Poor.

On March 13, 1822, the Selectmen divided the Town into 12 wards on the basis of the U. S. Census of 1820.

By an ordinance which took effect on the second Monday of December, 1838, there was a revision of the wards.

On April 29, 1850, the City Council accepted Chap. 167 of the Acts of 1850, which altered the wards on the basis of legal voters rather than on the number of inhabitants.

By ordinance taking effect on November 15, 1865 new ward lines were established.

In the annexation period, 1865-1875, the number of wards was increased from twelve to twenty-one.

By Chap. 243, Acts 1875, the City Council was ordered to cause a new division of the City into twenty-four wards in the year 1875 in such manner as to include an equal number of voters in each ward. This division was made, taking effect on December 13, 1875. On May 27, 1876, the City Council, in accordance with Chap. 242, Acts of 1876, divided one of the wards in two, making a total of 25 wards for the City.

By ordinance passed April 20, 1895, under authority of Chap. 437, Acts of 1888, and Section 96 of Chap. 417, Acts of 1893, ward lines were established on the basis of the number of voters registered at the City election of 1894, there still being 25 wards.

The annexation of Hyde Park, effective January 1, 1912, made an additional ward.

By enactment of December 28, 1914, under authority of Chap. 630, Acts of 1914, the City Council redivided the City into 26 wards.

The latest redivision, established December 30, 1924, under authority of Chap. 410, Acts of 1924, consists of 22 wards.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 28.

SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1936.

No. 25

MAYOR MANSFIELD REFUTES FINANCE COMMISSION'S ASSERTION OF "JUGGLING" OF BUDGET FIGURES — POINTS TO DROP IN ALLOWANCES FOR 1936 AS COMPARED WITH 1935 OF $4,057,432, WITH POSSIBILITY OF APPROPRIATION OF $2,000,000 MORE FOR WELFARE THIS YEAR, REDUCING NET CUT BY THAT AMOUNT — EFFORT TO SAVE, YET NOT IMPAIR SERVICE TO CITIZENS, HAS BEEN OBJECT, AND IN THIS SUCCESS HAS BEEN ACHIEVED.

The Finance Commission's prattle on "juggling" of the budget figures is, of course, silly. Let me reiterate, as shown by the accompanying table, that the appropriations for the year 1935 amounted to $42,292,642.34, whereas the Mayor's allowances for the year 1936 amount to $58,235,210.34, or a decrease for the current year of $4,057,432.

This reduction, however, does not include a possible subsequent appropriation of $2,000,000 for Public Welfare. In the event that this $2,000,000 is appropriated, the net saving will be $2,057,432.

Under the heading of personal service there is, it is true, a net increase of $49,975.13, but the gross increase was approximately $200,000, all of which seemed to be necessary by the increased activities in the Election Department required by law providing for special elections, increase in the number of voting precincts, with the necessary increase in the number of election officers, providing against meningitis at Long Island, step-rate increases allowed by law, and the extra day's compensation to per diem employees due to leap year. The reduction of this increase from $200,000 to $49,975.13 was effected by failing to fill vacancies in personnel caused by death, retirement, resignation, etc.

Contractual Services.

In contractual services the reduction from the year 1935 is $64,627.18, notwithstanding substantial allowance for Child Welfare, Election Department, Police Department and Public Works Department.

In equipment the allowance has been reduced to the minimum requirements with a net saving of $18,765.05. Much obsolete equipment, however, has been replaced and provision made for the repair and maintenance of equipment purchased heretofore. If it were not for the fact that due to late delivery approximately $75,000 of equipment purchased in 1935 and provided for in the budget, which sum was turned back as an unexpended balance, had to be provided for in the current budget, the saving in equipment in the current budget would have been increased by the said sum of $75,000. For supplies there is a net saving of $4,205.90 in the face of the rising costs and the increased demands in the hospitals and institutions of the city where the population is steadily increasing and must be provided for.

In materials there is a reduction of $21,860, despite rising costs in increased maintenance requirements.

The largest group reduction in the budget is reflected in the group known as "Special Items." The saving is $3,556,541.50. These savings have been met in the Public Welfare and Soldiers' Relief Departments and are predicated somewhat on the assumption that the continuance of Federal Works Projects and the payment of the Soldiers' Bonus will result in lessened demands on the city for relief. It must be noted, however, that in the event that an additional $2,000,000 is required for Public Welfare, the above saving will be reduced by $2,000,000.

Under the heading of "Incidentals" there has been a nominal increase of $6,745, due almost entirely to the increased allowance to the Boston Port Authority for special investigation work. The efforts of this department have been very effective and its success in attracting business to our port would seem to justify this increase.

Cooperative Effort.

By intensive and cooperative effort the sums allotted for materials on W. P. A. projects have been reduced so that a net saving of $36,152.50 has resulted without affecting Federal allotments.

Under the heading of "Special Appropriations" a reduction of $412,000 is reflected. A substantial part of this saving is reflected in snow removal costs. In this item also is included the Reserve Fund of $400,000 against extraordinary and uncertain expenditures which the city may be called upon to meet.

My great concern has been to save every possible penny without impairment of the various city services and without decreasing personnel or wages and without terminating step-rate increments given to Police and Fire Department employees and other employees in the lower brackets. It also should be noted that the provisions for this year contemplate a program of reduced borrowings for Public Welfare. Last year $10,000,000 was borrowed for this purpose; this year the anticipated borrowing, it is expected, will not exceed $6,000,000.

BOSTON IN MOST HEALTHY CONDITION AS COMPARED WITH OTHER LARGE CITIES — DEBT STANDING RATES CITY AS NUMBER 12 IN THIRTEEN CITIES WITH POPULATION OF 500,000 OR MORE — FIGURES GATHERED BY "NATIONAL MUNICIPAL REVIEW" AFTER STUDY OF 283 MUNICIPALITIES — STANDING OF CITY DUE TO WISE HANDLING OF CITY'S AFFAIRS BY MAYOR MANSFIELD — NET DEBT EXPECTED TO BE REDUCED $1,000,000 THIS YEAR.

Boston's debt standing among the large cities of the country appears to be most satisfactory, in the light of statistics compiled by the "National Municipal Review," and published in the June issue.

This annual compilation summarizes the bonded debt of 283 cities in the United States. One interesting feature is the per capita bonded indebtedness of the various cities, excluding debt issues of a "self-supporting" nature. According to this feature Boston's standing is No. 12 among the thirteen cities in the country having a population of 500,000 or over. The following table indicates the standing in this respect.

New York.....	$226 09	Pittsburgh.....	$109 71
Philadelphia.....	199 55	Cleveland.....	103 86
Detroit.....	177 85	Los Angeles.....	95 73
Buffalo.....	172 06	St. Louis.....	93 04
San Francisco.....	151 05	Boston.....	90 13
Baltimore.....	141 03	Milwaukee.....	55 45
Chicago.....	110 50

The Mayor's policy of reducing borrowing for maintenance this year and thus preventing any increase in the net debt seems to be well supported by this summary, which shows that among the thirteen large cities Boston stands at the bottom. Therefore, Boston is in a most healthy condition compared with the others.

While all cities may be sharply criticized year after year for not effecting a more substantial reduction in their budgets, really the rocks on which towns and cities go ashore is debt. In other words, it is obvious that if a city keeps its debt down over a long period it is much better off than otherwise.

Boston's net debt is roughly $135,000,000, of which $63,000,000 is self-supporting, such as rapid transit and the tunnel. In 1933 the city's net debt was $135,800,000. Debt reduction is a slow process when any municipality is obliged to borrow for maintenance purposes. It was in 1933 that Boston started to borrow for such purposes in order to prevent an ascending tax rate. Last year Boston borrowed $7,000,000 for welfare and this year the borrowing for that purpose was reduced to $5,000,000. Notwithstanding these borrowings the city hopes to reduce its net debt by $1,000,000 this year.

As an illustration of Mayor Mansfield's attitude on borrowing for the city's requirements he cited the slight commitments from the borrowing capacity (within the debt limit) for the three years in his term. In 1934, the Mayor's first year, he had the power to borrow $3,225,000, and used only $500,000 of that sum, that amount for streets and sewers. In 1935 the borrowing capacity was $4,650,000 and the Mayor used only $985,000, as applied to sewer work and the purchase of snow-removal equipment. This year the city's borrowing capacity is $6,200,000 and the total amount to be taken from it is $500,000 for sewage.

On departmental maintenance, Boston stands as highest in the country, the estimates being on the per capita basis. While the Mayor is not an exponent of the theory that per capita figures afford a sound basis for measuring governmental activities, nevertheless in view of the emphasis thus placed on per capita expenditures by the Boston Research Bureau, it seems desirable to point out Boston's favorable debt standing among the large cities of the country.

Of the two evils, high expenditures and high debt, debt is obviously the worst. Even though we are borrowing for maintenance, the Mayor said, "we are regulating our borrowings so as not to disturb our debt position. In other words, we are keeping our borrowings within the limits of payments."

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon May 25 the Mayor approved permission to award contracts as indicated for furnishing hypodermic and surgical needles to the various city departments.

Bids for hypodermic needles were requested on the Becton-Dickinson needle, the Randall-Faichney needle and the Vim needle for the reason that the surgeons at the City Hospital use all three of these makes. In view of the foregoing, it is proposed dividing the hypodermic needles equally among the three makes required by the City Hospital surgeons in the following manner:

In reference to Items 16-114, inclusive, hypodermic needles, permission was given to award a contract for the Randall-Faichney make of needle to the Surgeons & Physicians' Supply Company, one of the six equal lowest bidders, at the prices shown. This contract amounts to $3,558.

On the item of Vim needles, permission was given to award this contract to the Thomas W. Reed Company, the lowest bidder, at the prices shown. This contract amounts to $4,295.

Regarding the remaining item, namely, the award of contract for the Becton-Dickinson needle, permission was given to award this contract to the C. W. Broadbent Company, the lowest bidder. The total amount of contract is $3,415.

Regarding Items 1-15, inclusive, surgeons' needles, the Superintendent of the City Hospital stated that he and the hospital surgeons prefer the Thrimtton & Fletcher type of needle, bids for which were submitted by the E. F. Mahady Company. As the total price for the Thrimtton & Fletcher needles is but $2.38 more than the total price of the lowest bidder, and as the city's best interests will be served by the use of the Thrimtton & Fletcher needles, these items, totaling $293.38, were awarded to the E. F. Mahady Company.

Privilege of purchasing on same terms and conditions extended to February 1, 1937. Bids, opened February 21, were as follows:

MAYOR MANSFIELD RECEIVES MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR NEW NAME FOR MUDDY RIVER.

Upon June 11 Mayor Mansfield issued the following statement:

I received a great many suggestions in the morning mail about a new name for Muddy river and no protests whatever. I am surprised to read in one paper that there was a "storm of protest" in Brookline over the proposed change of name.

Brookline itself changed its name from the town of Muddy River to the town of Brookline. I do not think the people in Brookline would care to have the name of the town changed back to Muddy River, and if they themselves desired to change the name of the town I do not see how they can reasonably object to changing the name of the river.

But, however that may be, since the source of the river is in Boston and it discharges into the Charles river, also in Boston, and passes through Brookline for only part of its course, it would seem as though Boston has the right to call the river by any name that pleases the citizens of Boston. I suppose the people of Brookline may call that part of the river which touches their town whatever they please.

REPORT OF EDWARD J. ROWSE, COMMERCIAL COORDINATOR, ON ATTENDANCE AT CONFERENCE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS, WASHINGTON, JUNE 8 AND 9.

The School Committee has accepted the following report of attendance of Edward J. Rowse, Coordinator, at the Conference on Emergency Education:

On June 8 and 9, 1936, I attended in Washington sessions of a conference of superintendents of cities of over 500,000 called by Dr. L. R. Alderman, Director of the Education Division of the Works Progress Administration. Superintendents were present from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh and Chicago; Assistant Superintendents from New York, Baltimore, Washington, Detroit, Cleveland; State Supervisors from Ohio and Pennsylvania; Emergency Supervisors from St. Louis and Los Angeles.

The conference listened to reports of projects being carried on in the various cities, discussed difficulties which have arisen in carrying out Emergency Educational programs and proposed additions and changes in the program. A subcommittee was then appointed to draw up recommendations embodying the points which had been discussed, with the request that these recommendations be considered by the director when revising Bulletin 19, concerning Emergency Education.

The recommendations as drawn up by this committee were discussed in detail and, with slight changes, approved. These recommendations asked for complete professional control by school authorities, assurance of continuance of the projects for the complete school year, and an allowance from W. P. A. funds to cover necessary custodian service called for by the Emergency Education program. They also asked for approval of several projects which are now being carried on in many cities in defiance of rulings from the office of the administrator. Several of these projects would not be carried on in Boston even if approved because they are already being carried on by the regular School Department. If these changes are incorporated in the revision of Bulletin 19 for next year, it will cause few important changes in our Boston projects.

As a part of the conference there was a two-hour session with Mr. Richard R. Brown, Executive Assistant of the National Youth Administration, and the conference closed with a two-hour session with Mr. Aubrey Williams, assistant to Mr. Harry L. Hopkins. Mr. Williams was very positive in his assertion that he was not willing to approve projects in which the cities were not sufficiently interested to share a small part of the expense.

On my way home I stopped at New York and visited the Opportunity School in that city, which claims to have a daily attendance of 7,000 students.

Boston has kept within the letter of the orders from Washington pertaining to Emergency Education. Many other cities have totally ignored bulletins from Washington and have organized Education Projects regardless of restriction. Many of these cities offer under their regular school system much less than is offered in Boston. These two factors tend to make Emergency Education in Boston insignificant when compared with the program of other cities. Both as to size and number of projects and as to the amount of money drawn from the United States Treasury for equipment, we stand at the bottom of the list of the cities represented at this conference.

The exchange of experiences and discussion of principles and methods was very stimulating and helpful to all present and it is probable that another conference will be called in the early fall.

EDWARD J. ROWSE,
Commercial Coordinator.

RELIEF-ROLL EMPLOYEES FOR SNOW REMOVAL.

It was good news to cities throughout the country when the Federal Emergency Relief Administration notified State Emergency Relief Administrations that men on relief rolls might be used for snow-removal projects in all communities where there was need for such labor. This action gave work to thousands of men who were in urgent need of help, and at the same time it aided materially in keeping streets and sidewalks open for traffic in many communities where street cleaning departments were financially unable to cope with the storm.

REPORT OF PATRICK T. CAMPBELL, SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS, ON ATTENDANCE AT MEETING OF THE NATIONAL CIVIC FEDERATION, AT NEW YORK, MAY 15.

The following is the report of Superintendent Patrick T. Campbell, on his attendance at the meeting in New York, May 15:

A meeting of College Presidents and Superintendents of Schools of various cities was held at the Hotel Lexington, Lexington avenue and 48th street, New York City, under the auspices of The National Civic Federation, on Friday, May 15, 1936, at 12.30 p. m.

Those present were: Dr. Frederick B. Robinson, President of the College of the City of New York, New York City; Dr. Harold G. Campbell, Superintendent of Schools, New York City; Dr. Patrick Campbell, Superintendent of Schools, Boston, Mass.; Dr. Harry S. Rogers, President, Brooklyn Polytechnic, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rev. William R. Kelly, Secretary, Catholic School Board, New York City; Dr. Eugene A. Colligan, President, Hunter College, New York City; Dr. Parke R. Kolbe, President, Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, Pa.; Mr. James L. Fitzgerald, Dean of the School of Business, Manhattan College, New York City (proxy for Brother Patrick); Dr. William A. Boylan, President, Brooklyn College, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. Robert C. Clothier, President, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.; Dr. J. Carey Taylor, Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Secondary Schools, Baltimore, Md. (proxy for Dr. David E. Weglein); Professor Clyde Eagleton, Department of Government, New York University (proxy for Dr. H. W. Chase); S. L. Weedon, Educational Director, The National Civic Federation, New York City.

The meeting was opened by Doctor Robinson, who acted as chairman. Doctor Robinson spoke of a previous small meeting which had been held, at which it was decided to hold this meeting of educators, to join in the discussion of ways in which school systems might perfect a program calculated to promote good citizenship and more complete understanding of the principles of liberal American democracy.

Doctor Robinson said The National Civic Federation desired to be of assistance to schools and colleges throughout the country, by making available to them material which might be useful in developing the highest type of American citizenship. He introduced Mr. Weedon.

Mr. Weedon spoke briefly on the subversive influences which were being insinuated into the schools and colleges; how the radicals aimed to dissatisfy the oncoming generation with the philosophy of our government; the method of government and American business ideals and leadership; and to substitute other ideas of government, economic and social organization;—how this generation was bewildered, confused and misled. He said the purpose of the radical element was to effect violent changes in government and economic life, and even to abolish religion. The confusion created in the minds of the students was a means to this end. He stated there would be no publicity whatsoever attached to this meeting; that things could be discussed freely, and he asked for frankness in suggestions to be brought out.

A general discussion took place. Many questions as to communistic activities were asked Mr. Weedon, and answered by him. Many cases were cited by the educators present, of subversive activities in their schools; incidents were related as to what they had done and were doing in the schools. Numerous instances of these activities in New York City were brought out. The college presidents and superintendents of schools outside of New York City were asked as to activities in their schools. The answers seemed to show that the activities outside were not quite so prevalent as in this city, though present.

After considerable discussion, Doctor Robinson formulated the following proposals as they were suggested by various persons present. He presented the first two:

First.—“As school men, we are not now discussing the problem of how other parties will debate in political forum,—only: (1) how far any group affects students by fomenting arguments and friction in many directions; and (2) how we can protect academic freedom from people who abuse their privileges by injecting irrelevant matters of a subversive character into classroom work.”

Second.—“It is time now for American educators to form a positive program in the schools and colleges which would look towards the development of a wholesome American citizen; and a well laid program for the inculcation of the highest ideals of justice, peace and harmony among the peoples of the earth.”

Third.—“It is now an appropriate time for the schools of America to expound clearly the doctrines of communism, reveal their fallacies, and urging the superior merits of the American system of individual liberty.”

Fourth.—“It is time to try to have appointed on Boards of Education and Boards of Trustees, persons who will be alive to the present situation and resist the improper penetration of our schools.”

Fifth.—“It is time to make the whole situation clear to those who conduct the public press, to the end that the public press, far from being a vehicle for subversive activities, will be a bulwark against them.”

Doctor Robinson suggested that the positive American program (item second above) be developed further and submitted to the educators present at the meeting, through correspondence, that they might have a record of it and contribute to a more complete expression at a possible future meeting. It was also agreed that all the five suggestions be recorded for future reference if desired.

Mr. Weedon suggested further that the educators present send him a list of any and all of their teachers whom they desired placed upon the mailing lists, to receive the Civic Bulletins, with a view towards enlightening them as to activities of the subversive groups, their plans, leaders, etc. He said also The National Civic Federation would like to obtain permission to consult the educators from time to time relative to the kind of material we send out, and have the educators supply us with information which they may receive regarding these subversive influences, with the understanding that such information received from them would be regarded as absolutely confidential, and the source of it would not be divulged.

Respectfully submitted,

PATRICK T. CAMPBELL,
Superintendent of Public Schools.

SPECIAL MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL CALLED.

The following statement was issued by Mayor Mansfield on June 11:

Special meeting of the City Council was authorized by the Mayor for Monday, June 15, 1936, at 2 p. m., to take action on the proposed loan order of $1,000,000 against tax titles held by the city. When this order was introduced at the last meeting of the Council, instead of giving it a first reading the Council referred it to the Committee on Finance. This means a week's delay, at least, and when reported out by that committee it then would have to be given two readings. After approval by the Mayor it would then have to go to the Emergency Finance Board at the State House for their approval which would take at least another week. This would bring the time beyond July 10 and it is necessary that the loan be authorized before that date to meet maturing obligations due on that date. Since the Council at its last meeting adjourned until June 29, I am constrained to call this Special Meeting in order that this order may have its first reading next Monday.

FARIS S. MALOUF NAMED INDEPENDENCE DAY ORATOR FOR BOSTON.

On June 16 Mayor Mansfield issued the following statement:

Faris S. Malouf, well known Boston lawyer and citizen, a native of Syria, and born in the mountains of Lebanon, has been invited to deliver the 4th of July oration at Faneuil Hall and has accepted. He is a leader among his people in Boston and of great ability as a speaker. I have long been of the opinion that representatives of the various nationalities which go to make up our cosmopolitan population ought to be recognized in these patriotic services and in pursuance of that thought I invited Mr. Malouf as typically representative of the very important element who are among our very best citizens.

General Order No. 205.

On Sunday night, February 23, 1936, on Division 2, three armed men entered the office of the manager of the Keith-Boston Theatre at 614 Washington street, and demanded the contents of the safe, which included the theater receipts for the week-end, totaling approximately $15,000. The theater manager and several of his assistants were threatened with death if they refused to comply with the orders of the holdup men. Realizing the seriousness of the situation, the manager permitted the criminals to take the money. They left the building by a side door and disappeared.

Capt. Francis M. Tiernan of Division 16 (then lieutenant, detailed to the Special Service Squad), Capt. William D. Donovan of Division 7 (then lieutenant, detailed to the Special Service Squad) and Sergt. Joseph F. Condon, Patrolmen Daniel L. Donahue, Patrick H. McLaughlin, William J. O'Connor and William J. Dooley of the Special Service Squad, were assigned to the case. Working with the limited descriptive data which the victims were able to furnish, and intelligently tracking down every available "lead," these officers, within six hours of the time the crime was committed, apprehended one of the robbers and recovered a portion of the stolen money. Later developments in the case, brought about entirely through the initiative of the above-mentioned officers, resulted in the capture of the remaining two wanted men. All three were later convicted and given long sentences.

The splendid work of these men reflects great credit not only upon themselves as individuals but upon the Special Service Squad, under the able direction of Deputy Superintendent William W. Livingston.

The commissioner, having in mind the meager details at hand at the commencement of the investigation, is pleased to recognize and commend Captains Tiernan and Donovan, Sergeant Condon and Patrolmen Donahue, McLaughlin, O'Connor and Dooley for the very effective manner in which they successfully solved and prosecuted this vitally important case from beginning to end.

The Acting Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

EUGENE M. MCSWEENEY,
Police Commissioner.

MAYOR MANSFIELD CALLS ATTENTION TO OPPORTUNITIES NOW OFFERED BOSTON CITIZENS TO INVEST IN REAL ESTATE — POINTS TO CHANCES FOR PURCHASE BELOW ACTUAL VALUES AHEAD OF PREDICTED AND ADVANCING EMERGENCE OF COUNTRY FROM THRALLDOM OF DEPRESSION — FORECLOSURES ARE LESSENING AND THE DEMAND FOR MORE AND BETTER HOUSING MANIFEST EVERYWHERE BASIS FOR CONCLUSIONS CHIEF EXECUTIVE PRESENTS TO CITIZENS OF BOSTON IN REVIEWING SITUATION PRESENT AND PAST.

In discussing his views on real estate, Mayor Mansfield has made public the following statement:

The real estate situation in Boston is a subject in which I am much interested because, naturally, as Mayor of this city, I am greatly concerned in its future, and also because of my continuous observations since early manhood of real estate conditions.

I have been asked if the present is a good time to buy real estate. I think it is. There are so many reasons, which I believe to be sound, for this opinion that I will enumerate some of them in their order of importance as they strike me.

I might say that there is an old-fashioned saying that "the time to buy is when someone wants to sell." This has been quite true since 1930, but I have noticed in recent months a change that is gradually neutralizing this situation. There is now developing a situation by which there are more people desiring to buy and fewer people forced to sell.

In order to speak intelligently of the present real estate situation one should know something of the past history of the city and our country. The financial panic of 1929 and the business depression that followed it brought great grief to all business, and real estate in the larger cities has probably been more detrimentally affected than the average investment. Hardly anyone anticipated that the depression would cut so deep and last as long as it has, but if there is anything to the axiom that "history repeats itself" a study might be worth while of the 1873-1878 hard times.

Other Depressions.

The depression of the 1870's was a very bad one; banks closed, mills were shut tight, real estate was sold at a fraction of its former cost, and conditions became so bad that it seemed to many that this country was in a permanent depression. By 1879 or 1880 the country was well out of it and on its way to a stupendous growth and our city received its due share of this growth.

One has only to ask our elders now living to recall Boston of fifty years ago; the horse cars, the gas lamps, inferior water and sewer systems, and when Dorchester and Jamaica Plain were in the country.

As we came out of the major depression of 1873, and every other depression, with such flying colors, I am sure we will also come out of this one. There is now afforded to the present generation of possible home owners and business men who desire to be their own landlords the same opportunity as was given to their predecessors of sixty years ago to secure good real estate at less than its sound value.

We have had a great many foreclosures since 1930. This situation perhaps more than any other factor brought real estate down to a level that was not altogether warranted, notwithstanding our recent hard times. I am, however, reliably informed that these foreclosures have greatly diminished not only in this city but in the suburbs and in many of the major cities of the country. During March, April and May of this year foreclosures were about 50 per cent of what they were in 1934 and 1935. This is very encouraging and is probably the best indication that coming events cast their shadows.

Demand for Housing.

It does not require a long memory to recall 1920 and 1921 when it was evident that there was a housing shortage due to no building construction during the World War. We have now had no building to speak of since 1930 and with the natural increase in population and the destruction and obsolescence of old houses, there is bound to be a more balanced real estate market in the immediate future. Such a situation will naturally bring about higher prices for real estate. This is one of the most important factors in arriving at my opinion that now is a good time to own real estate.

Another reason is this: The American family has always been a characteristic home owner whenever and wherever it was possible to do so. That has not changed nor do I think it will. A home is the rallying ground of a family; everything in worth-while life revolves around it. When one considers how discouraging were the dark days of 1933 and 1934 it was gratifying to me to see houses being bought, even at the low prices prevailing, by those frugal and courageous parents. It speaks well for their vision and courage.

I have also noticed that many of the merchants and business men in the city have acquired their places of business. To me it makes no difference whether they bought at low prices or not. The fact that these merchants had acquired by frugality and efficiency enough cash, which, combined with their courage and confidence in the city, caused them to become their own landlords instead of rent payers, is a very important reason why I think now is a good time to own real estate.

CITY AUDITOR FOX CALLS ATTENTION OF DEPARTMENT HEADS TO ARTICLES AND GOODS FOR CITY USE ON WHICH NO FEDERAL TAX SHOULD OR COULD BE LEVIED AND SUGGESTS PLANS FOR SAVING SUCH SUMS—ALSO POINTS TO MATTER OF ADVERTISING FOR BIDS WHERE CONTRACTS ARE $1,000 OR ABOVE—URGES REGULATION OF EXPENSES SO THAT ALL REMAIN WITHIN APPROPRIATION LIMITS—ASKS FOR COOPERATION OF ALL THAT CITY'S BEST INTEREST BE SERVED AT ALL TIMES.

City Auditor Charles J. Fox has issued the following suggestions for guidance of city departments in efforts to curtail expenses:

AUDITING DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 19, 1936.

To Department Officials and Employees.

The following comments are offered on several matters of general interest to department officials and employees:

Excise Taxes.

City departments, regardless of what functions they may perform, are exempt from Federal excise taxes. This exemption, however, is not necessarily automatic, consequently it is incumbent upon department officials and employees to make certain that when invoices are received for articles or items on which an excise tax is levied by the Federal Government, that the proper deduction is made from the invoice to the end that the payment by the city will not include the amount of the excise tax. The following table indicates the principal articles purchased by the city on which excise taxes are levied:

ARTICLE.	RATE.
Lubricating oils	4 cents a gallon
Brewers' wort	15 cents a gallon
Liquid malt, malt syrup and malt extract	3 cents a pound
Matches (wood)	2 cents per 1,000
Matches (paper)	$\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 cent per 1,000
Gasoline	1 cent a gallon
Tires	2.25 cents a pound
Inner tubes	4 cents a pound
Toilet preparations (perfumes, cosmetics, etc.)	10 per cent
Toilet preparations (tooth pastes, toilet soap, etc.)	5 per cent
Auto truck chassis and bodies	2 per cent
Other auto chassis and bodies, and motorcycles	3 per cent
Parts and accessories	2 per cent
Mechanical refrigerators	5 per cent
Sporting goods	10 per cent
Candy	2 per cent
Cameras and lenses	10 per cent

This office places on every purchase and service order which it is believed involves an excise tax the following notice:

"The City of Boston assumes that the price quoted in this order contains a Federal Excise Tax from which the City of Boston is exempt, under Article 17, Title IV, of the Revenue Act of 1932. This tax should be deducted when rendering invoice for payment. An exemption certificate will be furnished upon request."

From experience it is evident that this notice is not observed by certain vendors. It therefore is essential that departmental clerks, who receive and handle invoices, should make certain that advantage is taken of any deductions of Federal excise taxes to which the city may be entitled. In case invoices are received without the deduction being made, departmental clerks in preparing the invoices for payment should make the proper deductions. If any question should arise as to the proper amount of the deduction it is suggested that departmental clerks contact Mr. William Doyle of this department.

DISCOUNT BILLS.

On all purchase and service orders issued by the city it is clearly pointed out in the instructions at the bottom of the orders that if a cash discount is offered for prompt payment the invoices should be sent to the Auditing Department. The purpose of this instruction is to permit the Auditing Department to index such invoices according to dates of payment, and subsequently follow up the invoices in case any delay develops in their return for payment. I am informed that a number of vendors dealing with the city either overlook or ignore this instruction and send invoices involving cash discounts direct to the department. I am desirous of ascertaining the names of the vendors who follow this latter practice. To this end I request that when invoices of this character are received directly by departments that these invoices be immediately sent to the Auditing Department, and that no action toward payment of the same be taken until the invoices are returned from this department.

W. P. A. PROJECTS.

Departments are now engaged in preparing project proposals for the W. P. A. program which is scheduled to start on July 1. These proposals involve either the extension of existing projects or the setting up of new projects. In either connection department officials and employees should keep in mind the following points:

1. The appropriations approved under Item H in departmental budgets represent the total funds which the city has available for allocation to meet project expenses which the city must bear. Since the tax rate has already been declared, no supplementary budgets can be submitted to the City Council. Department officials and employees, therefore, in preparing project proposals should endeavor to keep within, in so far as committing the city to expenditures is concerned, the unencumbered balance remaining in their H appropriation. If it appears that these balances are not sufficient to meet project requirements during the six months following July 1, the only way the balance can be supplemented is by transfer from available balances in other departmental appropriations. In short, where unexpended balances in the H item appear inadequate to meet project requirements for the balance of the year, departments should so regulate their expenditures in other budget items as to have available for transfer later on in the year sufficient balances to cover W. P. A. requirements.

2 Section 30 of the City Charter provides that department heads "when about to do any work or to make any purchase, the estimated cost of which alone, or in conjunction with other similar work or purchase which might properly be included in the same contract, amounts to or exceeds one thousand dollars shall unless the Mayor gives written authority to do otherwise, invite proposals therefor by advertisement in the City Record." As interpreted by this office this provision sets up two requirements with regard to work or purchases in excess of $1,000,—

First.—Public advertising, or written authorization from the Mayor to dispense with such advertising.

Second.—Execution of a contract.

You will note that the language of the Charter does not limit these requirements to a single or isolated transaction, but embraces "other similar work or purchase which might properly be included in the same contract."

Under this language, departments who submit project applications in which it is clearly indicated that rentals of typewriters, furniture, trucks, etc., will during the life of the project exceed $1,000, are obligated to enter into contracts to be awarded either after public advertising or because of peculiar circumstances, and with the approval of the Mayor, without advertising. Failure of department heads to comply with the provisions of section 30 of the City Charter will lead to confusion and delay in the payment of invoices rendered by vendors from whom the articles and items are rented.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Receiving Notices.—When a delivery of merchandise is made or a service rendered departments are required to report the details of the delivery or performance to the Auditing Department on a "receiving notice." This notice when prepared should give an accurate and complete description of the transaction it covers. It should among other things clearly indicate the dates of deliveries or services and the quantities delivered or a full description of the service performed. Unless the notice is carefully and clearly prepared its value as an auditing memorandum or voucher is lessened. I am pleased to state that the City Hospital and the Sanatorium Division at Mattapan, together with the Long Island Hospital, are preparing receiving notices in a highly satisfactory manner. I bespeak the co-operation of every department in the matter of proper preparation of receiving notices.

Work Agreements.—When a department enters into an agreement with a contractor for the performance of a service costing less than $1,000, the agreement should clearly indicate all the details concerning the service to be performed. The lump sum form of agreement which is more or less in common use by departments is not a satisfactory document of record, since it furnishes no breakdown for audit purposes of the various items entering into the total cost. A "job" which is covered by an agreement which clearly indicates or specifies the various items of work to be performed and the estimated cost of each item is more apt to be performed to the satisfaction of all parties concerned than the "job" which is supported by a lump sum agreement in which only the total cost of the work to be performed is indicated.

Invoices.—Departments should insist that vendors' invoices contain sufficient detail to clearly explain the transaction involved. Dates, number of units furnished, unit prices, extent and character of labor and services performed, materials supplied and equipment used should be clearly set out on any claim or invoice submitted by a vendor. If an invoice is received without the proper detail it should be returned forthwith to the vendor. Departments in submitting invoices to the Auditing Department for approval as to payment should make certain the name of the department clearly appears on every invoice. Many vendors are submitting invoices bearing the name of the "Supply" or "Auditing" departments. Where this happens the correct name of the department being billed should be placed on the invoice before it is submitted for payment.

Cancellations.—Notices of over-encumbrances on budget items are now being sent to departments. In many cases the over-encumbered condition is caused by failure to remove charges represented by partial delivered or non-delivered orders. Such charges may be eliminated by the medium of cancellation notices. The Supply Department will issue such notices on request of departments, or departments may in returning the final receiving notice indicate thereon a reduction, because of partial or non-delivery, in the original encumbrance entered against the budget item involved.

Appreciation.—I appreciate deeply the cooperative attitude displayed in general by department officials and employees toward the requirements of the Auditing Department as embodied from time to time in circulars of this character. It is a source of great satisfaction to know that the efforts of this department to improve the auditing and disbursement procedure of the city are being supported and advanced throughout the various departments.

CHARLES J. FOX,
City Auditor.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 34.

I. LIEUTENANT DANIEL GILL.

It is with deep regret that the Acting Fire Commissioner announces the death, on June 18, 1936, of Lieut. Daniel Gill of Engine Company 49. Lieutenant Gill was appointed to this department on November 3, 1913, and was promoted to lieutenant on May 31, 1929.

The funeral was held from his late residence, 159 South street, Jamaica Plain, at 8.15 a. m., June 22, 1936, followed by services at St. Thomas' Church, South street, at 9 a. m.

The chief of department made the customary detail to act as a funeral escort and the members of Engine Company 49 were excused from duty in order to attend the funeral services.

II. DAVID L. BROOKS.

It is with deep regret that the Acting Fire Commissioner announces the death, on June 19, 1936, of Ladderman David L. Brooks of Ladder Company 30. Ladderman Brooks was appointed to this department on August 11, 1899.

The funeral was held from his late residence, 50 Lindsey street, Dorchester, at 9 a. m., June 22, 1936, followed by services at St. Peter's Church, Meeting House Hill, at 10 a. m.

The chief of department made the customary detail to act as a funeral escort and the members of Ladder Company 30 were excused from duty in order to attend the funeral services.

III. ILLEGAL FIRECRACKER.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of the following report from the State Fire Marshal, concerning an article of fireworks called "Stampedo," which was submitted to that department for examination by Capt. Michael Norton of the Fire Prevention Division.

"COMMONWEALTH PIER,
SOUTH BOSTON, June 15, 1936.

Laboratory Report No. 67-E.

To: The Commissioner of Public Safety.
Subject: 'Stampedo.'

1. On June 12, 1936, Fire Prevention Engineer Carl Steutzel submitted for examination an article of fireworks called a 'Stampedo,' manufactured by Triumph Fuse and Fireworks Company, taken from the stock of J. H. Murphy, Jr., 158 Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, Mass.

2. Results of examination:

Weight of 'Stampedo,' 82 grains.

Diameter of 'Stampedo,' $\frac{1}{4}$ inch.

Length of 'Stampedo,' $1\frac{1}{8}$ inches.

Length of fuse, 24 inches.

Weight of explosive charge, 18.5 grains.

This article consists of a cylindrical mass of compact paper having a fuse attached and having as the explosive a mixture of aluminum powder and potassium perchlorate.

3. By reason of its excessive diameter and high explosive power, the sale of this firecracker is illegal in Massachusetts. See section 39, chapter 148, G. L."

IV. COMMENDATION.

The Fire Commissioner is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Edward Dana, Executive Vice President and General Manager of the Boston Elevated Railway, which he is pleased to publish herewith for the information of the department.

June 15, 1936.

EDWARD F. McLAUGHLIN, Esq.,

Fire Commissioner.

DEAR COMMISSIONER McLAUGHLIN,—This is to confirm my telephone conversation with you to the effect that the Boston Elevated Railway is particularly appreciative of the fine work done by the Boston Fire Department at the time of our transformer trouble at Dewey substation on the evening of June 11. By great care no damage was done to equipment which might have been seriously damaged otherwise.

Again I compliment you upon the efficiency of your force and the cooperation with our company.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD DANA,
Executive Vice President
and General Manager.

By order of Acting Fire Commissioner
HENRY A. FOX.

THOMAS H. DOWNEY,
Acting Chief of Department.

STATEMENT BY THE MAYOR.

We are very fortunate in Boston and its suburbs in having a good banking system. The backbone of the real estate market has always been the savings and cooperative banks. It is only rarely that you find a mean man at the head of these banks. They all want to lend money at a fair rate. No one to my knowledge wants to lend money for the purpose of owning the property. The price of money for mortgages has gradually been going down and I am told, and I believe it, that anyone with a good real estate loan can now place it without any trouble. This was not so from 1930 to 1934. This situation will also have a tendency to bring about a greater demand for real estate, and naturally higher prices should follow.

URGES WISDOM IN PURCHASES.

Now, because I have expressed myself so optimistically on real estate ownership I would not want to be the cause of misleading people into rushing into a purchase of real estate without exercising proper caution, so I want to make some suggestions which have occurred to me during my experience as a home owner and as a practicing lawyer and as Mayor.

I hope the future buyers of houses or business headquarters will not overbuy; i. e., do not buy a more expensive property than they can conveniently swing. Many people who bought $20,000 houses in the 1920's would have had less trouble if they had been satisfied with a home that cost only $10,000. The same goes for the homes in the lower cost brackets. If you are buying a foreclosed property from a bank or anyone else, get as long a mortgage as possible, at least five years, and at as low a rate as possible and pay down the mortgage every so often. Get out of debt as soon as you can. Get the best possible advice as to the background of the neighborhood you are buying into and the condition and durability of the structure.

I would like to see this city and all cities and towns of this community more real-estate minded. I would like to see every family, if it is possible to do so, strive to own a home. I would like to see the merchants and business men whose business is such as to require an average sized building become their own landlords.

There has never been in my memory or experience a better time to buy. My reason for this desire is twofold. First, because real estate seems to be the cheapest investment, and second, the Government will be greatly benefited by the uplift in civic virtue that such ownership will produce.

The absent landlords have been in a great degree a help in the building of our cities in the last twenty years, but they have brought very little into political morals and civic virtue.

I want to go back to the old days before the Civil War when it was the ambition of all families to own their own homes; those days when houses in the Fort Hill section, South Cove, and North End were being bought by families not long out from Ireland; the days when such merchants as Andrew Carney and Jacob Sleeper put their surplus earnings into the buildings which they occupied and adjacent thereto, and when the ship owners and overseas' merchants controlled their business headquarters at the waterfront.

I can see this coming because of the fact that during the past twelve months many parcels of real estate in our market district have been bought by merchants doing business on the premises. To be sure, the prices were discouragingly low to the sellers, but nevertheless the city and real estate in general will be the gainers.

ABOUT TAXES.

Now there is one question that one interested in owning real estate might well ask me. What about taxes? Space does not permit me to say as much about this as I would like to. I have been Mayor during the worst years of this depression. We have had an expenditure for relief (Welfare and Soldiers', plus administrative expense) of $2,753,410.33 in 1935. In 1928 it was $2,654,065.05. This excess cost of administering relief has had to come out of the taxpayers. I believe the cost of relief will gradually grow less, and the less it becomes should mean lower real estate taxes.

I have purposely refrained from committing our city to tremendous expenditures for improvements that property owners would have had to bear and I wish that my two immediate predecessors had been as reluctant as I have been to appropriate huge sums of money. We have had to bear and pay for the unfortunate tunnel deficit which might well have been avoided; we had to bear and pay for the street improvements which cost far more than they should have cost. It will take a little more time to digest and absorb these excessive costs and we are gradually doing it; but in the main I believe the people are tax-conscious and the trend is toward lower real estate taxes everywhere. This is a good sign. When real estate is more widely owned, as it is becoming, it is going to be difficult for any mayor, or a group of his friendly promoters, to foist undue burdens on the body politic. I look forward to better municipal government; to better men in official and elective positions, and therefore a better protection to owners of homes and business buildings.

* Contract awarded.

Upon June 20 permission was approved by the Mayor to award a contract for coal as requested in the following communication:

BOSTON, June 20, 1936.

HON. FREDERICK W. MANSFIELD,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—On May 1, 1936, I advised your Honor that the White Fuel Corporation was the lowest bidder, after public advertising, for semi-bituminous coal for the various departments—public buildings—optional tonnage 10,000 net tons, with a total bid of $53,600, and that I was making no recommendation with respect to the award of a contract for such coal pending my investigation of the relationship between the White Fuel Corporation and the Babcock Coal Company and allegations that the Babcock Coal Company failed to comply with its contract with the city for the delivery of coal to welfare recipients.

Since the time of said letter it has become apparent that substantial doubt exists as to the performance by the Babcock Coal Company of its contract with the city for coal for welfare recipients and the city has withheld payments under said contract on the ground that the contractor failed to perform such contract. Moreover, it has also become apparent that the H. M. Hartwell & Son, Incorporated, owned all the stock of Babcock Coal Company and either a substantial or controlling interest in the White Fuel Corporation. Because of such affiliation between the Babcock Coal Company and the White Fuel Corporation and because of the situation with regard to the Babcock Coal Company contract for welfare coal, it is my opinion that the best interests of the city would be served by awarding the contract to the next lowest bidder for such optional tonnage of 10,000 net tons, namely, the Brighton Coal Company, at the price of $5.64 for run-of-mine coal and $5.10 for nut and slack coal at a total estimated cost of $55,860.

Inasmuch as bids were received on a form of contract for a term beginning May 1, 1936, and ending April 30, 1937 (with the option on the part of the city to accept delivery or not during the period beginning January 1, 1937), inasmuch as a contract now entered into should cover the period beginning with the date of approval by your Honor of such contract and ending on April 30, 1937, with the foregoing option, and inasmuch as I am of the opinion that readvertising will not yield more favorable prices to the city and that the best interests of the city will be served by awarding such contract to the Brighton Coal Company, I respectfully request your permission to award without further advertising a contract for a term beginning with the date of the approval of such contract by your Honor and ending April 30, 1937 (with the option for the period beginning January 1, 1937, as above set forth), for an optional tonnage of 10,000 net tons to be delivered by trucks to the various departments—public building—at the price of $5.64 per net ton for run-of-mine coal and $5.10 per net ton for nut and slack coal.

On April 22, 1936, bids were also publicly opened and read for stove coal for various departments—public buildings. The Western Coal and Ice Company was the low bidder, with a price of $10.14 per net ton, or a total bid (based upon estimated quantities) of $30,420. The next lowest bidder was Tidewater Coal Company, with a bid of $10.21 per net ton, or a total bid of $30,630.

Since April 22, 1936, I have investigated the allegation that Western Coal and Ice Company failed to perform its contract with the city for coal for welfare recipients and it has become apparent that the Western Coal and Ice Company has made inconsistent statements during such investigation and substantial doubt exists as to whether it performed such contract with the city. Payments under said contract have been withheld by the city on the ground that there was failure to perform by the contractor.

Inasmuch as bids were received on a form of contract for a term beginning May 1, 1936, and ending April 30, 1937 (with the option on the part of the city to accept delivery or not during the period beginning January 1, 1937), inasmuch as a contract now entered into should cover the period beginning with the date of approval by your Honor of such contract and ending on April 30, 1937, with the foregoing option, and inasmuch as I am of the opinion that readvertising will not yield more favorable prices to the city and that the best interests of the city will be served by awarding such contract to the Tidewater Coal Company, I respectfully request your permission to award without further advertising a contract for a term beginning with the date of the approval of such contract by your Honor and ending April 30, 1937 (with the option for the period beginning January 1, 1937, as above set forth), for approximately 3,000 net tons of stove coal for various departments—public buildings—at the price of $10.21 per ton.

On April 22, 1936, bids were also received for 2,000 tons of egg and 3,000 tons of buckwheat coal for the various city departments—public buildings. The low bidder was White Fuel Corporation with a bid of $9.88 for egg and $6.89 for buckwheat coal. The second lowest bidder on egg coal was the Western Coal and Ice Company with a bid of $9.89 per ton. The second lowest bidder on buckwheat coal was Tidewater Coal Company with a bid of $7.08 per ton. The third lowest bidder for egg coal was the Tidewater Coal Company with a bid of $9.96 per ton. For the same reasons as hereinabove set forth, I respectfully request your approval to award without further advertising a contract to the Tidewater Coal Company for a term beginning with the date of the approval of such contract by your Honor and ending April 30, 1937 (with the option as above set forth for the period beginning January 1, 1937), for approximately 2,000 tons of egg coal at $9.96 per ton and approximately 3,000 tons of buckwheat coal at a price of $7.08 per ton, such coal to be furnished to the various city departments—public buildings.

Respectfully yours,

D. FRANK DOHERTY,
Superintendent of Supplies.
